MINUTES OF THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
First Session - Tuesday Evening
June 20, 2006

34-1 Assembly Called to Order and Opening Worship
The Thirty-Fourth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America was called to order by Moderator RE Howard Q. Davis Jr. at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 20, 2006, at the Hyatt Regency in Atlanta, Georgia. TE Kennedy Smartt welcomed the Assembly on behalf of the North Georgia Presbytery, thanked various individuals and churches, and the Assembly proceeded to worship.

Order of Worship
Christ, the Object of our Faith

Prelude

Reflection

True faith—created in me by the Holy Spirit through the gospel—is not only a knowledge and conviction that everything that God reveals in his word is true, but also a deep-rooted assurance that not only others, but I too, have had my sins forgiven, have been made forever right with God, and have been granted salvation. These are gifts of sheer grace earned for us by Christ.

Zacharius Ursinus

Gathering Hymn
“All Creatures of Our God and King” No. 115

Call to Worship

Leader:
Cry out with joy to the Lord, all the earth.
Worship the Lord with gladness.
Come into God’s presence with singing!

People:
For the Lord is a gracious God,
Whose mercy is everlasting;
And whose faithfulness endures to all generations.
Invocation

Songs of Worship and Adoration

“At the Name of Jesus”  No. 163

“Sing to the King”

Sing to the King who is coming to reign;
Glory to Jesus, the Lamb that was slain.
Life and salvation his empire shall bring;
And joy to the nations when Jesus is King.

Come, let us sing a song,
A song declaring we belong to Jesus,
He is all we need.
Lift up a heart of praise,
Sing now with voices raised to Jesus,
Sing to the King.

For his returning we watch and we pray;
We will be ready the down of that day.
We’ll join in singing with all the redeemed;
‘Cause Satan is vanquished and Jesus is King.

“Here I Am to Worship”

Light of the world, you stepped down into darkness, Opened my eyes, let me see,
Beauty that made this heart adore you;
Hope of a life spent with you.

So here I am to worship; here I am to bow down;
Here I am to say that you’re my God.
You’re altogether lovely, altogether worthy, altogether wonderful to me.

King of all days, oh, so highly exalted,
Glorious in heaven above,
Humbly you came to the earth you created;
All for love’s sake became poor.

And I’ll never know how much it cost,
To see my sin upon that cross;
I’ll never know how much it cost,
To see my sin upon that cross.
Confessing Our Faith

I believe that the eternal Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who out of nothing created heaven and earth and everything in them, who still upholds and rules them by his eternal counsel and providence, is my God and Father because of Christ his Son.
I trust him so much that I do not doubt he will provide whatever I need for body and soul and he will turn to my good whatever adversity he sends me in this sad world.
He is able to do this because he is almighty God.
He desires to do this because he is a faithful Father.

Hymn of Response

“Great is Thy Faithfulness” No. 32

Corporate Confession of Sin

Jesus said: “If you love me, you will obey what I command.”
Forgive us our lukeward love and our disobedience.
Jesus said: “You may ask for anything in my name.”
Forgive us for trying to solve our problems without you.
Jesus said: “Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid.”
Forgive us for living in fear, anxiety, and worry.
Jesus said: “If you remain in me, and I in you, you will bear much fruit.”
Forgive us our spiritually barren lives.
Jesus said: “Surely I am with you always.”
Forgive us for doubting your loving presence and saving help.

Personal Confession of Sin

Scriptural Assurance of Pardon

Ephesians 1:7

In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins,
in accordance with the riches of God’s grace.

Songs of Thanksgiving and Renewal

“Psalm 63”

God, thee, my God, I’ll early seek; my soul’s athirst for thee.
On dry land, weary, waterless, my flesh has longed for thee.
Thus have I looked for thee before within thy holy place
That there I might behold thy strength and glory of thy face.

My soul with rich, abundant food shall be well satisfied;
With shouts of joy upon my lips my mouth shall praise provide.

Thou are my help; I sing for joy in shadow of thy wings,
For thy right hand has held me fast; to thee my spirit clings.

“In Christ Alone”

In Christ alone my hope is found,
   He is my Light, my strength, my song;
This Cornerstone, this solid ground
   Firm through the fiercest drought and storm;
What heights of love, what depths of peace
   When fears are stilled,
When strivings cease, my Comforter, my all in all,
   Here in the love of Christ I stand.

In Christ alone who took on flesh, fullness of God in helpless Babe,
This gift of love and righteousness,
   Scorned by the ones he came to save;
‘Till on the cross as Jesus died
   The wrath of God was satisfied,
For ev’ry sin on him was laid;
   Here in the death of Christ I live.

There in the ground his body lay;
   Light of the world by darkness slain;
Then bursting forth in glorious day;
   Up from the grave he rose again.
And as he stands in victory,
   Sin’s curse has lost its grip on me,
For I am his and he is mine,
   Bought with the precious blood of Christ.

No guilt in life, no fear in death;
   This is the pow’r of Christ in me;
From life’s first cry to final breath,
   Jesus commands my destiny.
No pow’r of hell, no scheme of man
   Can ever pluck me from his hand,
‘Til he returns or calls me home,
   Here in the pow’r of Christ I’ll stand.
The Offering

Prayer of Illumination

Lord God, You have declared that your kingdom is among us.
Open our eyes to see it, our ears to hear it,
Our heart to hold it, our hands to serve it.
This we pray in Jesus’ name. Amen

THE SACRAMENT OF COMMUNION

Communion Hymn

Prayer of Thanksgiving

The Lord be with you.
And also with you.
Lift up your hearts!
We lift them up to the Lord!
Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
It is right to give him thanks and praise.

It is right, and a good and joyful thing, always and everywhere to give thanks to you, Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth, because in the mystery of the Word made flesh, you have caused a new light to shine in our hearts, to give the knowledge of your glory in the face of your Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amend BCO 15-4, first sentence, to read: “The General Assembly shall elect a Standing Judicial Commission to which it shall commit all judicial cases within its jurisdiction, matters governed by the Rules of Discipline, except for the annual review of Presbytery records, which may come before the Assembly.” (M33GA 33-45, 33-48, III, 8a, pp. 184, 186; see also Appendix C, Attachment 1, p. 342 for the full report of the Strategic Planning Committee)

SPC comment: “Proposed change makes clear that not just ‘judicial cases,’ a narrower category, but all matters of discipline, a broader category, are to be referred to the SJC” (M33GA, 33-48, III, 8, p. 186).

The Assembly ratified the recommendations of the Stated Clerk in receiving Communications 1-4. (See item 34-14, p. 70 for Communication 5 and item 34-62, pp. 237, 238 for Communications 6 and 7.)

COMMUNICATION 1 from the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States “Regarding the New Perspective on Paul and Justification”

Dear Brothers in Christ,

Enclosed you will find a report that was unanimously adopted by the 259th Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States in May 2005. Because of the seriousness and pervasiveness of this erroneous teaching, the Synod has instructed me to distribute this report to all churches with whom we have ecclesiastical relationships. This is both for information and to set out a warning that these teachings strike out at the very core of the Gospel and the foundational doctrines of the Reformation.

Please also find the report unanimously adopted by the 258th Synod of the RCUS, concerning the doctrine of justification as it is being taught by Dr. Norman Shepherd and others. In many ways we see these two position papers having an interwoven commonality of error.

You may make the people of your denomination aware of these studies in any way that is best for you. Both papers are also on the Web – rcus.org – where they may be downloaded. We would also urge you to join with us in calling to repentance those who bear responsibility for propagating these errors.

May it please the Lord to guide His people by His Word that they may continue to earnestly contend for the faith once delivered unto the saints.
May the Lord bless you as you serve Him for the glory of our Lord and His glorious body.

In the Lord’s Service.

/s/ Rev. Paul H. Treick
Stated Clerk, RCUS

COMMUNICATION 3 from Calvary Presbytery (to SPC)
“Advice from Calvary Presbytery”

Ad Hoc Committee on the PCA Strategic Plan

Your committee met on two occasions: September 29 and January 10. The committee’s purpose was to evaluate the three recommended amendments to the BCO and the proposals of the PCA Strategic Plan. Our minutes which accompany this report show how we approached our task. The following are our recommendations.

1. Presbytery voted yes on BCO Amendment 24-1 on adding English Bible for ruling elder examinations.
   Rationale: While each church must develop its own examinations of REs, it seems a good thing to encourage (what is already being done) in the language of the BCO.

2. Presbytery voted no on BCO amendments 15-4 and 40-5 that refer all matters of discipline to the SJC. (These BCO changes direct the SJC to assume new responsibility for hearing and ruling on objections noted by the Review of Presbytery Minutes.)
   Rationale: The Ad Hoc committee thinks that any advantage by “streamlining this process” would be outweighed by the importance of GA not giving up the “power of Review” assigned to the church court. The SJC requested that further duties not be given to them (BCO 14-6)

3. Presbytery informs the Strategic Planning Committee (SPC) that we think changes to RAO 14-10, 15-2 are not wise because of the rationale mentioned under #2.
4. Presbytery informs SPC that the proposed recommendations on Ruling Elder & the Next Generation (GA Handbook p. 2253, p. 5 “Being Revived” booklet) are redundant and not necessary.
Rationale: While the presbytery certainly wants to commend and encourage potential leaders in the next generations, it seems that this proposal is redundant. There are already resources in place and most of this work is being done.

5. Presbytery informs SPC that recommendations on discipleship (GA Handbook p. 2253, p. 5 “Being Revived” booklet) are not necessary.
Rationale: While the presbytery certainly wants to commend and encourage discipleship, it would seem that the language of this proposal is redundant. The language is also pointless.

6. Presbytery informs SPC that we approve the changes in RAO 9-7, 10-2, 10-9 (Administration Committee taking lead in arranging for GA and the rules for how new business comes to the Court).
Rationale: PCAAC taking lead in arrangements would save the Assembly and delegates money; make arrangements more efficient; procedures on New Business clarify procedure in book, but still protect the individual who has not had access to the court.

7. Presbytery informs SPC that we are against the proposed changes to RAO 11-4, 14, 7-2, 10-5, 12-3 (to structure a larger Bills and Overture committee and new arrangements for Committee on Constitutional Business and the rules relating to them).
Rationale: The presbytery is of the opinion that the remedy (“delegating debate” to a “Super B&O” etc) does not effectively answer the problems of greater ruling elder attendance and participation; does not contribute to a more effective participation of delegates to GA; does not really address the goals of the SPC. The Ad Hoc committee generally thought that the answer lies in more traditional Presbyterian forms like a delegated GA, synods, biannual or triennial GA, and would rather experiment with these proposals. Furthermore, concern was raised how an enlarged B&O committee could finish its work in time for GA to hear its report before its adjournment or how its members would be able to participate in other parts of the Assembly.

8. Presbytery informs SPC that we are opposed to the changes in RAO 11-1, 11-2, 11-3,11-5, 13 (the modification to Committees of Commissioners).
Rationale: The Presbytery does not think modifications were necessary to CoCs and that suggested changes were a move in the direction of the checks and balances and grass roots principles on which we were founded. Moreover the changes are in contradiction to \textit{BCO} 14-1.15.

9. Presbytery informs SPC that we are opposed to erecting another committee for Cooperation & Funding (including RAO changes to 4-4, adding 4-19, 4-20).
Rationale: Procedure already exists to work out problems by committees having members on Admin Committee (\textit{BCO} 14-1.12). If coordination is not getting done now, another committee made up of the same people will not help; violates the role of moderator in the PCA.

Respectfully submitted,
TE Joseph A. Pipa Jr., Chairman

Private motion by TE Pipa: MSA that SPC publish the advice from all presbyteries in the Commissioner Handbook to be distributed before the General Assembly meets.

Re: Cooperative Ministries Committee

Dear Dr. Taylor,

Greetings once again from Mississippi Valley Presbytery.

Mississippi Valley Presbytery voted at our February 2, 2006 stated meeting to communicate the following through you to the 2006 General Assembly:
“That we inform GA that we are opposed to SPC’s recommendation 1.b. from the SPC to the 2006 GA which would add a Cooperative Ministries Committee to the list of special committees.”

Thank you for your labors as our Stated Clerk and your faithful service on behalf of our glorious Lord Jesus Christ. May the Lord continue to bless your work and your family.

Sincerely,
/s/ TE Roger G. Collins, Stated Clerk

A motion to dissolve the Ad-Interim Committee on the Value of Human Life due to a lack of funding was adopted.

34-9 First Partial Report of the Committee of Commissioners on the Administrative Committee TE Bill Lyle, Chairman, led the Assembly in prayer and presented the report (below). Recommendation 15 was adopted by a 2/3 vote. See 34-21, p. 73, 34-37, p. 149, and 34-43, p. 157 for action on other recommendations of the committee.

Recommendation 15

15. That Overture 20 from Southeast Alabama, “Revise RAO 9-7 to Authorize AC to Select Site of General Assembly,” be answered in the affirmative as follows:

Adopted

Amend the RAO by adding a new 9-7 to wit:

9-7 The Administrative Committee shall be authorized to take the initiative to investigate and recommend to General Assembly sites for the annual meeting of the General Assembly, and to that end, the Administrative Committee shall be authorized to suggest to Presbyteries their hosting the annual meeting of the General Assembly.

GROUNDs

Allowing the AC to take the initiative in selecting Assembly sites would provide for competitive bidding and would be more cost effective.
OVERTURE 20 from Southeast Alabama Presbytery (to AC)
“Revise RAO 9-7 to Authorize AC to Select Site of General Assembly”

Whereas, the General Assembly’s ad interim Committee on Strategic Planning Committee [SPC] is proposing the following change to the Rules of Assembly Operations for adoption by the Thirty-Fourth General Assembly:

Amend RAO 9-7 by adding the following:

9-7. The Administrative Committee shall be authorized to take the initiative to investigate and recommend to General Assembly sites for the annual meeting of the General Assembly, and to that end, the Administrative Committee shall be authorized to suggest to Presbyteries their hosting the annual meeting of the General Assembly.

And whereas, the SPC gave as a rationale, “The change is intended to allow the AC to achieve economies that will enhance GA in being a self-supporting event;” and

Whereas, there is substantial wisdom to the proposed change by adding RAO 9-7; and

Whereas, the SPC has announced its intention that all proposed RAO changes coming from the SPC are to be “considered as a whole” by the Assembly; and

Whereas, some commissioners may desire to support the proposed amendment RAO 9-7 without reference to all other RAO changes being proposed by the SPC;

Therefore, Southeast Alabama Presbytery overtures the Thirty-fourth General Assembly to consider the above-proposed amendment to RAO 9-7 as a separate item of business.

Adopted by Southeast Alabama Presbytery at the Stated Meeting on April 25, 2006
Attested by /s/ Henry Lewis Smith, Stated Clerk

34-10 Partial Report of the Review of Presbytery Records Committee TE Brad Breeson, Chairman, led the Assembly in prayer and presented the Partial Report (see below). He yielded to TE Jeff Hutchinson, who addressed the Assembly. On a proposed amendment to RAO 14-3.e.5, carried over from the 32nd General Assembly to the 33rd General Assembly, and subsequently postponed to the 34th General Assembly, an amendment to strike all after “(BCO 21-4) through the semicolon” (item c) was adopted, and the amended motion was adopted, having received the requisite 2/3 vote.

4. (This recommendation comes in response to our tasking from the 32nd GA to perfect last year’s proposed amendment to the RAO and present it back to this Assembly; see Journal 32-48, III, 9, p. 201.) That the language of RAO 14-3.e.5 be amended as follows (proposed deletions lined through, proposed additions in bold):

“Minutes of presbytery relating to examinations must list all specific requirements and trials for licensure and/or ordination which have been accomplished, including that each candidate being examined for ordination was required to “state the specific instances in which he may differ with the Confession of Faith and Catechisms in any of their statements and/or propositions” (BCO 21-4). This does not mean that a separate vote on each item must be recorded. Presbytery minutes shall record ministers’ and ministerial candidates’ stated differences with our Standards that the presbytery approves as doctrinal exceptions in the following manner. Each presbytery shall record whether:

a) the candidate stated that he had no differences; or
b) the court judged the stated difference(s) to be merely semantic; or
c) the court judged the stated difference(s) to be more than semantic, but “not out of accord with any fundamental of our system of doctrine” (BCO 21-4), and whether the court granted the candidate permission to teach and preach the stated difference(s) or not; or
d) the court judged the stated difference(s) to be “out of accord,” that is “hostile to the system” or “strik(ing) at the vitals of religion” (BCO 21-4).

34-11 Personal Resolution #1

The following Personal Resolution of praise to God for the ministry of TE W. Wilson Benton Jr. from TE Stephen Estock, and REs John Tubbesing, Lowell Pitzer, Donald Guthrie, and Phil Van Valkenburg was received and ordered spread on the Minutes.

Whereas, anyone who sets his heart on being an overseer of God’s people desires a noble task (I Timothy 3:1) and vocation to office in the Church is the calling of God by the Spirit, who bestows suitable gifts for the discharge of various duties (BCO 16-1, 16-3); and

Whereas, Woodrow Wilson Benton Jr., was ordained to the ministry of the Word as a Teaching Elder on June 26, 1966, at Brandon Presbyterian Church in Brandon, MS; and

Whereas, TE Benton will soon celebrate 40 years of faithful ordained service to his Savior, who is the King and Head of the Church; and

Whereas, during those 40 years of service, TE Benton served as pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Cleveland, MS; Covenant Presbyterian Church (PCA), Cleveland, MS; and Kirk of the Hills Presbyterian Church (PCA), St. Louis, MO; and

Whereas, during these 40 years of service, TE Benton has worked to encourage and guide the pastors, churches, committees, and agencies of the Presbyterian Church in America including serving terms as Chairman of the Committee for Mission to North America and as Chairman of the Committee for Reformed University Ministries; and

Whereas, the Lord used TE Benton to encourage and guide the church as Moderator of the 20th General Assembly of the PCA (1992); and

Whereas, TE Benton has announced his intent to retire after 21 years as Senior Pastor of the Kirk of the Hills at the end of October;

Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the 34th General Assembly gives praise to God for the ministry of W. Wilson Benton Jr., and acknowledge with gratitude his years of faithful service to the Lord Jesus Christ and this denomination; and

Be It Further Resolved, that we commend TE Benton to the Lord for many more years of service to the kingdom.

34-12 Personal Resolution #2

The following Personal Resolution of appreciation for RE Ed Nalley from TEs Steve Jussely, John Duke, Raynor Edwards, and Roger Collins, and REs Doug Welch, Ken Sheppard, Tom Sillers, Cecil Ferguson, Scott High, and Jerry Grantham, and was received and ordered spread upon the Minutes.

Whereas, RE Ed Nalley has served the General Assembly for many years as the Sound Engineer of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, his service to the denomination has been invaluable. In addition to running the sound at many general assemblies but he also attended the Convocation of Sessions, the first General Assembly, and was one of the founding fathers of the PCA; and
Whereas, his service to the local church should also be noticed, he served as an elder at Alta Woods Presbyterian Church in Jackson, MN and Lakeland Presbyterian Church in Brandon and also served as clerk of session at Lakeland; and

Therefore, be it resolved that the 34th General Assembly thank RE Ed Nalley for his years of faithful service as sound engineer to the General Assembly;

And be it further resolved that if adopted, the Stated Clerk mail a copy of this resolution to RE Ed Nalley and that the General Assembly pause to pray and thank God for the years of faithful service rendered by RE Ed Nalley to the General Assembly and to the church as a whole.

TE Jussely led the Assembly in a prayer of thanksgiving for TE Benton and RE Nalley.

34-13 Appointment of Committee on Thanks
The Moderator appointed the following men to serve as the Committee on Thanks: TE Henry Lewis Smith (Convener) and RE Joel Belz. (See 34-58, pp. 235-36, for the report of the committee.)

Dr. L. Roy Taylor, Stated Clerk
Presbyterian Church in America
1700 N. Brown Road, Suite 105
Lawrenceville, GA 30043-8143

Dear Dr. Taylor,

I write to you on behalf of the General Assembly of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church with our greetings on the occasion of your 34th General Assembly. We wish you God's blessing and guidance as you seek the mind of Christ and we assure you of our prayers on your behalf. While I believe it will have been a number of years since we were unable to respond to your Assembly's invitation to send a fraternal observer, the occasion of our 25th anniversary at our assembly this same week has left us unable to do so.

On the day when you receive fraternal greetings we will be celebrating our own 25th anniversary of the first North American presbytery with a day-long workshop entitled “Our Story, Our Future.” This day of presentations will feature one of our own ruling elders and noted church historian Dr. Mark Noll, as well as Dr. Sam Logan, your Dr. David Calhoun and several others including our own Drs. Bruce Demarest and Don Fortson, III. While we annually admire the assembly worship which you sponsor, I'm sure your commissioners will agree that our own commissioners were rightly hesitant to be away from our assembly this year, even if for the worthy reason of bringing you greetings from us.

We hold in high esteem the Presbyterian Church in America. Her witness of biblical fidelity, confessional integrity and missional pursuit provide an encouraging example to us. We feel, though we do not yet enjoy full formal fraternal relations together, that we stand with you as fellow laborers in the Lord's vineyard and co-belligerents in prosecuting the commission of our King and Savior Jesus Christ. We look forward to receiving more of that encouragement as your Rev. Cal Buroughs brings us greetings on your behalf.

By God's grace we stand today as 181 congregations of approximately 70,000 members across the country. We have seen God's hand guide us into a greater corporate comprehension and embrace of our confessional identity while preserving our warm unity and evangelical fervor. We enjoy the labors of numbers who came to us from the PCA as you enjoy the same from some who came from us. It is our hope that the many warm and respectful personal relationships will increase causing us to grow corporately in our appreciation and encouragement of one another.

The EPC is facing some significant transitions, primarily due to our efforts at self-assessment in our missional effectiveness but also due to a change in our assembly leadership as I conclude my second term of service. While I have been well-occupied for the last six Junes, I hope to observe one of your assemblies in the near future as our fraternal observer.

Once again, your brothers and sisters in the Evangelical Presbyterian Church commend you to our Lord and wish you His every blessing as you gather together in His name this week in Atlanta.

For the Bride and for the Lamb,
/s/ Michael J. Glodo Stated Clerk

34-17 Assembly Reconvenes
The Assembly reconvened at 1:30 p.m. with the singing of “When I Survey the Wondrous Cross,” hymn 252 (to the tune “As the Hart Longs”), RBI’s ministry. The Assembly expressed appreciation for the work of outgoing President, RE Bill Kuh. RE Brockman introduced RE Gary Campbell as the Board of Directors nominee to succeed RE Kuh as President

34-19 Informational Report of Administrative Committee (AC)
TE William R. Lyle, Chairman, introduced TE Roy Taylor, Stated Clerk, who presented the Informational Report of the Administrative Committee (see Appendix C, pp. 323-413). RE Dick Doster (Editor), TE John Robertson, and RE Joel Belz reported on byFaith magazine. Specific mention was made of a matching gift opportunity for the byFaith capital campaign and of the Evangelical Press Association 2005 award to byFaith as the best denominational magazine. (For the report of the Committee of Commissioners on AC, see pp. 64, 73, 149, and 157.)

34-20 Special Order: Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning RE Frank Brock, Chairman, led the Assembly in prayer and presented the report. He identified the members of the committee along with the Committee and Agency coordinators, as well as advisory members, staff assistant and consultant RE Jim Wert, all of whom have worked diligently.
The Assembly expressed its appreciation. (For the complete report of the Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning, see Appendix O, pp. 568-628.)

Recommendation 1 (Appendix O, p. 582) was adopted by a 2/3 vote per Article XVIII of the RAO, which opened discussion. TEs Dave Clelland, Bryan Chapell, and David Coffin spoke for the committee as to matters relating to the Overtures Committee and Review of Presbytery Records. TE Ligon Duncan spoke for the committee as to the Cooperative Ministries Committee proposal. After a period of discussion, including questions and answers, Recommendation 2.a (Appendix O-pp. 583) was adopted by a 2/3 vote as required.

34-21 Second Partial Report of the Committee of Commissioners on the Administrative Committee

TE Bill Lyle, Chairman, Committee of Commissioners on the Administrative Committee, presented a Partial Report, and Recommendation 17, to answer Overture 24 concerning a delegated assembly in the negative, was adopted. (See 34-43, pp. 157-67, for the full text of the report; see also, 34-9, p. 64, for the First Partial Report and 34-37, p. 149, for the Third Partial Report.)

OVERTURE 24 from Western Carolina Presbytery (to AC)
“Postpone Action on SPC Proposals Regarding Bills & Overtures and Ask AC to Prepare BCO Amendments for a Delegated Assembly”

Whereas, there is concern over the fact there is poor ruling elder participation at the General Assembly level; and

Whereas, the recent amendments to the Book of Church Order providing for larger numbers of ruling elders to be allowed to be sent to the Assembly has not resulted in an increased participation of the ruling elders at the level of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, there is concern over the increasing costs of large convention facilities now required for the present size of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, the present size of the Assembly does not permit the possibility of adequate discussion of issues before the Assembly; and

Whereas, there are radical proposals being made to the 34th General Assembly regarding the change of the Rules for Assembly Operations that minimize the function of the Committees of Commissioners regarding the Permanent Committees and Agencies, and will shift the actual operation of the Assembly from the floor of the Assembly to the super Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures;
Now be it resolved, that the 34th General Assembly postpone action on all of the proposed changes to the BCO and RAO currently before the Assembly, and that the whole matter be referred to the Administrative Committee to bring to the 35th General Assembly an alternative proposal to amend both the BCO and the RAO to provide for a representative Assembly elected by the presbyteries not to exceed 350 commissioners, expenses for whom will be paid for by either the Presbyteries, or by the Assembly from funds collected from each Presbytery based upon the communicant membership of the presbyteries.

Rationale:

1. A representative Assembly will result in virtual equal numbers of Teaching and Ruling Elders at the Assembly. This was the case with the RPCES, and is currently the case with the PCUSA, the OPC, the CRC, and other Churches that have representative assemblies.
2. A representative Assembly will allow the use of churches instead of convention centers, thus greatly reducing the costs of Assembly meetings.
3. A representative Assembly will provide the possibility for greater discussion of the business by the Assembly.

If this Overture is approved and sent to the General Assembly, it should be scheduled for consideration prior to action on the BCO and RAO proposals affecting the restructuring of the Assembly.

Adopted by Western Carolina Presbytery at the stated meeting on May 2, 2006 Attested by /s/ Skip Gillikin, Stated Clerk

34-22  Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning, (continued from 34-20, p. 72)

Recommendations 2.b, 3.a, 3.b, 4.a, and 4.b were adopted by a 2/3 vote per Article XVIII of the RAO. Recommendations 4.c. and 5-7 were adopted. For the entire Strategic Planning Committee (SPC) report, see Appendix O, pp. 568-628.

NOTE: Without objection, editorial corrections were made on p. 613, changing 3.b to 4.b and 3.c to 4.c. Also, on p. 611, 1.b was changed to 3.b.

The Assembly expressed appreciation for the dedicated service of RE Frank Brock as Chairman of the Strategic Planning Committee. On motion, the Assembly dismissed the committee with thanks. At the suggestion of TE Larry Roff, Assembly organist, the Assembly sang Psalm 67 from the Trinity Psalter, p. 54, as a reminder that all we do is kingdom work.

34-23 Partial Report of Committee of Commissioners on Bills & Overtures
TE Howell A. Burkhalter, Chairman, led the Assembly in prayer and presented the report. Recommendation 3 was adopted by a 2/3 vote per Article XVIII of the RAO. See 34-57, pp. 197-235, for full report of the Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures.

Recommendation 3. That Overture 13 from James River Presbytery be answered in the affirmative, with amendments, to become effective at the end of the Assembly.

The Committee acknowledges that the RAO provisions at issue in this Overture are also the subject of recommendations pending from the Strategic Planning Committee, and makes the following further recommendations:

(a) In the event that the recommendations of the Strategic Planning Committee are adopted by the Assembly, that the specific provisions of the RAO addressed by the Overture be further amended as follows [proposed amendments in bold]:

RAO 7-2.b.3: “Provide advice concerning the effect of any proposed amendment to the Constitution or to the Rules of Assembly Operations.” (Appendix O, p. 584); and, RAO 10-5: “Upon receipt, the Stated Clerk shall refer all overtures requesting amendment of the Book of Church Order or the Rules of Assembly Operations to the Committee on Constitutional Business for its advice to the Overtures Committee.” (Appendix O, p. 586) or, in the alternative,

(b) In the event that the recommendations of the Strategic Planning Committee are not adopted by the Assembly, that the specific provisions of the RAO addressed by the Overture be amended as stated below.

Adopted

Grounds: The proposed amendments to RAO 7-2 and 10-5 codify what, in fact, has been the regular practice of the Assembly and its Stated Clerk.

OVERTURE 13 from James River Presbytery (to CCB, B&O)
“Amend RAO 7-2(1) and 10-5 Regarding CCB Relative to RAO Proposed Changes”

Whereas the Committee on Constitutional Business has traditionally addressed changes to the Rules of Assembly Operations but without explicit authority to do so;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the James River Presbytery respectfully overtures the 34th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to approve amending the Rules of Assembly Operations as follows:

(1) Inserting in the second line of the second numbered paragraph (1) of RAO 7-2, immediately after “constitution,” the following: “or the Rules of Assembly Operations,” so that the relevant provision as amended will read as follows:

The Committee on Constitutional Business shall during the General Assembly meetings:

(1) Advise the General Assembly of the effect of any proposed amendment to the constitution or the Rules of Assembly Operations (including but not limited to overtures requesting amendment submitted under RAO 10-5 and 10-6).
And,

(2) Inserting after “Order” at the end of the first sentence of RAO 10-5 the following: “or the Rules of Assembly Operations,” so that the first sentence as amended will read as follows:

Upon receipt the Stated Clerk shall refer to the Committee on Constitutional Business all overtures requesting amendment of the Book of Church Order or the Rules of Assembly Operations.

Respectfully submitted,
/s/ TE Howie Burkhalter, Chairman /s/ TE Ted Trefsgar, Secretary

II. Advice on Overtures

The Stated Clerk referred the following overtures to the committee:

A. Overture 9 from Rocky Mountain Presbytery: “Appendix to BCO re: Procedure for Calling a Pastor”

It is the opinion of the CCB that Overture 9 is not properly before the CCB because it is not proposing an amendment to the constitution; further it is the advice of the CCB that non-constitutional matters of practice and advice should be distributed in sources apart from the BCO, since their distribution with the BCO may imply constitutional force.

Adopted by the CCB

RE Nusbaum recused himself.

B. Overture 13 from James River Presbytery: “Amend RAO 7-2(1) and 10-5 Regarding CCB Relative to RAO Proposed Changes”

In the opinion of the CCB Overture 13 is not in conflict with other parts of the Constitution.

Adopted by the CCB

C. Overture 14 from James River Presbytery: “Amend RAO 10-5 to Refer All BCO Changes To CCB and B & O”

In the opinion of the CCB Overture 14 is in conflict with RAO 13-1 in that the business assigned to the Bills & Overture Committee is defined as “of general nature”. RAO 13-1 permits BCO amendments of a particular nature to be referred to other Committees of Commissioners. Furthermore, this amendment may fail to recognize that proposals to amend the BCO can come before the Assembly in other reports as allowed by BCO 14-1(15).

Adopted by the CCB

D. Overture 15 from James River Presbytery: “Amend BCO 15-4 to Institute Term Limitations For SJC”

In the opinion of the CCB Overture 15 is not in conflict with other parts of the Constitution.

Adopted by the CCB

E. Overture 16 from James River Presbytery: “Amend RAO 13-2 to Limit Consecutive Terms on the Same Committee of Commissioners”

In the opinion of the CCB Overture 16 is not in conflict with other parts of the Constitution.

Adopted by the CCB
F. Overture 17 from Presbytery of the Ascension: “Amend BCO 2-4, Paragraph 7, Regarding Teaching Approved Exceptions”

Consistent with the CCB advice given relative to Overture 9 of the 33rd General Assembly, the CCB now advises the 34th General Assembly as follows: In the opinion of CCB Overture 17 is in conflict with other parts of the Constitution. This overture creates an absolute mandate that every Teaching Elder must present an understandable explanation of a teaching that he does not believe to be true even though his view has been judged as one that does not strike at the vitals of religion and is not hostile to the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures. In some circumstances, this mandate would conflict with BCO Preliminary Principle 1 and WCF Chapter 20.

Furthermore it is the opinion of the CCB that Overture 17 violates Preliminary Principle 1 and WCF 20 in that it may require a man not to teach (nor be understood to be teaching) a view that he believes to be true and has been judged by his presbytery as one that does not strike at the vitals of religion and is not hostile to our system of doctrine.

Adopted by the CCB

III. Advice to the Stated Clerk

The Stated Clerk presented three matters for advice. The CCB responded. Under RAO 7-2(1), the CCB’s advice is not reported directly to the General Assembly. The matters will be addressed in the Report of the Stated Clerk.

IV. Non Judicial References

The committee received three non-judicial references that were answered during the November 29 teleconference.

A. Reference Blue Ridge Presbytery: “…whether Overtures from the Presbyteries concerning issues relating to the Strategic Planning Committee Report may and should be assigned by the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly to the Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures (and/or the Committee of Commissioners on Administration) at the 34th General Assembly?”

The CCB determined not to accede to the non-judicial reference from the Blue Ridge Presbytery in that the committee does not find a constitutional issue raised by the non-judicial reference (BCO 41-5).

Motion adopted by the CCB

B. Reference 1 from Presbytery of Southern Florida (PSF): “Must Presbytery require all examinations for: (1) Ministers seeking entrance into Presbytery; (2) Candidates for Ordination; (3) Applicants for licensure; (4) Candidates to come under care to be communicated in English as well as requiring all written papers required as part of the examination process to be in English? Or may those who do not have English as their primary language use an English speaking translator and may the required papers be translated into English by an English speaking translator?"

It is the opinion of the CCB that it is up to the presbytery to determine if a translated examination enables the presbytery to be fully satisfied that the minister seeking entrance to the presbytery, a candidate for ordination, an applicant for licensure or a candidate coming under care is qualified (BCO 13-6, 18-3, 19-3 and 21-4).

Adopted by the CCB

C. Reference 2 from PSF: May Presbytery require all Session records required to be submitted to Presbytery in accordance with BCO 12-7 and 40-1,2 to be originally recorded in English or just require English translated copies for examination?

It is the opinion of the CCB that the presbytery may adopt either of these procedures provided that the procedure adopted facilitates its review of session records consistent with the standards in the BCO (BCO 12-7, 13-9b, 40-2).

Adopted by the CCB

The committee received two additional non-judicial references at the April 24, 2006 meeting.

D. Non-judicial Reference 1 from Westminster Presbytery: “…whether severance packages for ministers must be approved by the congregation or may they be approved by the session alone?”

It is the opinion of the CCB that sessions can approve severance packages because these are budgetary matters. Approval of budgetary matters are the responsibility of the Session (BCO 12-5b). There is no constitutional mandate that severance packages be approved by the congregation. Adopted by the CCB

E. Non-judicial Reference 2 from Westminster Presbytery: “Is it in accord with the Westminster Standards to hold and teach the view that the reprobate, who is a member of the visible church, is in covenant (of grace) with God?”

It is the opinion of the CCB that hypothetical issues of doctrine are beyond our authority to answer and must be settled either by adjudication or determination by the appropriate court.

Adopted by the CCB
V. Minutes of the Standing Judicial Commission

The CCB has read the minutes of the Standing Judicial Commission dated March 2-3, 2005, and found no exceptions to RAO 15 and the MSJC. Notations found by the CCB will be communicated to the SJC.

Adopted by the CCB

REPORT OF THE CASES
STANDING JUDICIAL COMMISSION CASE 2004-8 COMPLAINT TE JAMES THORNTON
VS.
WESTMINSTER PRESBYTERY

I. SUMMARY OF THE FACTS

1. In 1993, TE James Thornton was installed by Westminster Presbytery as pastor of the Meadow Creek Presbyterian Church in Greeneville, Tennessee.

2. On April 15, 2001, the pastoral relationship between TE Thornton and the Meadow Creek Church was dissolved.

3. On October 27, 2001, the Shepherding Committee of Westminster Presbytery reported: “That TE Jim Thornton be recognized as on the roll of Presbytery without call effective April 21, 2001” (ROC, p. 141).

5. On January 7, 2004, the Shepherding Committee of Westminster Presbytery sent a letter to TE Thornton stating that:

   the Shepherding Committee reviewed the matter of several Teaching Elders within the Presbytery being without call for an extended period as pertaining to chapters 13 and 34 of the Book of Church Order … The Committee determined that the appropriate way to address your particular situation would be for you to seek the Lord's face and provide in writing to the return address a clarification of your call to the ministry as referenced in BCO 13-2 and 34-10. The Committee sees these referenced sections of the BCO as pastoral encouragement and trusts that this could be of benefit to you (ROC, p. 76).

6. On January 25, 2004, the Session of Memorial Presbyterian Church in Elizabethton, Tennessee issued a call to TE Thornton to serve as assistant pastor (ROC, pp. 42, 73).

7. April 17, 2004, Westminster Presbytery declined to place the call from the Memorial Church Session in TE Thornton's hands and began the process of BCO 34.10 by citing him to appear at the next stated meeting. The following motion was adopted:

   That Presbytery decline to place the call from Memorial PCA into the hands of TE Thornton according to BCO 20-10 as it shall appear to be most beneficial to the peace and edification for the church. That Presbytery proceed according to the BCO 34-10. That Presbytery, in accordance with the requirements of BCO 13-2, cite Mr. Thornton to appear at the July, 2004, stated meeting, in order that he may be heard per BCO 34-10” (ROC, pp. 15-16).

8. On April 20 2004, the Stated Clerk of Westminster Presbytery wrote TE Thornton citing him to appear before Presbytery’s next Stated Meeting on July 17, 2004 per BCO 34-10 (ROC, p. 78).

10. On July 17, 2004, Westminster Presbytery denied TE Thornton’s complaint. The Presbytery took the following action in answering the complaint:

   A point of order was made to proceed procedurally by dividing the complaint into two parts; First, to deal with the Call from Memorial, and then to deal with the part concerning the issue of citing him according to BCO 34-10 … It was moved that we deny that part of the complaint dealing with Presbytery’s action to decline handing the Call from Memorial into his hands … The motion was discussed, and the question called. The motion passed with the following grounds: “That BCO 20-10 gives Presbytery the option to decline placing the call into his hands as it may appear to most for the peace and edification of the Church at large. Therefore, there was no error on the part of the Presbytery.” … It was MSP that we deny the complaint [the second part] on the grounds that BCO 13-2 requires that “When a minister shall continue on the rolls of his Presbytery without a call to a particular work for a prolonged period, not exceeding three years, the procedure as set forth in 34-10 shall be followed” (ROC, p.49).

11. On August 6, 2004, TE Thornton carried his complaint to the SJC (ROC, pp. 5-9).

II. STATEMENT OF THE ISSUES

1. Did Westminster Presbytery err on July 17, 2004 in denying the complaint against its action taken on April 17, 2004, by declining to place the call from Memorial PCA into the hands of TE Jim Thornton?

2. Did Westminster Presbytery err on July 17, 2004 in denying the complaint against its action taken April 17, 2004, by beginning the process of divestiture without censure against TE Thornton per BCO 13-2 and BCO 34-10?

III. JUDGMENT

2. Yes.

IV. REASONING AND OPINION

On April 17, 2004, Westminster Presbytery (“WP”) voted to begin the process to divest TE Thornton of his office without censure pursuant to the latter half of BCO 34-10. At the time of this vote, the presbytery also had in its possession a duly issued call to TE Thornton from the session of Memorial PCA. These circumstances preclude the application of BCO 34-10 against TE Thornton.

BCO 34-10 envisions two possible courses of action by a presbytery against a minister remaining on the roll of the presbytery for an extended period without call. First, where the presbytery finds the member has violated his ordination vows by failing to diligently pursue the exercise of his gifts, the presbytery may institute process against the member. Second, where the member has diligently sought to exercise his gifts, but no church has agreed to receive him as a shepherd, the presbytery has the power to administratively divest him, without censure, of his office – even against his will. Westminster Presbytery did not institute judicial process against TE Thornton. Instead, it invoked the latter, or “administrative remedy”, arguing that TE Thornton lacked “acceptance to the Church.” The record does not support that claim.

The administrative remedy of BCO 34-10 arises from BCO 16-1 and Preliminary Principle 6. BCO 16-1 states that calling to ecclesiastical office rests upon three joint affirmations – the inward testimony of the minister’s conscience, the manifest approbation of God’s people, and the concurrence of a lawful court of the church. The minister may renounce this calling by voluntarily demitting his office (BCO 38-2). A presbytery removes its sanction by judicial action (BCO 34-1 et seq and 38-1 et seq). Preliminary Principle 6 recognizes that the power to elect those who have authority over a particular society rests in that society, and may be withheld or removed by that society. Thus, the people may withhold their “approbation” of a minister’s calling by refusing to issue a call. The latter half of BCO 34-10 gives effect to this by providing the means for divesture, without censure, of a minister who considers himself called and who is in good standing with his presbytery, where the third necessary affirmation of BCO 16-1 is lacking – there is no longer a testimony of manifest approbation from God’s people.

The record clearly demonstrates that Westminster Presbytery erred in its understanding and application of BCO 34-10. The uncontradicted evidence in the record establishes that the Session of Memorial PCA issued a valid call to TE Thornton and that presbytery had that call in its hands at the time of its erroneous vote. Under these circumstances, the administrative remedy of BCO 34-10 cannot be invoked. TE Thornton’s complaint should have been sustained, and hereby is sustained, and the decision to divest TE Thornton of office, without censure, is hereby reversed.

The second issue arises from the claim of Westminster Presbytery that it has unfettered discretion to approve or disapprove of a duly issued call to one of its members. Presbytery mistakenly cites BCO 20-10 as support for its decision. However, BCO 20-10 applies to circumstances in which a call is issued to a minister currently serving another congregation. This is clearly not the case in this matter. In its brief, presbytery argues that BCO 21-1 (the correct provision regarding approval of a call to a minister without a call) contains the same essential rights and that the errors of presbytery in this regard are inconsequential. Without addressing whether or not this error was fatal to the decision of Westminster Presbytery, we conclude that Westminster Presbytery erred in the exercise of its rights of review and approval, regardless of whether the review occurs under 20-10 or 21-1.

Westminster Presbytery argues that the BCO gives it an absolute right to review calls to its members (or prospective members) and to refuse to place those calls in the hands of its members if, in its judgment, the call is not beneficial to the church. In support of this unfettered exercise of discretion and judgment, WP points to BCO 39-3, which states that higher courts should exercise “great deference to a lower court regarding those matters of discretion or judgment which can only be addressed by a court with familiar acquaintance of the events and parties.” However, BCO 39-3 goes on to state that the higher court is to reverse the lower court where “there is clear error on the part of the lower court.” This is a case of clear error.

At the time this call was issued to TE Thornton, he was a member in good standing of Westminster Presbytery. Prior process against him arising from his tenure at another church had been abandoned by Westminster Presbytery. No new judicial proceedings were brought against him. Representatives of WP argue that ongoing concerns about TE Thornton caused them to conclude that he should not be given spiritual authority in another work. If that is the case, BCO 34-1 et seq mandates that process be brought, or that such opinions be kept privately, so that no minister might be censured on slight grounds (BCO 34-2).

In effect, WP refused to approve this call so that it could invoke the provisions of BCO 34-10 against TE Thornton and remove him from office without judicial process. To do so was not an exercise of its discretion; it was a violation of the Constitution. The Complaint of TE Thornton against this action is sustained and the case is remanded to Presbytery with the direction that the call of the Memorial PCA Session to TE Thornton be approved and placed in his hands, and that a time be set for his installation.

The complaint is sustained and the case is remanded to Presbytery with the direction that the call of the Memorial PCA Session to TE Jim Thornton be approved and placed in his hands, and that a time be set for his installation.

Summary of the Facts, Statement of the Issues and Judgment were written by TE Dominic A. Aquila. Revised Reasoning and Opinion written by TE Howell A. Burkhalter and approved by the full SJC.
In accordance with the Standing Judicial Commission Manual 19.8 (8) (k), we submit this concurring opinion in SJC Case 2004-8 (Thornton vs. Westminster Presbytery). We believe the case was properly decided and want to address other issues relevant to this case as it touches on the PCA form of Presbyterian polity.

One of the issues in this case is the means by which pastoral calls are issued and approved. In the PCA Book of Church Order (BCO), the congregation (or a Session in the case of an assistant pastor) issues a call to a teaching elder and the Presbytery approves it and places it in his hands. Assuming that a candidate is qualified by virtue of his Presbytery examination; can a Presbytery decide not to approve a call from a congregation?

A review of the facts in this case appears to place competing provisions and principles in the BCO at odds with one another. The issue raised in this complaint is that a Session voted to extend a legitimate call to a minister already a member of the Presbytery to serve as an assistant pastor. The Presbytery voted not to approve the call and place it in the minister's hand, citing as its ground: “That Presbytery decline to place the call from Memorial PCA into the hands of TE Thornton according to BCO 20-10 as it shall appear to be most beneficial to the peace and edification for the church” (ROC, p. 16). The Presbytery then proceeded, in the same motion, to summon the complainant to answer for being on the rolls of Presbytery without a call for three years (BCO 13-2). The complainant argued that the call was in every way consistent with the provisions in the BCO and should have been approved. The Presbytery argued that it had the right under BCO 20-10 not to approve the call. In answering the complaint Presbytery stated: “BCO 20-10 gives Presbytery the option to decline placing the call into his hands as it may appear to most for the peace and edification of the Church at large” (ROC, p. 49).

In judging the facts in this particular case, we are confronted with what appear to be competing provisions and principles in the Book of Church Order. However, these principles are not really in competition once they are viewed in the light of the foundational principles enumerated in the Preliminary Principles of the BCO. A foundational principle of the PCA form of Presbyterianism is its grass roots nature. That is, it is a bottom-up not top-down denomination in its form of polity. As a result of this grass roots structure, the PCA form of Presbyterianism gives primacy and deference to the will of the congregation to choose its overseers. This principle is unique to the PCA's polity and is in contrast to what may be referred to as historic Presbyterian polity. This particular case must be understood in light of this foundational principle.

Note the language of Preliminary Principles 6: “Though the character, qualifications and authority of church officers are laid down in the Holy Scriptures, as well as the proper method of officer investiture, the power to elect persons to the exercise of authority in any particular society resides in that society” (emphasis added).

This same principle is stated again in BCO 16-2: “The government of the Church is by officers gifted to represent Christ, and the right of God's people to recognize by election to office those so gifted is inalienable. Therefore no man can be placed over a church in any office without the election, or at least the consent of that church” (emphasis added).

In light of this foundational principle, the powers given and prescribed in the BCO to higher courts are to be interpreted and understood through the lens of this principle. One of the implications of this principle is that the right of PCA congregations to elect their overseers precedes or is primary to the expressed rights of Presbyteries to prevent qualified men from accepting legitimate pastoral calls and being placed in their ministries.

This foundational principle in no way prevents, hinders or restricts Presbyteries from examining ministers to assure themselves that candidates are moral, biblical, and confessional. Presbyteries must assure themselves that ministers are qualified to shepherd the flock and to engage in the gospel ministry. They may even counsel a man not to accept a call because to do so may bring difficulty to himself, his family and/or the congregation. However, because of the nature of the foundational principle expressed in the Preliminary Principles, when all reasonable measures have been followed, and after Presbyteries have determined that candidates are otherwise qualified morally, bibically, and confessionally, they should give deference to and accede to the will of congregations who have expressed themselves through the pastoral election process.

This principle, that PCA congregations have the right to elect their overseers, has been sustained a number of times in past judicial decisions. For example, in SJC Case 92-2 (Virgil B. Roberts vs. New River Presbytery), the court found that a Presbytery could not prevent a congregation from dissolving the pastoral relationship between itself and the pastor. In its Reasoning and Opinion the court stated:
Much care should be exercised in taking the general provision in one section of the BCO and applying to specific situations that are dealt with in a specific section of the BCO. Dr. Morton Smith in his Commentary on the PCA Book of Church Order notes that the Presbytery has authority to go beyond the specific provisions that are spelled out in the BCO “so long as it is not in conflict with it . . .”

The majority of the panel notes that a previous decision in case 91-2, the Standing Judicial Commission and the General Assembly affirmed that “the discretion given to a Presbytery under 23-1 does not give Presbytery power to prevent the implementation of a valid decision of a congregation.” That “valid decision of a congregation” must be understood to include both the elections of the pastor and the concurrence in his resignation. The fundamental right of a congregation to elect its officers was noted by Dr. Morton Smith in an article in the book The Historical Birth of the Presbyterian Church in America. He concluded that it is a fundamental provision of our polity that “the office bearers in the Apostolic church were chosen by the people . . . On the basis of this (1 Timothy 5:1,7), we may conclude that the function of ‘pastors and teachers’ of Ephesians 4:11 are included under the office of elder.”

In Preg, et. al., vs. Missouri Presbytery (M13GA, pp.127-130), the issue was whether a higher court can take an action that affects a lower court in areas not expressly authorized by the BCO. The specific issue in the complaint was whether Presbytery may require its shepherding committee to visit a Session and congregation against its wishes. The Presbytery had taken its action based on the expressed language of BCO 13-9f, which states in part, “…to visit churches for the purpose of inquiring into and redressing the evils that may have arisen in them...” The decision stated:

BCO 11-4 reads in part, “The jurisdiction of these courts is limited by the express provision of the Constitution.” In the opinion of the Commission, BCO 13-9 contains no express provision, which meaning is clear and undebatable, as would permit a Presbytery to require the receiving of a Presbytery committee's visit without a request or by a specific problem in the session or congregation in question . . . the Commission also wishes to protect lower courts from any possible encroachment, implied or otherwise, by higher courts, and beyond the express powers given to those higher courts in the BCO (emphasis in the original).
With regard to Westminster Presbytery's answer in denying the complaint, it referred to a portion of the last sentence of the first paragraph of BCO 20-10 as the ground for not approving TE Thornton's call, to wit: “...as it shall appear to most for the peace and edification of the Church at large” (ROC, p. 49). This phrase was taken out of context and does not mean what the Presbytery interpreted it to mean. Note the whole of the first paragraph of BCO 20-10:

A congregation desiring to call a pastor from his charge, shall, by its commissioners, to the Presbytery prosecute the call before its Presbytery. The Presbytery, having heard all the parties, may, upon viewing the whole case, either recommend them to desist from prosecuting the call; or may order it to be delivered to the minister to whom it is addressed, with or without advice; or may decline to place the call in his hands; as it shall appear most for the peace and edification of the Church at large (emphases added).

According to this provision, when a Presbytery considers a call to a minister, if there are any disputes about the call from members of the congregation [the parties], then the Presbytery has a number of options: It may either (1) recommend them [the parties] to desist from prosecuting the call; or (2) it may order it to be delivered to the minister to whom it is addressed, with or without advice; or (3) it may decline to place the call in his hands. As it considers its options when congregation members are disputing the call, the Presbytery may choose whichever option “as it shall appear most for the peace and edification of the Church at large.” This last sentence does not stand alone; it is the conclusion of a section that gives direction and options to a Presbytery on how to handle a dispute after a pastoral call has been issued when members of a congregation are divided about prosecuting the call.

Since the stated ground that Westminster Presbytery gave in denying to place the call into the hands of TE Thornton was BCO 20-10 (ROC, pp. 16, 49), we judge that the Presbytery improperly interpreted and applied BCO 20-10 and its action based on this interpretation cannot be sustained as a valid reason for its action. The ROC in this particular case clearly indicates that TE Thornton was a member in good standing of the Presbytery, he had received a legitimate call from the Memorial PCA Session, and there were no disputing parties to the call, which would be a necessary precondition for invoking BCO 20-10. It is our judgment that in this instance, invoking BCO 20-10 was inappropriate since there were no disputing parties from the calling body.

So we ask again, under the PCA Constitution, does a Presbytery have the right to refuse to approve a member-church's call of a pastor? The answer is “yes”; but not an unqualified “yes”. This privilege must be exercised in the light of other related provisions of the \textit{BCO}, such as \textit{BCO} 16-2 and Preliminary Principle 6. These provisions give to the local congregation the right to choose who serves them as pastor-minister. Hence, absent some extraordinary issue, such as the proposed minister's character deficiency or a theological aberration, the Presbytery should normally accede to the wishes of the local church by approving the call to the teaching elder the congregation requests and place the call in his hands.

The SJC is an appellate court of the PCA. \textit{BCO} 32-18 provides as follows:

“Nothing which is not contained in this 'record' (ROC) shall be taken into consideration by the higher court”.

The only reason given by Westminster Presbytery for its refusal to place the proper call of Memorial Presbyterian Church in the hands of TE Thornton was: “ . . . as it shall appear to be most beneficial to the peace and edification for the church” (ROC, p. 16).

These words and the remainder of the ROC state no specific facts that would support or justify that it would be “most beneficial to the peace and edification for the church.” No facts are stated in the ROC that would support or justify this position. No reasons are given and no past factual actions of TE Thornton are given for this appellate court to judge or evaluate the reasons for such drastic action. This appellate court was given no facts in the ROC on which to make a judgment as to whether or not the placing of this call in TE Thornton's hands would or would not be “most beneficial to the peace and edification for the church.” Without such supporting factual evidence, we conclude that we cannot support, and therefore must declare as error, this action by Westminster Presbytery in refusing to place this legitimate call of Memorial Presbyterian Church in the hands of TE Thornton.

Our judgment on this issue is grounded in at least three (3) factors: (1) the foundational principles enumerated in the Preliminary Principles are the lens through which the expressed provisions of the \textit{BCO} must be interpreted. There is nothing in the ROC of this particular case that gave warrant for the Presbytery to deny placing the call into the hands of TE Thornton. (2) The interpretation of \textit{BCO} 20-10, which requires that there be disputing parties from the congregation to a call as a precondition for it to be invoked. The ROC is clear that there were no disputing parties from the congregation and there was no basis for \textit{BCO} 20-10 to be invoked. And (3) there was nothing in the ROC to indicate that TE Thornton was ever charged with “habitually failing to discharge” his call to ministry, also there is no evidence in the ROC that he ever received any counsel from Presbytery not to accept the call.
The complainant also raised a question about Westminster Presbytery beginning the process of divestiture in accordance with BCO 34-10. It is clear from the ROC that TE Thornton had received a call to a particular church in the Presbytery. The call from the Memorial PCA Session was issued on January 25, 2004, about three months prior to the April 17, 2004 stated meeting of Westminster Presbytery. Here was a teaching elder in good standing in the Presbytery with a legitimate call from one of the churches in the Presbytery, and at the same meeting at which the call is presented, not only does the Presbytery decline to approve the call, but also moves to begin the process of divestiture from ministry without censure because he had been without a call to a particular work for a period of time. It is our judgment that the provisions of BCO 13-2 were not applicable to TE Thornton in this instance in the light of the call he had received and was placed in the hands of Presbytery.

The primary requirement for the application of the provision of BCO 13-2 is, “When a minister shall continue on the roll of Presbytery without a call.” This prerequisite was not met in this case; thus the appeal to BCO 13-2 was not applicable. The action by Westminster Presbytery on April 17, 2004, against placing a legitimate call from Memorial Presbyterian Church, issued January 25, 2004, in the hands of the Complainant, rendered the invoking of BCO 13-2 premature and not applicable in this case. This action of Westminster Presbytery, in this matter, was hasty and misapplied.

Respondent, Westminster Presbytery, also insisted that BCO 34-10 supported its action for refusing to place a legitimate call from one of its churches in the hands of the Complainant, TE Thornton, and to begin the process of divestiture. Respondent argued that BCO 34-10 was the proper support for its action of April 17, 2004.

We believe that, at this stage of the procedure, BCO 34-10 was not applicable to the action taken by Westminster Presbytery on April 17, 2004. BCO 34-10 is a provision under the BCO Rules of Discipline. It begins with the following prerequisite for its applicability, to-wit:

> Whenever a minister of the gospel shall habitually fail to be engaged in the regular discharge of his official functions, it shall be the duty of the Presbytery . . .

There are no facts in the ROC that indicate that TE Thornton had ever been charged with ‘habitually failing to regularly discharge his official function,’ or had ever been heard by Westminster Presbytery on this matter, and certainly had never been found guilty of such a charge by Westminster Presbytery. These are undisputed facts. The above stated prerequisite for applicability has never been met. Therefore, that portion has been improperly claimed and used by Westminster Presbytery as a basis of such charge against TE Thornton. The failure to meet this prerequisite rules out the claim that BCO 34-10 can be the proper basis for the April 17, 2004 action by Westminster Presbytery against TE Thornton.

TE Thornton had been a faithful member of Westminster Presbytery for several years. As a matter of fact he had been elected Chairman of Westminster Presbytery's Missions Committee. In such capacity, he had served faithfully and without criticism. The ROC has many instances of his service in other areas in the Presbytery.

Even if it were conceded that BCO 34-10 was applicable to this case, Westminster Presbytery did not follow the procedure authorized by 34-10, which is, “… to institute judicial proceedings against him [the minister] for breach of his covenant engagement.”

We concur with the majority decision that Westminster Presbytery improperly used BCO 34-10 and concur that the complaint should be sustained.

CONCURRING OPINION - 2
JUDICIAL CASE NO. 2004-08
COMPLAINT OF TE JAMES THORNTON VS. WESTMINSTER PRESBYTERY

We concur in the result reached by the majority, but believe that the Reasoning and Opinion needs clarification.

An issue in the case was whether a presbytery has unfettered discretion to approve or disapprove a duly issued call to one of its members. The majority found that Westminster Presbytery erred in the exercise of this discretion.

Presbytery contends that pursuant to BCO 20-10, a presbytery “can disapprove a call if it deems it best for the Church” and that the “reasons for such a disapproval are not required to be given.” Presbytery argued that this decision belongs solely to presbytery and is not subject to review by the General Assembly or SJC. Presbytery states that in the exercise of this discretion, it was “privy to information that came from two Commissioners that had been working with Mr. Thornton and the Meadow Creek Church for several years.” The specifics of this information were not in the Record of the Case. Presbytery states that the BCO “does not require [it] to list its reasons for disapproval” and for Presbytery to:

deny a call, the SJC should recognize that Presbytery must have had good reasons. The SJC is not privy to all these reasons. But regardless, the place of the SJC is not to judge the validity of the reasons, but to judge the validity of a Presbytery acting within the parameters of BCO 21-1 for reasons the Presbytery itself deems as being for the good of the Church.

In our view, a presbytery, when presented with a request to approve a Call or a pastoral relationship, does not have to automatically acquiesce in the same.

When presented with such a request from a non-member, a presbytery should first determine that the man is qualified to accept the Call, i.e. the ordination trials for an unordained man (BCO 21) or the views examination for an ordained man (BCO 20). If presbytery determines that a man is not qualified, this decision and the reasons supporting the same must be set forth in the Minutes in order to allow the man a basis upon which to complain.

In this case, the request came from a member; therefore, absent specific reasons to the contrary, the man is deemed qualified. No charges were pending against TE Thornton. No specific reasons to support a finding that TE Thornton was not qualified were given.

Once this determination is made, a presbytery should then move to vote to approve or disapprove the Call or pastoral relationship. The Call or pastoral relationship should be approved, unless the presbytery can make objective, justifiable findings showing why the Call or pastoral relationship should be disapproved. No specific reasons to support a finding that the Call to TE Thornton was not qualified were given.

Presbytery argues that it does not have to specify reasons for its decision because the BCO in this instance does not specifically state that reasons must be given. This argument must fail. In order to afford appellate review of an action by a lower court, the lower court must specify the reasons for taking the action. Without the specified reasons, a higher court has no basis upon which to review the lower court’s decision.

Presbytery stated that commissioners may make the decision for different reasons; therefore, it is not practical to state the specific reasons for its decisions. It was suggested that someone is not required to state the reasons one votes for or against a man in an election. While this is true in an election, the disapproval of a Call is not an election. While commissioners may have different reasons for their votes to disapprove a Call, the specific reasons for its decision to disapprove a Call should be adopted by presbytery. If the specific reason of a particular commissioner is not adopted by presbytery, the commissioner should either reconsider his vote or have his specific reasons set out in the Minutes, so that an appellate court can properly review any challenges to the action.

In our view, Presbytery failed to specify grounds that are sufficient to justify its decision to disapprove TE Thornton’s Call. Such a failure is error in the exercise of Presbytery’s rights and duties.

Our opinion in this case is consistent with the Concurring Opinion on SJC 2001-34 and 2002-3 signed by RE Samuel J. Duncan and Thomas F. Leopard, (M33GA p. 98) which dealt with delay by a presbytery in approving the dissolution of a pastoral relationship. Presbyteries must not abuse powers granted by the BCO by acting without good and sufficient reason to either delay or deny a call or to approve a dissolution.

OBJECTION
TO DECISION OF STANDING JUDICIAL COMMISSION

In accordance with BCO 45-1 and 45-4, the undersigned hereby tender our objection to the ruling of the Standing Judicial Commission (SJC) in Case 2004-8 whereby Westminster Presbytery was found to be in error “in denying the complaint against its action taken on April 17, 2004, by declining to place the call from Memorial PCA into the hands of TE Jim Thornton.” We hereby state our reasons for registering our objection.

1. The SJC acknowledges that its ruling depends on a departure from historic Presbyterian polity. “A foundational principle of the PCA form of Presbyterianism is its grassroots nature. That is, it is a bottom-up not top-down denomination in its form of polity. As a result of this grassroots structure, the PCA form of Presbyterianism gives primacy and deference to the will of the congregation to choose its overseers. This principle is unique to the PCA’s polity and is in contrast to what may be referred to as historic Presbyterian polity. This particular case must be understood in light of this foundational principle.” We deny that Westminster Presbytery’s action was in conflict with the grassroots nature of the PCA. We also deny that Presbytery’s duties in prosecuting a call are negated by a “grassroots” approach. We believe that the SJC’s decision undermines what is essential to Presbyterianism, i.e. the role of presbyteries.

2. BCO 20-10 and 21-1 both clearly state that the approval of Presbytery is essential to the prosecution of a call issued by a congregation to a minister. The decision of the SJC severely limits the Presbytery’s responsibilities in the process. In doing so the decision eliminates a crucial element in the Presbyterian system of checks and balances. There is no point in requiring a call to be approved by Presbytery before a man is installed if the only acceptable decision is to endorse the decision of the calling congregation. The clear language indicates that the Presbytery may deem it not to be “for the good of the Church” for reasons sufficient unto itself. It should also be noted that the capitalization of the word “Church” in BCO 21-1 (“and the Presbytery deems it for the good of the Church”) is not merely the local congregation, but the broader Church, including the Presbytery.

3. The SJC asserts that it made its decision on the basis of clear error on the part of Westminster Presbytery. We believe that the error is found in the SJC interpreting the BCO according to its admitted departure from historical Presbyterian polity. We concur with the SJC that there is no conflict between BCO Preliminary Principle #6 and BCO 16-2 against BCO 20-10 and BCO 21-1. Neither Preliminary Principle #6, nor BCO 16-2, negates Presbytery’s duties set forth in BCO 20-10 and 21-1. We insist with all Presbyterians that congregations have the right to elect their own officers and that a presbytery cannot place a man over a congregation without the consent of that church. We also insist with our BCO that Teaching Elders cannot serve congregations apart from the approval of Presbytery. In fact, a Teaching Elder who is called by a congregation is not ordinarily permitted to move on to the field prior to approval by Presbytery (BCO 21-1). We believe that the SJC’s ruling, in effect, restricts the rights and duties of Presbytery set forth in BCO 20-10 and BCO 21-1 and expands the rights of congregations beyond those granted by the BCO and historic Presbyterian polity.
The decision to diverge from historic Presbyterian polity should be determined by the “grassroots” of the PCA rather than by the judicial decisions of the SJC.

APPEAL 2005-1
TE MICHAEL CHASTAIN
VS.
HERITAGE PRESBYTERY

I. SUMMARY OF THE FACTS

Introduction

This case arises, in part, from TE Kenneth L. Gentry, Jr.’s (TE Gentry) Report to the Session of Christ Presbyterian Church (CPC) of his “Pastoral Concerns and Recommendations” (PCR) in regard to TE C. Michael Chastain (TE Chastain). TE Gentry was an Assistant Pastor at CPC with responsibility to establish Westminster Classical College (WCC) in Elkton, Maryland. TE Chastain was the Pastor at CPC and Chancellor of WCC. Apparently, TE Gentry and TE Chastain blamed each other in connection with the failure of WCC, which was a related ministry of CPC. The WCC faculty and certain assets were transferred to and/or merged with Christ College in Lynchburg, Virginia.

TE Gentry states in the PCR that he was motivated to write because TE Chastain “has been denigrating me in the context of WCC’s failure to open.” He states that he is not bringing judicial charges, but wants the Session of CPC to consider the same as a matter of pastoral concern in regard to both TE Chastain and CPC.

These pastoral concerns were that TE Chastain’s spiritual and professional failures “may be dangerous as CPC attempts to raise money for its building program” and that TE Chastain “lacks not only the caution, but the financial, contractual, negotiating, and communication skills necessary to safely lead CPC into such a long term financial commitments.”

More specifically, TE Gentry’s concerns are TE Chastain’s “need of spiritual counseling related to what appear to me to be his tendencies to pathological falsehood and regarding his frequent mistreatment of believers.” The assertions are basically twofold: a) that TE Chastain’s personal lack of giftedness results in undesirable, but not sinful behaviors, which if continue unchecked, might cause future ventures of CPC to have less than favorable outcomes and b) that TE Chastain’s behavior was sinful.

Although TE Gentry specifically claims to be neither a prophet, nor the son of a prophet, he states in the PCR that he is “concerned that CPC may one day call an Associate Minister, or perhaps even a Campus Minister, either of whom (I am convinced) TE Chastain will almost certainly develop strained relationships with, thereby causing ministerial and contractual difficulties.”

Facts

02-04-03 TE Chastain, as Chancellor of WCC, signed an application for WCC to be approved by the State of Maryland as a religiously-exempt degree granting college.

02-22-03 TE Gentry reports that the Maryland Higher Education Commission gave TE Chastain an oral approval of the WCC application for degree-granting status.

02-24-03 Per the unsigned Memorandum of Understanding, merger negotiations begin between WCC (represented, in part, by TE Chastain) and Christ College.

02-25-03 The WCC Board decides to withdraw the application for degree-granting status and pursue transfer/merger with Christ College. TE Chastain directs TE Gentry to withdraw WCC’s application.

02-27-03 TE Chastain, on behalf of WCC, reports to the Session of CPC that WCC had not yet been granted degree-granting status and that the same would not likely be achieved in a timely fashion.

02-27-03 Letter from Maryland Higher Education Commission to TE Chastain, Chancellor of WCC, to wit: certification that WCC “satisfies all of the criteria for the status of a religious degree-granting institution as set forth in Section 11-202 of the Education Article. As such, WCC may operate and grant degrees in religious disciplines without the approval of this Commission.”

03-04-03 TE Chastain sends an e-mail to the Congregation of CPC concerning reasons for the transfer/merger of WCC to/with Christ College, to wit: delays have resulted in WCC not being able “to achieve key timely milestones such as ‘Caesar’s’ approval to grant degrees,” and a response from the State of Maryland to WCC’s application for degree granting status has not been received.

03-11-03 At TE Chastain’s direction and under his active supervision, a letter on WCC letterhead was mailed implying that the State’s approval had not been given.

03-12-03 Merger negotiations end between WCC (represented, in part, by TE Chastain) and Christ College. Note: the Merger Agreement in the RoC is not signed or dated, but does recite the negotiation dates.

03-17-03 Letter from TE Chastain to the Congregation of CPC concerning reasons for the transfer/merger of WCC to/with Christ College, to wit: delays have resulted in WCC not being able “to achieve key timely milestones such as ‘Caesar’s’ approval to grant degrees,” and a response from the State of Maryland to WCC’s application for degree granting status has not been received. (same letter was e-mailed to the Congregation on 03-04-03).

03-31-03 TE Gentry learns that the WCC application was approved by the State.

05-06-03 Letter from Maryland Higher Education Commission to TE Chastain, Chancellor of WCC that is the same as the 02-27-03 letter. This letter was requested by TE Gentry as evidence that the approval had been given.

06-04-03 At a Congregational Meeting of CPC, a proposal was made to change the Calls of TE Don Post, who was the Administrator/Headmaster of Tall Oaks Classical School (TOCS), a related ministry of CPC, and TE David Lort from Assistant Pastors to Associate Pastors. This matter was referred to the existing Associate Pastor Search Committee.

06-19-03 TE Gentry’s PCR is received by the Session of CPC (TE Chastain and 3 Ruling Elders), and the Session began their study of it.

07-23-03 TE Chastain, in response to a concern that he had lied to the Congregation of CPC in his 03-17-3 letter concerning the State’s approval to grant degrees, produces the 05-06-03 letter from the State as evidence that he did not know (prior to that date) that WCC’s application to grant degrees had been approved.

08-21-03 The Associate Pastor Search Committee’s Report was presented to the Session of CPC, i.e. call TE Don Post as an Associate Pastor.

09-11-03 Private (unofficial) letter from 2 of the 3 Ruling Elders at CPC to TE Chastain, to wit: recent events have brought to light your tendency toward falsehoods, as well as a lack of managerial and administrative ability, all of which has probably been present for years, but only recognized by the 2 Ruling Elders as a result of the closing of WCC. TE Chastain is called to acknowledge these sins and repent.

12-04-03  Session of CPC tabled a motion concerning TE Gentry’s PCR.
12-11-03  Session of CPC calls a Congregational Meeting for 12-17-03 to vote on the Associate Pastor Call to TE Don Post. Only TE Chastain opposes extending this Call.
12-16-03  E-mail to Congregation of CPC from TE Chastain concerning the Congregational Meeting to call Don Post as an Associate Pastor stating that “[i]n this particular situation, I believe that our governing standards are being bent and broken and in order for me to be faithful to Christ and to you, I need to instruct you pastorally and principally,” that he was concerned with the Call and job description, i.e. that the work is not to be “incidental or part time to the church” and not “a sideline or an ancillary position,” that the Call and proposed job description for TE Don Post were “not in keeping with the spirit or intention of the BCO,” that it was “unBiblical to call a man to the sacred office of pastor and have his duties be only those listed above,” that TE Don Post was currently an Assistant Minister at CPC and could already “do any and all of the above [with the exception of voting at Session meetings] in his spare time from his full time calling at TOCS,” that he has “gathered counsel from four other ministers as to their opinion as to the legitimacy of the proposed call and job description” and they agree with me that “the job description is illegitimate,” and that he has “expressed these concerns to the others on the Session and they do not share them” as the others would like for TE Don Post to be able to vote on the Session, that “[w]hile this may be a noble desire, I do not believe it to be pleasing to Christ to go about achieving this desire in a way that undermines the very principles of the Church that we are vowed to uphold,” and that he contends “the job description and call that are proposed do not [satisfy the criteria for moving from Assistant to an Associate] and that it would be illegitimate for us to hire Don to function within them.”

12-17-03  Congregational Meeting of CPC, re: TE Don Post was called as an Associate Pastor (53 - yes, 7 - no, 2 - abstain) 01-07-04  Session of CPC “questioned the validity of their acting ‘un-Biblically’ as noted in the congregational letter that was distributed the night before the meeting via e-mail. The arguments put forth were challenged on all counts. First, it was not clear what Bible, BCO, or Westminster principles were ‘bent and broken’ by the congregation in calling Assistant Pastor Don Post to be an Associate Pastor. Second, the Session was misrepresented as having discussed the Biblical issues over this position, when in fact the Session had never discussed Bible references over the previous months. Third, the congregation was led to believe that desiring an Associate with this call was an unusual circumstance when other Associates are noted on Presbyterian databases with similar responsibilities. Fourth, four nameless ministers were referred to as giving their opinion of the illegitimacy of the proposed call and job description, but not one name was made available to Session so that members could contact them to understand the precepts leading to their conclusions. The discussion ended without satisfactory answers neither for the congregant’s letters nor the Session members concerns on all issues.”

01-28-04  Session of CPC was “stalemated by a 2 to 2 vote” in connection with a motion to take the pastoral concerns expressed in the PCR off the table.

01-31-04  Letter from TE Chastain to Heritage Presbytery, re: plea to vote against the motion to approve the Call of TE Don Post as Associate Minister at CPC. Presbytery erected a Special Committee to investigate all related matters and bring back a recommendation to the Presbytery regarding the disposition of the call.

02-19-04  Session of CPC was “stalemated” in connection with the motion made at the 01-28-04 meeting, re: TE Gentry’s PCR.

02-26-04  Session of CPC considered a motion to prohibit TE Chastain from talking to others outside of the Session about the PCR. TE Chastain, as Moderator, ruled the motion out of order. The chair was challenged successfully. The motion carried, with TE Chastain refusing to participate. A Ruling Elder was directed to draft a letter to the congregation stating the Session is dealing with difficult issues. The Session of CPC considered a motion to require TE Chastain to provide the names of those outside of the Session with whom he has talked about the PCR. TE Chastain, as Moderator, ruled the motion out of order. The chair was challenged successfully. The motion carried, with TE Chastain refusing to participate in the vote, and he noted his refusal to comply with the request. There was a similar motion and result, re: motion to prohibit TE Chastain from speaking further about the PCR. Complaint was passed on to the Presbytery. The Session discusses TE Gentry’s PCR.

04-26-04 Letter from TE Chastain to TOCS Board and TE Don Post, re: “there is teaching in the classroom which is in direct contradiction to the Westminster Standards. Specifically, the children have been encouraged to see the movie, The Passion of the Christ, which is a violation of the Standards adopted by our Board” and “I know that when I was a permanent member of the Board, our highest calling was to see that what was taught in the classroom was consistent with the Reformed faith as expressed through our standards. Maybe you could instruct the Headmaster [TE Don Post] to instruct the faculty accordingly.”

05-11-04 Presbytery received a Report from the Special Committee and approved TE Don Post’s Call as an Associate Pastor at CPC, approved sending a letter to the CPC Session, appointed a Commission (the members of the Special Committee), appointed a Prosecutor to prepare an indictment and conduct the case against TE Chastain [this action presupposes an investigation and a finding of a strong presumption of guilt, as per BCO 31-2], found that Matthew 18 had been followed, and authorized a Called Meeting of Presbytery to receive the charges [against TE Chastain].

05-12-04 Seven (7) page letter from TE Chastain to the Congregation of CPC stating that “[t]hese are difficult times for CPC” and that in a 2001 Pastoral Letter, “I told you to watch and pray, that because of the great work that Christ has done here in you, Satan would attack us. He has.” The letter recounts the history of the conflict, from TE Chastain’s point of view, and states that as a result of his efforts to start TOCS, the church in Annapolis, and start WCC, he did not “nurture relationships and provide the leadership in many areas that might have averted many of the troubles in which our church is now embroiled,” that after TE Gentry was hired in 2001, it became clear that TE Gentry’s “ideas of what the college should look like were very different from our own,” and that those “differences caused many delays in achieving foundational objectives necessary to open, such as the ability of WCC to enroll students and achieve approval from the State in a timely way,” [Note: TE Gentry reports, and the RoC confirms, that the application, which consists of 3 fill-in-the-blank pages, was signed by TE Chastain on 02-04-03, submitted to the State, and informally approved on or about 02-22-03 and formally approved on 02-27-03] that a solution to the problem came from Christ College, with negotiations between the two institutions beginning in January, 2003, and with a decision by the WCC Board being made by the end of February, 2003, to merge with Christ College, that it was WCC’s Board’s desire to not make the divergent views a public matter, that TE Gentry’s presentation of his PCR to the Session “set into motion a series of events which have been divisive among the brethren and have been dividing your leaders ever since,” that the Ruling Elders and Assistant Pastors “took and read the PCR, and in fact studied it ... in spite of my pastoral verbal and written Scriptural proofs, explanations and objections,” that Session meetings “from that time on were almost consumed with their [the Ruling Elders] insistence that I answer the accusations leveled in the PCR and my exhorting them to follow Scripture and return the document because I believed they were sinning against me and my wife by having it,” TE Chastain’s concern was that “they [the Session] wrongly received these slanderous allegations,” that because TE Chastain “did not feel loved or biblically treated,” TE Chastain did not “want to participate in nor affirm what I [TE Chastain] believed to be sin in their [the Session’s] having received accusations against me and dealing with me in this manner,” that “not only did they [the Session] receive the PCR wrongly and sinfully but that they were not the proper court in which to deal with the matter and were in violation of their ordination vows,” that he [TE Chastain] had lied at the Congregational Meeting to approve the Call of TE Don Post as an Associate Pastor by stating that he [TE Chastain] “had no problem with Don,” when, in fact, he [TE Chastain] “did have problems with Don and took some of them to Presbytery rather than you,” and that he [TE Chastain] allowed the Congregation to vote “having received inaccurate instruction from your pastor [TE Chastain],” and that as a result of TE Chastain’s challenge to Presbytery’s approval of TE Don Post’s Call, Presbytery assigned a committee to examine the conflict.

05-21-04 Letter from the TOCS Board to TE Chastain, re: concerns about the movie, The Passion of the Christ - both historical views within the Reformed faith regarding “images of Christ” were taught and that the Board does not believe the views and teachings taught in the Apologetics Class are inconsistent with the Westminster Standards, let alone “non-Reformed” and “anti-confessional.”
07-17-04 Presbytery appointed a Temporary Judicial Commission (Commission) to hear the Complaint and the Charges against TE Chastain. The Charges were read, and he pled not guilty to all Charges, i.e. Charge 1 - Violations of the Ninth Commandment/ Frugality with the truth, Charge 2 - Harsh Treatment of Brothers, Charge 3- Divisive Behavior, and Charge 4 - Failure to Properly Shepherd.

08/04 to 12/04 Commission conducts its work. Trial began on 10-23-04 and continued in full day sessions on 11-06-04, 11-08-04, 11-19-04, 11-22-04, 12-04-04, 12-11-04, and 12-18-04 (partial day).

01-08-05 The Commission presented the following actions to Presbytery, to wit: Charge 1—Violations of the Ninth Commandment/Frugality with the Truth (Not Guilty/Dismissed); Charge 2—Harsh Treatment of Brothers (Dismissed); Charge 3—Divisive Behavior (Guilty of Specifications 3.1 [TE Chastain attempted to divide the TOCS Board from the Headmaster and a faculty member concerning Mel Gibson’s movie The Passion of the Christ], 3.2 [TE Chastain’s divisive behavior by speaking to the Congregation concerning the divided Session - the only division was his from the rest of the Session], and 3.4 [using the PCR to take his case of divided views with Session members to members of the Congregation, in spite of warnings from other elders in regard to the divisive nature of such actions], and Not Guilty of Specification 3.3; and Charge 4—Failure to Properly Shepherd (Dismissed). TE Chastain needs to be reconciled with the CPC Ruling Elders and Teaching Elders before TE Chastain can be restored, as well as counseling. Presbytery received a Report/Judgment from the Commission, which was adopted (32 yea - 2 nay - 3 abstaining). This Report/Judgment contained a censure of indefinite suspension from office and the Sacraments and a charge to meet these findings with a positive attitude and a heart willing to repent. Presbytery erected a “Reconciliation Commission” to work toward reconciliation of all parties at CPC. TE Chastain announced his intention to appeal the decision and provided the Presbytery Clerk with a letter to that effect; thereby suspending the Judgment of the Court pursuant to BCO 42-6. Presbytery, in accord with BCO 42-6 and to promote peace in the local church and provide TE Chastain with time to consider how to best achieve reconciliation with his brothers, suspended TE Chastain from the Lord’s Table and from office, not as a censure but for the reasons cited (27 yea - 1 nay - 2 abstaining).
II. STATEMENT OF THE ISSUES

1. Was Heritage Presbytery’s charge a lawful charge?
2. Was Appellant’s behavior divisive in the Church?
3. Was the censure unjust?
4. Were there errors in the process?

III. JUDGMENT

1. Yes.
2. Yes.
3. No.
4. Yes, but none that would require the Presbytery’s Judgment to be reversed or the case remanded.

IV. REASONING AND OPINION

First, in regard to whether or not there was a lawful charge, TE Chastain maintains that his conduct was not sinful. TE Chastain argues that his letters indicating his disagreement with a church court, upon which the Presbytery’s decision is based, do not rise to the level of an offense.

More specifically, TE Chastain contends that since the terms “divisive” and/or “divisiveness” do not appear in the AV, the RSV, or the ESV, then the behavior alleged to be contrary to Scripture cannot be proven to be such. Likewise, TE Chastain points out that said terms are not found in our Constitution.

Regardless of whether or not the terms divisive and/or divisiveness are found in Scripture or our Constitution, such behavior can constitute an offense and be a sin. In this case, TE Chastain took an ordination vow to “promise subjection to your brethren in the Lord” and “be zealous and faithful in maintaining the truths of the Gospel and the purity and peace and unity of the Church.” See BCO 21-5. It is clear that TE Chastain’s comments in his letters to the CPC congregation, as described above, evidenced a violation of his vow to be subject to his brethren and maintain the peace and unity of the Church. TE Chastain’s views, while not sinful in and of themselves, should not have been published to the CPC Congregation, especially after the Session had made its decision. In doing so, TE Chastain was divisive, broke his vows, and was in sin. If TE Chastain believed the action(s) of the Session violated the Constitution to such an extent that he could not be subject to the Brethren and/or that the action somehow violated the purity of the Church, his redress was either to attempt to persuade the Session to reconsider its action or file a complaint against the action, not engage in a letter writing campaign, which attempts to place his views over that of the Session’s adopted positions.
Second, in regard to whether or not TE Chastain’s behavior in the Church caused division in the Church, he argues that he merely disagreed with TE Gentry’s PCR and with the Session concerning the way in which the same was handled. Basically, TE Chastain contends that the Session was not the proper Court to investigate the matter. While this is true for any judicial action against TE Chastain, it belies the Session’s right pastorally to investigate matters concerning CPC and determine what the problem is and whether it should be handled by the Session or referred to the Presbytery for its consideration.

TE Chastain frames the issue by asking whether or not he responded to TE Gentry’s PCR (and subsequent events) in a manner that was contrary to Scripture or the Standards. As set forth above, his actions in response to the same were violations of his ordination vows.

TE Chastain argues that it was his duty publicly to disagree with the Session and that it was not inherently divisive as alleged by Presbytery. In support of this, TE Chastain cites it as his duty to defend his good name and instruct the officers and congregation in discipline. He states that he sincerely believed that the procedures adopted by the Session were contrary to church discipline as taught in the Scriptures or the Constitution and that it was his duty to testify as to what he deemed to be an error. As set forth above, if TE Chastain believed the actions of the Session required him not to be in subjection to the Brethren and upset the peace and unity of the Church, based on a need to protect its purity, then his proper course of conduct would be for him attempt to have the Session reconsider the matter or to file a complaint objecting to the offending action, not publicly debate the issue after the Session has acted. While expressing an opinion that the Passion of the Christ violates the 2nd Commandment is not a sin, the manner and circumstances under which TE Chastain did so was divisive.

Third, in regard to whether or not the censure was unjust, TE Chastain contends that the censures of indefinite suspensions from the Lord’s Supper and office were unduly harsh. TE Chastain argues that the censures of admonition and definite suspension should be used prior to indefinite suspension. Such an argument would be valid if TE Chastain had, upon conviction, satisfied the Presbytery as to his repentance and made such restitution as is appropriate. BCO 30-1. There is an absence of any admission of guilt/confession of sin and reconciliation in the Record in connection with the charges of which TE Chastain was found guilty. Accordingly, a censure of indefinite suspension is appropriate until the impenitent offender exhibits signs of repentance. BCO 30-3.

Fourth, in regard to whether or not there were errors in process, TE Chastain contends that Presbytery erred in the following ways, to wit: a) in the initiation of the charges by receiving and acting on a recommendation from a committee which exceeded its appointed task, b) the indictment failed to meet the requirements of BCO 32-5 by not giving proper times, places, and circumstances necessary to make a proper defense, and c) failing to properly handle evidence and testimony, which put TE Chastain at a great disadvantage in conducting his defense.

As to point a) above, TE Chastain asserts that the Special Committee, in recommending charges be brought against him, exceeded its authority. TE Chastain states that the Special Committee conducted an improper and unauthorized judicial investigation beyond the scope of its charge. If the scope of the Special Committee’s charge had been solely to review and report back in connection with the Call of TE Don Post as an Associate Pastor, the point might have merit. However, Presbytery erected the Special Committee to investigate all related matters and bring back a recommendation to the Presbytery regarding the disposition of the call. In this case, the Special Committee investigated all matters related to the Call of TE Don Post. Out of this investigation, the recommendation to bring charges against TE Chastain arose. Such a recommendation, to bring charges, is not outside of the scope of the Special Committee’s authority. As such this process is in accord with BCO 31-2 and presupposes the raising of a strong presumption of guilt, justifying the appointment of a prosecutor to prepare and indictment and conduct the case.

As to point b) above, TE Chastain states that the Indictment failed to meet the requirements of BCO 32-5 by not giving proper times, places, and circumstances. While the charges may not have been as specific as one would desire at the early stages of this proceeding, the same were revised and were sufficiently specific and provided to TE Chastain sufficiently in advance of his trial so as to not constitute prejudice or reversible error.

As to point c) above, TE Chastain contends that evidence and testimony were not properly handled. TE Chastain points out that the Court allowed a letter from TE Gentry into evidence without being subject to cross-examination. While this was error, the same does not directly relate to any of the matters on which TE Chastain was found guilty and is therefore moot. TE Chastain next points to the Court’s exclusion/abridgement of Michael Peroutka’s interrogatories. While this may have been error, the same does not directly relate to any of the matters on which TE Chastain was found guilty and is therefore moot. TE Chastain complains that the Court failed to require witnesses to answer and/or return interrogatories. While this may have been error, the same does not directly relate to any of the matters on which TE Chastain was found guilty and is therefore moot. TE Chastain claims the Court erred by deciding the case before all testimony was complete. The argument made by TE Chastain is not persuasive or supported by the Record of the Case.

The undersigned respectfully dissents from the decision in case 2005-1, Chastain v. Heritage Presbytery. While I am fully cognizant of the proper deference due to presbyteries (see BCO 39-3.2,3 and my dissent in cases 2003-2 and 2003-5, Thornton v. Westminster Presbytery), I also recognize that the “...higher court should not consider itself obliged to exhibit the same deference to a lower court when the issues being reviewed involve the interpretation of the Constitution of the Church.” (BCO 39-3.4.) I believe such a constitutional interpretation is at stake in this case.

TE Chastain was charged with a series of offenses to wit: Charge 1 - Violations of the Ninth Commandment/Frugality with the Truth [a charge that included eleven specific allegations of wrong doing (see “revised set of charges and specifications” at ROC 58-60)]; Charge 2 - Harsh Treatment of Brothers [a charge that included two specific allegations of wrong doing (see ROC 60)]; Charge 3 - Divisive Behavior [a charge that included four specific allegations of wrong doing (see ROC 60-61)]; and Charge 4 - Failure to Properly Shepherd [a charge that included two allegations of wrong doing (one of which had two distinct parts) (see ROC 61)].

The Judicial Commission of Heritage Presbytery did not convict TE Chastain on Charges 1, 2, or 4; nor did it convict him on the third Specification of Charge 3. Thus, the crux of the matter before the Standing Judicial Commission was the validity of the remaining three particulars of Charge 3 - “Divisive Behavior.”

The specific “divisive behaviors” of which TE Chastain was convicted were: Specification 3.1 [TE Chastain attempted to divide the TOCS Board from the Headmaster and a faculty member concerning Mel Gibson’s movie The Passion of the Christ]; Specification 3.2 [TE Chastain’s divisive behavior by speaking to the Congregation concerning the divided Session - the only division was his from the rest of Session]; and Specification 3.4 [using the PCR to take his case of divided views with Session members to members of the Congregation, in spite of warnings from other elders in regard to the divisive nature of such actions]. (See “Statement of Facts” at 01-08-05.)

BCO 29-1 states:

An offense, the proper object of judicial process, is anything in the doctrines or practice of a Church member professing faith in Christ, which is contrary to the Word of God. The Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms of the Westminster Assembly, together with the formularies of government, discipline, and worship are accepted by the Presbyterian Church in America as standard exposition of the teachings of Scripture in relation to both faith and practice. Nothing, therefore, ought to be considered by any court as an offense, or admitted as a matter of accusation, which cannot be proved to be such from Scripture.

It is my contention that Heritage Presbytery did not meet this standard when it charged TE Chastain with “divisive behavior.”

As the Appellant notes in his brief, the terms “divisive” and “divisiveness” do not appear in the AV, the RSV, or the ESV, and in the one place where the term “divisive” appears in the NKJV (Titus 3:10) the application seems to be to a doctrinal deviation (which is not what is being alleged here). Similarly, neither the term “divisive” nor the term “divisiveness” appear in the Westminster Confession, the Larger and Shorter Catechism, or the Book of Church Order. Moreover, the only passage of Scripture cited in the indictment that might bear on the charge of “divisive behavior” per se is Romans 16:17. But, as is the case with Titus 3:10, the primary focus of this verse is on division that grows out of departures from sound doctrine. “Division resulting from a departure from sound doctrine,” however, is not what is in view in the charges against TE Chastain.

In short, the charge of “divisive behavior,” the only charge of which TE Chastain was convicted, does not meet the standard required by BCO 29-1 in that the offense cannot be proven from either Scripture or our subordinate standards. In that sense, Charge 3 is of a very different character from Charges 1 and 4. Both Scripture and our subordinate standards have clear discussions of the meaning of the Ninth Commandment and the need to shepherd the flock. This clarity is lacking in the charge of “divisive behavior.”

The majority of the SJC deals with the appellant’s concern about the Constitutional validity of the charge of “divisive behavior” by equating that charge to “...a violation of his vow to be subject to his brethren and maintain the peace and unity of the Church.” (See paragraph 3 of the Majority’s “Reasoning and Opinion.”) In my view there are at least two problems with this line of reasoning.

First, this change, in essence, creates a new charge against TE Chastain. Heritage Presbytery did not charge TE Chastain with violating the 4th ordination vow (“Do you promise subjection to your brethren in the Lord?”). Indeed, there is no reference to the 4th ordination vow anywhere in the “Charges and Specifications” against TE Chastain. Yet discussion of TE Chastain’s failure to be subject to the Session of CPC is central to the majority’s reasoning that TE Chastain was “divisive.” In interpreting “divisive behavior” to mean failure to be “subject to his brethren,” the majority has raised a new issue in violation of BCO 39-3.1, and it has underscored the ambiguity of the charge of “divisive behavior.”

The second, and perhaps larger, concern lies in the reasoning of the majority of the SJC in support of the conclusion that these specific actions of TE Chastain, on their face, violated his ordination vows. Consider the specifics underlying the specifications in Charge 3. Specification 3.1 involved a letter TE Chastain wrote to the Board of the Christian School associated with the Church in which he states “...there is teaching in the classroom which is in direct contradiction to the Westminster Standards. Specifically, the children have been encouraged to see the movie, The Passion of the Christ, which is a violation of the Standards adopted by our Board....” and “...I know that when I was a permanent member of the Board, our highest calling was to see that what was taught in the classroom was consistent with the Reformed faith as expressed through our standards. Maybe you could instruct the Headmaster...to instruct the faculty accordingly.” (See “Statement of the Facts” 04-26-04.) Specification 3.2 was specifically directed against an e-mail TE Chastain sent to the Congregation relative to a called Congregational Meeting to vote on calling an Associate Pastor. In the e-mail TE Chastain expresses his conviction that the call and job description are inconsistent with the Constitution, states that “our governing standards are being bent and broken,” and urges the Congregation to vote against the proposed call. (See “Statement of Facts” 12-16-03.) Specification 3.4 was that TE Chastain in response to questions from congregants “us[ed] the PCR to take his case of divided views with Session members to members of the Congregation, in spite of warnings from other elders in regard to the divisive nature of such actions.” This culminated in the letter summarized in the “Statement of Facts” at 05-12-04. (The quoted section in this specification is from the final statement of fact in the majority opinion. The underlined material is, in my view, a crucial omission in that summary of the facts of the case. See ROC p. 61.)

In finding TE Chastain guilty of Specifications 3.1, 3.2, and 3.4 Presbytery concluded these communications were, on their face, sinful. The majority opinion of the SJC underscores this finding by arguing that in making these communications TE Chastain was in violation of his vow to be subject to his brethren (paragraph 3 of “Reasoning and Opinion”) and that he should not “...publicly debate the issue after the Session has acted.” (Paragraph 6 of “Reasoning and Opinion.”) The implications of these conclusions are startling. They appear to me to indicate that a teaching elder in the Presbyterian Church in America cannot express strong disagreement with what is being taught in a church related Christian school without running the risk of being accused of “divisive behavior” and “violation of his ordination vows.” Similarly, the position of the Presbytery and the SJC seem to indicate that a PCA teaching elder cannot tell his congregation that he disagrees with an action of Session (to endorse the call and job description for the Associate Pastor), even when that action is merely a recommendation to the Congregation on which the Congregation must vote, nor may he answer honestly questions posed to him by congregants or write a letter to the Congregation explaining (even defending) his thinking on a difficult matter in the life of the Church.

In my view the reasoning adopted by the majority of the SJC, will, if appealed to in future cases, have a chilling effect on the right and responsibility of teaching elders (and, potentially, ruling elders) to shepherd and care for their congregations. Certainly I could envision situations in which a Session could ask a teaching elder not to raise certain issues or in which a Presbytery could demand that a teaching elder not raise such issues (e.g., doctrinal exceptions to the Constitutional documents). But, contrary to the reasoning of the majority, either of these would have to rest on more than the simple fact that the Court had reached a decision on some issue (particularly an issue not related directly to doctrine). In my judgment it would demand a clear action of the Court to ask/demand that the teaching elder not share his minority view outside the Court and it would require a statement of the reasons for such an action, which reasons could be reviewed by the higher court.

Had TE Chastain been found guilty of continuing to discuss a matter after a court of the Church took a specific action to direct that he not talk about that matter (subject to review by a higher court) I might well agree that he had failed to be in subjection to his brethren. But a blanket statement indicating that one may “not publicly debate the issues after the Session has acted” goes too far in undercutting the rights and responsibilities of elders (both teaching and ruling) as spelled out in BCO 8 and the ordination vows. I agree that the normal course for an elder should be to “get behind” the actions of his session. But, if Preliminary Principle 1 and the several (as opposed to joint) responsibilities of elders (see BCO 8-3) mean anything, there must be room for a PCA teaching elder to communicate to the Board of a church related Christian school that he believes they are in doctrinal error, and there must be room for a PCA teaching elder to tell his congregation that he thinks session has erred in a particular recommendation to the congregation.

I do have concerns about a teaching elder using a mass e-mail to express his disagreement with a recommendation of Session to the Congregation and with the use of a generally circulated letter to explain the difficulties that have arisen between himself and the rest of the Session (even while taking some of the blame for those difficulties). But I cannot say that such communications are, on their face, sinful, nor do I believe the lower court has demonstrated that the content of these particular communications was sinful.

In sum, I do not believe Heritage Presbytery met its Constitutional obligation to demonstrate that the matters contained in Charge 3 met the standard of BCO 29-1. Given that this was the only charge on which TE Chastain was convicted, I would find in favor of the appellant, and would void the conviction of TE Chastain and return the matter to Heritage Presbytery. This would not prevent the Presbytery from filing new charges against TE Chastain should they find that to be necessary and should such charges meet the requirements of BCO 29-1. Moreover, I believe the reasoning adopted by the SJC in support of the decision of Heritage Presbytery has dangerous implications for the rights and responsibilities of teaching and ruling elders to teach and shepherd their congregations as mandated by Scripture and our Constitution. For these reasons I respectfully dissent.

TE MICHAEL C. CHASTAIN
VS.
HERITAGE PRESBYTERY

OBJECTION
TO DECISION OF STANDING JUDICIAL COMMISSION
APRIL 3, 2006

Introduction

In its decision of March 14, 2006, the Standing Judicial Commission concluded that Heritage Presbytery acted rightly in indefinitely suspending TE Michael C. Chastain from both the Lord’s Supper and from his office as a minister, on the ground that he was “in sin” for stating publicly his disagreement with the Session of his church after it had taken action on a matter. In the process of rendering this judgment, the SJC violated the ninth commandment as regards TE Chastain, violated the requirement of BCO 29-1 that a charge not be admitted or considered as an offense unless it could be proven to be so from scripture, and misunderstood the ministerial ordination vows.
Consequently, and pursuant to BCO 45-1, I write to record my objection to SJC Case 2005-1, Michael C. Chastain vs. Heritage Presbytery.

Before recording the grounds for my objection, I wish to express my gratitude to the Panel members who originally heard the case, and to the members of the SJC also. Service on the SJC is voluntary, and those who serve our communion in this manner choose to be absent from family and home in order to do their best to render justice. Their work is difficult, at times painstakingly technical, and almost always thankless, and I am grateful to them for their willingness to do such work on behalf of our church and her exalted Head. The Panel, in particular, was efficient, gracious, and considerate of both parties at the hearing on November 18. It addressed pertinent and thoughtful questions to both parties, and listened patiently to their answers.

All human actions, such as the writing of this objection, are imperfect, and there might be several imperfections in SJC’s ruling in this case, none of which would be sufficient for an objection to be filed. Three aspects of SJC’s ruling, however, are significant, and errors in these areas are sufficient to elicit an objection. First, the Summary of the Facts contains material that is irrelevant, misleading, and possibly prejudicial and/or libelous; second, SJC’s ruling fails to conform to the requirements of BCO 29-1; and third, SJC’s ruling demonstrates a significant misunderstanding of ministerial ordination vows.

1. SUMMARY OF THE FACTS

Throughout the “Summary of the Facts” in SJC’s decision, there are many references to specific allegations Mr. Gentry had lodged against TE Chastain. Most of these allegations were later formalized by the Presbytery’s Commission into charges, and the charges were judicially adjudicated in Heritage Presbytery. In every particular, Presbytery’s Record of the Case shows that the charges either were vacated or TE Chastain was found not guilty. He was only found guilty of one charge—divisiveness—which Mr. Gentry had not alleged. Not one of Mr. Gentry’s allegations were judicially sustained by Heritage Presbytery, and therefore TE Chastain brought no appeal against the judgment of Presbytery on any of these points. Yet, despite the fact that TE Chastain was absolved of each of Mr. Gentry’s allegations taken up by the lower court, the higher court has re-iterated them, in writing, without stating that the lower court had absolved TE Chastain of each of these charges. At the end of the section on “facts” (entry 01-08-05), SJC contains a list of commission findings that is almost indecipherable to a reader not already familiar with the circumstances. Those familiar with the circumstances realize that these were the findings that exonerated TE Chastain of Gentry’s allegations, but since the Summary does not make any reference to Mr. Gentry at this point, it would be almost impossible for a reader of the Summary to realize that this list of commission findings absolved TE Chastain of the many allegations previously mentioned under “Facts.”

The implication in the “Summary of the Facts,” and the first twelve items under “Facts,” (02-04-03 to 05-06-03) is that TE Chastain had been untruthful in reporting about the relation of Westminster Christian College to the state of Maryland. Placing these allegations by Mr. Gentry before the public, without candidly stating that the lower court had found TE Chastain not guilty of them, has the effect of implying that both the lower and higher court found him guilty of them. Later, in Panel’s statement of “Facts,” the entry on 01-08-05 indicates that Presbytery’s commission dismissed the charge of violating the ninth commandment, but no reader of the report not already familiar with the case would have any way of knowing that this exonerated TE Chastain from the specific allegations already mentioned twelve times earlier in the “Summary of the Facts.”

Since the lower court absolved TE Chastain of Mr. Gentry’s allegations, no appeal arose from the lower to the higher court on any of these matters. The Panel’s statement as it now stands transgresses the Larger Catechism’s exposition of the ninth commandment (LC 145):

The sins forbidden in the ninth commandment are, all prejudicing the truth, and the good name of our neighbors, as well as our own, especially in public judicature; …speaking the truth unseasonably, or maliciously to a wrong end, or perverting it to a wrong meaning, or in doubtful and equivocal expressions, to the prejudice of truth or justice.

Since the Panel’s frequent references to Mr. Gentry’s allegations are not complemented by the clear testimony from the Record of the Case that TE Chastain was absolved of these charges, the impression left, in a case of “public judicature,” is that some church court has found him guilty of these charges. To cite these allegations in the section entitled “Summary of the Facts,” without also stating that the lower court found TE Chastain not guilty of these allegations, perverts the truth to a wrong meaning, to the prejudice of truth or justice, which the Catechism plainly condemns.
2. BCO 29-1

BCO 29-1 states:

An offense, the proper object of judicial process, is anything in the doctrines or practice of a Church member professing faith in Christ which is contrary to the Word of God. The Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms of the Westminster Assembly, together with the formularies of government, discipline, and worship are accepted by the Presbyterian Church in America as standard expositions of the teachings of Scripture in relation to both faith and practice. Nothing, therefore, ought to be considered by any court as an offense, or admitted as a matter of accusation, which cannot be proved to be such from Scripture.

A central Protestant teaching is contained in this part of our constitution, because Protestantism believes the Church is to be guided by the Scriptures alone. Luther and Calvin did not differ from Rome by believing in the Bible’s authority in the Church, since Rome also believed in the Bible. The difference was in the “alone.” People are not to be disciplined in the Church of God for violating the conventions or beliefs of any culture or church; they are to be disciplined only for violating God’s commandments. As BCO 11-2 puts it, the courts of the church only “possess the right to require obedience to the laws of Christ.” Therefore, BCO 29-1 prohibits anything from even being “considered” by any church-court as an offense, unless the behavior can be “proved to be such (contrary to the Word of God) from Scripture.”

Yet SJC’s decision of the matter is different. SJC says: “Regardless of whether or not the terms divisive and or divisiveness are found in Scripture or our Constitution, such behavior can constitute an offense and be a sin.” If BCO 29-1 prohibits the court from considering a matter as an offense, and prohibits the court from admitting a matter as an accusation “which cannot be proved to be such from Scripture,” how does SJC expect to prove “from Scripture” anything at all about a matter that, by its own admission, is not addressed in Scripture? SJC’s decision has failed to regard BCO 29-1 rightly. SJC says a matter unspoken of by Scripture “can constitute an offense and be a sin,” yet BCO 29-1 prohibits the SJC from considering or admitting a matter as an accusation unless it can be “proved to be such from Scripture.” The difference is not merely lexical; if the behavior in question (to wit, writing letters disagreeing with the majority of a church court) were condemned by scripture, even though scripture used another term for it, then BCO 29-1 would be satisfied. But SJC offered no such proof “from Scripture.” It pointed out no place in Scripture where disagreeing with the majority of a Session is condemned as sinful. The term “divisive” is not found in Scripture, nor are any condemnations of writing letters disagreeing with Sessions found in Scripture, yet SJC asserted that such letter-writing may indeed be admitted and considered by a church-court as a chargeable offense, even though SJC recognized that Scripture never condemns the behavior in question.

Further, SJC had already been alerted by Appellant’s brief that there were pertinent scriptures that suggested the opposite: Paul’s two letters to the Corinthians and his letter to the Galatians, in which Paul candidly and publicly disagreed with the majority of the rulers, and even cited Peter and Barnabas by name, were cited by Appellant’s brief to prove that Scripture does not, in fact, condemn such behavior out of hand (cf. Appellant’s Brief, pp. 2-4). SJC answered with nothing, with no citation of Scripture at all, and neglected the requirements of BCO 29-1, as did Heritage Presbytery before it. Both the lower and higher court admitted as a charge and considered as a chargeable offense a matter that was not proven to be such “from Scripture,” and which could not be proven to be such “from Scripture.” In failing to sustain the appeal on this ground, the highest court of our church in this decision failed to uphold the role of Scripture as the exclusive authority in the Church, the exclusive judge of whether a charge will be admitted or not.

3. SJC Has Misunderstood the Ordination Vow

SJC’s third error that rises to the level of objectionable is its almost-total misunderstanding of the ministerial vows at ordination. Having neglected the duty to prove “from Scripture” that TE Chastain’s behavior was a chargeable offense, SJC attempted to prove from BCO 21-5 that his behavior was a chargeable offense. Referring to this passage, SJC said:

It is clear that TE Chastain’s comments in his letters to the CPC congregation, as described above, evidenced a violation of his vow to be subject to his brethren and maintain the peace and unity of the Church. TE Chastain’s views, while not sinful in and of themselves, should not have been published to the CPC Congregation, especially after the Session had made its decision. In doing so, TE Chastain was being divisive, broke his vows, and was in sin.

When a minister, at ordination by presbytery, promises subjection to his brethren in the Lord, he makes that vow to the presbytery that has jurisdiction over him, not to the Session that he moderates, which has no jurisdiction over him (cf. the statements about jurisdiction in BCO in BCO 11-4 and 34-1). No TE in the PCA is obliged to concur in, or submit to, the judgments of his Session. If SJC’s reasoning were correct, ministers would have no effective rule in the church at all, because they are always outnumbered on the local level by REs, to whom, by SJC’s reasoning, TEs must silently submit. So the one officer in the church equipped by education and vocation to lead the church via the Scriptures is effectively, by this reasoning, squelched.

Suppose TE Chastain’s ruling elders had ordered him to practice paedocommunion—would TE Chastain have been obliged, mutely, to administer communion to infants, without expressing before his congregation any dissent? By SJC’s reasoning, he could not have objected. SJC said:

If TE Chastain believed the action(s) of the Session violated the Constitution to such an extent that he could not be subject to the Brethren and/or that the action somehow violated the purity of the Church, his redress was either to attempt to persuade the Session to reconsider its action or file a complaint against the action, not engage in a letter writing campaign, which attempts to place his views over that of the Session’s adopted positions…his proper course of conduct would be for him to attempt to have the Session reconsider the matter or to file a complaint objecting to the offending action, not publicly debate the issue after Session has acted” (emphasis mine).

SJC has misunderstood the vow of submission in two ways, by misunderstanding to whom the submission is pledged, and by suggesting that submission demands mute obedience of the minority party. Our standards do not require such mute obedience. According to the Westminster Confession regarding synods and councils of the church, their “decrees and determinations, if consonant to the Word of God, are to be received with reverence and submission” (WCF 31:2, emphases mine). TE Chastain did not judge the Session’s determination to be consonant to the Word of God, and therefore he was not obliged to receive their determination with reverence and submission, and he surely was not constitutionally obliged to receive any deliberation of a church-court with silence. Westminster does not require that we receive the determinations of church courts “with reverence, submission, and silence;” it only requires that we receive her scriptural determinations “with reverence and submission.” Such reverence and submission does not require, as SJC erroneously declares, that a minister must “not publicly debate the issue after the Session has acted.” If SJC’s reasoning were correct, Martin Luther sinned by publishing his theses regarding indulgences, Jonathan Edwards sinned by publishing his disagreement with his Session (and his grandfather and copastor, Solomon Stoddard) regarding the half-way covenant, and J. Gresham Machen sinned by publishing his disagreement with his Presbytery regarding the Independent Board for Presbyterian Missions. If their reasoning were correct, it hardly needs to be said that I am now sinning by publishing my disagreement with their ruling after they have acted.

Far from demanding silence from minority parties, our constitution authorizes not only complaints and appeals (BCO 42 and 43), but also dissents, protests, and objections (BCO 45) to be publicly articulated, and even entered into the records of the minutes, if they be couched in temperate and respectful language. Our constitution expressly and formally recognizes five different ways that the minority may publicly articulate their disagreement with the majority, and it never prohibits such expressions, or any other, less formal, expressions.

Ironically, SJC’s decision has had the simultaneous effect of rejecting the authority of Scripture and canonizing the authority of Ruling Elders. By their ruling, in this case, we may all publicly debate matters about the Holy Scriptures, but we may not, by their ruling, “publicly debate [an] issue after the Session has acted.” Though I speak of this as an irony, it is not a random one: Once the authority of Scripture is rejected, what is left but the authority of men? If neither the original court nor the appellate court required that a charge be proven to be such “from Scripture,” is it in fact surprising that some new source of religious authority will emerge, in this case the infallible Session?

Conclusion

Each of these three errors is of an objectionable nature and dimension. For a Protestant church to remove an individual from the sacrament and an officer from his office, who has not violated any portion of the Word of God, but only the custom of some Sessions, is a grievous and serious error. To require the minority of any church court, and especially a Teaching Elder, to be silent when he disagrees with a court of which he is a member, is a violation of our constitution and of liberty of conscience. To record as “Facts of the Case,” allegations that not only were not proven by the lower court, but were disproven by that court’s own records, is to act with disregard for justice, and for the good name of a fellow-believer. Therefore, with gratitude to the members of SJC for their courtesy, patience and diligence, I hereby respectfully register my objection to their summary of the facts and to their reasoning in Case 2005-1.

Respectfully submitted, TE T. David Gordon, Grove City, PA PROTEST AGAINST THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S DECISION
IN SJC CASE 2005-1

TE MICHAEL CHASTAIN VS. HERITAGE PRESBYTERY

The undersigned hereby file a protest against the decision of the General Assembly in SJC Case 2005-1, TE Michael Chastain v. Heritage Presbytery

1. First, we protest against the fact that the Presbytery conducted its trial of Mr. Chastain behind closed doors. It is our conviction that the Courts of the Church of the Lord Jesus should be open, and, in particular, should conduct trials openly for all to be able to observe. Even our civil courts are open to the public.

2. We wish to place in the record the substance of the brief pleading for a full hearing by the Standing Judicial Commission as authored by TE T. David Gordon, in which he points to what appear to be weaknesses and discrepancies in the way in which the Panel handled the case. By doing this we are joining with Dr. Gordon in protesting the way in which this case has been handled. As TE Gordon points out this case is, in many ways, similar to the handling of the Machen case by the PCUSA. For a man to be excommunicated, and thus judged not to be a Christian in ways that at least appear questionable is a most serious matter. TE Gordon's brief is as follows:

I know I speak on behalf of Mr. Chastain in expressing appreciation for the patience, attentiveness, and intelligence of the Panel, who heard this case originally on November 18, 2005. Their demeanor was unprejudiced, and their questions were pertinent to the issues, and equally pointed and demanding of both parties, for which we, along with Mr. Almond, I am sure, are sincerely grateful. The Panel’s Statement of the Facts reflects substantial effort at reducing a large ROC to a manageable size. This statement, however, probably contains too much material that is both impertinent and prejudicial--allegations by TE Gentry of wrongdoing by TE Chastain. In point of fact, although TE Gentry never formally placed charges, most (if not all) of the allegations made in his communication were taken up by Heritage Presbytery’s commission, and TE Chastain was either exonerated on every point or the charges were dropped. The one charge Heritage did find TE Chastain guilty of (divisiveness) was not alleged by TE Gentry. The substance, therefore, of Mr. Gentry’s accusations has nothing to do with the case that came before SJC’s Panel on November 18, 2005, and it is surprising, therefore, and possibly an indication of prejudice, to find such substance in the Panel’s Statement of the Facts. Further, $BCO$ 31-8 expressly warns that “Great caution ought to be exercised in receiving accusations from any person who is known to indulge a malignant spirit towards the accused; who is not of good character, who is himself under censure or process; who is deeply interested in any respect in the conviction of the accused; or who is known to be litigious, rash, or highly imprudent.”

Since TE Gentry was relieved of his position by TE Chastain, it is almost certain that he had a “malignant spirit” towards him. Further, since during the trial before presbytery, documented in the ROC, TE Gentry had already pled guilty (ROC 567) in California to indecent exposure (ROC 563) and had been placed on the sex offender notification list (ROC 567), even the judgment of charity would conclude that he was “not of good character.” Finally, TE Gentry was never sworn in or cross-examined in the trial. Therefore, his allegations of wrongdoing should not have been included in Panel’s decision as though they were facts, impartial or otherwise, and surely should not have been featured so prominently (24 references in Panel’s document).

The Reasoning and Opinion (Section IV., beginning on page 10) of the Panel’s decision is, at any rate, significantly flawed, and fails to meet the test of $BCO$ 29:1, which says:

An offense, the proper object of judicial process, is anything in the doctrines or practice of a Church member professing faith in Christ which is contrary to the Word of God. The $Confession of Faith$ and the $Larger$ and $Shorter Catechisms$ of the Westminster Assembly, together with the formularies of government, discipline, and worship are accepted by the Presbyterian Church in America as standard expositions of the teachings of Scripture in relation to both faith and practice. Nothing, therefore, ought to be considered by any court as an offense, or admitted as a matter of accusation, which cannot be proved to be such from Scripture.

A central Protestant teaching is contained in this part of our constitution, because Protestantism believes the Church is to be guided by the Scriptures alone. Luther and Calvin did not differ from Rome by believing in the Bible’s authority over the Church, since Rome also believed in the Bible. The difference was in the “alone.” People are not to be disciplined in the Church of God for violating the conventions or beliefs of any culture or church; they are to be disciplined only for violating God’s commandments. Therefore, BCO 29 prohibits anything from even being “considered” by any church-court as an offense, unless the behavior can be “proved to be such (contrary to the Word of God) from Scripture.”

A Moment in Presbyterian History

Presbyterians conversant with their recent history recall the case of J. Gresham Machen, founder of Westminster Theological Seminary and primary mover in the formation of the Orthodox Presbyterian Church. Machen was ordered by his presbytery to desist from any support of the Independent Board for Presbyterian Missions, and he refused to comply with this order. Presbytery acted to remove him from the ministry for his disobedience to their order, and Machen appealed to General Assembly. When Assembly’s Commission began to hear the case, Machen was informed by the Moderator that the Commission would entertain neither biblical nor constitutional arguments in his defense. After consulting with his attorney, Machen refused to make any defense. Machen’s point was principal. There was no disagreement over the facts of the case: he had indeed supported the independent board; his presbytery had ordered him not to support it any longer; and he had continued his support. But the principal point was important: Did either church-court, Presbytery or General Assembly, have any biblical or constitutional authority to order him as they did? Conservative Presbyterians believed Machen had suffered an extraordinary injustice, and even secular commentators such as H. L. Mencken admired Machen’s stance of effectively declaring his entire communion to be out of order with its own standards.

Similarly, in SJC 2005-1, there is no significant dispute among the parties as to the facts. TE Chastain disagreed with his Session’s recommendation to the congregation, and communicated that disagreement to the congregation. The issue, and the only significant issue in this case, is the same issue in the Machen case: Was the behavior of the accused a violation of the will of God, revealed in Scripture, or merely a violation of the will of a church-court?

To its credit, the Panel who heard the case on 11/18/05 understood this to be the issue, and they managed in their statement to focus their attention on this point in the first matter addressed in Section IV. No scriptures were cited in their ruling, however, just as no pertinent scriptures had been cited in the original case before the presbytery (Presbytery had cited Rom. 12:16; Rom. 16:17; Prov. 6:12 and 19; and Titus 3:9-11, none of which says anything about public statements disagreeing with governing bodies of churches). Instead, they took the alternate course of arguing that TE Chastain’s behavior was a two-fold violation of the ordination vow, to “promise subjection to your brethren in the Lord,” and to “be zealous and faithful in maintaining the truths of the Gospel and the purity and peace and unity of the church.” In this reasoning, three errors occur:

First, the appellate court has no authority to re-try a case previously heard, creating new reasons, rationales, charges, or arguments not produced by the lower court. Presbytery’s Brief makes no reference to the ordination vow’s statement about submission to the brethren; the lower court did not charge TE Chastain with insubmission to his brethren. Therefore, it is quite illegal for the higher court to base its sustaining of the lower court on material that did not arise therefrom. An appellate court reviews the record of the case, reads the briefs of the parties, and determines that the arguments of one party or the other comply more with the standards, and then essentially reproduces one of the party’s arguments in its reasoning, making reference to the arguments of one of the parties in the original case. How can General Assembly sustain the judgment of the lower court on a ground not presented in the original indictment, not presented at trial, and, most importantly, not presented to the higher court through the brief or arguments of the lower court? Effectively, Panel’s reasoning amounts to this: The lower court erred in not satisfying the demands of BCO 29-1; however, had the lower court been more clever, it could have found another ground, to wit—violation of portions of the ordination vow. So Panel now sustains the judgment of the lower court on a ground never argued by the lower court in its original indictment, trial, prosecution, or brief. By creating an argument that does not appear in the documents of the original case, Panel as much as concedes that the prosecution in the original case failed to satisfy its burden of proof.

Second, in substance, the Panel’s reasoning is erroneous on both points, submission and peace/purity/unity. When a minister, at ordination by presbytery, promises subjection to his brethren in the Lord, he makes that vow to the presbytery that has jurisdiction over him, not to the Session that he moderates, which has no jurisdiction over him. No TE in the PCA is obliged to concur in, or submit to, the judgments of his Session. Panel’s reasoning would reduce us from a two-and-a-half-office church to two: elders and deacons. Ministers would have no effective rule in the church at all, because they are always outnumbered on the local level by REs, to whom, by Panel’s reasoning, TEs must submit. So the one officer in the church equipped by education and vocation to lead the church via the Scriptures is effectively, by this reasoning, squelched. Suppose TE Chastain’s three ruling elders had ordered him to practice paedocommunion--would TE Chastain have been obliged, mutely, to administer communion to infants, without expressing before his congregation any dissent? By Panel’s reasoning, he could not have objected. Panel says: “If TE Chastain felt the action(s) of the Session violated the Constitution to such an extent that he could not be subject to the Brethren and/or that the action somehow violated the purity of the Church, his redress was either to attempt to persuade the Session to reconsider its action or file a complaint against the action, not engage in a letter writing campaign, which attempts to place his views over that of the Session’s adopted positions,” none of which could have been done prior to the called congregational meeting (Panel Judgment, pp. 10-11). Panel has misunderstood the vow of submission in two ways, by misunderstanding to whom the submission is pledged, and by suggesting that submission demands mute obedience of the minority party. Our standards do not require such blind obedience. According to the Westminster Standards, we need only to obey the “lawful commands” of the civil magistrate (WCF 23:4). And regarding synods and councils of the church, their “decrees and determinations, if consonant to the Word of God, are to be received with reverence and submission” (WCF 31:2, emphases mine). TE Chastain did not judge the Session’s determination to be consonant to the Word of God. Far from demanding silence from minority parties, our constitution authorizes not only complaints and appeals (BCO 42 and 43), but also dissents, protests, and objections (BCO 45) to be publicly articulated, and even entered into the records of the minutes, if they be couched in temperate and respectful language. Our constitution expressly and positively recognizes five different ways that the minority may articulate their disagreement with the majority, and it never prohibits such expressions, or any other, less formal, expressions.

In this particular case, it is especially ironic to accuse TE Chastain of being insubmissive to his brethren. For over 13 months now, he has submitted to his presbytery’s censure, and refrained from preaching in his own pulpit, despite repeated unanimous requests from his congregation to do so. Although he believes the lower court’s procedures and judgment were unjust, he has submitted to their censure. This he has done, despite such injustices as:

-- The lower court imposed harsher censures (indefinite suspension from both the Supper and office) than admonition or definite suspension, on the ostensible ground that TE Chastain was impenitent; and
-- The lower court took the unusual step of not suspending the censures pending the appeal process; yet
-- The lower court removed the censure of indefinite suspension from the Supper in May of 2005, without removing the censure of indefinite suspension from office, although both censures were imposed for the same alleged offense, and each can only be removed on the same ground, that the offender has manifested repentance.

Such unconstitutional actions manifest extreme degrees of prejudice against Mr. Chastain, yet he has submitted to his brethren, as his ministerial vows require. Having submitted for over 13 months to an unjust trial, judgment and censure by the court of jurisdiction, it is remarkable that the Panel could and would accuse him of insubmission to his brethren for his mere public disagreement with a court that had and has no jurisdiction over him.

Panel similarly misconstrues the vow regarding the peace/purity/unity of the church. Their reasoning is that any public discussion of disagreement with the Session is necessarily a violation of the vow. But sometimes purity and peace are at odds with one another. If his Session had adopted the practice of paedocommunion, for instance, the purity of the church would have necessitated TE Chastain’s refusing compliance with their wish, and his candid and public teaching on the proper understanding of the ordinance. The vow merely requires that one “be zealous and faithful in maintaining the truths of the Gospel and the purity and peace and unity of the church,” indicating that we vow to attempt zealously and faithfully to achieve these worthy goals, without pledging that they always can be achieved. TE Chastain manifested such zeal and faithfulness by the temperate, respectful, and courteous language he used in the letters to the congregation:
I find myself pressed between being faithful to my vows to the only Head of the Church, the Lord Jesus Christ, along with my vows to you, and my great desire to be sympathetic to the wishes of the other members of the Session. It has always been my position that the Session must do its utmost to come to the Congregation with one voice. The principle is that we meet together “in session with Christ,” discuss and arrive at Biblical truth as the source of all decisions by the help of His Spirit, and when the discussion ends and the vote is taken, we speak as one….By striving to speak with one voice, we are never agreeing to be silent if our governing standards (the Scriptures first and our subordinate standards of Westminster and the Book of Church Order) are broken [letter dated 12/16/03, ROC 328].

As I have said from the pulpit and want to be applied to all of us, “There is no sin so great that it cannot be forgiven and no friendship so broken that the Gospel cannot heal it.” In Christ I hope that this will be the case. Please realize as I said at the beginning, these are mere men and that we all have our faults [letter dated 5/12/04, ROC 337].

These letters, as we indicated at the hearing in November, are evidence of a zealous and faithful effort to maintain the purity/peace/unity of the church. They can only be construed as being violations of the ordination vow if one has already committed the earlier mistake of assuming that subjection to one’s brethren requires one never to indicate that he disagrees with them.

Third, BCO 29-1 remains unfulfilled, and the behavior charged (publicly disagreeing with the majority of the Session) remains not actions could have been proven to be contrary to scripture. Even if it were true that TE Chastain’s construed by the lower court to have violated the ordination vows, BCO 29-1 still would have needed to have been satisfied in the original charge, or the charge could not have been “considered” by the court of original jurisdiction. Panel’s reasoning on this point is rather daring: “Regardless of whether or not the terms divisive and/or divisiveness are found in Scripture or our Constitution, such behavior can constitute an offense and be a sin.” (Panel Decision, p. 10). This will not do. To say that behavior not prohibited in scripture “can constitute an offense” cannot be made conformable to 29-1: “Nothing, therefore, ought to be considered by any court as an offense, or admitted as a matter of accusation, which cannot be proved to be such from Scripture.” Did Heritage Presbytery ever prove “from Scripture” that one is forbidden from expressing public disagreement with one’s Session? No. Did the Panel prove “from Scripture” that one is forbidden from expressing public disagreement with one’s Session? No. So, as in Machen’s case, a man is defrocked for behavior that violated the sensibilities and judgments of many good people, but behavior that did not violate the Scriptures.

Machen Redivivus

To many people in the Presbyterian Church in the mid-1920s, J. Gresham Machen was a nuisance. I myself think that he was unwise to support the Independent Board of Presbyterian Missions. But nothing in the Scriptures or the constitutional standards prohibited such, so his Presbytery had no authority to restrain his liberty on the matter. Some people in Heritage Presbytery believe TE Chastain is a nuisance. But in the Church, the liberties of a church-member or a minister are not to be limited by those who would exercise their own liberties differently. They are only limited when they are, as BCO 29-1 says, “contrary to the Word of God,” and charges against any one, whether officer or layperson, are not even to be “considered” by the church court, unless it can be “proven” that the behavior in question is a violation of scripture. Presbytery failed ever to prove that Mr. Chastain’s behavior violated Scripture. And the Panel failed to prove the matter also. It merely asserted that such behavior was contrary to ordination vows, but it never made any exegetical argument of any sort. Panel asserted: “TE Chastain’s views, while not sinful in and of themselves, should not have been published to the CPC Congregation after the Session had made its decision” (Panel Decision, p. 10). But Panel never produced any biblical evidence, argument, or reasoning, for arriving at this conclusion. Of course, no such argument could have been plausibly made in this case. In Appellant’s brief, we had mentioned the apostle Paul’s minority status at Corinth and Galatia, and his nevertheless writing three letters to those congregations indicating his disagreement with the majority. We also mentioned Paul’s disagreement with Peter at Antioch and his “sharp disagreement” with Barnabas, one of which disagreements Paul wrote about in his letter to the Galatians (Appellee Brief, p. 2, lines 25-40). Neither Presbytery nor the Panel have considered it necessary to oppose this with counter-arguments from Scripture. Panel asserted the following erroneous opinion, an opinion absent from the arguments and record arising from the lower court, with striking boldness, and without a trace of biblical evidence or reasoning: “When faced with questions about an action of the Session being right or wrong, an elder’s response to such questions should be ‘the Session has decided…’” (Panel Decision, p. 11). This muting of the minority is never countenanced or required in the scriptures, is never mentioned in our constitutional standards (which expressly permit even formal expressions of disagreement by the minority), and is without precedent in Presbyterian courts. The eighth Preliminary Principle of our BCO says this:

Since ecclesiastical discipline must be purely moral or spiritual in its object, and not attended with any civil effects, it can derive no force whatever, but from its own justice, the approbation of an impartial public, and the countenance and blessing of the great Head of the Church.

An “impartial public,” familiarizing itself with the ROC, Briefs, and the Panel’s Decision, would determine that TE Chastain was removed from office and sacrament because he disagreed with his Session; not because he had violated any part of Holy Scripture. The case would therefore not enjoy the “approbation” of such an impartial public, and would therefore have “no force whatever.”

With appreciation for the Panel’s patient and diligent efforts, and for those of the SJC, we respectfully therefore request that the judgment of this Panel be reversed by the SJC as a whole.

I. SUMMARY OF THE FACTS

1. On July 12, 2005 Korean Eastern Presbytery (KEP) indicted TE Peter B. Kim (Appellant) on three charges: 1) contumacy for ignoring the authority of KEP and resisting its decision regarding the dissolution of his pastoral relationship with Hudson Presbyterian Church, 2) of having failed to manage and operate the church property in accordance with the civil laws governing a non-profit organization, particularly as relates to the election of trustees, deceiving the church, and dishonoring the name of a deceased trustee whose name he continued to report as being a trustee, and 3) of threatening the church through his attorney by sending a letter of intent, dated December 28, 2004, to file a lawsuit in civil court for defamation of character based on groundless rumors. TE William Jin was appointed as Prosecutor.

2. KEP held a called meeting on August 9, 2005 to deal with two matters, one of which was to try the case against the Appellant. Over the objections of the Appellant, three of the five witnesses requested were not allowed to testify. The Appellant’s son, Mr. David Kim, a professional attorney, was not allowed to represent him during the trial. On charge #1 (contumacy) the Appellant was found guilty (15-0). On charge #2 (related to the board of trustees) he was found not guilty (6-2 which is not a majority of those present and voting). On charge #3 (threatening his congregation with a civil lawsuit) he was found guilty (14-1).

3. KEP immediately voted, 11-3, that “TE Peter B. Kim be deposed and excommunicated, immediately effective and it will continue until overturned otherwise by the General Assembly.” The Moderator declared, based on the vote of Presbytery, that “TE Peter B. Kim is suspended from all his pastoral office and duties (BCO 42-6) until his appeal is decided at the General Assembly.”

4. On September 6, 2005 the Appellant filed, with the Standing Judicial Commission, an appeal from the judgment of KEP. A panel was appointed to hear the case.

II. STATEMENT OF ISSUES

1. Shall the judgment against TE Peter B. Kim “of being continually contumacious against the authority of the presbytery” be sustained?

2. Shall the censures of deposition and excommunication of Peter B. Kim be sustained?
3. Shall the judgment against TE Peter B. Kim of threatening two ruling elders of the Hudson Presbyterian Church with a civil lawsuit in a letter written by his attorney on December 28, 2004 be sustained?

III. JUDGMENT

1. Yes.
2. Yes in part. The censure of deposition is sustained. The censure of excommunication is not sustained but is changed to indefinite suspension from the sacraments.
3. No. This particular letter of December 28, 2004 is alluded to several times in the Record of the Case, but is not itself in the ROC. Therefore, it cannot constitutionally be considered by the SJC in determining the judgment on this charge.

IV. REASONING AND OPINION

The charge of contumacy for which TE Kim was found guilty was of the broader meaning of not being subject to the brethren as found in the fourth ordination vow (BCO 21-5). It was not the type of contumacy described in BCO 32-6.

The SJC recognizes the right of the trial court to impose censures on those who have been found guilty of offenses (BCO 39-3.3). The censure of deposition is sustained and the Presbytery is reminded of its obligations under BCO 46-8.

However, the censure of excommunication was excessive in this instance because of the nature of the conflict. This censure is changed to indefinite suspension from the Sacraments (BCO 30-3).

The Statement of the Facts was written by TE Charles E. McGowan. The Issues and Judgment were written by the full Standing Judicial Commission. Revised Reasoning and Opinion was written by TE Dominic A. Aquila, TE Charles E. McGowan, and RE J. Howard Donahoe.

DISSENTING OPINION
JUDICIAL CASE 2005-8
APPEAL OF TE PETER B. KIM
VS.
KOREAN EASTERN PRESBYTERY

The Standing Judicial Commission argued during the deliberation of this case that the requirement in BCO 32-6 and 34-4 to have two meetings of a court before censuring an offender for contumacy only applies where a person has refused twice to obey a citation of the court. This line of reasoning belies a misunderstanding of what contumacy is. Contumacy is a hydra sin which is manifested in numerous ways. Contumacy is a sin which attaches itself to other sins and increases the gravity of the transgression. Contumacy is not to be reduced to just a failure to obey a citation of a court which would be reductio ad absurdum. As Matthew Henry says, “Whatever the sin itself is, it is contumacy that incurs the anathema. It is rebellion added to the sin that is as witch-craft, and stubbornness as idolatry” (Commentary on Numbers 15).

Any sin, however slight, may receive the highest censure if the person responds contumaciously, but this highest censure cannot be administered until the person is given the opportunity to repent. For this reason, a court cannot discipline a person for contumacy—whether it is failure to obey a citation, refusal to submit to the brethren, rebellion against the court or anything else—without having at least two meetings.
First, contumacy is variously defined by Christian judicatories as “contempt of court,” “rebellion against censure,” etc. In all the church court cases I have consulted, the charge of contumacy was never attached until at least the second meeting of the court. Contumacy is the offender’s attitude of stubbornness and rebellion against the lawful authority of the court. On what basis is that stubborn attitude to be determined until the court has at least warned the offender and given him time to manifest his response?

On March 29, 1935, J. Gresham Machen, former professor at Princeton Theological Seminary, was defrocked by the Presbytery of New Brunswick of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America for his alliance with the Independent Board of Presbyterian Foreign Missions. The charges against Machen were as follows:

1) Violation of ordination vows; 2) Disapproval of the government and discipline of the Presbyterian Church; 3) Renouncing and disobeying the rules and lawful authority of the Church; 4) Advocating rebellious defiance against the lawful authority of the Church; 5) with refusal to sever his connection with “the Independent Board for Presbyterian Foreign Missions” as directed by the General Assembly; 6) Not being zealous and faithful in maintaining the peace of the church; 7) Contempt of and rebellion against his superiors in the Church in their lawful counsels, commands and corrections; 8) Breach of his lawful promises; and 9) Refusing subjection to his brethren in the Lord.

The charges against Machen can be reduced to two: refusing to be in subjection to the brethren in the Lord and contumacy. Several of the charges against Machen parallel the charges in the Kim vs. Korean Eastern Presbytery case; particularly, the third, fourth, seventh, eighth and ninth charges. While the word contumacy is not used in the charges against Machen, the idea of contumacy is certainly present when he is accused of “rebellious defiance,” etc. In both trials (Kim and Machen), there were numerous constitutional breaches by the presbyteries involved. Yet, unlike the trial of TE Kim by Korean Eastern Presbytery, the New Brunswick Presbytery (PCUSA) afforded Machen time to “repent” of his views before defrocking him. The charges were brought against Machen on December 20, 1934, and the trial was conducted in February and March of 1935. Even in the liberal Presbyterian Church in the United States of America there was respect for the Biblical teaching that an offender cannot be convicted of contumacy at the first trial.
Yet, Machen commented on those proceedings as follows:

I am condemned for failing to obey a lawful order but when my counsel, the Rev. H. McAllister Griffiths, offered to prove that the order that I had disobeyed was not lawful but unlawful the court refused to him a word of argument. I am condemned for making false assertions about the Modernism of the official Board of Foreign Missions, but when my counsel offered to prove that those assertions were not false but true, the court would not hear a word of the evidence that we were perfectly ready to produce. It is not too much to say that a trial conducted in that fashion is nothing but a farce.

Thus, Machen took the position that disobedience to unlawful orders or proceedings of a court are permitted and with this position the BCO agrees.

Second, the Book of Church Order of the PCA is based on general Biblical principles. Courts in the Presbyterian Church in America do not rule by fiat authority. The Scriptural principle in general is that courts should move slowly in administering discipline. The passage which most clearly teaches this principle is Titus 3:10. On any given passage of Scripture, commentators can be consulted who either affirm or deny any particular document because Biblical interpretation is not undertaken in a vacuum. The only important question for us is this: How do those commentators in the Presbyterian and Reformed community interpret this verse? The comments of John Calvin on this passage are instructive:

But we must exercise moderation, so as not instantly to declare every man to be a “heretic” who does not agree with our opinion.
There are some matters on which Christians may differ from each other, without being divided into sects. Paul himself commands that they shall not be so divided, when he bids them keep their harmony unbroken, and wait for the revelation of God (Philippians 3:16). But whenever the obstinacy of any person grows to such an extent, that, led by selfish motives, he either separates from the body, or draws away some of the flock, or interrupts the course of sound doctrine, in such a case we must boldly resist.

In a word, a heresy or sect and the unity of the Church -- are things totally opposite to each other. Since the unity of the Church is dear to God, and ought to be held by us in the highest estimation, we ought to entertain the strongest abhorrence of heresy. Accordingly, the name of sect or heresy, though philosophers and statesmen reckon it to be honorable, is justly accounted infamous among Christians. We now understand who are meant by Paul, when he bids us dismiss and avoid heretics. But at the same time we ought to observe what immediately follows,

After the first and second admonition; for neither shall we have a right to pronounce a man to be a heretic, nor shall we be at liberty to reject him, till we have first endeavored to bring him back to sound views. He does not mean any “admonition,” whatever, or that of a private individual, but an “admonition” given by a minister, with the public authority of the Church; for the meaning of the Apostle's words is as if he had said, that heretics must be rebuked with solemn and severe censure. . .

Yet moderation is always best, that, instead of being restrained by force and violence, they may be corrected by the discipline of the Church, if there be any ground to believe that they can be cured (John Calvin, Commentary on Titus).

If even heretics are to be given the opportunity to repent before they are removed from the church, how much more is it necessary to show leniency towards the contumacious that they also may be corrected and restored to fellowship? Other Reformed commentators such as William Hendrickson, Patrick Fairbairn, Benjamin Keach and George Knight agree with Calvin's interpretation on Titus 3:10. Their comments can be perused by those who are interested, but space does not permit them to be included in this dissent.

Third, the purpose of discipline is to keep and reclaim disobedient sinners (BCO 27-3) and is to be administered under a dispensation of mercy, not of wrath (BCO 27-4). The censure of excommunication, if administered too quickly, overturns the real purpose of discipline; which is, to promote the glory of God, to purify the church, and to keep and reclaim the sinner. In the trial of TE Kim, Korean Eastern Presbytery both deposed him from office and excommunicated him at the first meeting of the court. It is hard for this presbyter to understand how such action by that court can be called a “dispensation of mercy.”

Fourth, the Book of Church Order gives instructions about a minister guilty of contumacy:

34-4. a. When a minister accused of an offense is found contumacious (cf. 32-6), he shall be immediately suspended from the sacraments and his office for his contumacy. Record shall be made of the fact and of the charges under which he was arraigned, and the censure shall be made public. The censure shall in no case be removed until the offender has not only repented of his contumacy, but has also given satisfaction in relation to the charges against him.
b. If after further endeavor by the court to bring the accused to a sense of his guilt, he persists in his contumacy, he shall be deposed and excommunicated from the Church.

There are some points that must be made about this section of the BCO:

(1). The sin of contumacy is distinguished from the offense which brought the matter before the court—"when a minister accused of an offense is found contumacious." How is the accused found guilty of contumacy? Obviously, it is by his rebellion against the court in the matter of his offense. BCO 34-4 references BCO 32-6 which gives three examples of contumacy—
   a. failure to obey a citation, which is twice given by the court,
   b. refusal to plead before the court,
   c. or refusal to cooperate with the lawful proceedings of a court.

Yet, contumacy may take a multitude of forms in addition to those specifically spelled out in the BCO.

(2). Deposition and excommunication are not to be administered until two thresholds are reached—a. further endeavors by the court to bring the accused to a sense of his guilt,
   b. and persistence in contumacy by the accused.

Neither of these thresholds was attained in the judicial case against TE Kim before Korean Eastern Presbytery.

(3). The offense is obviously distinct from the contumacy because the BCO says that "the censure shall in no case be removed until the offender has not only repented of his contumacy, but has also given satisfaction in relation to the charges against him." Thus, contumacy in the BCO is a sin of rebellion which attaches itself to other offenses and aggravates them and is manifested by a stubborn refusal to submit to the court.

Fifth, the actions of Korean Eastern Presbytery, which led up to this trial of TE Peter Kim, were egregious breaches of constitutional authority. It cannot be maintained by those who love the Scripture that it is always the responsibility of a member of the Presbyterian Church in America to obey the decisions of the courts (unless those courts are considered to be infallible).
There are numerous examples of righteous people who disobeyed the “authorities” over them. The Apostles were given strict orders not to continue teaching in the name of Jesus to which they replied, “We must obey God rather than men” and “Whether it is right in the sight of God to give heed to you rather than to God, you be the judge; for we cannot stop speaking what we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:19; 5:29). The ordination vows, which all ministers of the PCA take, require them to promise “subjection to the brethren in the Lord.” It is not subjection to the whims or capriciousness of church courts in their abuse of power. When Martin Luther defied the Church in his day, he said, “Here I stand; I can do no other.” Soldiers in the army are required to obey only the lawful orders of superiors.

Thus, contumacy is a charge, which cannot be separated from the issue involved. As nothing but a violation of Scripture can be a charge against any person, so nothing can be called contumacy except rebellion against lawful authority. Disobedience against breaches of constitutional authority is not contumacy. Disobedience against illegal orders of a court is not contumacy. Might does not make right in God’s Church. If a person is contumacious simply for disobeying the unlawful authority of the court, then Christ was contumacious for opposing the religious leaders in His day; then the Apostles were contumacious for refusing to bow to the Sanhedrin’s order that they cease preaching in the name of Jesus; then Martin Luther was contumacious against the Diet of Worms; then Machen was contumacious against the Presbytery of New Brunswick (PCUSA); then the founding fathers of the PCA were contumacious for not submitting to the decisions of the PCUSA; etc. Contumacy is stubborn persistence in sin.

Every person has a responsibility first to obey God and then to obey those lawful authorities God has placed over them. Where there is a conflict between God’s commands and man’s orders, God must be obeyed and man must be disobeyed. Such disobedience is not contumacy.

In the deliberations on this case, the SJC could cite no Scriptural warrant for their position, no part of the BCO which supports their decision (except in denying that the BCO sections on contumacy applied to this case) and no precedent in church history. Yet, the responsibility of a juror on the SJC is to judge every case on the basis of the constitution of the Presbyterian Church in America.

The effect of this decision by the SJC is to affirm that Korean Eastern Presbytery has the power to act unconstitutionally with impunity. Courts, which want to disregard the constitution of the PCA, are now and will be strengthened by this ill advised, unconstitutional decision of the SJC.

Respectfully Submitted by TE Dewey Roberts, Panel Chairman in SJC cases 2005-8 and 2005-9
I. SUMMARY OF THE FACTS

1. On August 9, 2004, the Session of Hudson Presbyterian Church, TE Peter Kim, RE Changwook Kim, and RE Sae Hwan Han, was presented a petition signed by 25 of the 102 communing members, that met constitutional requirements, asking for a congregational meeting with an agenda consisting of three items: 1) a vote of confidence on the pastor and the elders of the church; 2) to elect a Board of Trustees according to the laws governing a non-profit organization; and 3) to make a proper decision on the church bylaws illegally passed in a previous congregational meeting. The pastor, TE Peter B. Kim, was reported to be out of the country when the petition was presented.

2. On December 7, 2004, RE Sae Hwan Han, a member of the Session, presented TE Peter B. Kim a copy of the request for a congregational meeting.

3. On January 9, 2005 representatives of the congregation of Hudson Presbyterian Church complained to Korean Eastern Presbytery that 30 days had passed since the petition to call a congregational meeting had been submitted and that it appeared that the Session had no intention of calling a congregational meeting.

4. On February 2, Korean Eastern Presbytery appointed an Administrative Commission with the task of resolving the conflict in the Hudson Presbyterian Church. On February 28 the Commission met with TE Peter B. Kim and with representatives of the congregation. On March 17, 2005, a complaint signed by TE Peter B. Kim was submitted to the Korean Eastern Presbytery protesting that an Administrative Commission had been established inasmuch as the complaint filed on January 9 against the Session of Hudson Presbyterian Church had not been first filed with the Session in accordance with BCO 43.

5. On March 30, 2005, the Administrative Commission corresponded with the Session giving notice of a 6-part decision which, a) found the members’ complaint in order, b) ordered the Session to call a congregational meeting, c) prescribed the agenda to be that of the original petition, d) required the Administrative Commission to be notified of the date of the meeting, e) required the Administrative Commission to be notified of the results of the meeting, and f) notified the Session of the Administrative Commission’s plan to be present for the congregational meeting.

6. The congregational meeting required by the Administrative Commission was held on April 17, 2005. The congregation voted 40-1-2 to request Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relationship between the congregation and TE Peter B. Kim. The other items on the agenda failed to pass. A motion to dissolve the ruling elder relationship with RE C. Kim and RE S. Han failed by a vote of 0-41-2.

7. On June 7, 2005, Korean Eastern Presbytery affirmed the report of the Administrative Commission, concurred with the dissolution of the pastoral relationship between TE Peter B. Kim and Hudson Presbyterian Church, and declared the pulpit vacant.

8. Korean Eastern Presbytery held a called meeting on July 12, 2005, to act on two matters, one of which was a complaint filed after the June 7, 2005, Presbytery meeting by TE Peter B. Kim. TE William Jin was designated as Respondent. On August 9, 2005 Korean Eastern Presbytery denied the complaint.

9. On September 8, 2005 a complaint was filed with the Standing Judicial Commission by TE Peter B. Kim against the action of Korean Eastern Presbytery. The complaint, Case 2005-9, was found to be in order and a panel was appointed.

II. STATEMENT OF ISSUES

1. Did KEP err in denying the complaint dated June 1, received June 7, and heard on August 9?
2. Did KEP err in denying the complaint of TE Peter B. Kim at a called meeting on August 9, 2005?

III. JUDGMENT

1. Yes, but this unconstitutional action at the beginning of this process does not justify TE Kim’s refusal to obey the directive of presbytery and, in light of his deposition from office (Case 2005-8), further action on this matter is moot.
2. Yes. See Judgment 1.

IV. REASONING AND OPINION

_BCO_ 25-2 states that members in good standing of a congregation may petition the session to call for a congregational meeting. If the session cannot act, fails to act, or refuses to act, then any member in good standing of that congregation may file a complaint according to the procedure of BCO 43-2, which says “a complaint shall first be made to the court whose act or decision is alleged to be in error.” In this case, the complaint of January 9, 2005, should have been made to the session of the Hudson Presbyterian Church—not Korean Eastern Presbytery. The ROC clearly indicates that said complaint was filed first with KEP—not the session of Hudson church. Further errors by KEP concerning this case include the following:

1. KEP appointed an Administrative Commission, which later unconstitutionally handled judicial business (BCO 15-1, 3). An administrative commission has power to act for the court, but a judicial commission’s actions do not become the final action of the court until they are either approved or disapproved by vote of the court.

2. The Administrative Commission unconstitutionally ruled on March 28, 2005 that the complaint of January 9, 2005 was judicially in order (even though it had never been filed with the lower court and was not styled as a complaint).

3. On April 17, 2005, subsequent to the congregational vote to request presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relationship, the Administrative Commission voted to dissolve this pastoral relationship. This Commission did not have that authority.

4. KEP acted unconstitutionally on June 7, 2005, in approving the actions of the Administrative Commission.

In the absence of a successful complaint or appeal, Presbytery’s errors do not justify TE Kim’s refusal to obey the directives of presbytery. In light of TE Kim’s deposition, (see Case 2005-8) no remedy is necessary or possible. We remind all parties that strict adherence to the Constitution of the PCA in the process of a case promotes justice for any party and all parties.

The Summary of the Facts was written by TE Charles E. McGowan. The Revised Statement of Issues, Judgment, and Reasoning and Opinion were written by the full Standing Judicial Commission.

CONCURRING OPINION
SJC CASE 2005-9
COMPLAINT OF TE PETER B. KIM
VS.
KOREAN EASTERN PRESBYTERY

We concur with the final decision in the Complaint of TE Peter B. Kim vs. Korean Eastern Presbytery but submit the following as additional reasoning. In August of 2004, more than the required number of members of Hudson Presbyterian Church petitioned for a congregational meeting to vote on the issue of whether TE Kim should continue as pastor of the church. Two additional petitions were submitted to the session.

All three petitions were ignored. The petitioners then carried their request to Korean Eastern Presbytery. In response, KEP appointed an Administrative Commission to resolve the conflict within the Hudson Church. It is clear from the record of the case that this was not a judicial commission, whose decisions must be approved by Presbytery, but an administrative commission, which was empowered to act for Presbytery.
The complainant has throughout referred to this Administrative Commission as a judicial commission, even in the face of substantial evidence to the contrary. This commission and KEP clearly realized that after over five months of waiting for the Session of Hudson Church to act in response to calling a congregational meeting something must be done to resolve the conflict within the church.

The complainant bases his complaint on the language of BCO 43 which requires that a complaint must be made first to the offending court of the Church before it can be taken to the next higher court. In this instance, there had already been three attempts to get the lower court (the Session of Hudson Church) to act. There is clear evidence in the record of the case and the transcript of the Presbytery hearing on TE Kim’s complaint that he had failed to act upon the three petitions.

In such a case, KEP and its administrative commission clearly had the authority to act under the provisions of BCO 13-9, to wit, “In cases in which the Session cannot exercise its authority, it (Presbytery) shall have power to assume original jurisdiction.” This authority of presbytery is separate and apart from the language of BCO 43. Based on the established fact that three separate petitions for calling a congregational meeting were ignored over the space of more than five months, KEP operated within the constitutional framework of the PCA Book of Church Order.

DISSENTING OPINION
JUDICIAL CASE 2005-9
COMPLAINT OF TE PETER B. KIM
VS.
KOREAN EASTERN PRESBYTERY

At the meeting of the Standing Judicial Commission on March 3, 2006, there was initially confusion about whether or not this case should have been ruled administratively out of order by the panel. This confusion had the effect of prejudicing the decisions concerning both this case, 2005-9, and the Appeal, 2005-8, which is closely connected with it. It is not possible to understand the Appeal of TE Peter B. Kim vs. Korean Eastern Presbytery (2005-8) without understanding the facts, which led to the trial. Those facts are laid out in this Complaint, 2005-9, which addresses the very serious and egregious constitutional errors committed by KEP. Some of those constitutional errors by KEP are glossed over by the arrangement of the Summary of the Facts’ in the present report, which was adopted by a majority of the full Standing Judicial Commission. These egregious errors include the following:

1. On January 9, 2005, a petition from members of the Hudson Presbyterian Church requesting a congregational meeting for a vote of confidence on the pastor and ruling elders of the congregation was received by KEP. This petition was not styled as a complaint according to BCO 43 and made no claim to be such. Moreover, there had never been a complaint filed with the lower court, the session of the Hudson Presbyterian Church, as required by BCO 25-2 and 43-2. This whole process from the beginning was constitutionally out of order. KEP should have acted constitutionally by denying that the petition was a complaint and advising the petitioners of the proper method for filing a complaint with the Hudson Presbyterian Church session.

2. On February 2, 2005, KEP elected an Administrative Commission to resolve the conflict in the Hudson Presbyterian Church. This Administrative Commission committed numerous egregious breaches of constitutional authority by acting as a Judicial Commission for which it did not have the powers of presbytery, to wit:
   a. On March 30, 2005, the Administrative Commission decided that the petition for a congregational meeting was a “complaint” and was in order. The power to rule the complaint in order belongs to the presbytery or a judicial commission authorized by presbytery to take such action (BCO 15-2, 3). Administrative Commissions do not have such powers. This action of KEP’s Administrative Commission was in violation of our constitution.
   b. On March 30, 2005, the Administrative Commission ordered the Session of Hudson Presbyterian Church to call a congregational meeting. Administrative Commissions do not have such powers. This action of KEP’s Administrative Commission was in violation of our constitution (BCO 15-2, 3).
   c. On March 30, 2005, the Administrative Commission prescribed the agenda for the congregational meeting, which they ordered. Administrative Commissions do not have such powers. This action of KEP’s Administrative Commission was in violation of our constitution (BCO 15-2, 3).
   d. Following the April 17, 2005 congregational meeting of Hudson Presbyterian Church, this Administrative Commission met and voted to dissolve the relationship between TE Peter B. Kim and Hudson Presbyterian Church. Administrative Commissions do not have such powers. This action of KEP’s Administrative Commission was in violation of our constitution (BCO 15-2, 3).

After the panel chairman made a few preliminary remarks on this case on March 3, 2006, the SJC assigned TE Howie Burkhalter the rewriting of the Reasoning and Opinion before the case would be considered. TE Burkhalter then found the evidence in the Record of the Case that 2005-9 was indeed administratively in order, which supported the conclusion which the panel had made about this case. Yet, when the case came back to the SJC for consideration, the discussion of the report was led by members of the Commission at large- not by the chairman of the panel. In my opinion, the full commission never understood the egregious constitutional errors of Korean Eastern Presbytery in Case 2005-9 due to the irregular manner in which this case was reported. In every case, the written and oral report of the panel must be duly considered by the full commission before the SJC takes action concerning it. Otherwise, there is no reason to appoint a panel to hear a case, write a report and present that report to the full SJC. There often are facts learned through the hearing of cases which are essential to the decisions which are made. The full SJC often does not comprehend these facts until the panel has made its report. In SJC Case 2005-9, the full SJC never learned some of those facts (or never considered them) because of the irregular process by which it was reported. The result was that there were some erroneous perceptions about this case which were boldly proclaimed as fact and which had the effect of prejudicing the decision on this case. A couple of those erroneous perceptions were:

1. That all these constitutional errors by KEP are moot because there was a congregational meeting properly called by the session of Hudson Presbyterian Church for April 17, 2005 at which a motion to request the dissolution of TE Kim’s pastoral relationship with the church was passed by a vote of 40-1-2. Yet, the Record of the Case clearly shows that there never was a session meeting to call this congregational meeting. The meeting was held in blind submission to the unconstitutional order of KEP’s Administrative Commission according to the transcript of the testimony at the trial of TE Kim.

2. That the petitioners had tried three times to present a “complaint” to TE Kim before they sent it forward to Korean Eastern Presbytery. Both the Record of the Case and the hearing revealed that there was a confusion of terms when the word “complaint” was used. The fact is there never was a complaint filed with either the session or the presbytery. The document in question was the petition which was then submitted to the presbytery. The proper procedure to take when a session cannot act, fails to act or refuses to act within 30 days concerning a petition for a congregational meeting is for any member in good standing to file a complaint with the session. If that complaint is either denied or not heard, then a complaint can be made to the presbytery. Due process was not followed in this case when KEP received that petition as a “complaint.”

The argument by some members of the Standing Judicial Commission that the petition presented to Korean Eastern Presbytery should be considered as a “complaint” is a fatally flawed premise. The SJC often has to rule cases administratively out of order for failure by a party to file the case within 30 days of the action of the court. If the SJC arbitrarily permits a petition for a congregational meeting to be considered as a complaint, then there is no longer any constitutional basis for deciding any case. The whims of jurors on the Standing Judicial Commission do not comprise constitutional authority.

Korean Eastern Presbytery adopted the actions of their Administrative Commission at the stated meeting of presbytery on June 7, 2005. At the hearing of these cases on January 25, 2006, KEP denied that the Administrative Commission ever acted as a Judicial Commission by claiming that none of the actions of the Commission were effective until the meeting of Presbytery on June 7, 2005. This denial is disingenuous at best. It is not possible to deny that the Administrative Commission was acting with judicial powers because otherwise there was no way for the petition to be ruled a “complaint” before the Presbytery met on June 7, 2005; otherwise, there was no way for the Hudson Presbyterian Church to be ordered to call a congregational meeting, (which took place on April 17, 2005) before the presbytery met on June 7, 2005; and, otherwise, there was no way for the Administrative Commission to prescribe the agenda for that congregational meeting before the presbytery met on June 7, 2005. All of these matters were completed before the June 7, 2005 meeting of Korean Eastern Presbytery which alone had the power to take such actions in this instance. These actions of the Administrative Commission were egregious abuses of constitutional authority.

If KEP’s Administrative Commission had ever assumed original jurisdiction over the session on the basis of BCO 13-9 (“In cases in which the Session cannot exercise its authority, Presbytery shall have power to assume original jurisdiction”), there would be some justification for some of the actions of said Commission. Yet, the ROC clearly indicates that such action was never taken. The Administrative Commission ordered the session of Hudson Presbyterian Church to call a congregational meeting, but it never took action to assume original jurisdiction.

The decision of the full SJC to deny this complaint fails to redress the egregious constitutional errors of Korean Eastern Presbytery. The judgment of the SJC said, “This unconstitutional action at the beginning of this process does not justify TE Kim’s refusal to obey the directive of presbytery.” This judgment is flawed and contradicts the constitution of the PCA. BCO 32-6 says, “When an accused person shall appear and refuse to plead, or otherwise refuse to cooperate with lawful proceedings, he shall be dealt with for his contumacy (cf. BCO 33-2; 34-4)”. The SJC judged that a member of a court must submit to unlawful proceedings. The BCO says that contumacy is refusal to cooperate with lawful proceedings. These two positions are diametrically opposed to one another and it reveals the grievous error in this judgment of the SJC. In my opinion, this is the worst decision and judgment that this court has ever rendered. And it has the potential to undermine everything for which the PCA has historically stood. True justice does not consider the parties in a case. True justice considers the great Biblical principles of the constitution of the Church. One of those constitutional principles found in the Westminster Confession of Faith is that “Christ alone is Lord of the conscience.” Without liberty of conscience to protest the unbiblical and unconstitutional decisions of church courts, the only thing left is the tyranny of church courts as they require blind obedience to all their decisions. Sometimes, those protests of conscience must take the form of disobeying the unlawful decisions or actions of church courts. Disobedience of unlawful decisions or actions of a court is not the same thing as disobedience to God. ‘We must obey God, not men’, said the Apostles.

The effect of this judgment by the SJC is to require blind obedience by everyone in the PCA to the courts of the church and to make church courts the Lord of the conscience of all its members. Under the parameters of this judgment by the SJC, then Christ was guilty of contumacy for disobeying the religious leaders of His day; the Apostles were contumacious for disobeying the Sanhedrin; and, indeed, the founders of the Presbyterian Church in America were contumacious for not submitting themselves to the courts of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The error in this fatally flawed judgment is even more egregious in light of the fact that there was no redress that was offered against the constitutional errors by KEP. The judgment on the first issue says, “Yes, but this unconstitutional action at the beginning of this process does not justify TE Kim’s refusal to obey the directive of presbytery and, in light of his deposition from office (Case 2005-8), further action on this matter is moot.” In other words, no remedy is offered concerning the unconstitutional actions of KEP because they deposed TE Kim for his refusal to obey their unconstitutional actions. A remedy for the unconstitutional actions of KEP cannot be “moot” in light of the fact that TE Kim is the one who filed the complaint. A remedy for KEP’s unconstitutional actions cannot be “moot” in light of the fact that TE Kim was deposed from the ministry for refusal to obey that court’s unconstitutional breaches of authority. In the Reasoning and Opinion, the SJC writes, “In light of TE Kim’s deposition, no remedy is necesary or possible.” If ever there is a time that a remedy is necessary, it is when a minister is deposed. If a remedy can be given for just cause, then it should be given to the deposed minister. Such remedy is never moot.

Another illogical and hastily considered statement is the first sentence of the last paragraph of the Reasoning and Opinion, which says, “In the absence of a successful complaint or appeal, Presbytery’s errors do not justify TE Kim’s refusal to obey the directives of presbytery.” That statement is a tacit admission that the decisions by the SJC on this case and 2005-8 are wrong. That statement includes the very clear idea that if the complaint or appeal had been successful, then TE Kim’s refusal to obey the Korean Eastern Presbytery would have been justified. Yet, the reason that the SJC denied the Complaint (2005-9) and the Appeal (2005-8) was because of TE Kim’s refusal to obey the presbytery, which represents circular reasoning at its worst. In making said statement, the SJC is unwittingly acknowledging the correctness of my position in this dissent.

In summary, the SJC ruled against this complaint without referencing a single part of the constitution to support their decision. The BCO references that are in this decision are the remnants of the original report of the panel which heard the case. The decision, which the SJC reached, is in several places inconsistent with those BCO references. The constitutional errors of KEP were overlooked and no remedy was provided to the complainant. The “complaint” which first brought this whole case to the Korean Eastern Presbytery was not a constitutional complaint, but was a petition to the session for a congregational meeting. The congregational meeting in which TE Kim’s pastoral relationship was dissolved was not a constitutionally called congregational meeting. The actions of the Administrative Commission of KEP were unconstitutional at many points. KEP acted unconstitutionally in approving the unconstitutional report of its Administrative Commission. Yet, the SJC denied TE Kim’s complaint without referencing any constitutional basis for doing so. For these reasons, this decision is unworthy of the Presbyterian Church in America and is out of accord with our constitution.

The major issue discussed was the financial situation of Ridge Haven. Ridge Haven has struggled financially over the past two years. The State of North Carolina mandated a sewer up-grade that costs $184,354.90. Furthermore, their income has been lower than expected. Action has been taken to reduce their expenditures, particularly in food services. TE UpDeGraff also outlined plans for a capital campaign which would raise funds for much needed renovations to the existing facilities, particularly the dining hall. TE UpDeGraff also discussed the manner in which the ministry of Ridge Haven is positively affecting the mission of the PCA.

III. Recommendations

\(^1\) Review of Presbytery Records is included in the General Assembly Total. In 2005, RPR cost $6974.93; production and delivery of the General Assembly Minutes accounts for at least $28,000.

\(^2\) The Totals for CCB, IRC, NC, SJC, and TEC have been adjusted to include rent and depreciation on the PCA Office Building, in the amount of $8400.
9. That the registration fee remain at $400 for the 2007 General Assembly in Memphis with $300 allocated to the GA expenses, $25 for publication of the Minutes, and $75 allocated to the Standing Committee cost center for the expenses of the Standing Judicial Commission. Ruling elders and teaching elders who come from churches with budgets of less than $100,000 in their reported statistics would register at ½ the regular price ($200) and honorably retired or emeritus elders would continue to pay 1/3 of the regular registration ($133).

Adopted

10. That the AC minutes of June 14, 2005, October 7, 2005, and April 6, 2006, be approved with no exceptions, but with notations passed along to the secretary of the AC.

Adopted

11. That the Board of Directors Minutes of June 14, 2005, October 7, 2005, and April 6, 2006 be approved with no exceptions, but with notations sent to the appropriate agencies.

Adopted

12. That the budget for the ad interim committee on the New Perspective on Paul, etc., if established by the General Assembly, be no more than $10,000 per year to be raised by designated contributions to the Administrative Committee/Office of the Stated Clerk (See Overture 2 from Rocky Mountain Presbytery, “Erect Study Committee on New Perspective, Etc.,” p. 35; and Overture 11 from Presbytery of the Blue Ridge, “Erect Ad Interim Committee on Federal Vision, New Perspectives on Paul, Etc.,” p. 48).

Adopted

13. That Overture 3 from Susquehanna Valley Presbytery, “Revise RAO 16-1 to Remove Minutes from Registration Fee,” be answered in the negative.

Adopted

GROUND:

1) RAO 16-1 deals with assisting in “defraying the expenses of the General Assembly” by which churches, even though they do not send a commissioner to the Assembly are asked to make a donation to the General Assembly. A copy of the Minutes is given to all contributing churches.

2) The AC/SC labor costs to prepare the Minutes are not reduced by printing fewer copies.

3) Printed copies are necessary for historical purposes.

4) Reducing the number of printed copies of the Minutes would not reduce the registration costs significantly.

5) Printing fewer copies of the Minutes would increase the costs of individual copies.
OVERTURE 3 from the Susquehanna Valley Presbytery (to AC) “Revise RAO 16-1 to Remove Minutes from Registration Fee”

Whereas, the recording and publishing of the Minutes of the General Assembly is an important function of the General Assembly whose cost should be included in the registration fees for the Assembly; and

Whereas, having printed copies of the Minutes of each Assembly is vital for the Stated Clerk’s office, the Archives and for a number of churchmen; and

Whereas, nevertheless, for most commissioners to General Assembly, having their own copy of the Minutes is not significant or useful; and

Whereas, the cost of printing and distributing over a thousand copies of the Minutes is not a necessary cost of the Assembly or necessarily good stewardship of funds; and

Whereas, the registration fee for General Assembly has been rising significantly and there was a serious discussion at the last Assembly on ways to reduce this cost; and

Whereas, if the Minutes were handled as the Yearbook is, with the cost of preparation being borne by the denomination but the cost of printing and distribution be borne by those who specifically think it is worth the expenditure of their own funds, this might reduce the registration fee slightly or at least be a factor in helping to reduce further escalation of this fee;

Therefore be it resolved, that the Susquehanna Valley Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in America respectfully overtures the Thirty-fourth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America meeting in Atlanta, GA to amend the Rules of Assembly Operation by deleting the words “the Minutes and” from Rules of Assembly Operations, Article XVI. 16-1 the fourth sentence.

Adopted by the Susquehanna Valley Presbytery at the stated meeting on September 17, 2005.
Attested by /s/ James C. Bates, Stated Clerk

Adopted
GROUNDs:
1) Historically, the PCA General Assembly as a grass-roots annual gathering of the Church has been more than just an ecclesiastical business meeting. Corporate worship, fellowship, networking, exhibits, seminars, interest group meetings (CC, CTS, RTS, WTS, GPTS, PEF, MTW, MNA, AC, etc.) have been significant aspects of the annual Assembly.
2) Evening sessions are now devoted primarily to worship. A number of time slots for worship have been tried. The evening time slot for worship seems to work best.
3) Time is already available for business after the evening worship services, if such time is necessary.
4) Planning evening business sessions each night does make for some long (12-hour) workdays, which may not be efficient and could be counter-productive.
5) Using a meeting facility that would accommodate commissioners only would essentially change the nature of the Assembly from a multi-faceted Assembly to a business-only Assembly.
6) We have just gone through a Strategic Planning process, which concluded that the multifaceted nature of the Assembly is one of the few means by which the PCA expresses its visible unity and sense of identity.

OVERTURE 4 from Western Carolina Presbytery (to AC)
“Direct AC to Revise Assembly Docket and Use Smaller Facilities for Assembly”

Whereas, the registration fee for the 34th General Assembly has been set at $400 for each commissioner; and

Whereas, this will further exacerbate the problem of small churches not being able to afford the cost, including housing and transportation, of sending both a Teaching Elder and a Ruling Elder; and

Whereas, the likely result in many cases will be that only the Teaching Elder will be sent, thus further reducing the representation of Ruling Elder commissioners; and

Whereas, one of the major contributing factors to the higher cost is the expense related to holding General Assembly in large metropolitan areas which have convention facilities capable of seating the large crowds coming to hear the high profile speakers at the evening sessions;
Therefore Be It Resolved, that Western Carolina Presbytery overtures the 34th General Assembly to take the following actions:

1. Direct the Administration Committee to schedule evening sessions as business sessions, thus possibly shortening General Assembly one day and also reducing the expense of General Assembly.

2. Direct the Administration Committee to rent facilities proportionate to the anticipated commissioner enrollment rather than the excessively large facilities currently being used, thus considerably reducing the cost and thus reducing the registration fee.

Adopted by Western Carolina Presbytery at the Stated Meeting on November 11, 2005.
Attested by /s/ Skip Gillikin, Stated Clerk

15. That Overture 20 from Southeast Alabama, “Revise RAO 9-7 to Authorize AC to Select Site of General Assembly,” be answered in the affirmative as follows: See 34-9, p.64, Previously Adopted

Amend the RAO by adding a new 9-7 to wit:

9-7 The Administrative Committee shall be authorized to take the initiative to investigate and recommend to General Assembly sites for the annual meeting of the General Assembly, and to that end, the Administrative Committee shall be authorized to suggest to Presbyteries their hosting the annual meeting if the General Assembly.

GROUND

Allowing the AC to take the initiative in selecting Assembly sites would provide for competitive bidding and would be more cost effective.

16. That Overture 21 from Southeast Alabama, “Develop PCA Logo,” be answered in the affirmative, as amended to wit: Adopted

The 34th GA directs the PCA Historical Center to develop a seal (a.k.a., logo or emblem) for use within the PCA, consistent with the principles approved by the 11th General Assembly and to report to the 35th GA with two options, from which the commissioners may choose a seal. [See M11GA, 11-30, p. 81; cf. M14GA, p. 64; 14-74, III, 13, p. 171.]

GROUND

1) The First General Assembly referred the matter of a PCA emblem to the Committee on Administration.
2) Past efforts at developing a PCA logo have been unsuccessful, although such an emblem or logo could express and promote the unity of the denomination.

3) The Historical Center has resources from the history of the PCA that will help in developing a logo that is consistent with the principles approved by earlier assemblies.

OVERTURE 21 from Southeast Alabama Presbytery (to AC)
“Develop PCA Logo”

Whereas, Christ has given the keys of the kingdom to His church; and

Whereas, there is no visible mechanism that expresses the authority of our church to ourselves and the world; and

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church in America is constituted as a visible branch of Christ’s Church; and

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church is not many churches, but one church with many particular churches; and

Whereas, there is no visible mechanism that expresses the unity of our church to ourselves and the world; and

Whereas, the First General Assembly received and approved a communication regarding a unified emblem for the PCA, and referred the issue to committee; and

Whereas, the Eleventh General Assembly again approved the concept of an emblem and approved guidelines directing the COA (now Administrative Committee) “to develop a distinctive emblem for seals, banners, and logo in accord with the following principles:

1. Continue the direction set by the First General Assembly to have a uniform and distinctive designation for the denomination, its committees, agencies and churches.
2. Express the unity of the denomination in public relations, correspondence, road signs, etc.
3. Respect the confessional position that no representation of deity be made.
4. Permit the concurrent use of a specific logo for the permanent committees and agencies.” And
Whereas, the Fourteenth General Assembly, meeting in Philadelphia, did not accept a particular proposal, but did not reject the concept of an emblem; and

Whereas, the Seventeenth General Assembly again instructed the COA (now Administrative Committee) “to take up the matter of preparing and proposing a unified emblem for the PCA and report to each General Assembly on this project until such an emblem is adopted; and that the principles approved by the 14th General Assembly are reaffirmed and to be followed”; and

Whereas, the Eighteenth General Assembly rejected the proposed emblem and directed that “the proposed design again be referred to the Administrative Committee with the request that a simpler design be sought in further consultation with professional designers”; and

Whereas the Twenty-first General Assembly rejected an overture asking that the Administrative Committee again be asked to develop and emblem on the grounds that the Twentieth General Assembly relieved the Administrative Committee of this responsibility; and

Whereas, all past efforts to obtain General Assembly approval for an emblem for the PCA have failed; and

Whereas, there is a strong desire by many churches within the PCA to have a visible emblem to unite our church; and

Whereas, the PCA has existed for over 32 years without fulfilling the desire of its First General Assembly;

Therefore be it resolved that the Southeast Alabama Presbytery overtures the General Assembly of the PCA to direct the Committee of the PCA Historical Center to develop a seal for use within the PCA, consistent with the principles approved by the 11th General Assembly and to report to each General Assembly until such a seal is adopted or until the committee is relieved of this duty.

Adopted by Southeast Alabama Presbytery at the stated meeting on April 25, 2006
Attested by /s/ Henry Lewis Smith.
17. That Overture 24 from Western Carolina Presbytery, “Postpone Actions on SPC Proposals Regarding Bills & Overtures and Ask AC to Prepare BCO Amendments for a Delegated Assembly,” be answered in the negative.

Adopted

GROUNDS
The SPC has been examining these issues over the last five years. The Assembly should act on the recommendations from the SPC.

OVERTURE 24 from Western Carolina Presbytery (to AC) “Postpone Action on SPC Proposals Regarding Bills & Overtures and Ask AC to Prepare BCO Amendments for a Delegated Assembly”

Whereas, there is concern over the fact there is poor ruling elder participation at the General Assembly level; and

Whereas, the recent amendments to the Book of Church Order providing for larger numbers of ruling elders to be allowed to be sent to the Assembly has not resulted in an increased participation of the ruling elders at the level of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, there is concern over the increasing costs of large convention facilities now required for the present size of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, the present size of the Assembly does not permit the possibility of adequate discussion of issues before the Assembly; and

Whereas, there are radical proposals being made to the 34th General Assembly regarding the change of the Rules for Assembly Operations that minimize the function of the Committees of Commissioners regarding the Permanent Committees and Agencies, and will shift the actual operation of the Assembly from the floor of the Assembly to the super Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures;

Now be it resolved, that the 34th General Assembly postpone action on all of the proposed changes to the BCO and RAO currently before the Assembly, and that the whole matter be referred to the Administrative Committee to bring to the 35th General Assembly an alternative proposal to amend both the BCO and the RAO to provide for a representative Assembly elected by the presbyteries not to exceed 350 commissioners, expenses for whom will be paid for by either the Presbyteries, or by the Assembly from funds collected from each Presbytery based upon the communicant membership of the presbyteries.

Rationale:

1. A representative Assembly will result in virtual equal numbers of Teaching and Ruling Elders at the Assembly. This was the case with the RPCES, and is currently the case with the PCUSA, the OPC, the CRC, and other Churches that have representative assemblies.
2. A representative Assembly will allow the use of churches instead of convention centers, thus greatly reducing the costs of Assembly meetings.
3. A representative Assembly will provide the possibility for greater discussion of the business by the Assembly.

If this Overture is approved and sent to the General Assembly, it should be scheduled for consideration prior to action on the BCO and RAO proposals affecting the restructuring of the Assembly.

Adopted by Western Carolina Presbytery at the stated meeting on May 2, 2006
Attested by /s/ Skip Gillikin, Stated Clerk

18. That the 34th GA commend byFaith for receiving the Award of Excellence for 2006 by the Evangelical Press Association and Dick Doster for his labor on the hardcopy of byFaith

19. That the 34th General Assembly strongly encourage all commissioners and the churches they represent to subscribe to byFaith if they have not done so to broaden the knowledge of the PCA through-out the church at large.

20. That the 34th GA commend the office staff of the Stated Clerk's office for their unseen labors of love on behalf of the PCA. Especially:

Adopted
21. That the 34th GA commend TEs L. Roy Taylor, J. Robert Fiol and John W. Robertson for their faithfulness to serve the church, their dedication to the Gospel and their tireless labors on behalf of the PCA. Adopted

22. That the 34th GA be reminded to fulfill the askings on behalf of the AC. Adopted

34-44 Report of Theological Examining Committee

TE Clarence D. “Jimmy” Agan, Chairman, led the Assembly in prayer and presented the report as information, closing with prayer.

1. Introduction to the Committee’s Work
   a. Purpose and Scope of Examinations: Some of you may be unfamiliar with the purpose of the Theological Examining Committee and the scope of its duties. According to our Book of Church Order, 14-1.14, the General Assembly is to elect a six-man Theological Examining Committee, comprising three Teaching Elders and three Ruling Elders. This committee is charged with examining “all first and second level administrative officers of committees, boards and agencies, and those acting temporarily in these positions who are being recommended for first time employment.”
   b. Nature of Examinations: The examinations we administer are not unlike those for the ordination of Teaching Elders in the PCA, covering seven areas: Christian experience, theology, the sacraments, church government and the BCO, Bible content, church history, and the history of the PCA. Our standard procedure is to administer a 30-question written examination covering theological views, followed by an intensive oral examination which covers not only views but knowledge in the seven areas listed earlier. A word about the ethos of our exams: as Chairman my practice is to exhort examinees that they should feel no pressure to satisfy our committee or give the “right answers” to our questions; rather, they should state, with a clear conscience before God, what they believe to be biblical truth, and leave it to our committee to assess whether their convictions are in accord with the constitution of the PCA.

2. Summary of the Committee’s Work: In the past year, our committee has conducted two examinations.
   a. DE Greg Rumsey: First, on May 25, 2006, we examined DE Greg Rumsey for a second-level post as Vice President for Finance and Chief Financial Officer at Covenant College. All areas of Mr. Rumsey’s exam were sustained and unanimously approved by the committee, and we were particularly impressed by Mr. Rumsey’s sense of calling to and vision for the position at Covenant College. No exceptions to the constitution of the PCA were expressed by Mr. Rumsey or noted by the committee.
   b. RE Gary Campbell: Second, on June 20, 2006, we examined RE Gary Campbell for a first-level post as President of PCA Retirement and Benefits, Inc. All areas of Mr. Campbell’s exam were sustained and unanimously approved by the committee. Especially encouraging was Mr. Campbell’s eagerness to serve Christ and the church with his gifts; in his words, by serving pastors in the area of financial planning, “I’ll be doing what I love for people I love.” No exceptions to the constitution of the PCA were expressed by Mr. Campbell or noted by the committee.

For further detail, the minutes of our committee are filed with the Stated Clerk’s office, and any inquiries or correspondence may be addressed to the Chairman at Clemson Presbyterian Church, 346 Old Greenville Highway, Clemson, SC 29631.

Finally, I and the other members of the committee would like to publicly express our thanks to Mrs. Lori Stephens, Administrative Assistant at Clemson Presbyterian Church, whose behind-the-scenes labors made it possible for us to carry out our duties over the past year.

Joyfully submitted,

TE Clarence D. (“Jimmy”) Agan III, Chairman

OVERTURE 1 from Covenant Presbytery (to MNA)

Be it resolved that Covenant Presbytery overtures the 34th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to enlarge the boundaries of Covenant Presbytery by adding three counties in Missouri which are now part of Missouri presbytery: Jasper, McDonald and Newton.

*Adopted by Covenant Presbytery at the stated meeting on May 24, 2005

11. That the MNA Committee recommend to the General Assembly that Overture 5 from Missouri Presbytery, in concurrence with the expressed desire of Covenant Presbytery to enlarge the boundaries of Covenant Presbytery be answered in the affirmative by reference to the response to Overture 1 of the 34th General Assembly. Adopted

OVERTURE 5 from Missouri Presbytery (to MNA)

“Change Boundaries of Missouri and Covenant Presbyteries”

Be it resolved that Missouri Presbytery, in concurrence with the expressed desire of Covenant Presbytery, hereby overtures the 34th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to enlarge the boundaries of Covenant Presbytery by transferring three counties in Missouri which are now part of Missouri Presbytery: Jasper, McDonald, and Newton. There are no existing particular churches, in either presbytery, which will be affected by this transfer.

*Adopted by Missouri Presbytery at the stated meeting on April 19, 2005
Attested by /s/ David R. Stain, Stated Clerk*

12. That the MNA Committee recommend to the General Assembly that Overture 7 from Southwest Presbytery, “Change Boundaries of Southwest Presbytery,” be answered in the negative, due to lack of concurrence by Rocky Mountain Presbytery. Adopted
OVERTURE 7 from Southwest Presbytery (to MNA)
“Change Boundaries of Southwest Presbytery”

Whereas, the boundaries of the Presbytery of the Southwest, PCA, have been established by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America; and

Whereas, such boundaries are, on occasion, found to be somewhat artificial; and

Whereas, communities separated by such Presbyterial boundaries are, in reality, very closely tied together in social, cultural, historical, economic, and even in familial bonds; and

Whereas, the same social, economic relationship already exists along the New Mexico and Texas border, and the General Assembly of the PCA, in the past, has recognized this kind of relationship with the inclusion of the city and county of El Paso, Texas, along with the counties of Culberson, Jeff Davis, and Presidio within the bounds of the Presbytery of the Southwest; and

Whereas, the Rocky Mountain Presbytery, PCA, has given tacit approval of having a teaching elder in good standing in the Presbytery of the Southwest, namely TE Gary D. McMillan, minister regularly within it bounds in a destitute portion of the Presbytery in Durango, Colorado; and

Whereas, several churches of the Presbytery of the Southwest have a zeal to see the Gospel of Jesus Christ propagated and churches planted in rural communities along the political border between the states of New Mexico and Colorado exhibited in the planting of the Providence Presbyterian Church of Farmington (and Durango); and

Whereas, the Rocky Mountain Presbytery may concur that the social tenor of the State of Colorado counties contiguous to the northern border of the State of New Mexico are more similar to the culture and economy of New Mexico rather than that of the State of Colorado; and

Whereas the closest particular church in the Rocky Mountain Presbytery to the Colorado cities of Durango, Cortez and Alamosa is the Trinity Reformed Presbyterian Church of Montrose, Colorado, ad distance of 108 miles (a mission congregation of the Rocky Mountain Presbytery is being planted in Pueblo, a distance of 270 miles from Durango);

Therefore, be it resolved that with the consent of Rocky Mountain Presbytery, the following counties of Colorado be annexed to the Presbytery of the Southwest: Costilla, Alamosa, Conejos, Archuleta, La Plata, and Montezuma.

Adopted by Southwest Presbytery at the stated meeting on January 19, 2006 Attested by: /s/ Phillip E. Henry, Stated Clerk

13. That the MNA Committee recommend to the General Assembly that Overture 12 from Blue Ridge Presbytery, requesting a change in the boundaries of Blue Ridge and James River Presbyteries, be answered in the affirmative, pending the approval of James River Presbytery. Adopted

OVERTURE 12 from the Presbytery of the Blue Ridge (to MNA) “Change Boundaries of Blue Ridge and James River Presbyteries”

Whereas, at the formation of the Presbytery of the Blue Ridge in October of 2002, we adopted Core Values that included a high emphasis on Church Planting in the territory covered by the Presbytery, which is predominately rural in nature; and

Whereas, during the first three years of existence, Blue Ridge Presbytery has organized new churches in Waynesboro, Lynchburg, and Martinsville and has active church planting works going in Danville and Roanoke County, with several more areas targeted for the immediate future; and

Whereas, knowing that much of the work to be done will be in small towns and rural areas where finding not only a sizeable core-group but also the funding for a typical church planting work will be next to impossible, Blue Ridge Presbytery has put into place a training program to develop Ruling Elder Supply Pastors to assist in planting and pastoring churches in these rural regions; and

Whereas, Dr. Doug Kelly, Professor at RTS Charlotte notes in his book Preachers With Power, “…middle-class Scottish and Northern-Irish…typically lived on smaller plots of land such as the hundred-acre farms in Danville, VA . . . Nonetheless, because of their Presbyterian Reformation background, the upcountry population tended to be very educationally minded and biblically very literate. These solid farm people established record numbers of schools, academies and colleges. Most of these had some kind of connection with various Presbyterian judicatories . . .”; and

Whereas, Benjamin Rice Lacy, Jr., explains in his book, Revivals in the Midst of the Years, “the Southside was central to the work among Presbyterians that saw many pre-revivals and revivals beginning in 1800 and lasting to the Civil War. During these times of abundant out-pouring of the Spirit of God, the likes of Daniel Baker preached and ministered and Archibald Alexander among others was converted;” and

Whereas it has been the consistent prayer of the Presbytery of the Blue Ridge to see the same abundance out-pouring of the Spirit of God in these areas, and with works up and running in Lynchburg and Danville is geographically poised to move forward in southside Virginia; and

Whereas there are a number of counties that belong to James River Presbytery in the territory generally recognized as part of southside Virginia that could be served both culturally and geographically by the current works within the Blue Ridge Presbytery;

Therefore, The Presbytery of the Blue Ridge, with the concurrence of James River Presbytery, respectfully overtures the 34th General Assembly to transfer the following counties from James River to Blue Ridge effective July 1, 2006: Buckingham, Charlotte, Halifax, Lunenberg, Mecklenburg and Prince Edward.

*Adopted by the Presbytery of the Blue Ridge at the stated meeting on April 8, 2006
Attested by: /s/ TE Don K. Clements, Stated Clerk*

14. That the MNA Committee recommend to the General Assembly that Overture 18 from North Georgia Presbytery, requesting the formation of Northwest Georgia Presbytery in northwest Georgia, be answered in the affirmative, as amended in these minutes. Adopted as Amended

(Cf. Appendix H, Recommendation 14, p. 479.)
OVERTURE 18 from North Georgia Presbytery (to MNA)
“Divide North Georgia Presbytery, Forming Northwest Georgia Presbytery”

Whereas the General Assembly has recommended criteria for the effectiveness of presbyteries (M16GA, pp. 408-9, along with a recommendation [1988] that presbyteries subdivide if they have more than 30 churches within their bounds); and

Whereas the petition below satisfies all General Assembly criteria and develops a regional presbytery (counties in the attached petition are: Carroll, Paulding, Douglas, Haralson, Polk, Floyd, Cherokee, Bartow, Chattooga, Gordon, and Cobb) which is definitely viable; and

Whereas the North Georgia Presbytery (NGP) is currently the second largest PCA presbytery in terms of membership (16,451) and the largest in terms of local churches (57); and

Whereas the NGP has repeatedly considered the most effective subdivision and desires to be organized effectively to spread the gospel and serve the Kingdom of God; and

Whereas, these Sessions affirm their desire to plant churches aggressively, cooperatively, and with good will toward others engaged in church planting in the region; and

Whereas a recent petition was offered by former GA Moderator Kennedy Smartt at the January 2006 meeting of NGP to erect a Northeast Georgia presbytery; and

Whereas, the undersigned sessions in Northwest Georgia desire to have closer geographical connections to support mutual encouragement, ministerial support, greater involvement among ruling elders, concerted prayer, and cooperation in mission; and

Whereas the petition to form a Northwest Georgia presbytery would, we believe, enhance fellowship, economize on travel, improve ownership for a smaller geographical region, increase stewardship, and encourage these congregations to greater prayer, mission, service, and faithfulness; and

Whereas the proposal below would create a presbytery that would be larger than 22 other, existing PCA presbyteries, while at the same time having the existing NGP retain at least 68% of its members and 70% of its budget—thus allowing a rapidly-growing NGP to maintain its effectiveness, unhindered; and
Whereas, a smaller, more geographically-defined presbytery would enable all churches and ministers to be involved in committees, as well as make committees even more thorough in providing care and oversight of ministers and cooperative ministries; and

Whereas the proposed new presbytery is willing and able to assume financial responsibility for existing works within its bounds;

Therefore, we request that this overture and the petition below be approved and forwarded to the 2006 General Assembly meeting in Atlanta, to constitute this new presbytery, effective following NGP’s October 2006 stated meeting or January 1, 2007, as deemed best.

A PETITION TO NORTH GEORGIA PRESBYTERY
Presented at the Spring Stated Meeting 2006

WE THE UNDERSIGNED SESSIONS humbly petition North Georgia Presbytery and the General Assembly to erect a new presbytery in the northwest quadrant of our present presbytery boundaries. This new presbytery would be bounded, roughly by the I-75 and I-575 interstate corridor in the east, the Alabama state line in the west, I-20 in the south and Tennessee Valley Presbytery in the north. This presbytery would include: Carroll, Paulding, Douglas, Haralson, Polk, Floyd, Cherokee, Bartow, Chattooga, Gordon, and Cobb counties. This division creates a presbytery that is geographically related to the northwest Georgia region and exceeds all General Assembly guidelines (M16GA, 408-9) for boundary changes.

We request that if churches near the borders of this new presbytery (such as those in Tennessee Valley Presbytery located in Georgia) wish to become a part of it that they be allowed to do so by petitioning their presbytery as soon as possible, and also that congregations nearest the borders of this new presbytery be allowed to affiliate with the Presbytery of their choosing or remain in North Georgia Presbytery (NGP). The East Cobb Presbyterian Church, for example, wishes to remain in North Georgia Presbytery. Candidates under care of NGP would, of course, follow their home churches, and any other Teaching Elders living within the geographical bounds would be members of the new Presbytery unless they prefer to remain in the North Georgia Presbytery.

Further, in order to facilitate cooperation with the North Georgia Presbytery, we request the concept be approved that the permanent committees of the new presbytery will consult with their counterpart North Georgia Presbytery permanent committees to formulate strategies.
for effective joint ministry wherever feasible in the areas of Christian education, church planting, diaconal ministries, missions abroad, Reformed University Ministries, etc.

Finally, we request that this petition and the accompanying overture from presbytery be approved and conveyed to the 34th General Assembly to constitute this presbytery, effective following NGP’s October 2006 stated meeting or January 1, 2007, as deemed best. Moreover, the undersigned churches wish to begin meeting as early as July 2006 for mutual encouragement, fellowship, regional effectiveness, and new Presbytery organization.

By session action, the following churches join in signing the petition and pledge to contribute per capita askings at the present rate ($14.00 per capita):

1. King’s Chapel, Carrollton 8. Grace, Douglasville
2. Grace Covenant, Dallas 9. Hope, Marietta
3. Christ, Marietta 10. Smyrna PCA
4. Midway, Powder Springs 11. First, Villa Rica
5. First, Summerville 12. Christ Community, Acworth
7. Grace, Cedartown

Adopted by North Georgia Presbytery at the stated meeting on 18 April 2006
Attested by /s/ RE Dwight L. Allen, Stated Clerk

15. That the MNA Committee recommend to the General Assembly that Overture 19 from North Georgia Presbytery, requesting the formation of Georgia Foothills Presbytery in northeast Georgia be answered in the affirmative, as amended in these minutes. Adopted as Amended
(Cf. Appendix H, Recommendation 15, p 479.)

OVERTURE 19 from North Georgia Presbytery (to MNA)
“Divide North Georgia Presbytery to form Georgia Foothills Presbytery”

Whereas North Georgia Presbytery has over sixty churches and missions and is therefore so large as to be unwieldy and inefficient; and

Whereas North Georgia Presbytery is also too large in area, stretching 150 miles from north to south and east to west; and

Whereas there are at least eleven churches of the presbytery which are in the northeast quadrant of North Georgia Presbytery which are related to each other because of their geography, culture, commerce, origin, and fellowship; and
Whereas these eleven churches are strong in membership (3,000 plus) and finances ($6,000,000 plus) to continue aggressive outreach; and

Whereas these churches would wish to continue to be a part of the New Church Network for new church development in the north Georgia area; and

Whereas these churches, freed from the burden of activity required in a large presbytery, will be able to spend more time in prayer, encouragement, and renewal of one another in the evangelistic mandate given to the churches; and

Whereas North Georgia Presbytery unanimously concurs with these churches in their request,

Therefore the churches located in Gwinnett and Walton Counties north of Highway #316 and east of the Chattahoochee River, and all the churches of Hall, Barrow, Jackson, Clarke, Oconee, Habersham and Union Counties be given permission by this 34th General Assembly to form a new presbytery, to become effective January 1, 2007, which will be called by the name Georgia Foothills Presbytery. (These particular churches are: Grace in Blairsville, Christ in Clarksville, Redeemer in Athens, Faith in Watkinsville, Christ in Watkinsville, Northside in Winder, Ivy Creek in Lawrenceville, Old Peachtree in Duluth, East Lanier in Buford, Chestnut Mountain and Westminster in Gainesville.)

And further that the General Assembly place the following counties of northeast Georgia, where there is presently no PCA church, within the bounds of this new presbytery: Oglethorpe, Elbert, Madison, Hart, Franklin, Banks, White, Stephens, Rabun, and Towns Counties; and that the teaching elders who are retired or without call who live in the bounds of this new presbytery be given the option of becoming a member of this presbytery or remaining on the rolls of North Georgia Presbytery.

And finally that churches that are close to the boundaries of this new presbytery, whether inside or outside, be given the privilege of joining this new presbytery or opting to remain a member of the North Georgia Presbytery.

Adopted by North Georgia Presbytery at its stated meeting on 18 April 2006
Attested by /s/ RE Dwight L. Allen, Stated Clerk
16. That the MNA Committee recommend to the General Assembly that Overture 2 to the 33rd General Assembly from Potomac Presbytery and carried over to the 34th General Assembly, adjusting the boundaries of Potomac Presbytery, be answered in the affirmative.

17. That the following minutes of the MNA Permanent Committee be approved without exception:

a. May 9, 2005
b. May 31, 2005
c. October 6-7, 2005

34-48 Constitutional Inquiry (see 34-35, p. 149)
On the constitutional inquiry regarding the relevance of BCO 40-5 on memorials in the light of this General Assembly’s action in amending that section of the BCO and related sections of the Rules of Assembly Operations (RAO), the Committee on Constitutional Business offered the following advice:

It is the advice of the CCB that since the action involving Louisiana Presbytery came to the SJC as a memorial under the old BCO 40-5, the action should be processed under the old BCO 40-5 and SJC Manual 16 provisions. This grandfathering is following earlier precedents set by previous General Assemblies. Furthermore, the SJC Manual 16 may need to be revised in the future since the terminology of memorial has been removed from BCO 40-5.

Adopted by the CCB

34-49 Report of Committee of Commissioners on Christian Education and Publications
RE Jim Bishop, Chairman, presented the report. (For Informational Report on CE&P, see 34-31, p. 78. See also, Appendix D, pp. 414-24.) Recommendations 1-9, 11-13 were adopted. Recommendation 10 was declared moot, inasmuch as budgets had already been approved in the Partial Report of the CoC on the Administrative Committee (34-37, p. 149). TE LeRoy Ferguson offered prayer for RE John “Jack” Sullivan’s widow, Pat, as she grieves and for wisdom as she moves forward in God’s grace. Appreciation was expressed as reflected in the recommendations. RE Eugene Friedline led the Assembly in prayer for the International Women’s Conference to be held in September.

I. Business Referred to the Committee
A. Christian Education and Publications Permanent Committee Report
B. CE&P Permanent Committee Minutes for September 15-16, 2005 and March 2-3, 2006
C. CE&P Permanent Committee Recommendations
D. CE&P 2006 Budget and Audit Report

II. Statement of Major Issues Discussed
The Committee of Commissioners heard a report from Coordinator TE Charles Dunahoo highlighted CE&P’s Making Kingdom Disciples, the missional statement thrust of the Strategic Faith Plan, has infused all aspects of their work and initiatives under this standard. God’s Faithfulness...Generation to Generation, the WIC’s conference in September (over 4,000 are pre-registered) focusing upon the covenantal responsibility of passing on the faith to the next generation. The Mercy Ministry Conference in 2007, Enriching the Kingdom, will reach a wide variety of ministry (with testimonies from last year of preparedness for Hurricane Katrina as a result!). Many conferences and seminars are done in cooperating with other denominational agencies. With a team of fifteen regional trainers CE&P and GCP can provide hands-on consultation, teaching and training. The bookstore provides a wealth of resources including recommendations for curriculum suggestions. Equip for Ministry magazine may revert to a quarterly periodical, along with the on-line site. Men of the Covenant with the cooperation of Man in the Mirror ministry, is beginning to gain traction. Ministry to seniors entitled Serving and Challenging Seniors by Dr. George Fuller challenges older believers engage in the church and adjust to life changes. Funding is a continual concern.

The Committee discussed and voted on the CE&P permanent committee report, recommendations, budget, audit report and permanent committee minutes.

III. Recommendations

1. That the narrative of the Permanent Committee report (pp. 501-508) be received as a summary of Christian Education and Publications activities during the 2005-2006 period. Adopted

2. That the General Assembly declare September 10, 2006, in conjunction with grandparents day, senior citizens day in the PCA. Adopted

3. That the Assembly allow the following memorial statement to be added to the General Assembly Minutes and that such action be communicated to the Sullivan family. Adopted

In Memory of
John J. “Jack” Sullivan

One of the characteristics and qualifications of an elder in the church, according to Scripture (1 Timothy 3:7), is “he must be well thought of by outsiders.” It further says regarding a servant leader, “If you put these things before the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, being trained in the words of the faith and the good doctrine that you have followed” (1 Timothy 4:6).
We honor the memory of our brother John J. “Jack” Sullivan whose life reflected those words. His love for our Triune God and his commitment to seeing God’s word taught and practiced have influenced us both as a board and a staff at Great Commission Publications.

We thank God and publicly record in our minutes our great appreciation for the life and witness of Jack Sullivan. Those of us who have known and worked with Jack on the GCP Board have been blessed by God through his testimony and life. We have good memories of Jack to challenge us to greater love for God, his Word, his church, and kingdom.

Therefore we express our thanks for Jack Sullivan’s good and faithful service. He has fought the good fight, the good fight of the faith. As a board, we celebrate his going home to be with the Lord and rejoice that he is now in the presence of those who have preceded him.

Also Adopted by the GCP Board of Trustees on October 25, 2005

4. That the General Assembly offer special prayer for the September 15-17, 2006, International WIC Conference, anticipating some 4,000 women and their teen daughters.

5. That the General Assembly express appreciation to the Women In the Church for their support of the 2005 Love Gift of $55,000 to Covenant College. (The current WIC Love Gift for 2006 has been designated to Mission to the World’s ministry to street children [M33GA, p. 171]).

7. That special thanks be communicated to TE Tom Patete, Executive Director of GCP, and to TE Mark Lowrey of GCP and the entire staff for their partnering with CE&P to present to the churches a Sunday school curriculum that is biblically sound and theologically grounded.

8. That the Assembly express its appreciation to the following: RE Ross Cook, RE Bob Beasley, TE Dave Matthews, and TE Robert Dekker for their service on the CE&P Committee for the past four years.

9. That TE Charles Dunahoo be re-elected for the coming year to serve as CE&P coordinator with heartfelt thanks.
10. That the CE&P revised budget be approved, as presented by the Committee of Commissioners on Administration, reflecting the programs approved by the Assembly (see report). \(\text{Deferred to AC CoC}\)

11. The minutes of the CE&P be accepted with notations. \(\text{Adopted}\)

12. That upon review the CE&P audit report be received and found in order. \(\text{Adopted}\)

13. That commendation be given to the CE&P staff for men ministry, women ministry, youth and children’s ministries, resources, and training provided to our denomination. \(\text{Adopted}\)

Covenant Seminary is also committed to the intentional recovery of the Reformation distinctive of sola gratia.

Overtures 6, 9, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 25, 26, 23, 11, 2.
III. Recommendations

1. That Overture 6 from Blue Ridge Presbytery be answered in the affirmative, as amended. (omitted language shown with strikethrough and added language in bold)

   Adopted

Grounds: The overture has already been distributed to the members of the Assembly and will be included in the minutes, and therefore does not require further action.

OVERTURE 6 from Blue Ridge Presbytery (to B&O)

"Memorial Statement Regarding Dr. Edmund Clowney"

Whereas, while the passing of any Elder is worthy of special mention, it is clear that there are some whose passing is of historic note; and

Whereas, Teaching Elder Edmund P. Clowney was one of those men;

Therefore, the Presbytery of the Blue Ridge overtures the 34th General Assembly of the PCA to have the following Memorial read to the General Assembly at an appropriate time and then spread on the Minutes of the General Assembly.

In Memoriam: Dr. Edmund P. Clowney 1917-2005

Edmund P. Clowney (b. July 30, 1917) met his Lord face to face on March 20, 2005, at the age of 87. He is survived by his wife of 63 years, Jean Wright Clowney; by his five children: David Clowney, Deborah Clowney, Paul Clowney, Rebecca Jones, and Anne Foreman; by his twenty-one grandchildren; and by his eleven great grandchildren.

Born in Philadelphia, Ed received his B.A. from Wheaton College in 1939, a Th. B. from Westminster Theological Seminary in 1942, an S.T.M from Yale University Divinity School in 1944, and a D.D. from Wheaton College in 1966. Ordained in the Orthodox Presbyterian Church, he served as pastor of several churches from 1942 to 1946 and was then invited to become assistant professor of practical theology at Westminster Theological Seminary in 1952. He became that institution’s first president in 1966, and remained there until 1984, when he took a post as theologian-in-residence at Trinity Presbyterian Church (PCA) in Charlottesville, Virginia. In 1990 Ed and Jean moved to Escondido, California, where Ed was adjunct professor at Westminster Seminary California. In 2001, he took a full-time position as associate pastor at Christ the King Presbyterian Church (PCA) in Houston, Texas. After two years, he moved back to Charlottesville, where he once again became part-time theologian-in-residence at Trinity Presbyterian Church. He remained in this role until his death.

While most people will remember Ed as a preacher, he was also a visionary for ministry development. He was involved in the development of ministries such as the Reformed Seminary in Aix-en-Provence, France; Westminster Seminary California; and Inter-Varsity ministries, both in the United States and in England; as well a “The Westminster Ministerial Institute,” an inner-city training program for pastors in Philadelphia. One ministry close to his heart (and a work not widely know) was his commitment to the development of Great Commission Publications materials - including writing the first VBS curriculum.

Ed will of course be remembered by most as a preacher, perhaps the most gifted proponent and practitioner of redemptive-historical preaching of this generation. He was unique in his ability to pick up the threads of redemptive history and to weave a rich expositional tapestry that brought Christ in all his perfections and glory before God’s people so that they were drawn to love and worship the Redeemer.

His writing included Preaching and Biblical Theology, Called to the Ministry, Christian Meditation, Doctrine of the Church, The Message of I Peter, The Unfolding Mystery, and Preaching Christ in all of Scripture. His last book, How Christ Transforms the Ten Commandments, was accepted by his publisher only days before his death.

Ed returned to the boundaries of what is now Blue Ridge Presbytery in 2002 although, since he was Honorably Retired, he left his membership with the Presbytery of South Texas. That didn’t stop him from regular attendance at our Presbytery meetings, sharing his gift of preaching to us and graciously sharing his wisdom whenever requested.

At Trinity Church, although technically working in a part-time status, he maintained an office with a door that was never closed. There he worked mornings on several writing projects, teaching and preaching as often as possible, while making an indelible mark on those around him. Ed never retired. He was too busy working on his latest book, writing poetry, and sharing his wisdom with all those who eagerly sought him out. He was continually devoted to intercessory prayer, walking through the parking lot with his prayer list every weekday morning.
Ed demonstrated a gospel-formed center of gravity. He was ruthlessly honest about himself. His was not a false humility – but a gospel-soaked understanding of mercy. Ed never lost the music of the gospel because he was continually learning and continually astonished that in Jesus Christ, God loved him.

The last sermon he preached was at the ordination of a minister on the staff of Trinity Church. His text was Romans 10 and, as always the sermon was filled with great Old Testament truths that brought the Gospel message to a brighter light to his hearers.

Like a prism that brings out the brilliant colors of the sunlight, a life centered on Christ brings out the brilliant rays of the gospel. Our attention is drawn away from the prism to the colors – marveling at the source. Ed’s life was that prism – making visible the beauty of Jesus Christ. May God be praised for the life for Edmund P. Clowney!

2. That Overture 9 from Rocky Mountain Presbytery be answered in the negative. Adopted

Grounds: Although the Overture addresses a matter of concern to the church, the remedies proposed are not sufficiently refined to offer them as general guidance to the church.

OVERTURE 9 from Rocky Mountain Presbytery (to CCB, B&O) “Appendix to BCO re: Procedure for Calling a Pastor”

Whereas, the Book of Church Order 20-2 generally instructs a church to secure a pastor when a vacancy in the office has occurred;

Whereas, there is a plethora of gifts and qualifications listed that the potential pastor should possess, no specific directions are given as to how to locate this person;

Whereas, candidates surface after learning about an opening in a church, many of whom apply secretly or request anonymity because they wish not to inform their present church of their willingness to seek a new call;

Whereas, some candidates are approached by search committees to see if they can be persuaded to pursue a call to the inquiring church;

Whereas, some search committees secretly visit the church of a potential candidate in order to witness the church service and the manner in which the candidate preaches;
Whereas, the church, whose teaching elder has accepted a new call without notice to his session, may be shocked and surprised and soon thereafter is left without a pastor;

Whereas, the church, which has lost their pastor, may feel betrayed by him and other brothers in the PCA who remained silent throughout the process;

Whereas, the church, which loses its teaching elder, with little or no notice, may face difficulties with ministry interruptions and financial losses;

Whereas, Presbyterians emphasize the virtue of being connectional;

Whereas, the connectional principle is a subset of what it means to be in a covenant relationship;

Whereas, The Presbyterian Church of America is encouraged to take seriously what it means to be connectional when it comes to pastors leaving or coming to local churches;

Therefore, Rocky Mountain Presbytery presents this overture to the General Assembly of the PCA, for the purpose of adding Appendix J to the BCO, to be titled “Suggested Process for Calling a Pastor.” This appendix encourages churches and pastors to incorporate the following three items in their search for a new pastor or pastorate:

1. Any pastor who has decided to seek a new call should notify his session before taking exploratory actions, for purposes of discussing with his elders the reason(s) he believes God is leading him to make a change in his ministry.

2. Search committees, before initiating a contact with a potential pastor for their church, should first communicate with the candidate's session, asking for permission to talk to their pastor.

3. Churches are encouraged to use “calling contracts” that address specific issues such as compensation, benefits, the relationship between pastors and sessions, duties and expectations, termination and severance, etc. The contract should be flexible enough to accommodate latitude for situations unique to individual congregations.

Reasoning:

When debating an issue of this nature there is normally a mistaken assumption that this overture is designed to pit teaching elders against ruling elders. That very simply is not the case. The truth is that there is an abundance of blame to be born by search committees, sessions, and pastors when integrity is not preeminent in pastoral searches. This is why it is necessary to alter the conduct of all three groups in order to correct the situation which fosters deception within the denominational process of finding a pastor.

When elected to a Pulpit Search Committee, a member is charged with finding a new pastor. This committee meets on numerous occasions, where they formulate questionnaires for the congregation, request and review resumes and pastoral data forms, and visit other congregations in order to experience the candidate's worship service and to listen to his sermon. The process is imperfect in that secretive tactics are often employed, misrepresentations difficult to avoid, and personal deception easily fostered. For instance, when members of a search committee are asked to visit a potential candidate's church, they at times find themselves in an awkward position, having to misrepresent the reason they are attending the church. Truth would dictate that they tell anyone who asks that they are present to explore the possibility of their teaching elder changing calls and serving their church as its pastor. Instead, the visitors act friendly, invent some excuse for their presence, and hardly give it a thought that their covert actions may be less than truthful.

After a pastor has accepted the call by an inquiring church, he then proceeds to inform his session of his intent to leave, which almost always comes as a shock. The congregation, although they may have wanted to keep their pastor, is then forced to begin the same process of calling a new teaching elder, perhaps disturbing the tranquility of a sister church much as theirs has just been disturbed.

Although God is always at work, accomplishing His will and bringing about His purposes, He is concerned with the welfare of local churches not only for their spiritual well-being, but also for His glory. Although God is the Author of change, peace and unity in the body occur when orderly transformation takes place. As members of the PCA, individual churches should be encouraged to think in terms of God's will for the entire denomination. Local churches must realize, however, that pastoral change is recurrent and not necessarily a bad thing. Not to be over-looked is the fact that the PCA is one of a few places in which to find Reformed ministers. This means that sister churches seek their pastors from the same pool of qualified men. Although most pastors likely came to their present church through the above-mentioned flawed process, such a procedure need not continue. Since many churches have in all likelihood been both the offender and the offended, it behooves the denomination to cultivate a deeper level of spirituality among teaching and ruling elders. This will hopefully increase the trust factor within local sessions that are entrusted with the spiritual growth of the congregation.

The relationship between a pastor and his session should be sacrosanct and God-honoring. Unfortunately, closeness in the local brotherhood, although desired, is usually not the case. A teaching elder may be close to one ruling elder, but not with the entire session. In many instances the level of trust between the pastor and his Session has hardly developed to the point where each could say things in total confidence, accepting exhortation as well as edification. When a lack of trust is evident, the spirituality of the congregation is negatively impacted. The relationship between pastor and Session becomes more like that of employer-employee, producing little, if any, spiritual intimacy or personal trust.

When a pastor becomes dissatisfied with his present situation, more often than not he will confide with other teaching elders, rather than his own session. In most cases his final decision to make a change is made in concert with another session and pulpit committee, which has their own best interests in mind. They are not thinking of the problems that could occur in the church from which the new pastor comes.

The process of seeking a new pastor in some cases promotes behavior that challenges and at times may compromise the character of those involved in the search. Taking the attitude that “this is the way it has been and always will be” seems more worldly than spiritual. If the search process encourages the temptation of sin, then the church would be better served by formulating a more righteous method of filling her pulpits.

Ideally, the pastoral search process should involve not only the inquiring church, but also the sending church. As a matter of fact, there is a constant domino effect rippling through the denomination. Because of this, it only seems right to join God's will in the movement of pastors from one church to another. God is good and has the best outcome in mind for both churches. Although congregations may become upset at the thought of losing their pastor, or just by the fact that another church is looking at him, it is incumbent upon this pastor and his Session to work with the congregation to make sure that God's goodness and His perfect will are understood and honored above all else.
The responsibility for change rests squarely on both the teaching and ruling elders. The congregations, however, are usually confused by the process because they had no inkling their pastor wanted to leave. What some in the congregation may think is that pastors, like those in secular business or politics, look for the better opportunity to advance one's career. Normally, congregations are taught righteousness from the pulpit, but may feel betrayed by a pastor who surreptitiously leaves them for another position. Teaching and ruling elders vow to adorn the gospel in their lives and to set worthy examples before the church of which God has made them officers (BCO 21-5.6&7; 24-6.4&6). Therefore, seeking a call (i.e., by a Teaching Elder) or prosecuting a call (i.e., by the session) should be done justly, forthrightly, and respectfully without potentially misleading either congregation.

It behooves a session looking for a pastor to encourage applicants, especially those serving other churches, to discuss their desire for a new call with their present sessions. Sessions then have the opportunity to discuss the reasons for seeking this new call. Perhaps conditions exist that could be resolved, which then may remove the pastor's interest in relocating. If not, the session and the pastor could come to agreement for an orderly transition based on any calling contract currently in place at their church.

If a search committee desires to pursue a potential pastor, they would contact the session of the pastor in question, and seek permission to talk to him. When one session approaches another session in this manner, not having yet spoken with the pursued pastor, the approached session would ask their pastor if he was interested in talking to the inquiring church. If he answered in the affirmative, the session could ask him to explain his reasoning. Under the present system, these discussions seldom take place, because the decisions to change churches are generally made in secret and apart from session involvement. The result of all this dialogue would be to allow the parties to collectively seek God's will in the matter.

The use of calling contracts, mentioned previously, would provide a logical format for discussions regarding duties and expectations, pecuniary considerations, vacation and study leave, health insurance and retirement benefits, authority over staff and office personnel, resolution of conflicts, possible call changes, causes for termination, separation policies, duties in regard to stewardship campaigns, etc. The objective is to develop trust and integrity between church search committees and pastoral applicants and to honor God by promoting common spiritual interests and righteous actions.
3. That Overture 13 from James River Presbytery be answered in the affirmative.
   Previously Adopted (see 34-23, p.75)

4. That Overture 14 from James River Presbytery be answered in the negative.
   Adopted

   Grounds: The Overture conflicts with the provisions of RAO 13-1, to which no amendment has been proposed, and could unadvisedly restrict the process of referral of matters before the Assembly to the committees most directly affected by proposed amendments to the BCO.

   OVERTURE 14 from James River Presbytery (to B&O, CCB)
   "Amend RAO 10-5 To Refer All BCO Changes To CCB And B&O"

   Whereas the Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures has traditionally addressed proposed amendments to the Book of Church Order, but without an express requirement that such proposals be referred to that Committee;

   Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the James River Presbytery respectfully overtures the 34th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to approve amending the Rules of Assembly Operations as follows:

   By inserting, in the second line of RAO 10-5 immediately following "Business," the following: "and to the Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures," so that the first sentence of RAO 10-5 as amended will read as follows:

   Upon receipt the Stated Clerk shall refer to the Committee on Constitutional Business and to the Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures all overtures requesting amendment of the Book of Church Order.

5. That Overture 15 from James River Presbytery be answered in the affirmative, as amended (omitted language shown with strikethrough and added language in bold).
   Adopted

   Grounds: A limitation on the consecutive terms served on the Standing Judicial Commission reflects the general practice of the Permanent and Special Committees of the Assembly. The committee’s amendment to the Overture (increasing the consecutive time a member may serve) recognizes the need for continuity within the SJC, while affording a required means of rotation.

OVERTURE 15 from James River Presbytery (to B&O, CCB)
“Amend BCO 15-4 Institute Term Limitations For SJC”

Whereas traditionally members of General Assembly committees have been subject to term limitations, but this has not applied to the Standing Judicial Commission; and

Whereas the SJC has the authority to act with finality on matters that are not subject to General Assembly review unless a minority report is issued by at least one-third of the voting members of the SJC; and

Whereas Presbyterian polity emphasizes checks and balances;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the James River Presbytery respectfully overtures the 34th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to approve amending Book of Church Order as follows:

By adding a sentence at the end of BCO 15-4 as follows:

“No person who has served a full term on the Standing Judicial Commission or at least two years of a partial term shall be eligible for reelection until one year has passed (the year between two Assemblies).” No person who has served two full terms on the SJC or at least six consecutive years shall be eligible for reelection until one year has passed (the year between two Assemblies).

6. That Overture 16 from James River Presbytery be answered in the negative. Adopted Grounds: The proposed amendment unnecessarily limits the prerogative of Presbyteries to send their desired representatives to the Assembly’s Committees of Commissioners.

OVERTURE 16 from James River Presbytery (to B&O, CCB)
“Amend RAO 13-2 to Limit Consecutive Terms on Same Committee of Commissioners”

Whereas Presbyteries have traditionally been required to rotate representation on committees of commissioners between Teaching Elders and Ruling Elders in accordance the formula established by the Stated Clerk; and

Whereas the formula does not necessarily assure a rotation each year of representation from a particular Presbytery;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the James River Presbytery respectfully overtures the 34th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to approve amending the Rules of Assembly Operations as follows:

By adding a clause to the end of the first sentence of RAO 13-2 as follows:

The period at the end would be replaced by a comma and the following clause inserted: “except that a Presbytery may not elect the same representative to the same committee in two consecutive years,” so that the first sentence as amended will read as follows:

Each Presbytery shall, prior to the meeting of the Assembly, elect one of its commissioners to each of the Committees of Commissioners, dividing them as to ruling and teaching elders by a formula established by the Stated Clerk, except that a Presbytery may not elect the same representative to the same committee in two consecutive years.

7. That Overture 17 be answered in the negative. Adopted

Grounds: The Committee concurs with the opinion of CCB that Overture 17 violates Preliminary Principle 1 and WCF 20 in that it may require a man not to teach (nor be understood to be teaching) a view that he believes to be true and has been judged by his Presbytery as one that does not strike at the vitals of religion and is not hostile to our system of doctrine.

OVERTURE 17 from the Presbytery of the Ascension (to B&O, CCB)

“Amend BCO 21-4, Paragraph 7, Regarding Teaching Approved Exceptions”

Whereas, the PCA is a confessional, constitutional, and Presbyterian Church; and

Whereas, the PCA constitution consists of a carefully constructed body of doctrinal standards, those being the Westminster Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, which are subject to and subordinate to the Scriptures and binding upon the courts and officers of the Church; and

Whereas, while BCO 21-4, paragraph 7 (beginning with “Therefore, in examining . . .”), allows the presbyteries to grant their ministers and licentiates to hold certain exceptions to the Standards (as long as said exceptions are neither hostile to the system of doctrine nor strike at the vitals of religion), yet, it does not touch on whether these exceptions may be preached or taught; and

Whereas, parishioners have the right to be taught the full measure of the Standards; and

Whereas, parishioners may not know what is the full measure of the Standards if a minister or licentiate is allowed to teach only his exceptions without reference to the Standards;

Therefore, be it resolved that BCO 21-4, paragraph 7, be amended by addition as follows;

(new language italicized) “. . . vitals of religion. Ministers and licentiates, who have their exceptions to the Standards granted by presbytery may preach and teach those exceptions, only if their respective presbyteries permit, and if permitted, only in conjunction with a respectful and understandable presentation to their hearers (i.e. congregation, students, etc.) of the part of the Standards being excepted.

The following commissioners requested that their affirmative vote be recorded on the defeated substitute motion on Recommendation 7 to answer Overture 17 “in the affirmative with the following amendment: ‘Further, such an exception may be granted only with the understanding that, in the course of one’s teaching, presentation of the declared difference from the Confession of Faith and Catechisms include an humble acknowledgement that the view is out of accord with the Doctrinal Standards and a respectful presentation of the teaching of the Constitution’“:

8. That Overture 25 be answered by ruling the Overture out of order.

Adopted

Grounds: The circumstances and matters asserted by the Overture fail to demonstrate that this is a case extraordinary as required by WCF 31-4.

OVERTURE 25 from Missouri Presbytery (to B&O)

“Justice & Peace Concerning U.S.-Iran Relations”

Whereas the Church of Jesus Christ is sent into the world as salt, light, and witness to the full counsel of God; and,

Whereas the Church—specifically, any branch thereof, including the Presbyterian Church in America (PCA)—is called upon at extraordinary times to speak prophetically and compassionately with regard to particular public issues; and,

Whereas we the PCA are aware of the ongoing threat of state-sponsored terrorism in today’s world, including the particular role that much of the international community suspects that Iran plays therein; and,

Whereas we are also aware of the escalating concern being expressed by various governments, particularly that of the United States of America (the country in which most of our members live and serve), with respect to Iran’s nuclear development program; and,

Whereas we are also acutely aware of the horrors of modern warfare and the unspeakable suffering it brings to combatants and civilians alike, as well as to whole societies; and,

Whereas we suspect in particular that any military conflict involving U.S. and Iranian armed forces would be devastating if not catastrophic for the people of Iran, the entire Middle East, and beyond; and,

Whereas we desire to heed the Apostle Paul’s admonition in I Timothy 2:1-2 to pray for political authorities and “all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way”; and,

Whereas we further recognize, from I Timothy 2:3-4, that such peaceful conditions not only are “good” and “pleasing in the sight of God our Savior,” but they also further the ministry of the gospel of God, “who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth”; and,

Whereas in solidarity with the rest of the worldwide Church, as well as with other peace-loving people of good will, we are doggedly committed to just and peaceful solutions being found to such international situations;

Therefore be it resolved that the 34th PCA General Assembly:

a) Humbly call on the federal government of the United States to act within its lawful powers and use whatever instruments it judges most useful to find a just and peaceful resolution to the current escalating crisis surrounding Iran’s nuclear development program;

b) Resolve to encourage all congregations and individuals within the PCA to pray for political leaders of the United States, Iran, and other countries, and otherwise work for a just and peaceful resolution to the current crisis;

c) Observe a moment of prayer for justice, peace, and the spread of Christ’s gospel in particular relation to the current crisis concerning Iran and other countries.

9. That Overture 26 be answered in the negative, without prejudice.

Adopted

Grounds: The overture has already been distributed to the members of the Assembly and will be included in the Minutes, which should suffice to make it generally available to the Church.

OVERTURE 26 from Missouri Presbytery (to B&O)
“Consider and Recommend Missouri Presbytery Report on Federal Vision Theology”

Whereas, there has been debate within the Presbyterian Church in America (PCA) on a variety of issues, often summarily identified as “Federal Vision Theology”; and 1 See for example the Presbyterian Church in Japan’s “Official Statement Concerning War” (available online at http://www.covenantseminary.edu/about2/covenantcommunity/wm/Jennings_WarStmt.pdf).

Whereas, the debate has caused tension within and between congregations, Sessions, and Presbyteries within the PCA; and

Whereas, in July 2004 Missouri Presbytery appointed the “Ad Hoc Committee on Federal Vision Theology” to study these issues and provide guidance to presbyters to help them understand the issues in the light of Scripture and the PCA Constitution (i.e., the Westminster Standards and the Book of Church Order); and

Whereas, after 18 months of study, the Ad Hoc Committee presented its report to Missouri Presbytery, which report was lauded by presbyters and overwhelmingly approved as a helpful guide for the members and churches of the Presbytery; and

Whereas, the members of Missouri Presbytery desire for all presbyters in the PCA to debate the issues and resolve the tension with an attitude that reflects the fruit of the Holy Spirit, particularly love, patience, kindness, and self-control, thus promoting the peace and purity of the church;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Missouri Presbytery overtures the 34th PCA General Assembly to receive and consider the report of the Missouri Presbytery Ad Hoc Committee on Federal Vision Theology. Further, the Missouri Report should be spread across the minutes of the General Assembly and be commended to the Presbyteries and Sessions for study.

Report of the Missouri Presbytery ad hoc Committee on Federal Vision Theology

Introduction

At the stated meeting on July 20, 2004, Missouri Presbytery (MOP) formed a study committee to address some theological questions that had arisen out of discussions regarding new trends in theology as well as out of the process of examining candidates for membership in the Presbytery. The motion stated:

0407-29 MOVED, SECONDED AND PASSED to form a study committee to address and establish the parameters of orthodoxy with reference to the following issues: the federalist vision, the new perspective, new thinking on the sacraments, and any other related issues deemed germane by the committee.
After some months of organizing and planning, the committee met on November 16, 2004, and stated that the goal was to create a document that would be approved by MOP explaining the Presbytery's understanding of these issues in the light of Scripture and the Westminster Standards. The implications of these views would be expressed primarily through a series of affirmations and denials that would help presbyters understand what is theologically acceptable for the purity and progress of the church. The document would also serve as a resource to the Candidates and Credentials Committee as they examine those men seeking membership in MOP.

The study committee was divided into 3 subcommittees in order to study a variety of topics including the nature of the covenant, justification, union with Christ, and the sacraments. The report would attempt to examine these topics in the following ways:

- Provide an overview of the issue; from the perspective of Scripture and the Westminster Standards;
- Provide a precise definition of terms, particularly those terms used in the affirmations and denials;
- Provide a list of affirmations and denials that flow out of the teaching of Scripture and the Standards;
- Provide suggested questions that the Candidates and Credentials Committee could use when examining candidates for transfer, licensure, and/or ordination.

In broad terms, the issues under study (here referred to as “Federal Vision Theology”) touch on the corporate nature of salvation as compared to the individual nature of salvation. Proponents of “Federal Vision (FV) Theology” do not necessarily deny the personal aspects of salvation, but rather point out that some of the emphasis on the individual seen in contemporary evangelicalism is more a product of Western culture than biblical exegesis. Consequently, they seek to bring what they believe is biblical correction to misunderstandings in contemporary expressions of Evangelical and Reformed Faith. They earnestly desire to steer the church, and particularly the Presbyterian Church in America (PCA), toward greater fidelity in biblical belief and practice. Opponents argue that such “reformulations” (or “new perspectives”) go too far and will bring division in the church as they appear to inject new meaning into the language of the Westminster Standards. Genuine pastoral concern moves them to resist what they believe is an overemphasis on the corporate nature of salvation. We believe that the emphasis on the corporate nature of salvation is important in view of the truncated understanding found in contemporary evangelicalism. However, any emphasis on the corporate nature should not exclude the individual application of salvation or an individual's vital, intimate relationship with Christ.

The members of the study committee recognize that some of the current tension in the PCA is connected to the tension between biblical theology and systematic theology. We affirm that biblical theology done within the church and in its confessional heritage, under the structure of sola scriptura, is no threat to systematic theology, but rather is the proper watchman over a systematic understanding of biblical doctrine. We further affirm the priority of exegesis over all theological reflection.

Committee members further recognize that we are heirs of a theological tradition that has come to use words in precise ways—words such as “justification,” “election,” and “regeneration.” This precision reflects the need we have in our particular context to define, prescribe, and defend theological constructs. We are far from claiming, however, that biblical passages that use the equivalent Hebrew and Greek words are necessarily speaking to the same topics as our theological conventions, or that they are speaking with the same level of precision (since these passages may be addressing other needs in their audience than those for which theological language is best suited). For example, a passage that mentions “the elect people of God” need not be saying that God has appointed each member of that people for everlasting life. For this reason we have labored to define the theological terms we have used. In light of our common commitment to “sincerely receive and adopt the Confession of Faith and the Catechisms of this Church, as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures,” we have aimed to let the definitions assumed in the Westminster Standards govern our usage.

Two cautions arise from this: First, we recognize that we must not confuse our doctrine of, say, election, with the lexical semantics of Hebrew and Greek words. Second, we must be careful when reading the Bible, not to read our theological definitions back into every use of the relevant biblical words.

This report is the fruit of extended reflection on and discussion of the issues surrounding the topic of “Federal Vision Theology.” Although much work has gone into it, the report is not necessarily the best or final word on the issue but is intended to be an instructional tool and guide for the members of Missouri Presbytery and its committees. The members of this committee hope that presbyters and church members will see the report as an attempt to affirm the truth of Scripture as presented in the Westminster Standards, particularly as it touches on the areas of debate regarding FV Theology. The “Overview” of each section is designed to present the broad concerns of the particular topic. The foundational principles and definitions presented in this overview should shape the reader’s understanding of the affirmations and denials that follow. The affirmations and denials are the key part of the report and should be read and interpreted in relation to each other rather than as independent statements. These statements are intended to “set the fences” on the diversity of opinion within the presbytery. If a presbyter finds himself at odds with one of the affirmation/denial statements, he should inform the rest of the body through the Candidates and Credentials Committee. That committee will discuss the issue with the presbyter and determine if further action is appropriate. The section on “Suggested Questions for Examinations” is intended to be a guide for the committee as it explores the views of a presbyter or candidate. The members of the committee are free to use discernment as to which (if any) questions should be asked to determine whether the man's views are in accord with Scripture and the Westminster Standards. This report is not intended to be, nor should it serve as, a subordinate standard; rather, it is a tool to help the Presbytery define acceptable interpretations of the meaning of Scripture (our primary standard) and the Westminster Standards (our subordinate standards). The members of this ad hoc committee earnestly desire that God will use this report to further the peace and purity of Missouri Presbytery and the PCA.

I. The Nature of the Covenant and Election

Overview

Our understanding of “covenant” is shaped both by Scripture and the Westminster Confession, especially WCF 7 and 19:1, 6, as well as WLC 20, 22, 30-36, 57, 79, 97, 162, 166. We appreciate and affirm the richness of interpretation regarding the biblical language of “covenant.” In particular, we recognize that doing justice to the number of contexts in which “covenant” appears as well as offering a single biblical understanding of the word is challenging. Biblical studies from a past generation that compare biblical covenants to ancient Near Eastern suzerainty treaties, for example, have helpfully clarified some aspects of how biblical covenants function. And yet, we fear that those who read “covenant” solely through these lenses might unwittingly shift the real biblical thrust of the covenant idea.

In a similar manner, it is clear that there is a great deal of confusion concerning to what the Westminster Standards might commit us when it comes to understanding “covenant.” Confessionally speaking, the word “covenant” is used in a number of combinations:

- God relates to humankind “by way of covenant” (WCF 7.1).
- God is also presented as “a God in covenant, as with Israel of old, so with all His people” (WLC 101).
The “first covenant” was a “covenant of works” (WCF 7.2) but is also called a “covenant of life” (WLC 20).

The Lord made a second covenant “commonly called the covenant of grace” (WCF 7.3).

The sacraments are said to represent, seal, and apply Christ and “the benefits of the new covenant” to believers (WSC 92).

Baptism is not to be administered to those outside the visible church and “so strangers from the covenant of promise” (WLC 166).

During the Lord's Supper, individuals are to be engaged in the “renewing of their covenant with God” (WLC 174).

As a result, we affirm as well the variety of interpretation of the Westminster Standards when it comes to the nature of the covenant. On the issue of the “covenant of works,” for example, we believe that those who read the Standards as emphasizing an adamic meritocracy and those who read them as emphasizing the gracious foundation of all God's covenant dealings with humanity can both claim confessional integrity and historical precedent in the Westminster tradition. Neither of these views does violence to the Standards given their lack of precision regarding Adam’s covenant relationship to God. This variety of interpretation of both Scripture and the Standards make offering any definition of “covenant” hazardous. And yet, we would affirm that a definition includes understanding the word “covenant” to mean biblically: a covenant is a committed relationship typified by mutual loyalty and obligation.

Another contested word in these discussions is the word “election.” In particular, the theological question has been the relationship that “covenant” and “election” bear to one another. In some readings, understandings of “covenant” have forced “election” to be redefined in order to fit biblical and/or theological propositions. Our usage follows that of the Westminster Confession where “election” refers to those God has chosen in Christ and are predestined unto eternal life (WCF 3.5).

Affirmations and Denials

1. We affirm that by an act of gracious condescension, God bound Himself to His creation, and through His covenant representative bound Himself to His creation by way of covenant.

2. We affirm that a covenant, generally speaking, is a committed relationship typified by mutual loyalty and obligation (stipulations and sanctions). We further affirm that when we are speaking of God's covenant with His people,
God is always the initiator of the covenant, sovereignly calling the relationship into being, freely committing Himself to His covenant partner, and calling each member of the covenant to respond with faith and love.

3. We affirm that while God takes the initiative in all His covenant dealings with human beings, He also grants grace for the required human responses of faith and obedience, to those whom He has chosen to save.

4. We affirm that Adam mediated the first covenant in the original integrity of the creation order. We further affirm that having created Adam in and for covenant blessing, God called Adam to loyalty and fruitfulness: so long as Adam walked with God in love and obedience, God promised to bless him, his posterity, and the entire earthly creation, but should Adam fail to obey God's word, he would bring frustration into the creation, and would subject himself and his posterity to the enslaving power of sin and the reign of death. We deny that God's creational intention was for Adam to mature, eat from the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, die, and be raised from the dead; and further deny that Adam's sin was only seizing the fruit of the Tree prematurely; and thus deny that death coming upon Adam and his posterity was part of God's creation purposes instead of a threatened response to human disobedience.

5. We affirm that when Adam disobeyed God's word and brought himself, his posterity, and the earth over which he had exercised dominion, under the curse of the covenant, God was merciful and initiated a second covenant for the purpose of bringing His redemptive grace to the chosen sons and daughters of Adam, delivering them and the world from the reign of sin and death, and calling them into covenant friendship, loyalty, and service with Himself. We deny that those who are true participants in this second covenant by means of justifying faith, who are called and who have received the promised inheritance, can break this covenant (Heb. 9:15).

6. We affirm that Jesus Christ, the eternal Son, is the mediator of the covenant of God's gracious redemption. Those whom the Father gives to the Son through His electing love in the covenant of grace will know the blessings of life and fruitful service into all eternity. Believing that God has elected in Christ to salvation all those who will be saved and that God has also foreordained all the means thereunto, we deny that the elect can lose their election (WCF 3.5-6). And because God's decree to save is immutable, Christ's merit and intercession is efficacious, and the Spirit continues to abide upon all those whom God has effectually called, we further deny that perseverance ultimately depends upon human effort or striving (WCF 17.2).
7. We affirm that the covenant of grace was administered differently under the “old covenant” (the law) than it is under the “new covenant” (the gospel; cf. WCF 7:6). We affirm that, in promising and foresignifying Christ, the Mosaic Law (including all aspects of that economy) was an efficacious revelation of the covenant of grace for its time. We additionally affirm that as an expansion of God's covenant promises and provisions within the Abrahamic covenant, the law instructed and built up the people of God in their hope of the Messiah and their mission in the world. We finally affirm that with the coming of Christ and the institution of the new covenant, the preparatory function of the old covenant was rendered obsolete.

8. We affirm that all those baptized into the covenant community receive certain covenant blessings, whether elect or not, and that these blessings include the regular preaching of God’s Word; the watchful care, pastoral oversight, instruction and government of the Church; the nurture of believing parents; and the regular call to place their faith in Christ (WLC 63; WLC 166; BCO 56-1). Believing that one is inseparably united to Christ by his/her faith alone, we deny that the ritual act of baptism apart from faith unites us to Christ. Further, since God alone sees what is invisible to us, we deny that the whole visible church is united to Christ by virtue of the ritual act of baptism (WLC 61).

Suggested Questions for Examinations

1. From Scripture and the Westminster Standards, how do you speak about Adam’s covenantal relationship with God? What are the significance and implications of this relationship?

II. Justification

Overview

The Westminster Standards define and describe the doctrine of justification in WCF 11, WLC 70-73, 77 and WSC 33. The affirmations and denials below intend to affirm this doctrine of justification, including the definition of justification as an “act of God’s free grace, wherein he pardoneth all our sins, and accepteth us as righteous in his sight only for the righteousness of Christ imputed to us, and received by faith alone.” This definition summarizes what Scripture clearly teaches about justification in such passages as Acts 13:38-39; Romans 3:21-5:21; 2 Corinthians 5:17-21; Galatians 3:1-29; and Philippians 3:3-11.

This doctrine has been one of the hallmarks of the Reformation and of the Reformed tradition; and it is a key to any right system of faith. At the same time, we recognize that the Greek (and Hebrew) terminology which can be translated “justify” has a semantic range in the Old and New Testaments broader than the specific idea of God’s pardoning sinners by the imputation of Christ’s righteousness. Words from the biblical dikaio- group can be used in human interactions describing both judicial and non-judicial actions and declarations; and they can even have a negative connotation, expressing attempts at self-vindicication. However, when employed in discussing God’s work in saving his elect forever via the imputation of Christ’s righteousness, this terminology takes on a more specific theological meaning. One can thus distinguish the doctrine of justification from the broader usage of dikaio- terminology. A failure to recognize this fact can result in a variety of fallacious exegetical and theological conclusions that create a disjunction between the biblical doctrine of justification and the classic Reformed doctrine. Furthermore, the doctrine of justification cannot be reduced to a mere listing of the places where the word “justify” is used in Scripture. Rather, it is a rich and coherent message from God as to how sinful human beings may be assured of his love and grace.

Also we would remark pastorally to our brothers that presbyteries have the right to expect pastors and teachers, when they are speaking of the doctrine of justification, to assume the definitions of the Westminster Standards. There justification refers principally to God’s work in saving elect individuals. Therefore, if pastors and teachers define justification differently, they should not be surprised when confusion and disagreements arise; and in fact, pastors and teachers should work to prevent such needless contention. Scripture not only affirms the imputation of Adam’s sin to all humankind, but also affirms the imputation of Christ’s righteousness to his people, wherein his righteousness is credited forensically to their account (Romans 5:12-21;
Although in previous periods it was incumbent to distinguish such imputation from an infusion of righteousness, today’s exegetical discussions have also made it necessary to reaffirm imputation as the basis for God’s just declaration of righteousness. God’s declaration of righteousness, even a corporate declaration, cannot rightly occur without a basis in God’s reckoning of Christ’s righteousness to the account of individual sinners (Philippians 3:9).

Affirmations and Denials

1. We affirm that the biblical word group for “to justify” (the dikaio-word group) has a broader range of usage than the term justification as employed in the Westminster Standards; we deny that this fact calls for a redefinition of the classic Reformed doctrine of justification.

2. We affirm that there is an element of vindication in the biblical vocabulary for “to justify”; we deny that God’s ongoing acts of vindicating his people in history are to be confused with their justification by faith.

3. We affirm that the sphere of covenant blessings, including spiritual privileges, is wider than that of salvific blessings; we deny that all who partake of covenant blessings necessarily partake of salvation.

4. We affirm that salvation embraces more than justification and includes union with Christ, regeneration, effectual calling, sanctification, adoption, perseverance, and glorification; we deny that any one of these other aspects of salvation detracts from the importance of justification.

5. We affirm that God planned the justification of his elect before creation and that it was therefore certain to occur; we deny that those who will be justified are justified before the Holy Spirit does, in due time, actually apply Christ to them (WCF 11.4).

6. We affirm that faith in Christ alone is the only instrumental means of justification; we deny that this faith ever remains alone, but affirm that it issues forth in good deeds.

7. We affirm that in justification, God the Father imputes the righteousness of Christ to believing sinners, a righteousness that is premised upon Christ’s lifelong obedience and his obedience unto death; we deny that anyone is justified by God apart from this imputation.

8. We affirm that God justifies sinners by imputing Christ’s righteousness to them rather than counting their sins against them; we deny that justification is grounded in any infusion of grace or that faith itself, as an act of obedience, is imputed as the ground of justification.

9. We affirm that there is an eschatological dimension to justification, namely that on the last day God will declare the elect righteous before men and angels; we deny that justification is only eschatological and not also an accomplished present reality.

10. We affirm that justification is a definitive, forensic act by which God acquits sinners by his grace and declares them righteous; although believers enjoy their justification as an ongoing state, we deny that justification is a process.

11. We affirm an individual sense to justification, that God declares righteous any person who trusts Christ as Lord and Savior; we deny that this individual sense implies autonomy from the covenant community.

12. We affirm a corporate sense to justification, that God, out of his covenant faithfulness, justifies individuals from every race and people and incorporates them into one body in which they have privileges and responsibilities; we deny that God justifies the community apart from the imputation of Christ’s righteousness to individual believing sinners.

Suggested Questions for Examinations

1. Does the fact that the biblical word group for “to justify” has a broader range of usage than the term justification in the Westminster Standards minimize the importance of the classic Reformed doctrine of justification? Explain.

2. How do God’s acts of vindicating his people in history, recorded in Scripture, influence your understanding of the doctrine of justification by faith?

3. What benefits do the non-elect receive from belonging to the covenant community, the visible church (WLC 62)?

4. When are persons justified? Explain from Scripture.

5. Distinguish between the basis (or ground) and the means of justification? What is the relation between good deeds and justification? Explain your answers from Scripture.

6. Define imputation; argue your position from Scripture. What part does imputation play in justification?
7. Distinguish between the doctrines of the infusion of righteousness and the imputation of righteousness in definitions of justification. Evaluate biblically.

8. Is there an eschatological dimension to justification? Explain. If so, how does that impact the justification believers enjoy now?

9. Is justification both an act and a process? Explain your answer from Scripture.

10. Distinguish individual and corporate aspects of justification. Articulate your answer from Scripture.

III. Union with Christ

Overview

The Westminster Standards (e.g., WLC 66) employ the phrase “union with Christ” to signify Christ’s relationship with the elect. In theological discourse this definition militates against referring indiscriminately to all members of visible churches as “people in union with Christ.” Although there is a sense in which non-elect church members may be in fellowship with God’s people and thus, in a derivative way, in fellowship with Christ and His Spirit, it creates significant confusion to describe this “fellowship” without qualification as “union with Christ,” since this language has a long history of meaning “the union which the elect have with Christ” (WLC 66). While this understanding of union with Christ is essential to a scripture-based theological definition of the term, it is not essential that this specific notion be deemed present in every biblical passage that uses “in Christ” or similar terminology. Further, in harmony with the Westminster Standards we commend the wisdom of maintaining the time-honored Reformed distinction between the visible and invisible church (cf. WLC 61, 63, 82 and 83).

Affirmations and Denials

1. We affirm that in the Westminster Standards, the union with Christ that the elect enjoy involves a vital biblical way of speaking about God applying salvation. We deny that the various aspects of salvation's application (e.g., adoption, glorification, justification, perseverance, regeneration, faith, and sanctification) can be so subsumed under the category of union with Christ that no distinctions among them may be made.

2. We affirm that all members of the visible church are in covenant relationship to Jesus Christ and thereby participate in the privileges and responsibilities of that relationship; we deny that it is prudent to use the terminology of “union with Christ” to describe the relationship of all those in the covenant community (elect and non-elect alike) without carefully clarifying the difference between the specific sense the terms have come to have in our theological tradition, and the other senses they may have in the Bible.

3. We affirm that God before creation planned to unite to his Son those whom he chose, and that this union ordinarily begins when they trust Christ as offered in the gospel; we deny that persons are united to Christ before the Holy Spirit does, in due time, actually apply Christ to them.

4. We affirm that it is the secret work of God to unite His elect savingly to Christ in His accepted time; we further affirm that God may, if He wills, effect this saving union in a covenant child before parents or pastors are able to recognize its presence by way of a profession of faith. We deny that these affirmations relieve parents and pastors of the responsibility to seek a profession of faith from covenant children; we further deny that the Presbytery ought to impose upon its churches a uniform practice for receiving these professions of faith beyond what is required in the Book of Church Order (e.g., BCO 57-2).

5. We affirm that the Father seals all true believers with the Holy Spirit in union with Christ for the day of redemption; we deny that any so united to Christ can fall away from grace and finally be lost.

6. We affirm the confessional distinction between the church visible and invisible: that not all who are outwardly called by the ministry of the Word and live in the visible church will be saved, and that we distinguish the operations of the Spirit common to all in the visible church from those that effectually bring the elect to salvation; we deny that the confessional distinction between the visible and invisible church may be set aside in an attempt to clear it from misunderstandings and abuses.

7. We affirm that God promises in Christian baptism to unite to the Trinity by faith in the power of God those who are being baptized; we deny that all those baptized are inseparably united to Christ. We affirm that God’s promise in baptism is only rightly received and realized by faith. We deny that baptized persons who persist in unbelief may be assured of their final salvation.

8. We affirm that some passages in Scripture genuinely warn of God’s wrath to the covenant community, some of whom may never come to saving faith; we deny that true believers, chosen by the Father, redeemed by the Son, and given the Spirit as guarantee of their inheritance, can commit final and total apostasy.

Suggested Questions for Examinations

1. How does your understanding of the biblical doctrine of union with Christ affect your evaluation of the Westminster Standards’ doctrine of justification?

2. Do you hold that all those in the covenant community are in union with Christ? Explain from Scripture.

3. Can non-elect persons be united to Christ? When are persons actually united to Christ? Explain your answers from Scripture.

4. Can persons united to Christ fall away from grace and finally be lost? Can any who are sealed with the Holy Spirit fall away from grace and finally be lost? Explain your answers from Scripture.

5. Explain why the core idea in the confessional distinction between the visible and invisible church is biblical and useful. In what directions can this distinction be misused?

6. Are all baptized persons united to Christ when they are baptized? Explain your answer from Scripture.

7. Can persons who trust Christ with genuine faith commit final and total apostasy? Explain from Scripture.

IV. The Sacraments

Overview

While there is much that lies beneath the surface in the current FV controversy it is our understanding and practice of the sacraments that brings much of the disagreement to light.

In baptism, particularly infant baptism (though we should not think exclusively of infant baptism), we confront issues of the role that the ritual plays in the individual’s connection to Christ and the church. As this report has already commented on issues of covenant, justification and union with Christ, it seems appropriate now to comment on the issue of regeneration as it relates to the sacraments.

Regeneration as a term appears a number of times in our Westminster Standards, but apparently without definition: e.g. WCF 10:3; 18:1; 28:1. It seems that regeneration is understood in relation to effectual calling, which happens to the elect alone; and regeneration describes the culmination of that work of effectual calling. Regeneration occurs when the elect sinner is actually turned from death to life. As the culmination of effectual calling, regeneration is “instantaneous,” or it “happens in an instant”.

Thinking systematically, many work from a definition of regeneration similar to the one John Murray offers, “Regeneration is a change wrought by the Spirit in order that the person may savingly respond to the summons, or demand of the call, embodied in the gospel call. God’s call is an efficacious summons and therefore carries with it, carries as it were in its bosom, the grace that ensures the requisite response on the part of the subject.”

The features of regeneration, understood this way, are its culminative relation to calling, its instantaneous character, and its monergistic origin. This understanding governs the way that those working from the context of the Westminster standards will most likely interpret the term and anyone who wants to use the term otherwise is almost certainly going to be misunderstood. Therefore we will use the term regeneration in this traditional sense.

Having stated the above understanding we must acknowledge additional truths. First, there is a wider usage of the term regeneration, or “born again,” in our own tradition, even applying it to the whole of life. Second, we must not imply that our technical confessional usage of regeneration stated above is the required sense in Biblical passages that might use such terms (as palingenesia).

The Latin expression ex opere operato has come, in popular usage, to designate a view that the sacraments justify and confer saving grace by some virtue intrinsic to them – virtually an “automatic” kind of effect. It should be clear from this report that our understanding of the Bible makes no place for such a view. We acknowledge that sophisticated discussions may use the Latin phrase to denote something more defensible, but we doubt whether it is possible to rehabilitate the phrase from its popular sense.

Affirmations and Denials

1. We affirm that baptism is for the solemn admission of the party baptized into the visible church, the house and family of God, outside of which there is no ordinary possibility of salvation.

2. We affirm that justification is by grace through faith alone and deny “justification by baptism”.

3. We affirm that the Holy Spirit alone regenerates; we deny that the ritual act of baptism regenerates though it may be the occasion of the Spirit’s regenerative work.
4. We affirm that, since baptism, when rightly used, exhibits Christ and contains a promise of benefit to worthy receivers, and that since by baptism grace is conferred by the Holy Spirit in His appointed time to those to whom the grace belongs, baptism rightly forms one part of the ordinary means by which a believer may find a Spirit-given, infallible assurance through faith in the promises of God. We deny that baptism can provide assurance apart from: faith, good works, inward graces, other ordinary means, and the testimony of the Spirit.

5. We affirm that neither baptism nor a subjective “experience” of conversion are alone sufficient for the assurance of salvation and affirm the necessity of faith and faithful living for a warranted assurance of salvation.

6. We affirm that baptism is properly administered within the context of the church and the fruits of baptism are properly realized within the context of the nurture of the church and the Christian family. We further affirm that baptized covenant children are accountable before God to make faithful use of the appropriate means of grace at every stage of life.

7. We affirm that before the children of believers are baptized they are federally holy; that is, they are accepted by God into the visible church for the sake of His promise to be the God of the children of those who love Him. We further affirm that it is because of this promise that we baptize such children and we understand that by their baptism, they are renouncing the devil, the world, and their own sinful flesh (cf. BCO 56-4.g). We deny that we baptize the children of believers because of any confidence we might have that they possess saving faith, or that they are professing saving faith out of their own volition.

8. We affirm that candidates who embrace paedocommunion and take exception to statements in the Standards that are contrary to paedocommunion must nevertheless agree to submit to the regulations regarding admission to the Table as outlined in the PCA Book of Church Order (BCO) (particularly BCO 57 and 58). We deny that embracing paedocommunion is alone evidence that a candidate or presbyter’s convictions are “out of accord with the fundamentals of the system of doctrine” taught in the Scriptures and summarized in the Westminster Standards.

Suggested Questions for Examinations

1. Does the ritual act of baptism change the individual’s relationship to God? If not, why? If so, in what way?
2. Articulate what you see to be unhealthy views of baptismal efficacy. In your answer incorporate both poles of the debate.

3. What do you understand by the “grace … exhibited” in the sacraments as it is spoken of in WCF 27.3?

4. Speak to why the nurture of the church and the Christian family is important for a baptized person.

5. What role does the Lord’s Supper play in the life of a believer?

6. In your opinion how often should the Lord’s Supper be celebrated? Defend your answer Biblically, historically, and practically.

7. What does it mean to fence the Lord’s Table? Demonstrate in your own words a proper fencing of the table? Is there anything that fencing the table does not mean?

8. What is your view on paedocommunion? Why do you hold that position? If different what is your attitude toward the PCA’s position on this issue?

Conclusion

Through the Apostle Paul, God urges His people to be “eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace” (Eph. 4:3 ESV). This command is at the heart of the ordination vow “to be zealous and faithful in maintaining the truths of the Gospel and the purity and peace and unity of the Church.” In an effort to obey the Word of God and keep this vow, the ad hoc committee on Federal Vision Theology has performed its work and presented this report. Balancing a desire to be zealous for the Gospel with seeking the peace and unity of the Church can sometimes be difficult. The members of this study committee unanimously affirm the glorious Presbyterian and Reformed heritage that we possess, and we have struggled to remain true to Scripture and true to the Westminster Standards as we seek the purity of the Church. At the same time, we affirm one of the foundational principles of American Presbyterianism which states, “While … it is necessary to make effective provision that all who are admitted as teachers be sound in the faith, there are truths and forms with respect to which men of good character and principles may differ. In all these it is the duty both of private Christians and societies to exercise mutual forbearance toward each other” (Preface to the BCO, Preliminary Principle 5). We believe that this report contributes to the doctrinal purity of Missouri Presbytery and the PCA; we also believe it serves to maintain the peace and unity of the same. The committee is unanimous in presenting this report; however, that does not mean that every statement is phrased to the complete satisfaction of individual members. Rather, like the confessional standards that we wholeheartedly embrace, this report bears the peace-seeking and unified consensus of the entire committee. In presenting this report, we urge our father and brothers, both in Missouri Presbytery and the other presbyteries of the PCA, to be careful to seek peace as well as Gospel faithfulness, purity as well as unity. Followers of Christ, and especially those who lead His Church, cannot shirk either responsibility. The way we live together and love each other is as important as the truths we have

OVERTURE 23 from Central Carolina Presbytery (to B&O) “Respond to All Overtures Regarding Federal Vision and New Perspective on Paul by Including a Reference to OPC Study”

That Central Carolina Presbytery overtures the 34th General Assembly to request that the General Assembly respond to all overtures from all presbyteries concerning Federal Vision/New Perspectives on Paul, by including a reference to the OPC study.
11. That Overture 11 be answered in the negative.

Adopted

Grounds: While the overture addresses issues of concern to the Assembly, the scope of the proposal is too broad and inadequately defined; further, these issues can be addressed through the judicial process.

OVERTURE 11 from the Presbytery of the Blue Ridge (to B&O and AC) “Erect Ad Interim Committee on Federal Vision, New Perspectives on Paul, etc.”

Whereas, there has been a growing debate and discussion within the courts of the Presbyterian Church in America over a number of years on issues arising from viewpoints concerning (at different levels and degrees) the doctrines of Justification, Sanctification, the Covenant, and the Sacraments variously known as Federal Vision, New Perspective on Paul, Shepherdism and Auburn Avenue Theology; and

Whereas, there has been disagreement and confusion regarding what these various viewpoints actually teach; and

Whereas, questions have been raised regarding these viewpoints and their conformity to the system of doctrine taught in the Westminster Standards of the Presbyterian Church in America; and

Whereas, some of these viewpoints have brought confusion as to definitions and concepts that appear to many to strike at the heart of the gospel as well as at the vitals of religion; and

Whereas, the individual Church courts have the responsibility to determine questions of doctrine and discipline seriously and reasonably proposed, and in general to maintain truth and righteousness, condemning erroneous opinions and practices which tend to bring injury to the peace, purity, or progress of the Church (BCO 11:4); and

Whereas, individual churches and Presbyteries have experienced disruption of their peace, purity and progress as a result of the controversy surrounding the teaching and promotion of these viewpoints within various parts of the Presbyterian Church in America.
Therefore, be it resolved that the Presbytery of the Blue Ridge overtures the 34th General Assembly to erect a committee to be appointed by the Moderator to study these viewpoints and their formulations to determine and report back to the 35th General Assembly:

First, whether any or all of these viewpoints and formulations are in conformity with the system of doctrine taught in the Westminster Standards;

Second, whether any or all of these viewpoints are hostile to or strike at the vitals of religion, and to present a declaration or statement regarding the issues raised by these views in light of our Confessional Standards.

Third, should there be a finding that any are out of accord with the standards, make recommendations that the courts of the church may adopt as they see fit if the court desires to find these exceptions to be unacceptable.

Fourth, should any of the studied viewpoints and formulations be adjudged by the committee clearly to be heretical in nature, a statement of that finding shall be presented in its report.

It is understood that this Committee is not called upon to write a lengthy study paper, but rather to examine extant materials and then provide advice to the General Assembly as outlined above.

It is also understood that this Committee will be funded by designated gifts made to the Administrative Committee for this special purpose, with expenses not to exceed $5,000.

12. That Overture 2 be answered in the negative. Adopted

Grounds: While the overture addresses issues of concern to the Assembly, the scope of the proposal is too broad and inadequately defined; further, these issues can be addressed through the judicial process.

A Minority Report was adopted as a substitute motion and adopted as the main motion.
MINORITY REPORT

Overture 2

Recommendation

We move that the Assembly answer Overture 2 in the affirmative as amended. (Omitted language is shown by strikethrough and added language is shown in bold)

Therefore, be it resolved that the Rocky Mountain Presbytery overtures the 34th PCA General Assembly to erect an ad interim committee (RAO 8-1) to study the above named viewpoints and their formulations, and other similar viewpoints which are deemed by the committee to pertain to the above named viewpoints, the soteriology of the Federal Vision, New Perspective, and Auburn Avenue Theologies, which are causing confusion among our churches. Further, to determine whether these viewpoints and formulations are in conformity with the system of doctrine taught in the Westminster Standards, whether they are hostile to or strike at the vitals of religion, and to present a declaration or statement regarding the issues raised by these viewpoints in light of our Confessional Standards.

And further, that the expenses for this ad interim study committee be funded through the Administrative Committee (RAO 8-4).

It is also understood that this ad interim committee will be appointed by the Moderator of the 34th Assembly and will be funded by designated gifts made to the Administrative Committee for this special purpose, with expenses not to exceed $10,000.00. The ad interim committee will report to the 35th General Assembly.

- Strike from “the above named” (3rd line, “Therefore” paragraph) through the end of that sentence. Insert after the words “to study” the phrase “the soteriology of the Federal Vision, New Perspective, and Auburn Avenue Theologies, which are causing confusion among our churches.”
- Strike the sentence beginning with “And further, that...” and add: “It is also understood that this Committee will be appointed by the Moderator of the 34th General Assembly and will be funded by designated gifts made to the Administrative Committee for this special purpose with expenses not to exceed $10,000.00. The committee will report to the 35th General Assembly.”
Rationale and Substance

The Bills and Overtures Committee received four overtures each requesting some Assembly action. The aim of each overture focused on concerns related to the New Perspective and Federal Vision. The committee voted 20-14 and 20-11 to answer both Overture 11 and 2 in the negative. The effect of this vote, coupled with concurrent negative votes for Overtures 23 and 26, renders the 34th General Assembly of the PCA silent concerning its stance toward these teachings.

The convergence of three reasons prompted the majority to vote Overture 2 in the negative. One reason stems from a right concern to uphold the responsibilities of local Presbyteries. Another reason stems from the nebulous and complex nature of the issues in question. A third reason stems from a regard to potential judicial cases pending with the SJC. The minority is grateful for its brothers in the majority. But:

1. First, we must address the concern. Some brothers urge that these issues are not prevalent and ought not to concern us. Other brothers add that we must uphold the responsibilities of individual presbyteries and the value of the Westminster Confession.
   a. The minority agrees that Presbyters have the responsibility to determine what is and is not acceptable doctrine for their ministerial candidates. The minority also upholds the abiding value and practical aid which the Westminster Confession affords these Presbyters for their work.
   b. The minority simply believes that these issues do form a sufficient concern in our congregations.
   c. Forming a study committee does not replace local elder responsibility with “top-down” directives. Local elders regularly turn to resources which help them do their local work. They turn somewhere for informative help. A study which alerts elders to key issues in the discussion and that offers suggested questions and lines of thought from a trusted cross-section of the denomination, provides a helpful resource. It enables elders to become knowledgeable of the issues. They in turn carry out their local responsibilities with more information and less time required to gain credible interaction with the issues.
   d. The minority also believes that studying an issue does not necessarily denigrate the value of the Westminster Confession. The Confession does not exhaust the spectrum of theological or pastoral circumstances which local sessions may encounter. Furthermore, when two opposing parties both quote the Confession to support their opposite views, clarity is required.

e. The amount of literature available and the increasing frequency in which ruling elders must discern these issues in Presbytery situations informs us that forming a study committee will uphold our concern for local responsibility by helping elders do their work.

2. Second, there is a need for clarity, given the nebulous and complex nature of the issues in question.

a. The minority affirms that the issues arising from the diverging streams of Federal Vision, Auburn Avenue Theology, and the New Perspective are neither monolithic nor simple to understand.

b. The minority disagrees however with the idea that we should not study a vague and nebulous doctrine. Quite the contrary. Clarity is especially needed when doctrinal changes and terms remain vague within our pulpits and churches.

c. The minority also believes just because we may not learn everything does not mean that we cannot know anything about these issues. One does not require exhaustive knowledge of a subject in order to prove helpful or useful. A study report offers substantial help even if all questions are not answered. Furthermore, issues in our history that Assemblies have deemed worthy of study have been neither simple nor exhaustible. Yet, prior studies have offered substantive advice, which have often proved helpful to the local responsibilities of elders. In addition, the various papers which some Presbyteries have already produced, demonstrates to many that such studies can prove helpful to the body without exhausting every question.

3. Some members feel that studying these issues should be delayed in light of pending judicial matters with the SJC.

a. The minority agrees that judicial process is important.

b. The minority believes however that the components or outcome of potential judicial cases offers insufficient reason to withhold studying doctrinal matters.

c. The SJC must judge its matters on the merits of individual cases and not on the basis of study committee assignments.

d. Furthermore, judicial renderings are less than certain. The need for pastoral advice for our elders and congregations is readily apparent. The one need not impede the other.

e. Finally, a right caution concerning the wording of these overtures and the possibility of changing their intent, makes some hesitant. Upholding integrity is remedied by word-changes which maintain the intent of the overture.

34-58 Report of the Committee on Thanks

RE Joel Belz led the Assembly in prayer and presented the following Resolution on Thanks, which the Assembly adopted. The Committee was dismissed with thanks.

“ALL GLORY, LAUD AND HONOR TO THEE REDEEMER KING” swells from our hearts as we assemble here on Peachtree Street and on the banks of the storied Chattahoochee River for this Thirty-fourth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America. It was here in Greater Atlanta that the preponderance of the founding ministers and the majority of the early TE moderators of the PCA were trained in the Scriptures and discipled in the Reformed faith by such instructors and mentors as Gutzke, Robinson, Green and Leith at local Columbia Seminary. There were giants in the land in those days! Here many of the early strategic meetings and convocations that laid the foundation for the PCA were held. Reflected on now are those long days of struggle lest there arise a generation that knows not of the church fathers of our Zion and their sacrifices and pain, and the memory of these be gone with the wind.

The “good and pleasant thing it is [when] brethren dwell together in unity” (Psalm 133:1) has been borne out as this Assembly has been blessed with convictions deeply held yet expressed in a spirit of harmony. We gratefully commend the retiring Moderator, RE “Q” Davis, for his stirring address; our current Moderator, Dominic Aquila, for his gentle and fair leadership; our capable Stated Clerk, L. Roy Taylor; his “front-table” assistants; the floor clerks; and the diligent office staff – indeed a great multitude of glad servants who have contributed much.

We are indebted to our worship leaders and speakers who have inspired, instructed, and challenged us, and the talented instrumental and vocal musicians, especially our Assembly organist, Larry Roff, for his vigorous creativity.

Gratefully we acknowledge that every imaginable concern for our needs and comforts has been foreseen and provided by the Presbytery of North Georgia Arrangements Committee, composed of REs Tim Shields (Chairman), Ken Melton, Julius Gwin, and Gordon Moore, along with TE’s Chuck Frost, Walter Henegar, and Tom Wood. Special acknowledgement is made of the graciousness of the North Avenue Presbyterian Church in providing for us space for the safe care of the covenant children of these attending the Assembly.

GREAT AND MANIFOLD have been the blessings received here this week, not the least being the enrichment enjoyed through the increasing diversity of the Assembly as we fold to our hearts our brothers from many “kindred, tribes and nations” and we begin to look more like a foretaste of the great general assembly of the firstborn yet to assemble in heaven.

PRAISE TO OUR TRIUNE GOD! “The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad” (Psalm 126:3).

34-59 Recess to Worship

The Assembly recessed at 4:10 p.m. to reconvene for worship at 7:30 p.m. and for business at 9:00 a.m. Friday with prayer by TE Jimmy Agan.
Sixth Session – Friday Morning
June 23, 2006

34-60 Assembly Reconvenes

The Assembly reconvened at 9:00 a.m. on June 23, 2006, with the singing of “All Creatures of Our God and King,” hymn 115, and prayer by TE Steven Estock. TE Morton Smith offered prayer for the ministry to the Indian population in Canada, specifically protection against the spiritual attacks against the church there, including prayer for all Christians experiencing persecution throughout the world.

34-61 Protest from John Arch Van Devender

The Moderator ordered that the following protest be received:

I believe the 34th General Assembly erred in accepting a motion from the floor on a matter which was not properly before it. Overture 2 to the 33rd General Assembly from Potomac Presbytery could only be properly considered as an item of business if the “subject to approval” threshold imposed by the 33rd General Assembly was met. Chesapeake Presbytery did not approve and therefore the matter could not be properly before the Assembly. Hence, no motions with regard to that matter were properly in order.

I believe the 34th General Assembly acted unconstitutionally in requiring Chesapeake Presbytery to reconsider an action which it had previously acted upon within its sphere of jurisdiction. The General Assembly required Chesapeake Presbytery to discuss with Potomac Presbytery an issue upon which it had acted. This was done not by way of complaint but by motion from the floor. General Assembly had no authority to direct Chesapeake Presbytery to discuss an action which it has properly dealt with.

34-62 Communications 6 and 7 (Re: Overture 2, 33rd General Assembly)

The Assembly, during the Committee of Commissioners on Mission to North America report (34-47, p.174), directed Chesapeake and Potomac Presbyteries to meet and report back to this Assembly (RAO 10-5). The presbyteries reported that they had acted, and the Assembly answered Overture 2 to the 33rd Assembly with amended language in the affirmative.
Communication 6

22 June 2006
From: RE Steve Edwards, clerk pro tem, Potomac Presbytery
For: Dr. L. Roy Taylor
Subject: Action directed by the 34th General Assembly

1. At 4:20 p.m. on Thursday, 22 June 2006, Potomac Presbytery met as directed by the 34th General Assembly for the purpose of agreeing on a plan to adjust the boundaries of Potomac Presbytery. The meeting ended at 5:05 p.m.

2. Those members of Potomac Presbytery attending the meeting agreed unanimously to the following motion: To approve, pending the approval of Chesapeake Presbytery at its next stated meeting, the plan to adjust the boundaries of Potomac Presbytery by adding that area of Howard County west of US Route 29, south of MD Route 216, and east of MD Route 108 to Potomac Presbytery.

[Note: This adjusts Overture 2 by amending the proposed changes as follows:
“…and that portion of Howard County south and east of SR 108, Hall Shop Road, Guilford Road and SR 32, and west of U.S. Highway 1; west of U.S. Highway 29, south of SR 216 and east of SR 108;”].

3. Please pass this word to the Committee on Mission to North America as a basis for modifying Overture #2 to the 33rd General Assembly.

Thank you.

Recommendation 11 of the CoC on MNA, M33GA, p. 162

11. That Overture 2 [to the 33rd General Assembly] to Adjust the Boundaries of Potomac Presbytery be answered in the affirmative pending the approval of Chesapeake presbytery.

Adopted

OVERTURE 2 from Potomac Presbytery (to MNA)
“Adjust the Boundaries of Potomac Presbytery”

Be it resolved that the Potomac Presbytery overtures the 33rd General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to adjust the Boundaries of the Presbytery to become the following:

Maryland counties, together with the cities contained in their borders: Calvert, Charles, Frederick, Montgomery, Prince George’s, Saint Mary’s, Washington, and that portion of Howard County south and east of SR 108, Hall Shop Road, Guilford Road and SR 32, and west of US Highway 1;

Virginia counties, together with the cities contained in their borders: Arlington, Fairfax, Fauquier, Loudoun, and Prince William;

Washington, D.C.;

West Virginia counties, together with the cities contained in their borders: Berkley, Jefferson, and Morgan.

Note: The action should not be considered a precedent for future adjustments to the boundaries, as it is simply the concluding action of a process of dividing the original Potomac Presbytery into the present Chesapeake and Potomac Presbyteries.
34-63 Committee on Review of Presbytery Records

TE Brad Breeson, Chairman, led the Assembly in prayer and presented the Report. Recommendations III. 1-70 were adopted. Recommendations IV. 1-10 were adopted.

Prayer was offered to thank God for significant progress made in the Korean presbyteries as they submit their minutes and responses to exceptions.

The Moderator ruled that, since Recommendation 5 involved rescinding actions of previous Assemblies, it required a 2/3 approval, which was received.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON REVIEW OF PRESBYTERY RECORDS

I. A list of Presbytery Minutes received by the Committee (See III below):

II. A list of the Presbyteries that have not submitted Minutes:

Central Georgia

III. A Report concerning the Minutes of each Presbytery:

1. That the Minutes of Ascension Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: January 29, 2005; April 29-30, 2005; July 29-30, 2005; and October 14-15, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
   d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.

   Adopted

2. That the Minutes of Blue Ridge Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 8, 2005; April 8, 2005; July 7, 2005; and October 15, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:

      Exception: September 18, 2004: No record of approval of theological paper for a candidate for ordination. BCO 21-4.b; RAO 14-3.e.5
      Response: The Presbytery has confirmed that the candidate did indeed have a theological paper approved by the committee and made available to the Presbytery and the error is simply a failure to record the fact in the minutes. At our Stated Meeting on October 15, 2005, we have amended the minutes of September 18, 2004 to indicate approval of the theological paper.

Exception: October 8-9, 2004: No record of a congregation’s consent to dissolve the pastoral relation. See: BCO 23-1

Response: The Presbytery has obtained a copy of the minutes of the Session of the church in question (which had been verbally reported at the original meeting) dissolving the pastoral relationship by approving his request to take HR status and his call as Stated Supply until such time as a new pastor is called. At our Stated Meeting on October 15, 2005, we have amended the minutes of October 8-9, 2004 to include a copy of the congregational minutes as an Appendix thus verifying the congregation’s assent.

Adopted

3. That the Minutes of Calvary Presbytery:

   a. Be approved without exception: None

   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 22, 2005 and October 27, 2005

   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:

      Exception: April 28, 2005; July 23, 2005; and October 27, 2005: No record of sessional endorsement or 6 month membership requirement. BCO 18-2

      Exception: April 28, 2005; July 23, 2005; and October 27, 2005: No record of educational requirements or approved internship. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5

      Exception: April 28, 2005: Use of extraordinary clause not explained. BCO 19-2

      Exception: July 23, 2005: No record that BCO 23-1 was complied with regarding dissolution of pastoral relationship. Two occurrences

      Exception: General: No record of signing ministerial obligation. BCO 13-7

      Exception: General: Response to General Assembly exceptions of substance not adopted by presbytery. RAO 14-10.a

   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory.

      Exception: January 24, 2004: Record lacks required elements of ordination exam, particularly preached sermon, determination if candidate’s theological views had changed since licensure, and signing of ministerial obligation. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5

      Response: We agree with the exception. There as an oversight in the recording of the ordination examination, but we assure the General Assembly that all areas were examined, and all required questions were asked, and the candidate met all the requirements of the BCO. We regret this oversight.

Exception: April 22, 2004: Record lacks required elements of ordination exam, particularly preached sermon and approval of candidate’s internship. _BCO_ 19-3; 21-4; _RAO_ 14-3.e.5

Response: We agree with the exception. There was an oversight in the recording of the ordination examination, but we assure the General Assembly that all areas were examined, and all required questions were asked, and the candidate met all the requirements of the _BCO_. We regret this oversight.

Exception: October 28, 2004: Record lacks required elements of ordination exam, particularly determination if candidate’s theological views had changed since licensure. _BCO_ 21-4; _RAO_ 14-3.e.5

Response: We agree with the exception. There was a lack of information concerning the call of TE [name omitted]. His examination was approved at the April 2001 meeting of the Presbytery with the charge to plant a church in our Presbytery, and the minutes of October 28, 2004 failed to show that [name omitted] examination had been sustained at a prior meeting. We regret this oversight.

Adopted

4. That the minutes of Central Carolina Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: January 22, 2005; April 23, 2005; and October 22, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: July 23, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below: None
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: January 24, 2004: No record of approved internship for ordination candidate. _BCO_ 19-7.
      Response: Presbytery respectfully agrees that the record of the approval of the internship was not noted in the Minutes. Presbytery had in fact given approval to this particular internship at the 7/20/02 meeting, but this fact was not noted in the Minutes of 1/24/04. By vote at our July 23, 2005 meeting, CCP hereby corrects the Minutes of 1/24/04 to record the previous approval of this internship. Adopted

5. That the Minutes of Central Florida Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: February 8, 2005; September 6, 2005; and December 6, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: General
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:

242
Exception: General: No record of sessional endorsement or 6 month membership requirement for a candidate. BCO 18-2

Exception: General: Incomplete record of ordination examination requirements. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5

Exception: General: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1

Exception: General: No record of whether Presbytery considers out of bounds labors to be a valid Christian ministry. BCO 20-1

d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:

Exception: October 5, 2004: No record of call for a candidate for ordination. BCO 21-1.

Response: The omission of the content of Mr. Ginn’s call was a [sic] oversight. It was in fact in the committee’s hands, and was read into the record by the clerk, and is a part of the document recording of the meeting.

Exception: October 5, 2004: No record of Session approval of change of call for Assistant Pastor and no record of new call. BCO 22-4.

Response: This change of call developed immediately prior to the Presbytery meeting, and the Minister and His Work Committee came to the floor on the basis of email and phone contact with the three parties involved (the TE, the session of CenterPoint Community Church, and the Mission to North America Committee). The new call was to a newly created position of Church Planting Apprentice then being developed by the MNA Committee. No record other than verbal exists to either the church’s approval of the change in call (it did so approve according to verbal testimony given to the MHW Committee) or the MNA Committee’s issuance of the apprenticeship call (it did issue that call according to the leadership). This irregularity is an omission which we sincerely regret.

e. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found unsatisfactory. The minutes should specifically record that each requirement has been met:

Exception: February 9, 2004: No record of Session endorsement or PCA membership of candidate. BCO 18-2.

Response: The record of the candidate’s testimony and call are established by the form approved by the Presbytery that in an exhaustive fashion which includes the fact/date/church affiliation of the candidate’s baptism and the church in which the candidate holds his current membership. The candidate’s record also includes the letter received from the man’s current session endorsing him for candidacy. These requirements are tracked by a “Candidate Action Log” which has as its first box “Recommended to Candidate’s Committee; Session of [name].” We believe the standard practices and in this instance the occasion of [name] at the 108th Stated Meeting, is fully in compliance with BCO.

Exception: May 4, 2004: Incomplete record of licensure exam requirements. BCO 19-2.

Response: Here Presbytery examined two men for licensure. The examination on the floor was as requested by the Examination Committee, both men having sustained examination in committee on all BCO 19-2 requirements as stated in the minutes. The committee’s recommendation, and floor examination always includes invitation for questions from the floor, and if the committee recommends that any area be specifically omitted as a requirement that must pass by the required three-fourths super majority. It has become my practice to specifically note the fact that the prior Committee examination fully covered all BCO requirements, all of which we heartily endorse as necessary to preserving the integrity of the ministry of the word and the good order of the church.

Exception: December 7, 2004: Incomplete record of exam requirements for candidate being examined to become a TE. BCO 21-4.

Response: In response to the examiner’s written admonition, Central Florida Presbytery appreciates the concern of the comment, and hope that the introductory comments above will alleviate any concern the committee may have about our clerk’s record, or our Presbytery’s acquaintance with the BCO’s ordination and licensure procedures. The candidate was in fact fully vetted, and examined thoroughly as rightly required in our constitutional documents. Adopted

6. That the Minutes of Central Georgia Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None.
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
   d. That as no response was given to the 33rd GA exceptions, this should be submitted to the 35th GA:
      Exception: No minutes were submitted; these minutes are to be submitted to the 34th GA. BCO 40-1, RAO 14-4.a Recommendation from RPR Committee to the 34th General Assembly:
Per the provisions of BCO 40-1, 4, and 5 and RAO 14-4.e, the 34th General Assembly cites Central Georgia to appear by representative or in writing to explain its failure to submit minutes for the past two years to the Committee on the Review of Presbytery Records on Tuesday, June 12th, 2007, at 8am in Memphis, TN.

Adopted

7. That the Minutes of Chesapeake Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: February 19, 2005; May 17, 2005; June 15, 2005; July 30, 2005; September 17, 2005; and November 8, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: General
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
   d. That the following response to the 32nd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: May 20, 2003: No record of session endorsement of candidate. BCO 18-2
      Response: Clerk thought no response was required because of the line printed in bold at line 32 (see attached sheet). Presbytery agrees with the finding of an exception of substance. Presbytery offers the attached letter from the session of [name omitted] church to complete the record of receiving [name omitted] as a candidate under care. Presbytery will seek to be more careful in the future.
      Adopted

8. That the Minutes of Chicago Metro Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: August 10, 2005 and October 18, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: July 19, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: November 16, 2005: Insufficient number of REs to constitute quorum and conduct business. BCO 13-4 [S]
      Exception: General: The court may grant an exception to any difference of doctrine only if in the court’s judgment the candidate’s declared difference is not out of accord with any fundamental of our system of doctrine because the difference is neither hostile to the system nor strikes at the vitals of religion. This was not, but must be, recorded. BCO 21-4 paragraph 7; RAO 14-3.e.5 [S] d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.
      Adopted

9. That the Minutes of Covenant Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: May 24, 2005
b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery:
   February 1, 2005 and October 20, 2005

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
   Exception: February 1, 2005: Presbytery failed to correctly address in its minutes the apparent exceptions of a man transferring into the presbytery. BCO 21-4, paragraph 7, RAO 14-3.e.5 [S] d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.

   Adopted

10. That the Minutes of Eastern Canada Presbytery:

   a. Be approved without exception: February 4, 2005 and October 14, 2005

   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: June 25, 2005

   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below: None

   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: February 6-7, 2004: No record of previous experience approved as internship fulfilling the “full range of ministerial duties” nor is there record of ¾ vote of presbytery to approve equivalency internship. BCO 19-16
      Response: The Presbytery of Eastern Canada confesses with chagrin that it had not noted the requirement of BCO 19-16 for a ¾ majority to approve previous experience as equivalent to internship. We will try to better in the future. We remember no dissenting vote to this action, so it should not be considered invalid, though it was not properly done. However, nothing in the BCO or RAO requires us to record that a candidate has fulfilled the “full range of ministerial duties”, but only to ensure that he has. We have never made such a statement in our minutes. In the case cited, the report from [name omitted] Presbyterian Church session was clear to that effect, and we indicated that this was accomplished by agreeing that he had “sufficiently completed the requirements for internship” [emphasis added].

   e. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found unsatisfactory.
      Rationale: We find the response to be unsatisfactory because presbytery’s response does not demonstrate how they or the candidate bound the candidate’s exceptions in such a way as to avoid opening the door to the concerns raised by the 33rd GA. Moreover, we note presbytery can provide for compliance for the provisions of our constitution in keeping with BCO 4-5 and 19-1.
Exception: February 6-7, 2004: Presbytery approved an exception to WLCQ 156 in which a candidate stated he does “not see a problem with anyone (especially those of the covenant community) reading the Word publicly” to the Congregation. This would seem to allow even non-believers to lead in worship by the public reading of the Word in gathered public worship. The Presbytery also approved the candidate’s exception to the word “only” in WLCQ 158 which was offered on the grounds that “Acts 8:4 and 19:19-21 seem to make it clear that many preached the gospel wherever they went, and there is no indication of them bearing office, and there is no comment regarding their abilities.” Taken together, these exceptions seem to call into question aspects of our polity and Confessional Standards for worship as to strike at the “vitals of religion.” (See BCO 17, 19-1, 21; and WLCQ 156-160). (Note that the candidate reaffirmed his views at the following meeting of Presbytery.)

Response: The Presbytery of Eastern Canada is deeply distressed that this recommendation was approved by the 33rd General Assembly. Please understand us clearly. We are not opposing the catechism’s statements. But the statement that “these exceptions seem to call into question aspects of our polity and Confessional Standards for worship as to strike at the ‘vitals of religion’” seems to us to say that if the wrong person reads the Bible or preaches, however faithfully, the result is to kill Christianity. It sounds as if a person cannot be a Christian unless they both believe in Christ and hear the word read and preached by qualified people. We do not want to believe the Assembly would approve such an addition to the gospel, but that is what the words we received say. If you strike at someone’s vitals you seek to kill them. Therefore we ask the 34th General Assembly either to withdraw the exception or to explain more clearly what is the problem.

We would call on the Assembly to note that if this exception strikes at the vitals of religion, then BCO 19-1 also strikes at the vitals of religion. “To preserve the purity of the preaching of the Gospel, no man is permitted to preach in the pulpits of the Presbyterian Church in America on a regular basis without proper licensure” (BCO 19-1) does not meet the standard of WLC 158, “The Word of God is to be preached only by such as are sufficiently gifted, and also duly approved and called to that office” [emphasis added]. Perhaps some part of our church have sufficient resources to adhere to WLC 158. We doubt that is commonly the case other than in multi-pastor congregations. In Eastern Canada there is no area in which we can provide preaching every Sunday to our congregations within the strict interpretation of WLC 158. We believe it is more important that the word be preached faithfully to God’s people week by week than that we adhere strictly to WCL 158. Provision of such faithful preaching is among the foremost duties of the presbytery. If the Assembly believes we are in error, we would ask the Assembly to provide us with and support enough qualified preachers to be certain every congregation’s pulpit is filled acceptably every Lord’s day.

It appears to us that the candidate’s exceptions are very minor.
WE cannot think of a single statement elsewhere in our Confession or Catechisms which if affected by them. He is not planning an upheaval in our approach to worship, but confessing the he believes the catechism goes beyond the bounds of Scripture in the limits it places here. But the 33rd General Assembly has told us these matters are issues of spiritual life and death. Our hope is that this was unthought and unintended. Therefore we ask the 34th General Assembly to look at the issue and either rescind the objection to our action, or explain clearly and thoroughly why it sees to be an issue.

Adopted

11. That the Minutes of Eastern Carolina Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: January 22, 2005; May 21, 2005;
      July 16, 2005; and October 15, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: April 16, 2005: No record that the procedure detailed in BCO 23-1 was followed regarding dissolution of pastoral relationship. [S]
   d. That the following responses to the 32nd General Assembly be found satisfactory:
      Exception: January 25, 2003: No record of congregational meeting to concur with request to dissolve pastoral relation. BCO 23-1 Response: Presbytery agrees that record should have been made of the congregational meeting to concord in Pastor [name omitted] request to dissolve his pastoral relation through retirement with [name omitted] Presbyterian Church at the time that the newly called pastor was installed, and we will correct our records to include this information and be more careful in the future.
      Exception: January 25, 2003: No record of candidates’ 6 month membership or sessional endorsement. BCO 18-2 Response: Presbytery agrees that record should have been made of the candidates’ fulfilling the 6-month membership and sessional endorsement requirements. We assure the Assembly that those requirements were met in the cases of the candidates, but we failed to record that information. We will correct our records and we promise to be more careful in the future.

Exception: April 12, 2003: No record of candidates’ 6-month membership or sessional endorsement. BCO 18-2

Response: Presbytery agrees that record should always be made of a candidate’s meeting the 6-month membership and sessional endorsement requirements; however, there were no candidates received under care at this particular presbytery meeting. Perhaps we were not as clear as we should have been that the candidate who was transferred had been a candidate under our care for several years.

Exception: July 19, 2003: No record of candidate for ordination completing internship. BCO 21-2

Response: Presbytery agrees that record should always be made of the internship requirement having been met, and we will be more careful in the future to do so. The candidate in question in this case had already completed an approved internship with North Texas presbytery prior to coming before us for examination.

Exception: October 18, 2003: No record of candidates’ 6 month membership or sessional endorsement. BCO 18-2

Response: Presbytery agrees that record should have been made of the candidates’ fulfilling the 6-month membership and sessional endorsement requirements. We assure the Assembly that those requirements were met in the cases of the candidates, but we failed to record that information. We will correct our records and we promise to be more careful in the future.

Exception: October 18, 2003: No record of commission being empowered to install minister or elders. BCO 5-9.1, 15-1, 15-2

Response: Presbytery agrees that a commission is only authorized to handle the business assigned to it by the presbytery; however, presbytery had formed this particular commission at a previous stated meeting (4/13/03) for the very purposes of installing the minister and elders to particularize [name omitted] Presbyterian Church (minutes of 4/12/03, p.4, B.4.c.5). We will be more careful in the future to repeat the call of the commission when it makes its final report.

Exception: October 18, 2003: Particularization commission did not have a quorum. BCO 15-2

Response: Presbytery agrees that its commission did not constitute a quorum because it did not have the requisite 2 ruling elders, even though it had required 4 elders total. We respectfully request the Assembly to regard this particularization as valid though irregular, and we promise to be more careful in the future.

Adopted

      - Exception: October 26, 2004: Multiple exam items not listed, including whether or not the candidates had stated differences with our standards. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
      - Response: Thank you for catching this oversight. None of the men examined stated any differences with our standards.    e. That the following responses to the 32nd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      - Exception: May 13, 2003: Exam items not listed. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
Response: Thank you for this instructive observation. The men listed as having been examined were examined in every area according to our BCO. The deficiency is in our minutes and not in their examination. This deficiency has been corrected. I welcome the help in making sure our minutes are correct and in accordance with our BCO.

Exception: General: No directory or roll of presbytery included. RAO 14-4.c.1

Response: This was an oversight on the part of a new Stated Clerk. This was a transition year and this item was left out of the information sent into GA. Thank you for catching this oversight. Presbytery Directories has been sent since then.

      Exception: May 11, 2004: No record of congregational meeting prior to dissolution of pastoral relation. BCO 23-1 Response: The minutes of the congregational meeting were among the documents related to the dissolution. Presbytery will attempt to more explicitly list said documents. (Note: In the case of this specific exception, the session rather than the congregation was the concurring/requesting body.)

      Exception: September 14, 2004: No record of congregational meeting prior to dissolution of pastoral relation. BCO 23-1 Response: See response to item #2 above, excepting the notation.

   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: March 5, 2005 (two occurrences) and November 12, 2005: No record of exam in original languages or acceptance of seminary transcript in lieu of oral exam in original languages. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: March 5, 2005: No record of candidate answering licensure questions. BCO 19-3

   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: General: No record of required reports by candidates, interns, and TE’s laboring out of bounds. BCO 8-7, 18-6, 19-12
      Response: Many of these documents were on file, but not listed in the minutes as they should have been. Great Lakes Presbytery apologizes for the oversight and will endeavor to publish these in the future.
      Exception: October 8, 2004: Men are approved for ordination with insufficient evidence that all areas of trials were accomplished. Also, there is no evidence that educational requirements were met for men coming for ordination. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5
Response: Great Lakes Presbytery apologizes for the sloppiness in recording the essential information regarding examination and educational achievements and will be more careful in the future of making these items clear.

Adopted

      Exception: May 11, 2004: No record of sessional endorsement and required 6-month PCA membership for a candidate coming under care. BCO 18-2
      Response: Presbytery acknowledges the omission of the Sessional recommendation and 6 months prior church membership in the minutes and will instruct the committee chairman to include this information in the future.
      Exception: November 9, 2004: No record of congregational meeting prior to dissolving pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1.
      Response: Presbytery respectfully disagrees with the exception noted concerning the dissolution of pastoral relationships. The record of the dissolution was noted in 04-48.5 Communications and in the Committee report 04-53.1&3. Adopted

Adopted

18. That the Minutes of Heartland Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: April 22, 2005; August 5, 2005; and November 4, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: General: No record of sessional endorsement or 6 month membership for candidates. BCO 18-2
      Exception: April 22, 2005: Presbytery’s changes to its standing rules appear not to be “wise, equitable, and suited to promote the welfare of the church” (BCO 40-2.3). In addition, it appears to establish a means of removing TEs from being in “good terms as members of the Presbytery” that is not specified in the BCO (e.g., 34-10, 36, 38)
   d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.

Adopted

19. That the Minutes of Heritage Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: May 10, 2005 and November 12, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 8, 2005; January 29, 2005; March 5, 2005; June 25, 2005; and September 9, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: January 29, 2005: List of candidate’s exceptions not recorded. RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: January 29, 2005: No record of signed ministerial obligation form. BCO 13-7 Exception: September 10, 2005: No record of sessional endorsement or 6 month membership for candidates. BCO 18-2
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: August 14, 2004: Presbytery appointed TE from another presbytery to serve on a commission. BCO 15-1ff Response: This is in the context of a matter that had perplexed Presbytery since 1/04 in dealing with a pastor and church in serious conflict. By the summer it became apparent to Presbytery that the conflict had risen to such a level that it was deemed best that the Session and Pastor step aside from leadership while these matters were resolved. They all voluntarily temporarily stepped aside from leadership and allowed Presbytery to appoint a Commission to provide temporary leadership while the issues were resolved. Presbytery appointed a temporary Commission and included Rev [name omitted] on the Commission for reasons outlined in the above minutes extract. Presbytery acknowledged the unusual nature of this appointment and specifically made allowance for his service by licensing him to serve within the bounds of this Presbytery. It should also be noted that this was done by the unanimous consent of Presbytery.

We acknowledge that we procedurally erred in appointing a man to serve within the bounds of this Presbytery without consultation and consent of the Presbytery of which he was a member, in accord with BCO 13-2. Specifically, we acknowledge error in our failure to seek the concurrence and agreement of the Presbytery of which he is a member. It should be noted that this man no longer serves on this commission. The error was ours, not his. He faithfully preformed the duties requested. Adopted

20. That the Minutes of Houston Metro Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: April 29, 2005 and October 28, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: January 28, 2005: No record of commission to install associate pastor. BCO 21-9
      Exception: April 29, 2005: No record of report from commission to install. BCO 15-1
      Exception: October 28, 2005: No record that the procedure detailed in BCO 23-1 was followed regarding dissolution of pastoral relationship.
   d. That as no responses to the 33rd GA exceptions were received, these should be submitted to the 35th GA:
      Exception: January 30, 2004: No record of sermon submitted to presbytery for ordination exam. BCO 21-4.d; RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: January 30, 2004: No ¾ vote to allow candidates preaching before committee for ordination exam. BCO 21-4
Exception: January 30, 2004: Presbytery cites TE to appear at a called meeting of presbytery at “5 PM on Friday, March 26, 2004,” but the minutes of this meeting are not submitted to GA. BCO 40-1.

Exception: June 3, 2004: “Judicial Panel” not established by presbytery as a commission but operates as a commission. BCO 15-2, 15-3

Exception: October 29, 2004: No record of dissolution of pastoral relation but there is record of TE receiving a call to a new church. BCO 23-1

Exception: General: Presbytery’s “Rules of Presbytery Operation” sections 18-1, 18-8 delegate to moderator powers to appoint a judicial “panel” that operates as a judicial commission. BCO 15-3 requires presbytery to appoint membership of a judicial commission. Adopted

21. That the Minutes of Illiana Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 7-8, 2005; April 9, 2005; and October 15, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: January 8, 2005: Complete call not attached. BCO 23-1 Exception: April 9, 2005: No record of commission appointed to ordain. BCO 21-5
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: April 17, 2004: No record of required elements for licensure exam. RAO 14-3.e.5
      Response: We did not understand this exception of substance. RAO 14-3e5 states “Minutes of presbytery relating to examinations must list all specific requirements and trials for licensure and/or ordination which have been accomplished. This does not mean that separate vote on each item must be recorded.” Illiana minutes state, “He (the candidate) then stood for examination and was questioned per BCO 19-2.” BCO 19-2 states specifically the areas for Licensure examination. After making a call to the Clerk’s office and asking for an interpretation, we learned this exception of substance means the clerk must repeat, in the minutes, what appears in this BCO paragraph. This will be done and subsequent minutes have been corrected.
      Exception: September 9, 2004: No record of purpose for called meeting. RAO 14-3.c.1
      Response: The purpose of the call was mailed out as part of the docket, which was attached to the minutes. However, it should have been and will be stated at the head of the called meeting minutes in the future.

Exception: October 16, 2004: No record of required elements for transfer exam. RAO 14-3.e.5

Response: See response for April 17, 2004 above which applies to the exception of substance referred to in the review of the minutes of October 16, 2004. The listing of the specific areas covered in the examination (BCO 21-4) has been made in these minutes of October 16, 2004.

Exception: December 11, 2004: Presbytery debated the judgment of a “disciplinary commission.” BCO 15-3

Response: The discussion referred to in these minutes was of the commission’s procedures and witnesses heard, not its recommendations. This will be clarified in these minutes. Adopted

22. That the Minutes of Iowa Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: June 9, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 8, 2005; April 9, 2005; November 12, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: August 27, 2005: No record of polity exam being approved. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: July 12, 2003: Presbytery determined TE’s view on marrying “papists” was not an exception to WCF 24-3.
      Response: Iowa Presbytery regrets that its decision to not find a teaching elder’s view on WCF 24.3 to be an exception is viewed as an exception of substance by the RPRC and the General Assembly.

      Iowa Presbytery respectfully disagrees with the exception of substance as it is the Presbytery’s considered opinion that it did not err on its ruling. The Presbytery sought the advice of the Committee on Constitutional Business on the definition of “papist” (as did the RPRC) prior to making the ruling. The CCB did not provide the Presbytery a constitutional, or for that matter, any, definition of the word “papist.” Left to our own interpretation, we concluded that the essence of the Confession at this point is related to one’s soteriology.

      The Presbytery completely agrees that one from the Reformed faith should not marry one who holds to the historical Roman Catholic view of salvation. The Presbytery does, however, believe that there are those who have true saving faith and are members of the Roman Catholic Church.
Iowa Presbytery maintains that it is not an exception to WCF 24.3 to wed any truly saved male and female no matter with what body they are aligned.

Without contradictory clarification Iowa Presbytery sees no reason to censure a teaching elder who holds to such a view.

Rationale: WCF 24-3 clearly states that “such as profess the true Reformed religion should not marry with...papists.” Rather than redefining the terms of the Confession in such a way as to potentially change their meaning, the Presbytery would be better served, given their rationale, to find this to be an exception, and deal with it as spelled out in BCO 21-4.

Response: In accordance with the advice of the 33rd General Assembly (M33GA 33-54 III.20.d, p. 277), Presbytery acknowledges the TE’s view to be an exception to WCF 24-3. In accordance with BCO 21-4, Presbytery judges that the TE’s view is not out of accord with any fundamental of our system of doctrine because the views are neither hostile to the system, nor do they strike at the vitals of religion. It is the judgment of Presbytery that, in accordance with General Assembly action last year regarding a TE in Gulf Coast Presbytery holding to a similar view (M33GA 33-54 III.15.d., pp. 274-275), the TE may express his view in this matter as long as he acknowledges it to be an exception to WCF 24-3; and, provided he counsels all candidates for marriage to heed the Scripture’s instructions not to become “unequally yoked” in marriage to unbelievers (II Corinthians 6:14), and determines that each rests upon Christ alone for salvation, the TE may practice his view by performing their marriage ceremony.

Adopted

23. That the Minutes of James River Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: January 15, 2005; February 19, 2005; April 9, 2005; and October 15, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below: None
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: General: Commissions consistently established without specifying a quorum. BCO 15-2
      Response: The Presbytery agrees with the exception and promises to be more careful in the future. A proposed amendment to the JRP Bylaws will add a section to the Bylaws on ad hoc committees and commissions that will clarify what the quorum is for commissions.
Exception: General: Consistent lack of record of written sermons by licentiate candidates or preached sermons by ordination candidates submitted to presbytery. BCO 19-2.d; 21-4.d

Response: The Presbytery agrees with the exception and promises to be more careful in the future. Written sermons by licensure candidates are reviewed and approved in committee. Candidates are not examined on the floor of Presbytery unless these requirements have been met to the satisfaction of the committee. On more than one occasion presbytery failed to record its approval of the committee’s recommendation regarding the fulfillment of these requirements by the candidate.

Exception: January 17, 2004: No record of commissions for examinations being established by presbytery. BCO 15-2

Response: The Presbytery respectfully disagrees with the exception. The establishment of the two commissions (Presbytery split into two equal commissions in order to conduct all the examinations on the Docket) was recorded on page 6 (04-69). The Moderator appointed a chair and clerk for each and assigned the candidates to one of the commissions. The commissions met, conducted the exams, and reported back to Presbytery as recorded on page 8 and 9 (04-75).

Exception: January 17, 2004: No record of original language requirements being fulfilled. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5

Response: The Presbytery agrees with the exception and promises to be more careful in the future. The candidate fulfilled the language requirements as noted in the committee’s report (Appendix 4) however, the Stated Clerk failed to record the fact when documenting the examination (page 9, 04-75).

Exception: April 17, 2004: No record of presbytery fulfilling examination requirements for an ordination candidate, particularly papers, internship, or original languages. BCO 21-4

Response: The Presbytery agrees with the exception and promises to be more careful in the future. The minutes record that the committee approved the above noted requirements including the internship, but the Stated Clerk failed to record the fact that presbytery also approved these requirements during the examination.

Exception: July 17, 2004: No record of presbytery fulfilling examination requirements for an ordination candidate, particularly exegetical and theological papers. BCO 21-4

Response: The Presbytery agrees with the exception and promises to be more careful in the future. The minutes record that the committee approved the above noted requirements including the internship, but the Stated Clerk failed to record the fact that presbytery also approved these requirements during the examination.

Exception: July 17, 2004: No record of empowering installation commission to ordain. BCO 15-2

Response: The Presbytery agrees with the exception and promises to be more careful in the future. This was an inadvertent omission, a clerical error. Presbytery empowered the commission to ordain and install the candidate.

That the following response to the 33rd GA exceptions be found unsatisfactory. Rationale: BCO 15-2 states “When the ordination of a minister is committed to a commission, the Presbytery itself shall conduct the previous examination.”

Exception: January 17, 2004: Commission of presbytery that examines a candidate cannot appoint a commission to install nor can a commission be used to ordain and install unless the presbytery itself conducted the examination. BCO 15-2.

Response: The Presbytery respectfully disagrees with the exception. Although the minutes accurately record that the commission, referred to as Commission #2, appointed the members of the ordination/installation commission (page 9 04-75). Presbytery approved the report of the commission and thereby approved the action of the commission to establish the commission to ordain and install the candidate (page 10, item 2, Report of Commission #2). Please note that there were 52 presbyters in attendance at the meeting—26 presbyters on each commission. Adopted

24. That the Minutes of Korean Capital Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: April 4, 2005: Incomplete examination of candidates. BCO 18, 19, and 21
      Exception: General: Complete call(s) not included. BCO 20-1
      Exception: October 3, 2005: No record that the procedure detailed in BCO 23-1 was followed regarding dissolution of pastoral relationship.
      Exception: October 3, 2005: No record of content of petitions. BCO 13-2 d. That as no responses to the 33rd GA exceptions were received, these should be submitted to the 35th GA. These and all previously requested responses should be submitted in conformity with the General Recommendation below (#5):

      Exception: October 3-4, 2005: No record of candidate signing ministerial obligation. BCO 13-7
      Exception: General: Minutes inadequate. BCO 13-11
   d. That the following response to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: April 12, 2004: Quorum not met for stated meeting where business was conducted. Moreover, there is nothing in the record of this or subsequent meetings to demonstrate that the very stringent standards set forth in Robert’s Rules for taking action in the absence of a quorum have been met; namely: 1) what “important opportunity would be lost unless acted upon immediately” in the absence of a quorum, and 2) that action was taken at a later meeting to ratify the specific actions taken in the absence of a quorum. BCO 13-4; RRO, Chapter XI, Section 40
      Response: Regarding the “important opportunity,” this issue was discussed and it was decided that due to the wide geography of our presbytery, it was important to continue with the docket as written, for scheduling another meeting would have been difficult to do. We apologize for not recording the discussion and vote on this issue. It was a poor oversight on our part. Regarding later ratification, key measures requiring voting were viewed and ratified at the 2005 fall stated meeting.
      Exception: April 12, 2004: Record of ordination exams does not include all required areas. No record of call for ordination candidates and transferees examined. BCO 13-5, 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
Response: Regarding areas of examination for candidates, we admit that there were a few areas that were neglected in the floor examination. The examination committee did test the candidates on all the appropriate areas but this was not continued on to the floor examination and was not recorded clearly. Regarding record of call for candidates, we apologize for not making a clear record of the calls, though they did exist for each candidate. We will take better care in clearly showing these records in the future.

Exception: April 12, 2004: Commission established with no RE’s.
BCO 15-2
Response: We apologize for not recording this properly. This requirement is understood and better care is being taken to form and make record of various commissions. Please forgive us this error in recording.

Exception: October 10, 2004: No record of qualifications being met by man being examined for admission to presbytery. BCO 13-5, 13-6 Response: We apologize for this exclusion from the minutes and will diligently pursue clear recording in the future. We do examine every person before admission to presbytery and attempt to ensure proper qualifications.

Exception: October 10, 2004: No record of particularization or examination of elders for a church received into presbytery. BCO 5-8ff Response: We apologize for not including this report in our minutes.

Exception: October 10, 2004: An individual was empowered to install a TE. BCO 8-8, 15-2
Response: The inappropriateness of this action is understood and better care is already being taken in forming a presbytery commission for the purpose of installing a minister.

Exception: General: No record of TE’s admitted to presbytery signing ministerial obligation. BCO 13-7 Response: Better records of this action will be taken in the future. Thank you for pointing out this exclusion from our previous records.

That the following responses to the 33rd General Assembly be found unsatisfactory. Thanking the presbytery for their response, the record must still reflect compliance with BCO 34-10 or full judicial process.

Exception: April 12, 2004 and October 10, 2004: Presbytery may not remove men from their roll simply by virtue of their have failed to respond to a contact from Presbytery. Either formal process must be followed, or the provisions of BCO 34-10 must be used (if applicable), or Presbytery must demonstrate that BCO 38 applies.
Response: Again, we apologize for the lack of record of the rationale, although the issue is addressed according to the standards set forth in BCO sections mentioned. Before a member is removed from roll, there are several efforts made over the course of several meetings to contact him to explain his status regarding either consistent absence from presbytery participation or departure to join another denomination. We will keep better records of such proceedings in the future.

      Exception: May 14, 2005: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
   d. That the following response to the 33rd GA exception be found satisfactory:
      Exception: June 5, 2004: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
      Response: Presbytery agrees with the exception and regrets not noting the congregational vote to approve TE [name omitted] resignation. We are confident that there was such a congregational approval as they called his successor.

Adopted

33. That the Minutes of Mississippi Valley Presbytery:

b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: General
c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.

Adopted

34. That the Minutes of Missouri Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: December 8, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery:
      January 18, 2005; April 19, 2005; July 19, 2005; and October 18, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: January 18, 2005; April 19, 2005; and October 18, 2005: No mention of sessional endorsement or of 6 month membership requirement. BCO 18-2
   d. That the following response to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: April 20, 2004: No record of examination in languages nor seminary degree in lieu of, nor exam in PCA history, nor the reception of theological/exegetical papers. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: July 20, 2004: No record of examination in languages nor seminary degree in lieu of, nor exam in PCA history, nor the reception of theological/exegetical papers. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: October 26, 2004: No record of examination in languages nor seminary degree in lieu of, nor exam in PCA history, nor the reception of theological/exegetical papers. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5
      Response: Presbytery agrees with exceptions. Missouri Presbytery does accept a seminary degree in lieu of an oral examination in the original language according to BCO 21-4-a, however, this was not recorded in the minutes. The clerk will make the necessary changes and endeavor to include this information in future minutes. Examination in the area of PCA history has been included in the clerk’s recording of the examination in Church History. The clerk will make the necessary changes and endeavor to make specific mention of examination in PCA history in future minutes. All men examined were required to submit theological/exegetical papers according to BCO 21-4 as well. The clerk failed to record the receipt and approval of such exams and will make the necessary changes and endeavor to record this information in future minutes.  Adopted

35. That the Minutes of Nashville Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery:
February 8, 2005; April 12, 2005; August 9, 2005; and November 8, 2005

c. Be approved with exception of substance stated below:
Exception: February 8, 2005; August 9, 2005; and November 8, 2005: No record of 6 month membership requirement. BCO 18-2
Exception: April 12, 2005: Procedure not followed for dissolution of pastoral relationship for assistant pastor. BCO 23-1
Exception: August 9, 2005: Commission was dissolved by a committee and not the presbytery. BCO 15-1
Exception: August 9, 2005: Censure of admonition preceded the outcome of the scheduled trial. BCO 32-3.3

d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.

36. That the Minutes of New Jersey Presbytery:
\[\text{Adopted}\]

a. Be approved without exception:
February 19, 2005; May 21, 2005; and November 19, 2005

b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery:
None

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
Exception: September 17, 2005: No record as to whether or not a man being examined for transfer had exceptions to the Confessional standards. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5

d. That the following responses to the 33rd General Assembly be found satisfactory:
Exception: May 15, 2004: No record of full examination of transfer from another denomination. BCO 13-6; RAO 14-3.e.5
Response: There was no examination for transfer, only an exam deemed sufficient by Presbytery to approve a temporary ministry within the bounds of Presbytery. (In fact, the action has matured to the point that Mr. Kang hopes to be received at the current meeting of Presbytery, September 17, 2005). This is demonstrated by the correct understanding of the minutes in question as per excerpt.
Exception: September 18, 2004: No record of 2/3 vote to adopt changes to preface of the presbytery’s standing rules. NJP-SR VII.B.
Response: Presbytery can only apologize for a failure to record the vote. In fact the testimony of the body is that the amendment was adopted unanimously.

37. That the Minutes of New River Presbytery:
\[\text{Adopted}\]

a. Be approved without exception:
May 21, 2005 and September 17, 2005
b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery:
January 22, 2005 and August 13, 2005

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
Exception: January 22, 2005: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
Exception: August 13, 2005: Business transacted that was not included in the purpose of the called meeting. BCO 13-12

d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
Exception: October 9, 2004: No record of concurrence by original presbytery of a TE transferring into presbytery. BCO 13-6
Response: Please accept our apology as it was our understanding that the email from the Stated Clerk of Potomac Presbytery to New River and his emailing to PCA Records, together with the filing of the completed Change of Rolls form by New River was sufficient to effect the subject transfer.
Exception: December 4, 2004: Copy of call for called meeting not included with record. BCO 13-11, 13-12
Response: Please excuse our failure to have included this call with the submission of our 2004 minutes.
Exception: General: No record of annual reports by TE’s laboring out of bounds. BCO 8-7
Response: Historically, New River Presbytery has joined in a season of prayer for the churches and reports from teaching elders laboring out of bounds and/or without call as a part of each stated meeting. Unfortunately, no official record was maintained of those elders making such verbal reports. As a result, in response to the noted exception, New River can only supply the enclosed written report submitted to the presbytery by Major [name omitted] who is serving in the chaplaincy.
In order to address this situation it will be recommended to the presbytery at our next stated meeting to amend the Standing Rules to require each teaching elder without call or laboring out of bounds to provide an annual written report to presbytery. The required reports will be presented to presbytery at our scheduled September stated meeting. Until such time as that change takes place, verbal reports will be officially noted in the minutes of New River Presbytery.
Again, New River expresses its apology for this error and will move to correct it immediately.
Adopted

38. That the Minutes of New York State Presbytery:

a. Be approved without exception: June 25, 2005 and September 16-17, 2005
b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery:
   January 15, 2005

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
   Exception: January 15, 2005: No record of man being ordained signing the ministerial obligation. BCO 13-7

d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
   Exception: September 17-18, 2004: No record of congregational consent or dissolution of pastoral relation for a TE dismissed to another presbytery. BCO 23-1

   Response: This is an unfortunate oversight concerning TE [name omitted]. [name omitted] Presbyterian Church consented to his resignation and so reported to presbytery. Presbytery was in full knowledge of TE [name omitted] status with respect to the church and his new ministry. Presbytery minutes neglected to include approval of dissolution of the pastoral relation with the church along with the motion for dismissal to another presbytery. This action was intended in presbytery’s action, but did not get reflected in the minutes.

   Exception: September 17-18, 2004: The directory of TE’s in the presbytery indicates changes in pastoral relations (e.g. TE is pastor of a church within the presbytery different from the one he was pastoring a year previous) while there is no record of presbytery or the congregation voting on the dissolution of the first relationship or approving the call for the second. BCO 22&23

   Response: TE [name omitted] was listed in a different church within New York State Presbytery in the directories submitted with the 2004 and 2005 minutes. The directory submitted with the 2004 minutes was dated after the January 2005 Presbytery meeting where the required matters concerning TE [name omitted] were handled. New York State Presbytery has been submitting the most recent version of its directory with the minutes each year to provide the most recent information. In this case it led to an apparent discrepancy between a TE’s status and actions of presbytery, where the appropriate actions had been taken.

   TE [name omitted] was listed as going from out of bounds to without charge in the directories. The directory change was premature – action was taken in 2005 in this matter.

   Exception: September 17-18, 2004: Presbytery passes a motion to “encourage [a TE who is a member of another presbytery] to move [into a city within the bounds of this presbytery] and begin demographic research...piece together a community profile, establish contacts, start a Bible study/prayer ministry with those contacts and lay the groundwork for a future church planter....” However, there is no evidence that his current presbytery concurs in his work in this regard. BCO 13-2

Response: This is an unusual case in that the TE in question [who is personally known to some members of NYS Presbytery] had indicated his intention to retire from his present (at that time) position and move within the bounds of NYS presbytery to care for his aged parents. He indicated that he intended to seek a transfer when he moved to NYS presbytery. The location where he intended to move was an area under consideration by the presbytery for a church planting effort, and he expressed an interest in participating in church planting in his new location. The motion in question was intended to express NYS presbytery’s support if he chose to go in that direction. Because he would be seeking transfer of presbytery membership and planned to move within the bounds of NYS presbytery for other reasons anyway, NYS presbytery judged that this case would only require approval of his ministry out of their bounds. Apparently sufficient background information was not included in the minutes to make this special situation clear. His existing presbytery understood the situation and was agreeable to a membership transfer should he follow through with his plans.

Exception: September 17-18, 2004: No record of candidate for ordination meeting the educational requirements, being examined in experiential religion, or preparing either of the required papers (exegetical and theological). BCO 21-4 Further, there is mention of approval of a sermon for licensure, but no record that the sermon was submitted in writing and preached before Presbytery. BCO 19-2.d, 21-4.d; RAO 14-3.e.5

Response: The candidate’s sermon was properly preached before presbytery and duly noted in item 9 of the September minutes. That portion of the procedure was in order in the minutes that were reviewed. All of the candidates’ paperwork, educational requirements, the sermon, exams and transcripts, were in hand, so we simply omitted to state it in the minutes.

Exception: September 17-18, 2004: A man is approved for ordination pending receipt of documentation of his internship experience from a church in another PCA presbytery. It is not clear what this entails, but all of the possibilities are constitutionally questionable. If this means he has been an intern in NY State Presbytery, then there should have been reports on his progress at every stated meeting. If he was an intern under another presbytery then documentation from a church is not sufficient. There must be attestation from the other presbytery. If Presbytery’s intent is to approve previous experience as equivalent to the internship then there are some very specific procedures that must be followed (including action at a stated meeting and specific findings by Presbytery’s “internship committee). BCO 19-7, 19-11 thru 13, 19-16

Response: The candidate was an intern in this presbytery, so no other presbytery was involved. His internship was carefully monitored by the leadership committee of presbytery and was completely satisfactory. There was a question outstanding that we felt should be resolved, so we desired to get one more piece of information. Rather than delay things, it was decided to let the commission review this one remaining piece and act on it. This seemed to us to meet all requirements. We will be careful not to get into this situation again.

Exception: September 17-18, 2004: No record of assurance of full freedom to maintain and teach the doctrine of our church for a TE whose call to an out of bounds work was approved by presbytery. BCO 8-7

Response: In this case it was so obvious to NYS Presbytery that the minister in question would have full freedom that notation of this fact was accidentally omitted from the minutes. This is a church that has been in informal discussions with NYC Presbytery about joining the PCA. Their previous minister was a PCA minister, and the one before that OPC.

Exception: General: No annual reports from men laboring out of bounds or from candidates. BCO 8-7, 18-6 Response: Care will be taken to include mention of these reports in presbytery minutes in the future. The Leadership Committee keeps in constant contact with candidates, so they are carefully supervised.

Adopted

Exception: February 13, 2004: No record of TE signing ministerial obligation. BCO 13-7

Exception: May 8, 2004: No record of new licentiate also coming under care being entered onto the roll as a candidate for the ministry. BCO 18-3
Response: Our presbytery respectfully acknowledges and sincerely regrets its oversight that you have noted. Furthermore, we have made efforts to seek that these oversights will not occur again in the future. Adopted

40. That the Minutes of North Georgia Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 15, 2005; April 19, 2005; July 16, 2005; and October 18, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: General: No review of session minutes by presbytery or responses from session to exceptions from presbytery. BCO 40

41. That the Minutes of North Texas Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: February 4-5, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: May 6-7, 2005; June 15, 2005; August 26-27, 2005; November 4-5, 2005; and December 17, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below: None
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: May 7-8, 2004: Copy of call for TE not included in minutes. No record of members for commission established by presbytery. BCO 15-2
      Response: North Texas Presbytery apologizes for failing to include a copy of the call as an attachment to the Minutes which is NTP’s usual procedure. The Chairman of the MRC did read the call to Presbytery and it was approved at the meeting. The Commission to Install was subsequently appointed by the Moderator, at presbytery’s direction, after adjournment with standard quorum being 2&2 per BCO 15-2.
The Minutes should have stated that the commission was subsequently appointed and a quorum set which is also standard operating procedure in the NTP. The NTP apologizes for this omission. However, the NTP takes exception with the Committee’s action in calling this an “exception of substance” rather than of “form.” The CRPR should have noticed that all other minutes reviewed contained the same procedure, that the omission was clerical, and the omission did not indicate an ongoing failure of the SC.

Exception: August 27-28, 2004: Presbytery examined a candidate for coming under care but recorded no outcome of the examination.

Response: The candidate mentioned in ppg 2702 of page 5 was a “no show” for his examination and thus no outcome was recorded. The candidates’ name was erroneously included, (it should have been edited out of the final approved copy) because the SC tries to anticipate the candidates to be examined. Neither the SC nor other members of Presbytery caught this typographical error which rightfully should have been a “notation” and not an exception of substance.

42. That the Minutes of Northern California Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery:
      - February 25-26, 2005 and October 7, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      - Exception: October 7, 2005: No record of 6 month membership requirement. BCO 18-2
      - Exception: October 7, 2005: Incomplete record of examination requirements. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
      - Exception: October 7, 2005: Presbytery approved an invalid call (call was voted on by members of the mission church prior to particularization). BCO 5-11.3; 21-1
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      - Exception: March 12, 2004: No record of presbytery approval of call. BCO 20-1
      - Response: Presbytery agrees with this exception of substance. Presbytery corrects its record to indicate that Presbytery approved the terms of call of TE [name omitted].
      - Exception: March 12, 2004: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
      - Response: Presbytery agrees with this exception of substance. Presbytery corrects its record to indicate that the congregation unanimously released TE [name omitted] at a December 14, 2003 congregational meeting. Presbytery received minutes of that congregational meeting.

Exception: October 8, 2004: No record of presbytery approving call.
BCO 20-1

Response: Presbytery disagrees with this exception of substance. Presbytery already approved the terms of call of TE [name omitted] during the MTW Committee Report, pending his ordination.

Exception: October 8, 2004: No record of TE signing ministerial obligation.
BCO 13-7

Response: Presbytery agrees with this exception of substance. The three men approved for ordination at the meeting all signed the Ministerial Obligation Form.
Adopted

43. That the Minutes of Northern Illinois Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: October 19, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: October 17-18, 2003 and July 26, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:

      Exception: July 22, 2003: Presbytery did not record a man’s change in views. BCO 21-5.2

      Exception: April 11-12, 2005: No record of commission report to ordain and install ruling elders or particularize the church. BCO 5-8 through 11
      Exception: May 25, 2005: No record of licensure sermon being preached. BCO 19-2.d
      Exception: July 26, 2005: No record of congregational action on dissolution of pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
Exception: September 13, 2005: Incomplete record of exam requirements for a transfer. BCO 13-6
d. That the following responses to the 33rd General Assembly be found satisfactory:

Exception: April 23-24, 2004: Minutes do not contain the names of those present at the meeting. RAO 14-3.c.6

Response: I am the third clerk to serve presbytery since that time – I did not have any hardcopy or electronic versions of either of the missing minutes or the record of attendance at the April 2004 meeting. I have contacted the 3 previous clerks who have searched their files and computers to no avail. It appears there is no record – I will endeavor to ensure proper attendance is recorded and that meetings are also recorded.

Exception: General: No minutes submitted for January meeting. BCO 13-11, 40-1, RAO 14-4.a

Response: I am the third clerk to serve presbytery since that time – I did not have any hardcopy or electronic versions of either of the missing minutes or the record of attendance at the April 2004 meeting. I have contacted the 3 previous clerks who have searched their files and computers to no avail. It appears there is no record – I will endeavor to ensure proper attendance is recorded and that meetings are also recorded.

Exception: General: No minutes submitted for August called meeting. BCO 13-11, 40-1, RAO 14-4.a

Response: I am the third clerk to serve presbytery since that time – I did not have any hardcopy or electronic versions of either of the missing minutes or the record of attendance at the April 2004 meeting. I have contacted the 3 previous clerks who have searched their files and computers to no avail. It appears there is no record – I will endeavor to ensure proper attendance is recorded and that meetings are also recorded.

Exception: General: July and October minutes not submitted. BCO 13-11, 40-1, RAO 14-4.a

Response: I have located both sets of these minutes from a previous serving clerk and have submitted them in this package along with a copy of the standing rules as they then existed. All meeting minutes will be submitted on future reviews.

Exception: General: No standing rules submitted. RAO 14-4.c.2

Response: I have located both sets of these minutes from a previous serving clerk and have submitted them in this package along with a copy of the standing rules as they then existed. All meeting minutes will be submitted on future reviews.

That as no response to the 31st GA exceptions was received, this should be submitted to the 33rd GA.

Exception: January 22, 2002: No record of complete licensure exam. BCO 19-5, 6

Response: We concur with the committee’s assessment and will endeavor to provide a complete record of subsequent examinations in the minutes. Adopted

44. That the Minutes of Northern New England Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: April 16, 2005 and July 16, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 15, 2005; May 28, 2005; and October 15, 2005
   c. Be approved with exception of substance stated below:
      Exception: November 19, 2005: Incomplete record of examination for ordination. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: July 17, 2004: No record of student supply being licensed. BCO 18-5 Response: This exception refers to item 8 of those minutes and we agree with the committee’s finding. The Northern New England Presbytery erred in bringing a man on the field before he was licensed to preach. While assisting the mission church, the man mentioned was under close supervision of the presbytery governing commission and he has since been licensed and ordained as an evangelist in our presbytery. We have taken care to not repeat the error of bringing a man on the field in anticipation of his successfully completing his licensure or ordination exams.
   c. That the following response to the 33rd GA exception be found satisfactory:
      Exception: January 18, 2003: No copy of appeal attached to minutes. BCO 40-2
      Response: We respectfully disagree. The reasoning for this exception by the CRPR was that neither they nor the SJC can properly do their jobs (BCO 40-2) if this is not part of the minutes. The appeal was ruled out of order by our presbytery and was regarded as so by the Stated Clerk of GA. As such, there was no appeal to attach.
      Rationale: Wording in BCO 42-4 for filing appeal with supporting reasons is mandatory (i.e. “shall”) with the clerk of both the lower and the higher court. A filed appeal should be part of the record.
RAO 14-3.e.7

Response: We noted in our previous response that we disagreed because the appeal was ruled out of order and consequently there was no appeal to attach. At our January 21, 2006 stated meeting, the Presbytery MSC to amend item 20 of the January 18, 2003 presbytery minutes by adding the following sentence to the end of that section: The document dated October 28, 2002 styled as an appeal by [name omitted] but not accepted as such by the presbytery is appended as attachment #1. The revised minutes of the January 18, 2003 meeting with attachment are included with this letter.

45. That the Minutes of Ohio Valley Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 14, 2005; May 6, 2005; and October 14, 2005
   c. Be approved with exception of substance:
      Exception: January 14, 2005: No record of congregational action on dissolution of pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
      Exception: January 14, 2005; May 6, 2005; and October 14, 2005: No record of TE signing ministerial obligation form. BCO 13-7
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: July 31, 2004: No record of TE signing ministerial obligation form. BCO 13-7
      Response: OVP respectfully notes our failure to have teaching elders sign ministerial obligation forms on July 31, 2004 and October 9, 2004, will obtain the appropriate signatures, and be more careful with this item in the future.
      Exception: October 9, 2004: No record of TE’s exceptions. BCO 21-4
      Response: OVP respectfully notes that the October 9, 2004 Minutes indicate that the licentiate “stated he has had no change in his exceptions since licensure”, and that the candidate was licensed on May 8, 2004 and those minutes do record his exceptions being considered and allowed. However, OVP will be more careful to include a citation in the Minutes to connect these two actions for the sake of more careful documentation.

46. That the Minutes of Pacific Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 11, 2005; January 25, 2005; May 7, 2005; September 24, 2005; October 20, 2005 and December 1, 2005.

c. Be approved with exception of substance:
   Exception: January 25, 2005: No record that the procedure of BCO 34-10 was followed before the action was taken to divest.
   Exception: January 25, 2005; May 7, 2005 and December 1, 2005: No copy of call in minutes. BCO 20-7.6
   Exception: January 25, 2005; May 7, 2005 and September 24, 2005: Commission minutes not included. BCO 15-1
   Exception: May 7, 2005: (second consecutive citation) No record on congregational vote to approve dissolution of call. BCO 22-4, 23-1
   Exception: September 24, 2005: Candidate – no session endorsement, no mention of 6 month membership requirement, and no record of charge given. Internship procedure not followed. BCO 18-2, 18-3, and 19-10
   Exception: December 1, 2005: Purpose not stated for called meeting. RAO 14-03.c.1
   Exception: December 1, 2005: No record of ministerial obligation form signed. BCO 13-7 Exception: December 1, 2005 (second consecutive citation): No record of Commission quorum being set. BCO 15-2

d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
   Exception: General: No annual reports of candidates and interns. BCO 18-6, 19-12
   Response: We always have an annual report from our candidates and interns, and apparently the Stated Clerk failed to include this report in the minutes. We will be more diligent about including this in the future. We apologize for this error.
   Exception: General: No annual report of TEs laboring out of bounds. BCO 8.7
   Response: We always receive an annual report from each TE laboring out of bounds, and apparently the Stated Clerk failed to include this report in the minutes. We will be more diligent about including in the future. We apologize for this error.
   Exception: General: No record of men approved for ordination signing ministerial obligation form. BCO 13-7 Response: We agree that have failed to have these men sign this form. We regret the error and apologize for it. We will have all TEs in Pacific Presbytery sign new ministerial obligation form at our Stated Meeting on May 6, 2006.

Exception: General: No record of sessional records reviewed.
BCO 13-9b, 40-1

Response: We agree that we failed to make a record of the Presbytery’s review of these records. We apologize for the error. We will be more diligent to include this information in the minutes in the future.

Exception: General: No record of copy of call in minutes. BCO 20-1, 6

Response: We agree that we failed to include a copy of all calls in our minutes. We apologize for the error. We have copies of all of the referenced calls in our files.

Exception: General: No record of powers of evangelist being established. BCO 8-6

Response: Pacific Presbytery has only appointed these men as evangelists under the first sentence of BCO 8-6, “When a teaching elder is appointed to the work of an evangelist, he is commissioned to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments in foreign countries or the destitute parts of the Church.” No other powers were intended to be established at this time. We believe the minutes as written are accurate.

Exception: January 27, 2004: Commission minutes not included. BCO 15-1

Response: These commission minutes were unintentionally omitted from the January 27, 2004 minutes. We apologize for the error. The commission minutes are attached to this letter, and they have been attached to the January 27, 2004 minutes.

Exception: January 27, 2004: Insufficient quorum established for a commission to install. BCO 15-2

Response: We have reviewed BCO 15-2, and agree that we were in error to establish a quorum of one TE and one RE for this commission. We apologize for the error. However, we would like to respectfully point out that the minutes of the commission to ordain and install [name omitted] show that three TEs and two REs were actually present for this event, in accordance with BCO 15-2.

Exception: May 1, 2004: Commission minutes not included. BCO 15-1

Response: We agree, and we apologize for the error. These commission minutes were included in our meeting minutes for September 25, 2004.
Exception: July 8, 2004: Record of exam requirements incomplete. BCO 19-2
Response: We do not understand this exception. Minutes from July 8, 2004 show that Pacific Presbytery examined TE [name omitted] for admission to the presbytery and to be the pastor at [name omitted] Presbyterian Church. The exception cites BCO 19-2, but our examination shows that BCO 19-2 concerns examination for licensure and thus inapplicable to the examination of TE. TE was previously a member of PCA Southeast Louisiana Presbytery. We believe our examination of him was appropriate.

Exception: July 8: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 22-4, 23-1
Response: We agree that no record of a congregational meeting to dissolve this pastoral relationship is contained in the minutes. My recollection of the meeting is that the congregation unanimously approved this action. We apologize for this omission, and we will be more diligent to include this information in our minutes in the future.

Exception: September 25, 2004: No record of commission minutes to ordain candidate. BCO 15-1, 2; RAO 14.3.e.4
Response: We apologize for this omission. Minutes from the Commission to Ordain and Install TE on March 29, 2004, are attached to this letter.

Exception: September 25, 2004: No record of session endorsement of a candidate. BCO 18-2 Response: We have reviewed BCO 18-2 regarding this endorsement, and we agree that we have been inattentive to this requirement. We apologize for this error. We will be more diligent to ascertain and include the appropriate session endorsements in the future.

Exception: September 25, 2004: No record of presbytery allowing candidate’s exceptions. BCO 21-4 Response: We have reviewed BCO 21-4, and we agree that we did not record the presbytery’s approval of this candidate’s exceptions. We apologize for the error. We will review these exceptions and record our actions at our meeting on May 6, 2006.

Exception: October 26, 2004: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 22-4, 23-1
Response: TE resigned from [name omitted] Church, which is an unpaticularized mission church in Pacific Presbytery. We do not believe that a congregational meeting to dissolve the pastoral relationship was required in this case. We would be happy to be instructed in this matter, if we are in error.
Exception: January 28, 2003: No record of required 4/5 vote of congregation and ¾ vote of presbytery. BCO 23-1

Response: We agree that these minutes do not reflect this requirement. We apologize for the error. We will address this issue in a future meeting if you so desire.

Exception: General: No review of sessional records. BCO 13-9.b

Response: We agree that we have omitted the recording of our review of sessional records. We apologize for the error. We will be more diligent to record this review in the future.

That the following response to the 33rd General Assembly be found satisfactory, noting the original exception appears to have been an editorial error on the part of the Committee.

Exception: February 23, 2003: Record indicates that TE was reordained. BCO 17-2, 21-9

Response: The Stated Clerk has no record of minutes on this date. We would never reordain a TE, and thus the minutes you refer to must be in error. We apologize for this error, and we will be more diligent with the minutes in the future.

That the following responses to the 33rd General Assembly be found unsatisfactory, noting the Presbytery’s gracious response and offering the following in answer to their questions.

Exception: September 25, 2004: Record of exam requirements incomplete. BCO 21-4; RAO 14.3.e.5, 7

Response: We are unsure what elements of the exam requirements are missing. [name omitted] was previously licensed by PCA South Coast Presbytery, and that is apparently why these minutes do not reflect every element of the exam required by BCO 21-4. We would be happy to be instructed as to what is missing.

Response of the 34th General Assembly: The following aspects of the trials for ordination are not referenced in the relevant minutes: evidence of education requirements, evidence of completed internship, examination in original languages, theological paper, exegetical paper, and preaching of a sermon before Presbytery. For the sake of clarity, we also note that the minutes reflect that the previous licensure was by Pacific Presbytery, not by South Coast Presbytery as noted in the response.

Exception: September 25, 2004: No charge or motion to enter candidate on roll.

Response: We were not aware of a requirement for this. We believe that motions to approve a candidate’s examination, to approve him for ordination, and to approve his call in our presbytery amounted to the candidate’s membership in our presbytery. We would be happy to be instructed on this matter, if we are in error. No BCO citation is included with this exception for our examination.

Response of the 34th General Assembly: BCO 18-3 requires a charge to the candidate and that his name be recorded on the Presbytery’s roll of candidates for the ministry. Adopted

47. That the Minutes of Pacific Northwest Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 7, 2005; April 22, 2005 and October 14, 2005
   c. Be approved with exception of substance stated below:
      Exception: January 7, 2005: The record does not indicate that a candidate under care submitted an application to the Stated Clerk one month prior to the Stated Meeting or that he satisfied the 6 month membership requirement. BCO 18-2
      Exception: April 22, 2005: No mention of sessional endorsement or 6 month membership requirement. BCO 18-2 Exception: January 7, 2005: The record indicates that Presbytery received the resignation of a TE and dissolved the pastoral relationship without recording that the congregation met to dissolve the pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exception be found satisfactory.
      Exception: January 9, 2004: Approved TE’s call prior to congregation being particularized. BCO 5-11.3
      Response: Presbytery did not understand the burden of the exception taken and has been in conversation with the Review Committee. Upon the recommendation of the Committee, Presbytery respectfully disagrees with the exception as the Review Committee itself now believes Presbytery acted according to the BCO.
      Exception: April 23, 2004: No record of pastor being asked installation questions. BCO 21-5
      Response: Presbytery acknowledges this error and assures the committee that it was an error of reporting only.
      Exception: April 23, 2004: No record of session endorsement stating candidate has been a member of PCA congregation for six months. BCO 18-2
      Response: Presbytery acknowledges this error and assures the committee that it was an error of reporting only.
      Exception: April 23, 2004: Quorum not set for judicial commission. BCO 15-2

Response: Presbytery acknowledges this error and assures the committee that it was an error of reporting only.

Exception: October 1, 2004: No record of examination in original languages. BCO 21-4

Response: Presbytery acknowledges the error and reports that the ordinand’s seminary degree was accepted in lieu of examination in the original languages. This fact should have been reported.

That the following response to the 33rd GA exception be found satisfactory recognizing that Presbytery took its action pending the action of the particularized congregation.

Exception: January 9, 2004: Approved TE’s call prior to congregation being particularized. BCO 5-11.3

Response: Presbytery did not understand the burden of the exception taken and has been in conversation with the Review Committee. Upon the recommendation of the Committee, Presbytery respectfully disagrees with the exception as the Review Committee itself now believes Presbytery acted according to the BCO.

That the following lack of responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found unsatisfactory and request presbytery to respond to the 35th GA.

Exception: January 9, 2004: No record of session endorsement stating candidate has been a member of PCA congregation for six months. BCO 18-2

Exception: October 1, 2004: No record of quorum being present. BCO 15-2

Adopted

48. That the Minutes of Palmetto Presbytery:

      Exception: July 28, 2005: No record of dissolution of pastoral relationship or why the pulpit was declared vacant. BCO 23-1
      Exception: April 28, 2005: No record of exam in the original languages. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-03.c.5
      Exception: July 28, 2005: No record of call, reason for delay of exam, where TE is to serve, or his credentials. BCO 20-6, 13-6
Exception: October 27, 2005: The Presbytery resolved to reopen the judicial case concerning TE who had been previously deposed and had been assigned to membership of a congregation. BCO 31-1, 33-1

d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
Exception: January 22, 2004: Commission to examine RE’s-elect had only one TE. BCO 15-2
Response: This was truly an oversight by the Committee, Commission, Pastor, and newly formed church. We’ll try not make this mistake in the future.
Exception: April 22, 2004: No record of congregational meeting prior to dissolution of pastoral relation. BCO 23-1 Response: This was a typographical error and has now been corrected.

Adopted

49. That the Minutes of Philadelphia Presbytery:

Adopted

50. That the Minutes of Piedmont Triad Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: January 15, 2005; April 16, 2005; July 16, 2005; and October 15, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: January 17, 2004: No record of candidate for coming under care met requirements of BCO 18-2 & 3 including: PCA membership, examination by presbytery, and affirmation of constitutional questions.
      Response: Presbytery concurs with General Assembly that it erred in failing to note that the specifics of BCO 12-2, 3 were met. Presbytery assures General Assembly that the requirements of BCO 13-2, 3 were met in bringing the candidate under care of Presbytery and has corrected its minutes to reflect such.
MINUTES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Exception: March 18, 2004: No record of proper call for called meeting. Call is not recorded verbatim. BCO 13-12; RAO 14-3.c.1

Response: Presbytery concurs that it erred in not recording the call verbatim and will endeavor to do so in the future. Adopted

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required. Adopted

52. That the Minutes of Potomac Presbytery:

a. Be approved without exception: January 25, 2005; March 19, 2005; August 23, 2005; September 20, 2005; and October 20, 2005
b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None

53. That the Minutes of Rocky Mountain Presbytery:

b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None
c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
d. That the following response to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:

Exception: September 23, 2004: No record of candidates for ordination having been under care or having completed an approved internship. BCO 18-2; 19-7

Response: Presbytery agrees with the exception and promises to be more careful in the future. We acknowledge our failure in recording their internships and status under care. It is however, unclear which candidate or candidates the Review Committee is referring to. Adopted

54. That the Minutes of Savannah River Presbytery:

a. Be approved without exception: April 19, 2005; July 15-16, 2005; October 18, 2005; December 18, 2005

55. That the Minutes of Siouxlands Presbytery:

a. Be approved without exception: January 21-22, 2005; April 27-28, 2005; and September 22-23, 2005

b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None

d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:

Exception: January 23-24, 2004: No record of 2/3 vote to divest TE without censure. BCO 34-1

Response: The action taken by presbytery was to inform the subject(s) of an impending action contemplated by presbytery. It was the prayer of the presbytery that the subject(s) would reconsider their position and remain in the pastorate. Divestiture, should it occur, would happen at a future presbytery meeting.

Exception: September 23-24, 2004: No record of presbytery concluding divestiture proceedings begun in the previous meeting. BCO 34-10

Response: No action was taken by presbytery because it was waiting for the subject(s) to respond to the January 23-24, 2004 plea. We acknowledge our aforementioned errors; Siouxlands Presbytery assures General Assembly of our intention to follow BCO 15-2, BCO 18-2, and BCO 34-1 with great diligence and record precisely and coherently the results of all Siouxlands Presbytery activities.

That the following response to the 33rd GA exceptions be found unsatisfactory. Rationale: A telephone conference call does not obviate the requirement of 2 REs for quorum.

Exception: January 23-24, 2004: Commission of presbytery met with only one RE, failing to achieve a quorum. BCO 15-2

Response: This commission of presbytery meeting was a telephone conference call. The subsequent minutes of the meeting were distributed to the commission members for review, comment, and approval before submittal to presbytery. Adopted

56. That the Minutes of South Coast Presbytery:

a. Be approved without exception: September 17, 2005
b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 22, 2005

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
   - Exception: General: Minutes not signed by clerk (second consecutive occurrence). RAO 14-03.c.4
   - Exception: January 22, 2005 and April 23, 2005: Record of examination of candidate [name] for ordination is incomplete – no record of examination in the knowledge of Hebrew and Greek nor the acceptance of a seminary degree in lieu of an oral exam. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
   - Exception: April 23, 2005: Presbytery received Rock Foundation Church as a mission “work” under the oversight of the Committee on Mission to North America no record of establishing a temporary system of government. BCO 5-3

d. That as no responses to the 33rd GA were received, these should be submitted to the 35th GA:
   - Exception: General: No directory, roll, list of candidates and licentiates, or Standing Rules. RAO 14-4.c
   - Exception: General: No record of annual reports from candidates (or their instructors, if in seminary). BCO 18-6

57. That the Minutes of South Texas Presbytery:

   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: None

      - Exception: General: No annual report on candidates or reports on interns at each stated meeting. This was also cited last year. BCO 18-6, BCO 19-12

   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      - Exception: October 29-30, 2004: Portion of minutes missing. RAO 14-4.a
      - Response: Presbytery concurs with this exception. Stated Clerk will be more careful in reviewing submissions in the future to ensure all pages are included.
      - Exception: General: No annual report of candidates. BCO 18-6
      - Response: Presbytery concurs with this exception. Candidates report to the Presbytery Candidates and Credentials committees, but the Committee did not submit a formal report to the Presbytery. Instead, the Committee relied upon periodic floor examinations of the candidates to fulfill this requirement.

Exception: General: No reports from interns. BCO 19-12

Response: Presbytery concurs with this exception.

Adopted

58. That the Minutes of Southeast Alabama Presbytery:

a. Be approved without exception: None

b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 25, 2006; April 26, 2005; October 25, 2005; and December 5, 2005.

c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:

Exception: January 25, 2005: No record of candidate [name] having session endorsement or 6 month membership requirement. BCO 18-2

Exception: January 25, 2005; October 25, 2005; and December 4, 2005: No record of compliance with BCO 23-1 in dissolution of pastoral relationship of TE [name].

Exception: April 26, 2005: No record of compliance with BCO 21-4.b and 21-4.c in exam of candidate.

Exception: April 26, 2005 and October 25, 2005: No record that Shepherding committee was vested with authority to act as a commission. BCO 15-1

d. That as no responses to the 33rd GA were received, these should be submitted to the 35th GA:

Exception: January 27, 2004: No jurisdiction for presbytery to vote on church bylaws.

Exception: January 27, 2004: No record of call for TE’s. BCO 20-1

Exception: February 24: Purpose of called meeting not recorded. RAO 14.3.c.1

Exception: October 26, 2004: No record of exam in church history. BCO 21-4

Exception: December 14, 2004: Purpose of called meeting not recorded. RAO 14.3.c.1

Adopted

59. That the Minutes of Southeast Louisiana Presbytery:

a. Be approved without exception: None

b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 22, 2005; April 23, 2005; July 23, 2005; October 1, 2005; October 22, 2005; and December 3, 2005

c. Be approved with exception of substance stated below:

Exception: July 23, 2005 and October 10, 2005: No Sessional recommendation is recorded in minutes for candidates [name], [name] or [name]. BCO 18-2
That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:

Exception: July 24, 2004: No record of pastoral relation dissolved for a TE dismissed from presbytery. BCO 13-9, 23-1

Response: Although the Admin. Com. Minutes mentioned the resignation letter and congregational meeting minutes were attached to the Com. Minutes, the Com. Failed to record its recommendation for acceptance of the dissolution. The Presbytery did in fact approve it but it was not recorded. SE Louisiana agrees with the Review Committee and will make every effort not to make the same error again.

Exception: General: No record of annual reports from TE’s laboring out of bounds. BCO 8-7

Response: As the Review Committee reader points out, two out of bounds TE’s were present for at least one meeting and could have reported then. In fact, they did during the Presbytery praise and prayer time held during every stated meeting. In the future they will be reported in the minutes. Concerning the third TE, he and his ministry make four reports to our Missions Committee a year, of which two are read to Presbytery. They more than suffice for annual reports. The fourth TE made his report to Presbytery in July and was recorded in the Minutes of July 23, 2005 during Prayer time.

   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 15, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
Exception: January 15, 2005: No record of congregational meeting to dissolve pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
   Exception: January 17, 2004: No record of sermon preached to presbytery for ordination candidate. BCO 21-4.d; RAO 14-3.e.5
   Response: The January meeting of the SNEP was originally called to be at Bethel Presbyterian Church in Marlborough, MA; due to extremely cold January, the pipes in the building were frozen and there was no heat. So the meeting was moved to Christ the King Presbyterian Church in Cambridge. Things were somewhat confused to begin with. Also, this was the first meeting for the new clerk (me). [name omitted] preached a sermon from Revelation 5:9-14 immediately before his oral examination on the floor of presbytery. This was not noted in the minutes.
   Exception: January 17, 2004: No record of election of stated clerk. BCO 10-4 Response: We actually recognized this error on our own and rectified it at the May 22, 2005 Stated Meeting.
   Exception: May 22, 2004: No record of approving theology exam and stated differences with PCA standards for a candidate for ordination. BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5
   Response: The minutes could be somewhat confusing in this regard, and for this, the clerk apologizes. [name omitted] theology exam was not approved at the May 22, 2005 meeting, but rather the September 17-18 meeting, where he was approved by the presbytery for ordination. This is in the minutes of the September 17-18 meeting. As far as his exceptions are concerned, these are not listed in the minutes of either meeting and this was an oversight.
   Exception: September 17-18, 2004: Presbytery calls a TE to be an assistant pastor at a university not a church. BCO 22-3
   Response: At the September 17-18, 2004 meeting, the SNEP called its first two “Presbytery-affiliated RUF Ministers,” [names omitted]. The calls for these two men were not included with the minutes (an oversight) and this has likely cleared up the confusion.
   Exception: September 17-18, 2004: No record of call to RUF Campus minister.
   Response: At the September 17-18, 2004 meeting, the SNEP called its first two “Presbytery-affiliated RUF Ministers,” [names omitted]. The calls for these two men were not included with the minutes (an oversight) and this has likely cleared up the confusion.
Exception: September 17-18, 2004: No record of examination of church polity and history of PCA for ordination candidate.
Response: [name omitted] was examined in church polity and history during the meeting and this examination was sustained by the Presbytery. This was not recorded in the minutes due to an oversight by the clerk and he respectfully apologizes.

      Exception: January 17, 2004: No record of congregational meeting to concur with the dissolution of the pastoral relation. BCO 23-1
      Response: We have been assured that such a vote was taken and we will seek to keep better records in the future.
      Exception: November 9, 2004: No record of congregational meeting to concur with the dissolution of pastoral relation. BCO 23-1
      Response: We have been assured that such a vote was taken and we will seek to keep better records in the future.
      Exception: General: No annual reports of our candidates and interns. BCO 18-6 Response: We recognize our failure to keep required BCO mandates, we humbly seek forgiveness and will strengthen our reporting requirements.
Exception: General: No reports from interns. BCO 19-12
Response: We recognize our failure to keep our candidates and interns producing the required BCO mandates, we humbly seek forgiveness and will strengthen our reporting requirements.

Response: Thank you for bringing this matter to our attention, we shall be faithful in having the obligation form signed by all Teaching Elders within our Presbytery.

Adopted

64. That the Minutes of Sun Coast Florida Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: June 29, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: October 12, 2004: A man is examined for ordination and portions of the trials are waived with a reference to BCO 21-4. If this is intended to waive the parts on the basis of a previous licensure exam, the previous exam should be referenced. BCO 19-2, 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: October 12, 2004: The minutes note the exceptions of a man coming for ordination but there is no evidence that Presbytery dealt with the exceptions. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: October 12, 2004: Transfer of ordination exam appears to be missing elements. BCO 13-5, 6
      Exception: January 15, 2005: Minutes record a man having 3 exceptions, but only 1 is recorded and Presbytery does not act on the exceptions. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: July 23, 2005: The call for the meeting is not recorded verbatim in the minutes. This is especially important because a judicial matter is being considered. RAO 14-03.c.1
   d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.
      Adopted

65. That the Minutes of Susquehanna Valley Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: February 19, 2005 and May 21, 2005

   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance: None
   d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies is required.
      Adopted
66. That the Minutes of Tennessee Valley Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: October 11, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 8, 2005; April 16, 2005 and July 12, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: January 8, 2005: No record of candidate’s response when asked to state differences with the Westminster Standards. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: January 8, 2005: Call for assistant pastor missing in entirety. BCO 20-1
      Exception: January 8, 2005 and April 16, 2005: No record of 6 month requirement for candidates. BCO 18-2
      Exception: April 16, 2005: Motion regarding exemption of executive session minutes of church sessions from review by Presbytery is contrary to Robert’s Rules of Order as reflected in RAO 14-3.e.6.
      Exception: April 16, 2005: The minutes of executive session are to be presented for review. RAO 14-3.e.6
      Exception: April 16, 2005: No record of dissolution of pastoral relation or congregational action to dissolve. BCO 23-1
      Exception: April 16, 2005: Commission to organize approved with only one TE and no setting of quorum. BCO 15-1
      Exception: April 16, 2005: Call for assistant pastor missing in entirety. BCO 20-1
      Exception: July 12, 2005: [name]’s examination recorded in terms of licensure exams instead of ordination. Unclear if he was properly examined for ordination. No record of questioning of exceptions to Standards. BCO 21-04, RAO 14-3.e.5
      Exception: Appendix B: No presiding member selected by commission and therefore questions not posed by presiding members. BCO 21-5.6
      Exception: Appendix A: Installation commission report contains no reference to sermon, reading of Word, other elements of worship, or constitutional questions. BCO 21-7
   d. That the following response to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: July 13, 2004: No record of dissolving pastoral relations of resigning TE’s. BCO 23-1 Response: I am afraid this resulted from a misunderstanding; namely since TVP’s Pastoral Care Committee is “to act as a commission of presbytery in dissolving pastoral relations.” I’d assumed that the record of their unanimous recommendation was sufficient. I understand the potential problems and will endeavor to obtain a copy of the formal meetings in which their relationships were dissolved.

Adopted

67. That the Minutes of Warrior Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: July 26, 2005 and September 9, 2005
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: January 18, 2005 and April 19, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance:
      Exception: January 18, 2005: No record of congregational meeting for dissolution of pastoral relationship. BCO 23-1
      Exception: January 18, 2005 and April 19, 2005: No record of 6 month membership. BCO 18-2 Exception: October 18, 2005: No record of educational requirements being met for candidates. BCO 21-4, RAO 14-3.e.5
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exception be found satisfactory:
      Exception: September 22, 2004: Pastoral relation dissolved without record of required congregational meeting. BCO 23-1
      Response: The CRPR is correct in citing this exception. It should have been entered in the record of the called meeting. The required congregational meeting in fact took place (August 15, 2004).
      Exception: October 19, 2004: TE empowered as an evangelist within the bounds of presbytery not a “destitute part of the Church.” BCO 8-6 Response: Warrior Presbytery will stand by its appointment of the TE as Presbytery Evangelist due to the varied nature of the assignment he has been given. The task assigned to the TE has included exploring possible church planting options, advising and otherwise working with churches with vacant pulpits, and pursuing the revitalization of some of the small and waning congregations that exist within presbytery bounds. Since this last item of responsibility does involve said TE in dealing with some possibly “destitute” situations we do not think it was out of order to give him such a title. If CRPR thinks our opinion is misguided we are open to any wisdom and advice that you may wish to provide.
      Exception: General: No annual reports from men serving out of bounds. BCO 8-7 Response: CRPR is correct in citing this exception. When the current stated clerk of presbytery came into office there was no evident standard practice on this requirement. The Administrative Committee of Warrior Presbytery will devise a schedule as to when such reports ought to be due.

Exception: General: No annual reports from candidates. BCO 18-6

Response: Warrior Presbytery does in fact hear reports from candidates under care at our January stated meeting each year. The minutes of the 121st Stated Meeting of Warrior Presbytery (January 20, 2004), Section 27981, Membership Committee indicates the receiving of reports from two candidates under care.

That the following lack of responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found unsatisfactory and request presbytery to respond to the 35th GA.

Exception: General: No record of action by presbytery regarding sessions that did not submit minutes. BCO 40-1

No Response

e. That the following responses to the 31st GA be found satisfactory:

Exception: May 30, 2002: Called meeting requested by only two TEs and two REs instead of three TEs and REs. BCO 13-12

Response: CRPR is correct in citing this exception. As such an error cannot be corrected at this point, the presbytery through its current clerk will make all due effort to see that calls for called meetings are properly issued according to BCO requirements and our own presbytery bylaws.

Exception: August 27, 2002: Candidate for ordination not examined in original languages. BCO 21-4.a.2 and RAO 14-3.e.7 Also, no record of ordinand’s signing ministerial obligation book. BCO 13-7

Response: It is the practice of Warrior Presbytery to accept an ordination candidate’s grade record of acceptable performance from his seminary of graduation in lieu of exams in the original languages. That was the action of the presbytery and should have been duly recorded in the minutes. We apologize for this oversight and will make all due effort to see that all the details of ordination exams are duly recorded in our minutes in the future. Presbytery did fail to have the candidate sign the Book of Ministerial Obligation. The oversight was later discovered by the current clerk. The then TE did sign the BMO at the stated meeting of the presbytery on April 20, 2004.

Exception: October 15, 2002: No record of completion of academic requirements. BCO 21-4 and RAO 14-3.e.5

Response: Under Section 27878 “Membership Committee” the record does refer to the accepting of the candidate’s seminary degree in lieu of an exam in the original languages. Therefore, that academic requirement was recognized in the exam. However, as the minutes do not specifically state that the candidate presented presbytery with a record of his college and seminary degrees, we stand corrected for not specifying this requirement. The Membership Committee of Warrior Presbytery shall be requested to clearly state before presbytery that a candidate for ordination has provided such record of academic accomplishment in all future examinations for ordination in this presbytery. We shall be sure to record such in the minutes of our proceedings.

Exception: October 15, 2002: No record of ¾ vote to approve preaching before committee. BCO 21-4.d

Response: BCO 21-4.d allows for preaching the ordination sermon before presbytery or its committee. Section 27862 of the October 15, 2002 minutes clearly states that the candidate preached his ordination sermon during the worship service of presbytery at the stated meeting. Therefore the candidate fulfilled the requirement for preaching the sermon. CRPR is correct in noting that minutes do not state that the sermon was approved by a ¾ vote. They merely state that the sermon along with other requirements were approved. That would only assume a simple majority vote. As it is too late in time to correct the record, we shall in the future be sure that the required action of the ¾ vote for ordination sermons be recorded in the minutes or Warrior Presbytery.

Exception: October 15, 2002: No record of PCA history exam. BCO 21-4.a.7

Response: The normal procedure of the Membership Committee is to examine in PCA history as part of the church history exam in the committee and on the floor of presbytery as well. We are certain that the candidate was examined in PCA history as well as general church history. Again, as it would be too involved to change minutes already reviewed by both presbytery and the Assembly CRPR, we can only say that this requirement will be specified in future ordination exams in Warrior Presbytery.

That the following responses to the 30th GA be found satisfactory:

Exception: April 17, 2001: Incomplete record of exam elements. BCO 21-4.a.2

Response: At the October 19, 2004 stated meeting of Warrior Presbytery, the Membership Committee dealt with these exceptions.

Exception: April 17, 2001: Incomplete record of exam elements. BCO 21-4.b, c; RAO 14-3.e.5
Response: At the October 19, 2004 stated meeting of Warrior Presbytery, the Membership Committee dealt with these exceptions.

Exception: General: No intern reports at any stated meeting.
BCO 19-12

Response: At the October 19, 2004 stated meeting of Warrior Presbytery, the Membership Committee dealt with these exceptions. The current clerk apologizes to the presbytery and to the 33rd GA that this response was not forwarded in due time for the General Assembly as it should have been. We again note that specific record of presbytery actions in regard to ordination candidates is vitally important, and we will make every effort to provide a clear record in all future minutes.

Adopted

68. That the Minutes of Western Carolina Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: April 12, 2005

   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: May 3, 2005: Standing Rules provide for suspension of SR upon ¾ vote. Standing Rule 1.5 prohibits a committee member from serving as moderator. Moderator was a committee member and variance was noted but no vote to suspend rules was recorded. SR 2-3
      Exception: May 3, 2005: Dissolution of pastoral relation of TE [name] without record of resignation or congregational concurrence or other proper procedure. BCO 23-1

      Exception: August 6, 2005: Commissions to install teaching elders [name] and [name] were appointed without establishing a quorum. BCO 15-1, 15-2
   d. That the following responses to the 33rd GA exceptions be found satisfactory:
      Exception: February 28, 2004: No record of congregational meeting prior to dissolution of pastoral relation. BCO 23-1
      Response: The congregational meeting to concur in the dissolution of the pastoral relation did occur. We acknowledge our failure to record the fact.
      Exception: October 7, 2004: No record of proper call for called meeting.
      Response: We acknowledge our failure to include the call.
Exception: November 12, 2004: No record of PCA membership and session endorsement for candidate coming under care. BCO 18-2

Response: [name omitted] at the time of his coming under care had been a member in good standing of [name omitted] Presbyterian Church and had been endorsed by its Session. We regret our failure to record those facts. Adopted

69. That the Minutes of Westminster Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: August 9, 2005

   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: January 8, 2005: Candidate [name]: no motion or vote to receive and no record no sessional recommendation or 6 month membership requirement is recorded. BCO 18-2

70. That the Minutes of Wisconsin Presbytery:
   a. Be approved without exception: None
   b. Be approved with exceptions of form reported to presbytery: October 8, 2005
   c. Be approved with exceptions of substance stated below:
      Exception: October 8, 2005: No record of session endorsement or 6 month membership. BCO 18.2
   d. No response to the 33rd GA or previous assemblies required. Adopted

IV. GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the 34th General Assembly thank Dr. Roy Taylor, Kim Skipper, Kristin Zeller, and the entire Stated Clerk’s office, for their outstanding help and support of the Committee on Review of Presbytery Records. Adopted

2. That the 34th General Assembly commend every Presbytery and Stated Clerk who submitted minutes for their hard and important work in the recording of Presbytery minutes. Adopted

3. That the 34th General Assembly commend TE Brad Bresson, TE Larry Doughan, TE Todd Gothard, RE Kevin Nichols, and TE John Kelley for their long hours of diligent work and their excellent leadership as officers of the CRPR. Adopted

4. That the 34th General Assembly note with gratitude that all seven Korean language presbyteries submitted minutes this year and that there were representatives on the CRPR from each of those presbyteries. We are thankful for the insights those brothers brought to the Committee. Special thanks are due to TE Paul Walker for his diligent effort in contacting and encouraging representatives of the Korean presbyteries to serve on this committee.

5. With gratitude to God for the reception of minutes from our Korean brothers, as well as their full participation in the RPR Committee, we recommend the General Assembly excuse the Korean presbyteries from responding to exceptions of Assemblies prior to the 34th General Assembly. However, we instruct each Korean presbytery to respond to the 35th General Assembly to past exceptions which they consider to be of a serious constitutional nature.

6. That the 34th General Assembly remind Presbyteries of the following Constitutional requirements that some Presbyteries appear not to be meeting (or are not specific in recording in their minutes).

a. Evidence of six (6) month church membership and sessional endorsement for a man coming under care (BCO 18-2).
b. Evidence that all portions of requirements of trials for licensure and ordination have been accomplished (BCO 19-2, 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5).
c. Evidence that examinees were asked to state any exceptions (i.e., “specific instances in which he may differ with the Confession of Faith and Catechisms”) and that Presbytery acted to grant or not grant any such exceptions. (BCO 21-4; RAO 14-3.e.5) We further note that the RAO change adopted by the 34th General Assembly establishes a specific mechanism for presbyteries’ recording their responses to exceptions. This will have to be reflected in future minutes.
d. Evidence that dissolutions of calls were properly handled; in particular, that the congregation (or session, depending on the nature of the pastoral relationship) responded or had opportunity to respond to the proposed dissolution (BCO 23-1), and that the procedure in BCO 20-10 was followed when a congregation desires “to call a pastor from his charge.”
e. Evidence that Presbytery has made record of its reasons for considering a call coming from a source other than “a church, Presbytery, or the General Assembly of this denomination, to be a valid Christian ministry” (BCO 20-1), and that the required assurances of BCO 8-7 are obtained for calls coming from organizations outside the jurisdiction of the PCA.
f. Required annual reports from candidates (BCO 18-6); reports on every intern at each stated meeting and annual reports from interns (BCO 19-12); and annual reports from TEs whose calls are from organizations outside the jurisdiction of the Presbyterian Church in America (BCO 8-7).

g. Commissions must have at least the minimum membership specified by the BCO, and the minutes must record the names of those appointed to the commission (or the means by which they will be appointed) and the establishment of its quorum. (BCO 15-2). Note: If any of these matters are dealt with in the Standing Rules of Presbytery it would be helpful for the minutes to make note of that fact.

h. Responses to exceptions of substance noted by the General Assembly are to be from the Presbytery, not just from the Stated Clerk. The minutes should reflect the adoption of the presbytery’s response.

RAO 14-10.

Adopted

7. That the 34th General Assembly remind all presbyters that accurate records and correct procedures are the responsibility of the entire Presbytery. Approval of the minutes should not be pro forma, but should be an opportunity for all presbyters to ensure that all actions of Presbytery have been carried out decently and in order, and have been properly recorded.

Adopted

8. That the 34th General Assembly remind all presbyteries and clerks of the following resources that are available to assist Clerks: the RAO, the full report of the CRPR, the office of the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, and other presbytery clerks.

Adopted

9. That the 34th General Assembly encourage all Presbyteries to elect their stated clerks and/or recording clerks to serve at least one term on the Committee of Review of Presbytery Records, as much lasting benefit flows both ways from such service.

Adopted

10. That the 34th General Assembly exhort the following presbyteries, which have not been represented on the Review of Presbytery Records Committee for two consecutive years to make every effort to appoint their representatives in the future:

Grace                              Northern New England
Gulf Coast                          Ohio Valley
Gulfstream                         Pacific
Houston Metro                      Palmetto

New Jersey                         South Coast
New York State                     Southern New England

34-64 Minutes of Assembly

The Minutes of Sessions Four and Five were distributed. The Moderator was authorized to appoint a commission to approve the final form of the daily minutes.
34-65 – Protest from Richard Wheeler et al.

I protest the action(s) of the 34th General Assembly in distributing a 57-page document (Review of Presbytery Records) mere moments before voting on its elements. There was not enough time to be voting on some of the approved exceptions (for example) in good conscience. I could not get to the microphone in time, nor was I able to make objection that would be seen. I believe that distributing these the night before would have been better.

Respectfully submitted,
RE Michael Cuneo, Calvary
TE Ted Trefsgar, New Jersey
TE Daniel J. Jarstfer, Westminster
TE Decherd Stevens, Calvary

34-67 Assembly Adjourned

With the singing of Psalm 133 and pronouncement of the Apostolic Benediction (II Corinthians 13:14), the Moderator declared the Assembly to be adjourned at 9:45 a.m., to convene for the 35th General Assembly in Memphis, Tennessee, on June 12, 2007.

OVERTURE 22 from Suncoast Florida Presbytery (to SJC, pending advice of CCB; see 34-34, Supplemental Report, II, p. 83) “Declare Auburn Avenue Session Heterodox; Appoint Commission to Discipline Auburn Avenue Session; Appoint Commission to Discipline TE Steve Wilkins”

Whereas, our Lord rebukes the churches in Pergamum and Thyatira for their tolerance of false teaching (Revelation 2:14-15, 20); and

Whereas, in July of 2005 the Louisiana Presbytery accepted their Committee on Federal Vision Theology's recommendations that Pastor Steve Wilkins of Auburn Avenue Presbyterian Church be “publicly exonerated by Louisiana Presbytery, and declared to be faithful to the Confessional standards of the PCA;” and

Whereas, the Summary Statement of AAPC's position on the Covenant, Baptism, and Salvation was “unanimously adopted by the Session of AAPC on April 3, 2005; and

Whereas, the session of AAPC sets forth in the Summary Statement a covenant of grace that is said to be made with the elect and reprobate alike, contrary to the Westminster standards:

1. “The Bible ordinarily (though not always) views election through the lens of the covenant. This is why covenant members are addressed consistently as God's elect, even though some of those covenant members may apostatize, proving themselves in the end not to have been among the number of those whom God decreed to eternal salvation from before the foundation of the world. Thus, the basis for calling them God's 'elect' was their standing as members of the Church (which is the body of Christ) and not some knowledge of God's secret decree. The visible Church is the place where the saints are 'gathered and perfected' by means of 'the ministry, oracles, and ordinances of God' (WCF 25.3)” (Auburn Avenue Summary Statement).

2. “God, however, mysteriously has chosen to draw some into the covenant community who are not elect unto eternal salvation. These non-elect covenant members are truly brought to Christ, united to Him in the Church by baptism and receive various gracious operations of the Holy Spirit.

Corporately, they are part of the chosen, redeemed, Spirit-indwelt people. Sooner or later, however, in the wise counsel of God, these fail to bear fruit and fall away. In some sense, they were really joined to the elect people, really sanctified by Christ's blood, really recipients of new life given by the Holy Spirit. God, however, has chosen not to uphold them in the faith, and all is lost. They break the gracious new covenant they entered into at baptism” (Auburn Avenue Summary Statement).

Whereas, the session of AAPC compromises the doctrine of justification by faith alone in Jesus Christ in the Summary Statement with their insistence on the incorporation of each baptized person into Christ through his/her baptism, a status which is maintained or lost by the individual based upon his/her own perseverance in covenant faithfulness, contrary to the Westminster standards:

1. “Once baptized, an individual may be truly called a ‘Christian’ because he is a member of the household of faith and the body of Christ (1 Cor. 12). However, not all who are ‘Christians’ in this sense will persevere to the end” (AAPC Summary Statement).
2. “Starting with their baptisms, they have every reason to believe God loves them and desires their eternal salvation. Baptism marks them out as God's elect people, a status they maintain so long as they persevere in faithfulness” (AAPC Summary Statement).

Whereas, the session of AAPC in their Summary Statement erroneously attributes to water baptism the entrance of each baptized individual into actual union with Christ, contrary to the Westminster Standards:

1. “When someone is united to the Church by baptism, he is incorporated into Christ and into His body; he becomes bone of Christ's bone and flesh of His flesh (Eph. 5:30). He becomes a member of ‘the house, family, and kingdom of God’ (WCF 25.2). Until and unless that person breaks covenant, he is to be reckoned among God's elect and regenerate saints” (AAPC Summary Statement).

Whereas, the session of AAPC in their Summary Statement assails the Westminster standards' doctrine of assurance by setting forth a final salvation dependent upon an individual's own covenant faithfulness, a salvation that may be maintained or lost by the individual:

1. “Once baptized, an individual may be truly called a ‘Christian’ because he is a member of the household of faith and the body of Christ (1 Cor. 12). However, not all who are ‘Christians’ in this sense will persevere to the end” (AAPC Summary Statement).
2. “Starting with their baptisms, they have every reason to believe God loves them and desires their eternal salvation. Baptism marks them out as God's elect people, a status they maintain so long as they persevere in faithfulness” (AAPC Summary Statement).

Therefore, be it resolved that the Suncoast Florida Presbytery overtures the 34th General Assembly of the PCA to acknowledge the heterodoxy of the session of Auburn Avenue Presbyterian Church and the Louisiana Presbytery's error in declaring Pastor Steve Wilkins “faithful to the confessional standards of the PCA.”

And be it further resolved for the glory of Christ, the purity of His church, and for the good of Auburn Avenue Presbyterian Church, the Louisiana Presbytery, and the Presbyterian Church in America, that a commission be established for disciplinary action against Pastor Wilkins and the Session of Auburn Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Adopted by Suncoast Florida Presbytery at the stated meeting on April 4, 2006. Attested by /s/ Mike Kendrick, Stated Clerk
PART III

APPENDICES

The Appendices include the Reports of the Permanent Committees and Agencies as originally submitted to the General Assembly. The recommendations in this section are those originally submitted by the Permanent Committees and Agencies and may not have been adopted by the Assembly. See the report of the Committee of Commissioners for each of the respective Committees and Agencies in Part II, Journal, to find the recommendations as they were adopted by the Assembly.

The budgets, as approved by the Assembly, are found in Appendix C, Attachment 1, beginning on p. 339.
APPENDIX A

STATED CLERK’S REPORT TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE

Presbytery Votes on the Book of Church Order Amendment.

BCO 26-2 requires an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the Presbyteries as part of the amendment process. Three BCO amendments were sent down to the Presbyteries by the 33rd General Assembly for a vote:

- Item 1 – Amend BCO 24-1 to require examination in English Bible for Ruling Elders and Deacons. Vote thus far: 62 yes, 1 no.
- Item 2 – Amend BCO 15-4, first sentence to read: “The General Assembly shall elect a Standing Judicial Commission to which it shall commit all matters governed by the Rules of Discipline, except for the annual review of Presbytery records, which may come before the Assembly.” Vote thus far: 47 yes, 16 no.
- Item 3 – Amend BCO 40-5, to read: “When any court having appellate jurisdiction shall receive a credible report with respect to the court next below of any important delinquency or grossly unconstitutional proceedings of such court, the first step shall be to cite the court alleged to have offended to appear before the court having appellate jurisdiction, or its commission, by representative or in writing, at a specified time and place, and to show what the lower court has done or failed to do in the case in question.” Vote thus far: 53 yes, 11 no.

With 73 Presbyteries presently, 49 must vote in the affirmative to pass a BCO amendment (BCO 26-2). In the case of a BCO amendment, failure to vote is tantamount to a negative vote, inasmuch as two-thirds (⅔) of the Presbyteries must vote in favor in order to pass the amendment along to the General Assembly for final ratification.

Resignations and Death of Committee and Agency Members

I have received resignations or reports of the deaths of the following current members of General Assembly Committees and Agencies.

Interchurch Relations
- I serve on the Interchurch Relations Committee as part of my responsibilities (RAO 3-2 j).
- I serve on the Interim Committee of the North American Presbyterian and Reformed Council. I attended the annual meeting of NAPARC.
- I serve on the Executive Committee of the National Association of Evangelicals. I have participated in several conference-call meetings and two on-site meetings.
- I serve on the Executive Committee of the World Reformed Fellowship. attended the worldwide meeting in South Africa in March, 2006.

Lawsuits
- At the date of this writing the PCA is party to several lawsuits, stemming from the same set of circumstances: 1) Suzanne Macdonald v. Grace Church, Seattle, Pacific Northwest Presbytery, and The Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation), Case CV03-2955, United States District Court for the Western District of Washington at Seattle; 2) Suzanne McDonald v. Grace Church Seattle, Pacific Northwest Presbytery, and the Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation), Case number 05-2-06991-1 SEA; 3) Suzanne Macdonald v. Grace Church, Seattle, Pacific Northwest Presbytery, and The Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation) (the original Case CV03-2955 was appealed from the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington to the Federal Ninth Court of Appeals in San Francisco). The state case (Case number 05-2-06991-1 SEA) has been transferred to the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington at Seattle. So the three cases have been combined into two.
  - On April 14, 2006, the District Court Judge Honorable John C. Coughenour issued the following ruling: “Defendants’ motion for partial summary judgment is hereby GRANTED. Plaintiff's claims for wrongful termination in violation of public policy and negligent supervision against the PCA and the PNWP are hereby dismissed.”
  - A hearing date has been set for the Federal Ninth Court of Appeals to consider the appellate case on June 9, 2006.
- TE Peter Byung-Do Kim filed a suit on August 5, 2005, in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Law Division-Hudson County New Jersey against Sae Hwan Han, Chang Uk Kim, Kwan Hee (Eliot) Lee, John H. Lee, Yong Jae (William) Jin, and the PCA (A Corporation. (TE Kim had two cases before the SJC [Case 2005-8, Case 2005-9], which have been concluded.) The lawsuit alleges
1. That Ruling Elders Sae Hwan Han, Chang Uk Kim, and John H. Lee, TE Kwan Hee (Eliot) Lee (moderator) of the Korean Eastern Presbytery, TE Yong Jae (William) Jin (Stated Clerk of KEP) and the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly all conspired to oust him as pastor of the Hudson Presbyterian Church, and
2. That all the aforementioned parties together with the officers of the Standing Judicial Commission conspired to deny him due process before the Standing Judicial Commission to re-instate him as pastor.

Plaintiff Kim has indicated a willingness to remove the PCA (A Corporation) from the case. As of the date of this writing, that has not been done.

 Officials Correspondence
I received a communication dated August 23, 2005 from the Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States advising us that the 258th Synod of the RCUS had unanimously adopted the “Report of the Special Committee to Study the New Perspective on Paul,” and the “Report of the Special Committee to Study Justification in Light of the Current Justification Controversy.” The full reports are available from the RCUS website, www.rcus.org.

Ad Interim Committee on the Value of Human Life
In response to Overture 13, from Ohio Valley Presbytery, “Erect A study Committee on the Value of Human Life,” which the 33rd General Assembly approved, the Moderator appointed the following persons to the committee:
- RE Kenneth B. Bell, J.D. – Justice of the Florida Supreme Court, Convener
- TE John Frame, M.Phil., D.D. – Professor, Reformed Theological Seminary
- TE William Edgar, Th.D. – Professor, Westminster Theological Seminary
- TE Ron Gleason, Ph.D. – Pastor, Yorba Linda, CA
- RE John Ward Weiss, J.D. – Practicing attorney, Montgomery, AL
- RE Grady Crosland, M.D. – University of Arkansas Medical School
- RE Hilton Terrell, M.D., Ph.D. – Physician, Florence, SC
- Mrs. Joni Eareckson Tada – Advisory member.

The Ohio Valley Presbytery overture indicated that private funding had been secured. As of the date of this writing, no funds have been received. Consequently, the committee has not met. The General Assembly should take action either to dismiss the committee or to continue the committee.
Advisory Member Responsibilities
The General Assembly has designated the Stated Clerk to serve as an advisory member of the boards of the PCA Foundation, PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc., and Ridgehaven Conference Center. I attend PCAF and RBI meetings when they do not conflict with other meetings. I was unable to attend the March meetings of PCAF and RBI due to a conflict with the SJC meeting. I have not attended the RH board meetings because, again this year, I have not been informed regarding them.

Time Allocation
Much of my time since the last General Assembly has been taken up with:
1) Budget formulations and Partnership Shares calculation standards referred to us by the SPC and required by RAO 4-11; 2) the two lawsuits (see above); 3) Standing Judicial Commission issues; 4) Korean ecclesiastical affairs.

Statistics
Statistical data give us some idea of the condition of the Church. Our data is incomplete in that not all churches submit annual reports and some submit only partial reports (membership and attendance, but no financial reports). Only 49% of the churches submitted any reports. If all churches reported and submitted complete reports, the picture would be more accurate. Only one Presbytery (Northern Illinois) had 100% of the churches reporting. Three Presbyteries had no churches (0%) reporting. Our latest figures are for the calendar year ending December 31, 2005. We had 70 Presbyteries in 2005; we have 73 as of the date of this writing. For a complete listing of reported statistics, see the PCA Yearbook. Some statistics from 2004 compared with 2005 are:

- Churches & Missions – 1,355 in 2004; 1389 in 2005; Net Gain of 34.
- Total Membership – 330,182 in 2004; 331,126 in 2005; Net Increase of 944. This is a .3% annual growth, less than usual for the PCA.
- Sunday School Attendance – 120,933 in 2004; 111,032 in 2005; Net Decrease of 9,901.
- Adult Baptisms – 2652 in 2004; 2448 in 2005; Net Decrease of 204.

Advice to the Stated Clerk from the Committee on Constitutional Business
At the 33rd General Assembly, I advised the Assembly that I would seek the advice of the CCB in accordance with RAO 7-1 (1) concerning overtures regarding Strategic Planning. This was after the moderator had ruled that ad interim committees report directly to the General Assembly, not through the Bills and Overtures Committee of Commissioners (BCO 14-1, 15, RAO 11-1; 11-3;13-1). I informed the Assembly that it was my intention to refer such overtures to the Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning unless advised to the contrary by the CCB.

- Blue Ridge Presbytery submitted a non-judicial reference, dated July 16, 2005, “in accordance with BCO 41-2 and RAO 7-2(2) seeking advice from the Committee of Constitutional Business as to whether Overtures from the Presbyteries concerning issues relating to the Strategic Planning Committee Report may and should be assigned by the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly to the Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures (BCO 14-1, 15, RAO 11-1; 11-3;13-1).” The CCB decided that no constitutional issue was raised by the inquiry (see CCB Report, p. 273).
- I received several individual requests that I submit overtures regarding Strategic Planning to the Bills and Overtures Committee rather than the Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning or to the Bills and Overtures Committee in addition to the Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning on the basis of RAO 10-5. The Stated Clerk is responsible for referring overtures (RAO 3-2 g.). I did not refer overtures concerning Strategic Planning to the Bills and Overtures Committee for the following reasons:

- BCO 14-1, 15 states: “All business shall ordinarily [emphasis added] come to the floor of the Assembly for final action through committees of commissioners, except reports of the Standing Judicial Commission, the Committee on Constitutional Business, the Committee on Review of Presbytery Records, the Nominating Committee and Ad Interim committees, which shall come directly to the Assembly” [emphasis added].
  - The BCO takes precedence over the RAO. Any statements in the RAO regarding the manner of reporting of committees to the General Assembly must be interpreted in the light of BCO 14-1, 15.
  - The BCO takes precedence over the RAO. If there are any conflicts between the RAO and the BCO in the manner of committees reporting to the General Assembly, BCO 14-1, 15 must prevail.
  - BCO 14-1, 15 uses the term “ordinarily” which provides for exceptions to the practice of requiring all committees without exception to report to the General Assembly through a committee of commissioners (such as B&O).
  - BCO 14-1, 15 explicitly lists Ad Interim Committees as one of the exceptions whereby a committee may report directly to the General Assembly.
- The RAO explicitly states that ad interim committees report directly to the General Assembly (RAO 11-1; 11-3; 13-1), and therefore not through the B&O Committee of Commissioners.
- RAO 8-1 states that the General Assembly may erect temporary (ad interim) committees to handle particular matters of business as designated by the Assembly. Strategic Planning is a particular matter of business that may be handled by an ad interim committee.
- There are numerous instances in the history of the PCA in which overtures from Presbyteries have been referred by all three stated clerks to ad interim committees that have been erected to deal with specific issues.
- The CCB has agreed with the Stated Clerk’s position on this matter.

REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE
TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

I. Meetings
June 14, 2005
October 7, 2005
April 6, 2006

II. Summary of the Actions of the Board of Directors

The members of the AC also serve as the Board of Directors of the PCA (A Corporation), a civil entity (PCA “Corporate Bylaws,” Article II, Section 2). The Board of Directors meets immediately following the AC meetings to conduct civil business.

1. All required corporate filings of the Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation) have been filed in the relevant states. The Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation) is a registered Delaware corporation. The Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation) is currently registered as a foreign corporation in Georgia, Missouri, and Mississippi.

3. The current Officers of the Corporation (through the end of this assembly) are: President, TE Wayne C. Herring; Secretary and Treasurer, TE L. Roy Taylor (Stated Clerk); Assistant Secretaries, TE John Robertson (Business Administrator), Ms Kristin Zeller (Operations Manager); Assistant Treasurers, TE John Robertson (Business Administrator), TE J. Robert Fiol, Assistant to the Stated Clerk, Ms Kristin Zeller (Operations Manager) [RAO 3-2, o, PCA “Corporate Bylaws,” Article IV].

4. As of the time of this writing there are three legal suits currently pending in civil courts against the Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation). Two suits arise from the same situation; one of those two has recently been dismissed.
a. Grace Presbyterian Church of Seattle, WA, Pacific Northwest Presbytery, and the Presbyterian Church in America, (A Corporation) have all been named as defendants in a lawsuit, Suzanne McDonald vs. Grace Church Seattle, Pacific Northwest Presbytery, and the Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation). Case number CV03-2955-RSL filed October 1, 2003, in the U.S. District Court of Washington State. We were dismissed from the federal case in 2004, Suzanne Macdonald vs. Grace Church, Seattle, Northwest Presbytery and the PCA, (A Corporation). The plaintiff filed a motion for reconsideration. The court reconsidered and then reaffirmed its original ruling. Plaintiff has appealed to the Federal Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The court ordered plaintiff and Grace Church, Seattle to seek to arrive at a mutually agreeable settlement. No settlement between plaintiff and Grace Church was reached. Plaintiff renewed the appeal to the Federal Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The State of Washington has filed an amicus curiae brief in favor of the PCA inasmuch as the plaintiff has challenged the constitutionality of a Washington state law relating to churches being shielded from certain types of lawsuits.

b. Grace Presbyterian Church of Seattle, WA, Pacific Northwest Presbytery, and the Presbyterian Church in America (A Corporation) have all been named as defendants in an additional lawsuit, filed in February, 2005, Suzanne McDonald vs. Grace Church Seattle, Pacific Northwest Presbytery, and the Presbyterian Church in America, (A Corporation), Case number 05-2-06991-1 SEA. This state suit is in addition to the suit now in Federal Appeals Court, Ninth District. The Case is now in the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington at Seattle, federal case number CV05-0747 JCC. PCA counsel filed a motion in March 2006 for partial summary judgment in favor of the PCA, and seeking our dismissal from the case. On April 14, 2006, the court ruled in favor of the PCA: "Defendants’ motion for partial summary judgment is hereby GRANTED. Plaintiff’s claims for wrongful termination in violation of public policy and negligent supervision against the PCA and the PNWP are hereby DISMISSED.”

c. TE Peter Byung-Do Kim filed a suit on August 5, 2005, in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Law Division-Hudson County New Jersey against certain PCA Ruling Elders and Teaching Elders in Korean Eastern Presbytery, and against the PCA (a Corporation), arising from circumstances that led to two cases before the Standing Judicial Commission (Case 2005-8, 2005-9, see SJC report). Plaintiff has indicated his willingness to agree to dismissal of the PCA from the suit. As of the date of this writing, the court has not yet heard motions to that effect.

III. Election of AC Officers for 2006-2007 Assembly Year

The AC elected the following officers:
RE John DuBose, Chairman
TE Ron Dunton, Vice Chairman
TE Marty Crawford, Secretary

IV. Ministry of the AC/SC

The Administrative Committee/Office of the Stated Clerk is unique in several respects:

- The AC is the Board of Directors of the PCA (A Corporation), thus providing the legal and administrative infrastructure and necessary support services for the PCA to exist and minister as a connectional church.
- The AC has voting representatives from all other General Assembly Committees and Agencies as well as at-large members, with a view to dealing with matters of common interests and the good of the PCA as a whole.
- The AC is the only Committee or Agency designated as a “service committee to the General Assembly and the denomination.”
- The AC produces byFaith magazine and operates byFaith Online to inform readers regarding the ministry of PCA members, churches, Presbyteries and all General Assembly Committees and Agencies, underscoring our cooperative ministries as a Church.
- The AC oversees the PCA Office Building, a base of operations for six of the General Assembly Ministries.
- The AC, working with Local Arrangements Committees of Presbyteries, handles the logistics for the annual meeting of the General Assembly.
- The AC preserves the history of the PCA through the PCA Historical Center.
- The AC serves the entire PCA by providing support services for: the Nominating Committee, the Theological Examining Committee, the Standing Judicial Commission, ad interim Committees, the Review of Presbytery Records Committee, and the Committee on Constitutional Business.
- The AC serves churches, ministers, and pastoral search committees through the placement office.
V. Development

The AC/SC faces a unique challenge in fund raising to support its service to the Church. The PCA is different from a number of denominations because: 1) we do not have a unified budget; 2) there is no required minimum contribution for churches to exercise the privileges of membership in the denomination; and 3) unlike some denominations and para-church ministries, the AC does not deduct support services costs from other contributions. We are encouraged that a sizeable percentage of PCA churches support the ministry of the AC/SC to some degree or other. We are concerned that about half of the churches in the PCA do not give any financial support to the AC or other General Assembly Ministries. We are seeking the support of PCA churches through:

- Useful Services - The AC/SC is commissioned by the General Assembly to provide a range of essential and helpful services to PCA members, officers, churches, Presbyteries, the General Assembly, and to Assembly Committees and Agencies. We seek to provide these services faithfully and effectively.

- Financial Integrity - The AC/SC seeks to be streamlined, transparent, and accountable: streamlined in the sense of being efficient and effective in our mission; transparent in the sense of having open, clear reporting of ministries and finances; and accountable in the sense that good oversight and evaluation of kingdom contributions continuously takes place.

- Equitable Requests - The AC annually publishes a per capita calculation (“Partnership Shares”) that shows the annual contribution for each PCA communicant member needed to fund fully all General Assembly ministries. Realizing the idealistic nature of a per capita system, the AC seeks support from churches that is proportional. That is, local churches, like individual Christians are asked to give as God has prospered them (II Corinthians 8:1-9:15). For some, a per capita gift would be a great sacrifice; for other churches a per capita gift would be effortless. Therefore we ask most churches to consider a gift of ½ of 1% of their local offerings (excluding capital projects, such as Building Campaigns).

VI. News Office, byFaith Online, PCA byFaith News Magazine

Circulation

Since last year’s General Assembly, paid subscriptions have more than tripled. As of April 19, 2006, after publishing eight magazines, we have roughly 7,700 paid subscribers. As indicated on the chart below, the trend is positive, and new orders arrive daily.

There is also evidence that leadership at the local church level is catching a vision for what the magazine means to the work of our denomination. A year ago, approximately 30 churches had a bulk subscription. Today, more than 150 churches have subscribed, and 50 more have indicated their intention to do so.

A Promising Batting Average

Adoption by our churches accelerated dramatically when TE Gerald Morgan, on loan to byFaith from MTW, began making personal calls, asking churches to subscribe. In November and December TE Morgan phoned approximately 100 pastors, nearly all of whom agreed to subscribe.
Becoming More Connectional

ByFaith, as intended at its founding, is building connections among members of the PCA. For example, we routinely see:

- Readers asking to be put in touch with the authors to ask for resources and advice.
- Churches wanting to know how they might get more involved in others’ ministries. While byFaith does not solicit funds in its articles, several contributions have been made to ministries by readers.
- Comments, pro and con, in response to articles, engaging people in relevant issues, stimulating thought, and prompting readers to think theologically.

Presenting the PCA as a Unified Whole

More important, byFaith has become the only place where our work together is presented as a unified whole, where the work of one ministry enhances the work of others, where there is synergy, and where all our component parts can be seen in one place, working together to expand the kingdom. In the magazine’s first eight issues, for example, there have been:

- 15 articles about the work of CE&P
- 11 articles about the ministry of MNA
- 11 reports concerning Covenant College
- 9 stories about Covenant Seminary
- 9 articles about MTW
- 8 articles about RUF
- 5 articles related to General Assembly
- 3 stories that focused on RBI
- 2 stories that talked about conferences at Ridge Haven, and
- 1 short section that referred to the PCA Foundation

Advertising

To date, nineteen organizations have contracted with byFaith, and four others have indicated their intention to become three- or six-time advertisers. Our strongest issue to date was the Jan/Feb 06 magazine, which contained $23,000+ in paid advertising.

Content

We continue to strive for content that will appeal to the broadest spectrum of men and women in PCA pews. Some upcoming topics include:

- The motivation for evangelism
- Formulating a theology of technology
• What kind of pastors the PCA needs, and how we should train them
• Ministry to those with same-sex attraction
• Theology for dealing with assisted suicide
• Global warming initiative, creation care, duties and responsibilities of believers
• Fulfilling lives for single people; how the church could incorporate singles into church life
• Understanding/engaging youth culture
• Ministry/evangelism efforts to Muslims
• The music of U2
• Grace and Science
• Theology of gentrification (Bob Lupton)

VII. Financial Matters

1. The AC reviewed all General Assembly Committee and Agency proposed budgets as required (RAO 4-11). The AC approved all budgets as submitted, with the exception of the CE&P budget (see explanation below). The Assembly will note that RAO 4-11 requires that when the AC recommendation regarding a Committee or Agency’s budget differs from the requested budget, the General Assembly is to hear both recommendations and decide the matter by a simple majority (See VIII, and XV, 6 below).
2. The AC audit was performed by Robins, Eskew, Farmer, and Jordan. It was approved by the AC and forwarded to the AC Committee of Commissioners for their review and report to the Assembly.
3. The AC evaluated the CAO compensation guidelines as required (BCO 14-1.13).
4. The AC reviewed the General Assembly Commissioner’s Registration fee as required (RAO 9-4) and is recommending no change this year.
5. The AC received and approved a recommendation from the Building Management Committee regarding the space cost fees for Committees and Agencies occupying the PCA Office Building.
6. The AC approved auditors for the various Committees and Agencies as requested.
7. “Certificate of Compliance” forms were signed by AC members and collected for the file as part of the Conflict of Interest Policy, per M21GA, 1993, 21-64, p. 174ff.

VIII. AC Recommendation regarding the CE&P Budget

At its April 6, 2006, meeting the AC considered all Committee and Agency budgets in accordance with its Assembly-mandated responsibilities (RAO 4-11) and in light of agreements reached through the Strategic Planning process.
The AC is recommending that the CE&P budget be approved in the amount of $2,782,475, which includes a Partnership Share Budget of $1,666,625. This is $208,875 less than CE&P had requested in its program-based budget. The AC has no desire to modify the line items in the CE&P budget, inasmuch as that involves CE&P program priorities. Therefore, the Administrative Committee requested Christian Education & Publications to take the revised figure and show how they would change their budget in the line items if the revised figure were adopted by the General Assembly, and to present the modifications to the Administrative Committee by May 15. The process for resolving differences between the AC’s recommendation on a given committee or agency’s budget and the committee or agency’s requested budget is specified in RAO 4-11:

The budget for each permanent Committee and Agency shall be submitted to the Administrative Committee of General Assembly which shall independently evaluate the proposed budget of each permanent committee and agency and report to the Assembly its considered opinion on the adoption. In order to protect the fiduciary responsibility of the Agencies, the financial coordination and independent evaluation of the agencies’ proposed budgets by the Administrative Committee is for “audit purposes only.”

Should modifications in budgets be deemed necessary by the Assembly, special care shall be taken that changes not be made in such a way as to threaten the continuity or effectiveness of the committee’s or agency’s ministry. Budgets of permanent committees and agencies that are agreed upon by the Administrative Committee may be changed only by a two-thirds vote of the Assembly commissioners present and voting at the time the budget is submitted for adoption. In the event the Administrative Committee disagrees with the budget submitted by one of the committees or boards, in whole or any item thereof, the General Assembly may adopt either the committee’s or board’s budget or the Administrative Committee’s recommended budget by simple majority. The requirement of a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly applies only to changes not recommended by the Administrative Committee, initiated on the floor of the Assembly. With respect to the agencies, financial coordination is to the Assembly from the agencies, and to the agencies from the Assembly, and the Administrative Committee is a “filter upward” and has no downward authority [emphasis added].

Reasons for the AC recommendation on the CE&P budget are as follows:

1. By means of RAO 4-11 the General Assembly has directed the AC to “independently evaluate” the proposed budget of each permanent committee and agency and report to the Assembly its considered opinion on the adoption." The role of the AC is not simply to collate budgets for presentation to the Assembly [emphasis added].

2. The AC is uniquely suited to evaluate Committee and Agency Budgets in relation to the overall good of the Church by virtue of its composition, namely all Committees and Agencies have voting representatives on the Committee and only a bare majority of at-large members.

3. The General Assembly has several times urged that all Committees and Agencies submit realistic budgets. “Realistic budgets” are budgets with a realistic correlation between actual income and attainable goals.
   a. For example, 4th GA, 1976, Appendix A, Report of the Committee on Administration, I. Budget, p. 95: “One of the chief functions assigned to the Committee on Administration by the First General Assembly (p. 51) is the review of the budget requests of all of the Assembly Committees, and to make recommendation regarding them to the General Assembly. We understand it to be our responsibility both to evaluate the requests from the Committees, and to attempt to predict the potential giving of the church…The Committee sees the need for the Assembly to frame its budget with better correlation between actual income and attainable goals, rather than a budget based upon unlimited enthusiasm and opportunities. There is something defeating to the spirit of a denomination when we project a budget, which we do not expect to meet” [emphasis added].
   b. See also 15th GA, 1987, CoC on Administration, III, #17, p.189: “That the 15th GA direct all committees, boards and agencies to develop actual financial budgets based not on a maximum amount to spend but on a realistic amount expected to be spent; that GA approve spending of 5% above a realistic budget.” Also, Appendix C, COA report, VI Summary of Actions taken by COA According to Subcommittees, D. Budget and Minute Review, #4, p 248: “COA requests GA to direct all committees, boards and agencies to develop realistic budgets. The grounds for this request are (1) that all budgets and ASKINGS are greatly inflated, (2) since Committees, Boards, and Agencies do not receive the ASKINGS they must work on a smaller ‘actual’ budget, and (3) the budget review process and accountability to GA is minimized by the current traditional approach to budget development.”
   c. 20th GA, 1992, Item 20-63, III, #34, p.135: GA adopted personal resolution #1: “Be it further resolved that the proposed budgeting standards include at least these minimum provisions: (a) reasonable grounds for increases in the ASKINGS from one year to the next; (b) that adequate correlation must exist between the proposed ASKINGS and the ASKINGS received in the last fiscal year; [emphasis added] and (c) documentation that substantiates the funding included in the proposed budget for any new ministry or activity.”

4. The General Assembly has previously noted that CE&P has failed to prepare a revenue-based budget. The 21st GA, 1993, 21-64 CoC on AC, III, # 14 p.178 “Approved the CE&P proposed 1994 Expense Budget of $2,012,970 and ASKINGS budget of $1,256,970. Adopted. Comment: By its own admission the CE&P has not complied with the requirement for a revenue-based budget rather than a program-based budget.”

5. The General Assembly has the “power”: “To institute and superintend the agencies necessary in the general work of evangelization . . .” (BCO 14-6, f) and “To superintend the affairs of the whole Church” (BCO 14-6, i) [emphasis added]. All Committees and Agencies should comply with the directives of the General Assembly for the good of the Church as a whole. The General Assembly has directed all Committees and Agencies to prepare budgets “with better correlation between actual income and attainable goals, rather than a budget based upon unlimited enthusiasm and opportunities” (MAGA, 1976, Appendix A, Report of the Committee on Administration, I. Budget, p. 95).

6. The matter of budget form and Partnership Share formulation has been a matter of longstanding consideration. The Coordinators, on hearing the concerns of the AC, requested that the Strategic Planning Committee deal with the matters when the SPC was first begun.

7. The issue of budgeting and Partnership Share formulations was a major issue throughout the six-year Strategic Planning Process. The Coordinators agreed for the AC to implement budget formats “As for the matter of the format to be used for budget preparation, and for the process for arrival of recommended budgets at General Assembly, we recommend that these matters be referred to the Administrative Committee for implementation” (Minutes of the SPC, March 23-24, 2005, p. 8).

8. All Committee and Agency coordinators and presidents agreed in March of 2005 to submit realistic budgets. “Further, that with regard to the amounts presented in applicable Committee and Agency budgets for Partnership Shares requests and the principles and methodology for determining how undesignated gifts from churches are to be distributed, it is understood by the Coordinators that the AC will address how such amounts should be derived, and if a hardship is placed on a particular Committee or Agency, then a transitional plan will be established to bring it into conformity over a four-year time period” (Minutes of the SPC, March 23-24, 2005, p. 8).
9. From August 18, 2005, through March 22, 2006, meetings were held with Staff members, financial officers, and Chief Administrative Officers of the Committees and Agencies with a view toward working out budgets forms and Partnership Share formulas that would conform to the directives of previous General Assemblies and be consonant with the agreement of the coordinators and presidents in the March 24-25, 2005 meeting of the Strategic Planning Committee.

10. The matter of Committees or Agencies not supplying information to the AC in a timely manner in order for the AC adequately to evaluate budgets has been a problem previously. For example, see M13GA, 1985, 13-73 CoC on Administration, III, 3, p136: “That the General Assembly affirms COA’s role in gathering income figures from all committees and agencies in order to fulfill its stewardship responsibility and that we request their cooperation in submitting pertinent figures in a timely fashion.” Information requested from CE&P in September and October of 2005 was not given to the AC staff until April 1, 2006, just prior to the AC meeting of April 6. This increased the difficulty of the AC’s evaluating the CE&P’s budget. (MNA did not deliver until March 28.)

11. At the April 6 meeting of the AC, the other nine Committees and Agencies submitted budgets consistent with the March 2005 agreement. The Partnership Share Budget as submitted by CE&P is about 180% more than anticipated giving (based on previous experience) in relation to likely spending on projects to be accomplished. (This is a conservative and generous estimation. They have been reporting and requesting at a 220% variation.)

12. At the April 6, 2006 AC meeting, the CE&P representative made a substitute motion “that because the General Assembly has not yet ‘deemed necessary’ (RAO 4-11) that major modifications in budgets be made and because such a major change would have significant negative impact on a number of Committees and Agencies, that the AC only present the underlying theory for these major modifications and that the budgets proposed by C/As go forward as is.” The above motion was ruled out of order based on the following reasoning:

RAO 4-11 gives several means of bringing budgets to a decision.
1) AC recommendation, unchallenged. Only a majority vote of the Assembly is required.

Other methods that involve “modifications” of budgets:
2) A Committee or Agency budget is different from the AC recommendation. The Assembly hears both recommendations. A simple majority of the Assembly is required.
3) An AC Committee of Commissioners’ recommendation is different from the AC. A two-thirds of the Assembly is required.

4) A floor motion is different from the AC recommended budget. A two-thirds vote of the Assembly is required.

The CE&P substitute is based on the faulty premise that the Assembly must first approve any major modification before the AC may make a recommendation. The statement “should modifications be necessary, special care shall be taken that changes not be made in such a way as to threaten the continuity or effectiveness of the committee’s or agency’s ministry” deals with the four options for modifying budgets, i.e., by whichever of the four methods the budget is changed, “special care shall be taken.”

The ruling of the chairman was appealed to the floor. The ruling of the chair was sustained.

In short, the AC has considered the CE&P budget in accordance with its Assembly-mandated responsibilities (RAO 4-11), and in light of agreements reached through the Strategic Planning process, and has concluded that a CE&P budget in the amount of $2,782,475 which includes a Partnership Share Budget of $1,666,625 ($208,875 less than CE&P had requested in its program-based budget) is in keeping with the requirements of RAO 4-11, the directives of the General Assembly for realistic budgets, and the agreements reached in the Strategic Planning process.

IX. Exceptions to AC Minutes
There were no exceptions of substance carried over from the previous Assembly to which the AC needed to respond.

X. Assembly Exhibitors
In accordance with RAO 9-5 the AC revised the list of approved exhibitors, removing several that had not exhibited in five years and approving other new exhibitors in using the guidelines of RAO 9-5.

XI. Annual Evaluation
The AC performed the annual evaluation of the Stated Clerk in accordance with RAO 3-3, d. The Committee recommends that the General Assembly continue the call to TE L. Roy Taylor as the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly for another year.
XII. Future Assemblies
Future Assemblies are scheduled as follows:

- 2007, Memphis, Tennessee
- 2008, Dallas, Texas
- 2009 and 2010, To be determined. Possibilities include Virginia Beach, Virginia; Nashville, Tennessee; Orlando, Florida; and Phoenix, Arizona.

XIII. Overtures
The AC received three overtures (see recommendations later in report).
1. Overture 2 from Rocky Mountain Presbytery, Erect Study Committee on New Perspective, Etc.
2. Overture 3 from Susquehanna Valley Presbytery, Revise RAO 16-1 to Remove Minutes from Registration Fee.
3. Overture 4 from Western Carolina Presbytery, Direct AC to Revise Assembly Docket and Use Smaller facilities for Assembly.

XIV. Historical Center
The PCA Historical Center, located in the Library Building of Covenant Theological Seminary, St. Louis is served by the Director, RE Wayne Sparkman, M.A.R., M.Div. Web site activity (http://www.pcanet.org/history) has continued to increase, which now receives some 350,000 visits per year. A full report is appended to this report (pp. 361-4).

XV. AC Recommendations to the General Assembly
1. That the 2005 Audits performed by Robins, Eskew, Farmer & Jordan, PC on the Administrative Committee be approved by the 34th General Assembly.
2. That the General Assembly grant approval of Robins, Eskew, Farmer & Jordan, PC, as auditors for the Administrative Committee and the Committee on Christian Education and Publications for the calendar year ending December 31, 2006.
3. That the General Assembly grant the approval of Capin, Crouse, & Company as auditors for the Committee on Mission to the World and the Committee on Mission to North America for the calendar year ending December 31, 2006.
4. That the General Assembly grant the approval of Carr, Riggs & Ingram, LLP, as auditors for the Committee on Reformed University Ministries for the calendar year ending December 31, 2006.
5. That the General Assembly continue the call to TE L. Roy Taylor as the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly for another year.
6. That the ten Committee and Agency budgets and the PCA Office Building budget for 2006 be approved. At the time of this printing, the financial information is still being calculated and prepared. The information will be presented at the General Assembly.

7. That the Assembly approve the PCA Building Occupancy Cost charged to each ministry at $12 per square foot for 2007. This reflects no increase.

8. That the Assembly receive the charts below as the acceptable response to the GA requirement for an annual report on the cost of the AC’s mandated responsibilities:

<sup>2</sup> The Totals for CCB, IRC, NC, SJC, and TEC have been adjusted to include rent and depreciation on the PCA Office Building, in the amount of $8400.
9. That the registration fee remain at $400 for the 2007 General Assembly in Memphis with $300 allocated to the GA expenses, $25 for publication of the Minutes, and $75 allocated to the Standing Committee cost center for the expenses of the Standing Judicial Commission. Ruling elders and teaching elders who come from churches with budgets of less than $100,000 in their reported statistics would register at ½ the regular price ($200) and honorably retired or emeritus elders would continue to pay 1/3 of the regular registration ($133).

10. That the AC minutes of June 14, 2005, October 7, 2005, and April 6, 2006, be approved.

11. That the Board of Directors Minutes of June 14, 2005, October 7, 2005, and April 6, 2006 be approved.

12. That the budget for the ad interim committee on the New Perspective on Paul, etc., if established by the General Assembly, be $10,000 per year to be raised by designated contributions to the Administrative Committee/Office of the Stated Clerk (See Overture 2 from Rocky Mountain Presbytery, “Erect Study Committee on New Perspective, Etc.,” p. 35).

13. That the Overture 3 from Susquehanna Valley Presbytery, “Revise RAO 16-1 to Remove Minutes from Registration Fee,” (p. 36) be answered in the negative.

   GROUNDS:
   1) RAO 16-1 deals with assisting in “defraying the expenses of the General Assembly” by which churches, even though they do not send a commissioner to the Assembly are asked to make a donation to the General Assembly. A copy of the Minutes is given to all contributing churches.
   2) The AC/SC labor costs to prepare the Minutes are not reduced by printing fewer copies.
   3) Printed copies are necessary for historical purposes.
   4) Reducing the number of printed copies of the Minutes would not reduce the registration costs significantly.
   5) Printing fewer copies of the Minutes would increase the costs of individual copies.

14. That the Overture 4 from Western Carolina Presbytery, “Direct AC to Revise Assembly Docket and Use Smaller facilities for Assembly,” (p. 37) be answered in the negative.

   GROUNDS:
   1) Historically, the PCA General Assembly as a grass-roots annual gathering of the Church has been more than just an ecclesiastical business meeting. Corporate worship, fellowship, networking, exhibits, seminars, interest group meetings (CC, CTS, RTS, WTS, GPTS, PEF, MTW, MNA, AC, etc.) have been significant aspects of the annual Assembly.

2) Evening sessions are now devoted primarily to worship. A number of time slots for worship have been tried. The evening time slot for worship seems to work best.

3) Time is already available for business after the evening worship services, if such time is necessary.

4) Having evening business sessions each night could make for some long (12-hour) workdays, which may not be efficient and could be counter-productive.

5) Using a meeting facility that would accommodate commissioners only would essentially change the nature of the Assembly from a multi-faceted Assembly to a business-only Assembly.

6) We have just gone through a Strategic Planning process, which concluded that the multifaceted nature of the Assembly is one of the few means by which the PCA expresses its visible unity and sense of identity.

7) The simplest way to reduce the costs of the Assembly is to go to a delegated Assembly.

15. That the budget for the ad interim committee on the New Perspective on Paul, etc., if established by the General Assembly be $10,000 per ear to be raised by designated contributions to the Administrative Committee/Office of the Stated Clerk.

16. That Overture 20 be answered in the affirmative.

17. That Overture 21 be answered in the affirmative.

18. Regarding Overture 24:

   1) That the overture be answered in the affirmative without respect to the relative merits or demerits of the “Whereas” portions of the overture or the “Rationale” offered by the Presbytery.

   2) That a procedural motion “To Postpone to A Certain Time, the 35th General Assembly, and to Make it a Special Order” be acted upon after the ad interim Committee has made its report but before the Assembly’s action on the proposals of the Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning that affect the restructuring of the Assembly.

   3) That the Assembly refer to the AC the task of preparing proposed amendments to the BCO and RAO to provide for a delegated General Assembly with a balance of Ruling Elders and Teaching Elders representing Presbyteries, with a maximum total number of commissioners not to exceed three hundred fifty. (This is a “motion to commit.”)

19. That the amended Covenant College budget of $22,652,670 be adopted.

BUDGETS OF COMMITTEES AND AGENCIES

ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE

2007 PROPOSED BUDGET

I. Economic Considerations and General Ministry Factors

Budget philosophy

The budget is built primarily on the job description of the Stated Clerk in the RAO, which determines the services that are to be provided by the Office of the Stated Clerk to churches, presbyteries, committees and agencies, and to the General Assembly.

General Comments

Many of the activities and responsibilities of the Administrative Committee are directly affected by the size and growth of the PCA, which in turn are reflected in annual budget increases for many line items. The economic inflation rate also affects many budget items.

The budgets are presented in a format to comply with the standards for not-for-profit organizations adopted by the Financial Accounting Standards (FASB). The FASB standards provide a definition of “supporting activities” which they call “management and general.” Therefore, compensation for the Stated Clerk and his staff is allocated according to the estimated time spent by each person in “program,” administration, and fund raising areas.

The development of a PCA News Magazine, authorized at the 30th General Assembly, generated the largest change in this budget as the magazine began publication this past year.

2006 Economic Assumptions

A. Stated Clerk/Administration
   3.0% PCA Growth Rate
   3.6% National Consumer Price Index (CPI) and inflation rate - February
   10.0% Health Insurance Premiums (per RBI)
6.1-7.0 % Transportation, Atlanta (as of February)
5.8-6.1 % Transportation, National (as of February)
3.1 % Employee Cost Index for Y/E 2005
The full time equivalent (FTE) employees budgeted at the beginning and end of the year will be 15.0.

B. PCA Office Building
   Rent will be at $12.00 per square foot for 2006
   The full time equivalent (FTE) employees budgeted at the beginning and end of the year will be 0.5.

II. Major Changes in the Budget

Several items are pushing the AC Budgets up. The first is the planned growth of byFaith magazine. We hope to get it in as many homes as possible. Our assumption has been to finance it with 1/3 contributions and 2/3 ads and subscriptions. We know of no denominational magazine which functions without contribution income.

The General Assembly costs are being pushed up by the size of the Assembly and increased audio-visual, info tech, and travel. Note above that travel costs are up 6.1 to 7.0% in Atlanta and 5.8-6.1% nationally.

III. Income Streams and Development Plans

All income streams will need to be increased as the AC moves through 2006 and into 2007. Undesignated Contributions increased in 2005 over 2004 by $4,370 and the magazine’s designated contributions dropped considerably for lack of time and attention. This upward trend must continue in Undesignated Giving and the magazine needs to raise another $200,000 and increase the subscriptions to at least 15,000 by the end of 2006 and plan for 20,000 at the end of 2007.

Some financial stability exists in the pledges for the magazine in the amount of $115,400 as of 12/31/05. These pledges are scheduled to be received over a three-year period to underwrite the magazine.

The AC unashamedly urges the churches and members of the PCA to give generously to the AC Budget, as we believe the ministries supported therein contribute significantly to the well-being of the PCA and the Kingdom of our Lord.
IV. Notes to AC Budget Comparisons Statement Line Items

Line item 6: News Office and News Magazine. The growth in the News Magazine in expense is based on the estimated cost of 40,000 magazines for six issues in 2007. If income is not generated to meet this expenditure level, the magazine will have to be significantly cut back or terminated.

Line item 11: Standing Committees. Standing Committees decreased by $54,617 in total expense for the 2006 budget caused primarily by the completion of Strategic Planning in 2005 which had been accounted for in this cost category.

Line item 12: General Assembly. General Assembly cost continues to rise. This is caused primarily by our increased size which demands increased space cost and greater and greater usage of technology in the audio-visual and computer categories. Approximately one-fourth of the GA cost is in technology, an expense which was minimal before 1996.

Line item 14: Management and General. The decrease in Management and General of $134,203 is caused by the allocation of costs to the cost centers where they more properly should reside. These costs include telephone, printing, mailing and shipping, office supplies, and professional expense.

APPENDIX C
Christina Education and Publications
2007 Proposed Budget

Philosophy:
CE&P's ministry program is driven by the Strategic Faith Plan. The plan defines CE&P's mission, goals, strategies and programs. The proposed budget is a "ministry-based" budget and represents 93% of the resources needed to fund the planned activities, which have been approved and/or directed by the Permanent Committee and the General Assembly.

Summary:
The proposed 2007 expense budget represents a total decrease of -$547,250 or -16.44% from the 2006 budget. This decrease is due to 1) the Women's Ministry International Conference which was included in the 2006 budget but will not occur in 2007; and 2) the requested budget adjustment of -$209,000 made by the Administrative Committee.

Assumptions:
Underlying assumptions include: 1) the PCA will continue to grow; 2) the consumer price index or inflation rate will be approximately 2.0%; 3) occupancy cost will not exceed $12 per square foot; and 4) health insurance premiums are expected to increase 12%. 5) CE&P's budgeted need of 22 full time equivalent (FTE) employees is reduced from that presented in the 2006 budget. In 2005, CE&P employed 16.5 FTE employees.

Income Streams:
CE&P depends on contribution income as well as revenues earned for services rendered. As do the other PCA Committees and Agencies, CE&P struggles to receive adequate funding from PCA churches as prescribed by the Partnership Share. Perpetual shortfalls in the Partnership Share giving require the staff to solicit individual donors, local women's groups, and the PCA Foundation. Beyond this, the staff seeks to creatively find ways to enhance revenues through sales of products, attendance at events, and selling advertising where possible. These revenues generally do not contribute to the overall program cost (staff and office expenses) of CE&P but they do cover much of the out-of-pocket costs associated with their delivery. When all sources of contribution income and sales revenue have been exhausted, the CE&P staff is then forced to make choices between ministry programs and activities.
Notes:

- Other Revenue (Budget Comp., line 2) consists of book sales, conference fees, membership fees, subscriptions, advertising, and reimbursements for postage and other services. The 2007 revenue budget is projected to decrease since there will not be an international WIC conference scheduled for 2007.

- Seminars, Conferences and Consulting (Budget Comp., line 3) includes several general Christian education and leadership conferences as well as a denominational conference on mercy ministry sponsored with MNA. CE&P continues to offer the services of ten Regional Teacher Trainers who train teachers in local church Christian education ministries. See also Travel, Facilities and Events, and Honorariums (Proposed, lines 19, 28, 30). While the change from the 2006 budget includes an increase to reflect the planned mercy ministry conference in 2007, a significant decrease in the development of electronic training resources is also reflected in order to accommodate the AC’s requested budget decrease.

- As previously noted, Women in the Church (Budget Comp., line 4) is projected to decrease due to the absence of an international conference in 2007.

- CE&P continues, in a limited way, to help local churches that request assistance in developing Men's Ministries (Budget Comp., line 5). Currently, most of CE&P’s ministry to men occurs through cooperative efforts with other ministries and bi-monthly communications with over 600 individuals who have interest in and responsibility for men’s ministry. The budget increase represents the need for funds to employ a coordinator of this ministry for the denomination.

- The decrease in Youth Ministries (Budget Comp., line 6) represents the new plan for PCA youth leadership training conference (formerly known as Presbyterian Youth of America) called YXL. CE&P now is sponsoring and operating one “national” conference each year and is sponsoring a similar conference in the southwestern United States which is to be operated by the staff at University PCA in Las Cruces, NM. Expenses for the national conference are also represented in Travel, Facilities and Events, and Honorariums (Proposed, lines 19, 28, 30). The decrease also includes a reduction in needed support staff in order to accommodate the AC requested adjustment.

- In 2002-03, CE&P took a major step in partial fulfillment of its strategic plan by establishing and staffing a Children's Ministries department (Budget Comp., line 7). This ministry assists PCA churches in training workers, staffing positions, and identifying resources available to them. Since 2001, CE&P has hosted an annual conference for children's workers. The decrease in the 2007 budget does not represent a smaller conference but rather represents the new registration procedures which are being implemented which allow participants to handle their reservations directly with the hotel instead of going through CE&P. The decrease also includes a reduction in needed support staff in order to accommodate the AC requested adjustment.

- The Lord significantly blessed the PCA in 2005 with an emerging Seniors Ministry through CE&P. (Budget Comp, line 8). Dr. George Fuller developed a comprehensive training manual and complementary seminar package which has already been used by several PCA churches. CE&P needs to promote these seminars and resources and employ a half time staff consultant to oversee the ministry. In previous years, this ministry program has been included in Training, Conferences and Seminars (Budget Comp, line 3) but is now presented as a separate ministry category.

- Publications and Curriculum (Budget Comp., line 9) includes the periodicals Equip for Ministry and the Bulletin Supplement and a portion of the WIC Resource Letter. It also includes the costs associated with developing and producing other annual materials for Stewardship season, PCA Fifty Days of Prayer and Christian Education Sunday as well as other video series and training manuals. The decrease represents a reduction in planned distribution of printed material in order to accommodate the AC requested adjustment.

- The reductions of budgeted expenses for the Bookstore (Budget Comp., line 10) and Multi-media Library were necessary in order meet the AC’s objective. The reductions are primarily due to a reduction in staff and inventory acquisitions as well as a less ambitious advertising and promotion schedule.

- Management and General (Budget Comp., line 12) increases due to anticipated higher liability insurance premiums as well as budgeting for legal fees which are being passed on to the Committees and Agencies by the AC.

- The CE&P budget reflects two different types of depreciation. In 2001 CE&P received furniture valued at $102,603 as a result of the capital campaign, which raised funds for the PCA building. Depreciation – building furniture (Budget Comp., line 14) represents the annual depreciation on this furniture. Depreciation – other assets (Budget Comp., line 15) represents the anticipated annual depreciation on all other CE&P assets such as computer equipment, copiers, postage equipment, vehicles, etc. This number is anticipated to decrease now that CE&P’s accounting and back-office accounting software is fully depreciated.

- Fund Raising (Budget Comp., line 16) represents the costs associated with contacting churches, presbyteries, and individuals, and informing them about the ministry of CE&P and their potential role in supporting the ministry. This budgeted amount includes one half-time staff person as well as two part-time regional representatives, their travel expenses and mailing costs.

- The Coordinator, his assistant and related expenses are allocated to the various expense categories as follows: Training 15%, Fund Raising 15%, Administration 10%, Bookstore 15%, WIC 10%, Youth Ministries 10%, Children’s Ministry 10%, Youth Ministry 10% and Publications and Curriculum 15%.

I. Economic Considerations and General Ministry Factors

Covenant College operates within a national marketplace where it competes against faith-based and secular institutions to attract qualified students for its Christ-centered academic program. To succeed, the college must continually improve the perceived value of all components – academics, co-curricular activities, residential life, facilities and athletics – in order to meet enrollment and financial goals. Unlike many other colleges, Covenant operates without a meaningful income stream from endowment, and therefore, is almost fully dependent upon gifts and tuition revenues to support the academic program.

The resources required to deliver excellence in all of Covenant’s program are significant. The commitment to a low student to faculty ratio (currently 16:1) and a high level of professional talent among faculty and staff requires a substantial investment. The expanding role of technology in education and the need to provide excellent facilities and equipment place other economic demands upon the college. These factors continue to exert upward pressure on expenditures.

The general economic health of the U.S. economy – employment growth, growth in household income, growth of the investment markets – has a significant bearing on the ability of families to afford a Covenant education. As it seeks to make its program financially accessible to as many students as possible, Covenant continues to provide significant levels of financial aid from its general budget. Over 40% of Covenant’s tuition revenues go to fund financial aid to deserving students.

Covenant College’s 2006-2007 FY budget has been prepared based upon conservative enrollment estimates for the traditional program, a 5% increase in tuition and fee rates. Within the traditional program, prospects are strong for another record year in new student enrollment.

The adult degree completion program Quest has encountered significant competition from faith-based and secular programs alike and is not expected to continue its historical growth pattern. The Masters of Education program is expected to grow steadily at planned levels. Both of these programs are financially self-sustaining.
As we seek gifts to our $31 million, five-year capital campaign from alumni and other individual supporters of the college, giving from denominational sources to the $2.2 million annual fund is increasingly important.

II. Major Changes to Budget

The 2006 fiscal year budget reflects a 5% increase in tuition rates and a 5% increase in housing rates.

The proposed 2006-07 FY budget does not contain any major increases in any expense category other than continued inflationary pressure on utilities and information technology. As in prior years, a conservative contingency fund is established in the initial proposed budget to help offset unforeseen decreases in revenues or increases in expenses.

The college does plan to hire three faculty members (English, computer science, and criminology) to enhance the instructional quality of those programs. The positions are afforded through the retirements and attrition of faculty members. The only increase in staff and other resources is planned to support a new women’s softball team.

Given our cautious approach to planning 2006-07 FY enrollment levels, the budget does not include a merit increase pool for faculty and staff salary increases. Providing the resources for this purpose remains a priority for the college, and as enrollment numbers for fall 2006 become clearer, raises will be re-evaluated.

III. Income Streams

Tuition revenue (net of tuition discounts in the form of financial aid) is highly dependent upon our ability to recruit new students and retain existing students. A variety of factors – program quality, spiritual life, co-curricular activities, condition of facilities, availability of financial aid – work together to determine the perceived value of the Covenant program to existing and prospective students. Of increasing importance to new student recruitment is faculty involvement. Additionally, the quantity and quality of the relationship between students and their faculty mentors is proving to be a key in retaining upperclassmen.

Donations from non-denominational sources (primarily individual donors, alumni, and non-related foundations) continue to play an important role in maintaining the level of annual fund giving. Fundraising activities aimed at these groups during the next fiscal year will include requests for our $31 million capital campaign to fund campus facility expansion and renovations, the endowment fund, and operational funds.

Gifts from denomination sources (the Church Promise Program) will become increasingly important to the annual fund during the capital campaign program. The college has devoted additional development staff resources to enhance its fundraising effectiveness with PCA churches.

The college endowment fund and the Covenant College Foundation do not currently provide significant resources directly to the annual operating budget of the college. Primarily these sources benefit the college indirectly through scholarships awarded to help students defray the cost of attending Covenant. The College staff and Foundation development staff are both aggressively pursuing strategies to increase assets within the endowment to improve the college’s finances in the future.

IV. Accounting Format & Other Notes

The college uses the NACUBO (National Association of College and University Business Officers) definitions of revenue and expense categories. This insures that the college will be able to directly compare various ratios with other colleges and assess our effectiveness in accordance with our assessment systems. While the categories do not exactly parallel the definitions used by the Accounting and Financial Reporting Guide for Christian Ministries, there is some similarity. NACUBO categories including Instructional, Quest, M.Ed., Academic Support, Library, Student Services, Public Service and Student Aid could be broadly considered "Program Services." Maintenance of Plant, Institutional Support and Fund Raising could be considered "Supporting Activities."

Accounting for Depreciation and Capital Gifts

1. Depreciation

Covenant accounts for depreciation as an operating expense. Generally accepted accounting principles require depreciation to be accounted for as an operating expense and these rules must be followed to obtain an external audit in good standing. Funding depreciation is also advantageous as it provides some of the funds needed to repair and replace facilities as they age. Finally, the accrediting body in which Covenant participates requires a balanced bottom line for continued accreditation, including depreciation. For these three reasons, the college must actually fund the depreciation expense from operating revenues. This expense is shown on the expense spreadsheet divided between Maintenance of Plant Depreciation, representing the depreciation costs of the facilities used for educational purposes, and Auxiliary & Independent Operations Depreciation, representing the depreciation costs of the residence halls, food service and for-profit facilities. The 2006-07 FY budget, as proposed, funds the total depreciation expense of $1,500,000.

2. Capital Gifts

Covenant accounts for capital gifts as revenue in the year an unconditional pledge is made, as accounting rules dictate. Capital expenses are accounted for through depreciation expense over time. This means capital projects tend to positively overstate the operating results of the college. In order to show the results more clearly, the operating net results for the college are shown on the expense budget at the bottom of the page on the line titled “NET REVENUE - adjusted for unrestricted endowment and construction.” This line represents the operating results of the college, including the total depreciation expense, but excluding changes related to capital construction gifts or changes in the market value of the unrestricted endowment.

I. Economic Considerations and General Ministry Factors
   a. Covenant Theological Seminary trains 1,100 students annually (37% are full-time students). The present student body includes students from 44 states and 19 other countries.
   b. Overall, we are projecting a budget decrease of 1.16%. This decrease is the result of a large grant coming to its planned termination during the current fiscal year.
   c. We are projecting enrollment in the Fall of 2006 to be 421 full-time equivalents, an increase of 1.2% over the enrollment experienced this past Fall. The tuition rate will increase 5.88%, from $340 to $360 per credit hour. The tuition charge for a full-time student (taking 30 hours) will be $10,800 before financial aid. Financial aid averages 32.6%, so that the average amount a full-time student would actually pay for tuition would be $7,279.
   d. Our request for Partnership Shares total reflects an increase of 2.28%. This increase supports our strategic plan focus towards strengthening financial aid support for Master of Divinity students, and our initiative to sustain pastors in their first five years of ministry.
   e. Staff will receive 3% wage increases on average, after receiving 3% increases this year. Also, the retirement contribution by the seminary will remain at 9% for faculty and staff employed full-time over 5 years. Staff employed less than five years will receive 8.0%. The retirement contribution had been 10% until budget cuts three years ago required the contribution to be reduced to 5%. We eventually hope to increase the contribution percentage to its past level.

II. Major Changes in Budget
   The final three-year grant from Lilly Endowment for the Youth in Ministry Institute ended in December 2005. Some of the remaining salaries have been absorbed by the Francis Schaeffer Institute.

III. Income Streams
   The seminary’s revenue sources are:

Restricted Gifts  6.0%
Auxiliary Enterprises  6.3%
Student Aid & Other  3.2%

The tuition projection is based on enrollment projections in line with current trends.

The “Covenant Fund” represents unrestricted fund-raising for current year expenses. The projection is based on historical trends, which have been strong despite our current capital campaign. Our Partnership Shares total request represents the total amount that needs to be raised [operating expenses less all earned income] and includes the Covenant Fund and a portion of the Restricted Gifts not yet “in-house,” which still need to be raised. It also includes an amount equal to what it would take to reduce the endowment draw from 5% of assets to 4%, as we have been counseled to do, given the long-term outlook for real returns in investment performance.

The Endowment Draw is 5.0% of a twelve-quarter rolling average of the endowment assets.

Restricted Gifts are counted as revenue when the gifts are actually spent for their restricted purpose. The decrease in the next year reflects the end of the grant for the Youth in Ministry Institute and lower spending by the Center for Ministry Leadership.

Auxiliary Enterprises income is primarily the rents from students living on campus.

Student Aid and Other Income have been very stable for the last few years, since we began “bundling” media resources as part of the tuition for the Access distance education program.

IV. Notes to Budget “line items”

Budget Comparison – Expenses
- Instruction – One new Associate Professor position plus $30,000 added for adjunct professors
- Instruction – YIMI – Expiration of the grant in December 2005
- Instructional Technology – reconfiguration of the department
- Instruction – Access – possible reconfiguration of the department
- Instruction – FSI – Increased expenses are related to shifting of salaries previously partially covered by YIMI
- Registrar’s Office – potential reconfiguration of department
• Library—Increases for personnel; more eligible for retirement
• Academic Advisement—potential new department, moving some activities away from the Registrar’s Office
• Student Aid—Scholarships—This number is consistently calculated as a percentage of tuition.
• Development—Shifting of expenses to Public Relations and Advancement
• Business Office—Adds are for travel and contract services.
• Physical Plant—Increases are related to expected insurance, utility, and maintenance costs.
• Auxiliary Enterprises—Adjusted for expected increases in insurance and utilities for the on-campus apartments
• President’s Salary—The seminary’s Board of Trustees has approved an increase of 10%, largely based on data showing that the salary for the President’s position has been trailing the median of salaries of seminary presidents, for seminaries of similar size, by nearly 17% [as reported by the Association of Theological Schools].
• President’s Benefits—The Board requires the President to live in housing on campus. Total benefits shown on the budget now include a portion of the fair rental value of the home [a reduction is made from the full fair rental value, due to the large number of seminary-related events hosted in the home by the President and his wife].

MISSION TO NORTH AMERICA

I. Economic Considerations and General Ministry Factors

A. Mission to North America (MNA) is organized to serve the churches and presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church in America (PCA) in advancing the Gospel throughout the United States and Canada. MNA accomplishes its ministry through the following programs:

- Church Planting – Planting new churches in all kinds of communities and among every people group in North America. In addition, MNA coordinates resources for the revitalization of established PCA churches, keeping them healthy by providing intensive, effective training and coaching for church planters.
- Mercy and Disaster Relief Ministries – Participation in relief efforts through deeds of mercy, which accompany the preaching of the Gospel.
- Chaplain Ministries – Providing leadership and endorsement for chaplains who serve under the auspices of the PCA serving the United States Armed Forces and other institutions.
- Ministry to Constituency – Offer direct services and referrals to resources that address the needs of existing churches.
- Five Million Dollar Fund – Make loans to PCA churches to help them obtain land or to build first buildings they could not afford by any other means.

B. Budget estimates, overall, are guided by several factors to include cost of living increase, current economic conditions, as well as past history of actual expenses over a three (3) to five (5) year period of time.

II. Major Changes in Budget

No major changes are reflected in the proposed 2007 budget.

III. Income Streams

MNA’s main income streams come through constituent donations, Partnership Share, and investment income.
IV. Notes to Budget Line Items

The MNA Mission:
That God, by His grace and for His own glory, through the cooperative prayers and efforts of PCA churches and presbyteries, will ignite a powerful church planting and vitalization movement, a movement that impacts all of North America with the Gospel of Jesus Christ and transforms the heart and face of the PCA. We long to see transformation in North America through people being saved, lives changed, disciples made, and needs met in the name of Jesus Christ.

♦ The revised 2006 budget reflects approximately a 5% increase over 2005 actual experience. The 2007 budget reflects approximately a 5% increase over the revised 2006 budget, thereby increasing “Partnership Share” (based on the current system) to $25.50, up from $24.10 in 2006. Based on history, a 5% projected annual income increase is a reasonable expectation.

♦ An overall net increase of 5% in salaries and benefits is assumed. That is an aggregate of cost of living, merit increases, and health insurance costs.

♦ Due to evaluation of personnel needs, the total number of full-time equivalent staff budgeted for in the 2007 budget is 20.75 FTE, which is a decrease from 22.0 FTE in the 2006 budget. All but two of these positions are currently filled.

♦ The cost being charged by the Administrative Committee for office space has been increased to $12 per square foot in 2006. This cost should remain the same in 2007.

MISSION TO THE WORLD
PROPOSED CONSOLIDATED 2007 BUDGET

I. Economic Considerations and General Ministry Focus

The 2007 budget is proposed from an analysis of key factors that influence the income and expenses of Mission to the World operating in a global context with a rapidly changing global economy. We start by reviewing the results of 2005 and extend these indicators into 2006 and 2007.

The year 2005 saw the US dollar value fluctuate throughout the year, gaining moderately against the Yen and substantially against the Euro. For mission work this has helped regain part of the large loss in 2004. Our overseas missionary expenses in US dollars ended the year 2005 at approximately ninety-seven percent of budget. The US economy remains relatively steady, but continues to fluctuate up and down. The stock market continued to recover during 2005. The economic patterns of the last few years have had little impact on monthly contributions from donors, and we saw a return to strong year-end giving to our missionaries and programs. We continued to see a few gifts coming into the endowment fund. The total income for the year was just over one hundred twelve percent of budget when endowment and Donor Advised Funds income and security investment gains are counted.

Remembering that the entire program of Mission to the World is by the grace of God, we want to give God praise for a very positive year, which saw a growing number of supporting home churches and an increasing force of missionaries in the midst of the moderate US economy.

II. Major Changes in Budget

The changes in our budget are influenced primarily by plans for the continued growth of the number of missionaries (long- and short-term) and field ministry efforts.

There are several goals coming from the MTW strategic priorities that will be part of the 2007 program. A few new ministry sites are planned in 2006 and more sites are a part of the growth and expansion plans for 2007. We plan to open or expand church planting movement (CPM) sites in all five of our international regions, as well as initiate several new CPM support ministry (e.g. campus, medical, teaching English and street children) programs. We experienced a slight positive net growth in the number of long-term missionaries in 2005. We plan for the number to continue to increase in 2006 and 2007. We also have continued growth goals for the number of short-term workers (two-year, interns and two-week participants) for 2007.
We have begun to see church partnership models materialize to strengthen church planting movements around the globe. Our new focus on Muslim ministry, Enterprise, is using this as their primary model for new ministry initiatives. We believe we will see various models of church partnerships in the coming years as we proactively engage local churches in focused church planting ventures.

Plans in the home office for 2007 are to strengthen ongoing support of the missionaries and churches we serve. MTW plans to enhance our current resourcing and equipping of the local home churches in global missions, and we anticipate some staffing needs to facilitate those efforts. Other increases in home office staff in 2007 are for general administrative growth to keep pace with the ministry growth and for short-term programs that are projected to expand.

Major development efforts will continue to focus on raising endowment funds that will go to reduce the administrative factor and new major gifts to fund new programs and new initiatives. Our partner relation team has also set goals to continue to strengthen relationships with churches that are the major revenue source for MTW and an important factor in funding the home office.

Plans for information technology in 2006 will focus on the implementation and customization of the recently acquired Foundational System which covers the short-term project management system, the human resource system, the general accounting system, the donor services system and the contact management / recruiting system. I.T. in 2007 will focus on the continued integration and functional expansion of the Foundational System and the Internet Portal System.

III. Income Streams

Income (excluding endowment and gift annuities) has grown from $7.8 million in 1985 to $50.1 million in 2005 and is projected to be $51.6 million in 2007. Income projections have assumed a continuing strong support for missionaries from churches and individuals in a reasonably stable US economy and in a gradually growing PCA denomination. We have projected the support requirements of missionaries, adjusted for inflation, as a basis for future income. For expense projections we used historic trends for salary adjustments, growth and currency value, resulting in an average increase of approximately 6 percent for 2006 and we have used approximately the same percentage for 2007.
Missionary support accounts with deficit balances continue to remain low. Total deficits for all missionaries have gone from $400,000 in 1994 down to approximately $158,000 in 2005, indicating the strong support of MTW ministry partners.

Partnership share giving for the home office grew from $300,000 in 1994 to $1,302,000 in 2005, but this was a decrease of 37,000 from 2004. Partnership share giving in 2007 is projected with only a slight increase over 2005 actual due to the decline in 2005. We have assumed that good church relations and enhanced equipping of churches will avoid a further decrease in partnership share giving as experienced in 2005.

Project and field income is calculated as a part of the support requirements of missionaries and we expect a 4 to 5 percent growth in 2007. Major new funding for new fields, church planting and mercy ministry is expected to impact 2007 expenditures.

Investment income projections assume that interest rates will remain stable over the next two years. In 2007, if the stock market continues to recover, we will see some endowment earnings available as needed in the general fund and for global training and development operational costs.

IV. Notes to Budget:

Projections have been made regarding the number of missionaries, home office staff, annual income and annual expenses. In making these projections the following assumptions have been used:

We anticipate that continued efforts to recruit missionaries in 2006 would show additional results during 2007. Using 1996 as the comparison year to 2007, career missionaries will grow from 512 to 612, two-year missionaries from 117 to 170, internship missionaries from 50 to 350 and two-week missionaries from 2036 to 7200.

We plan to limit home office staff in 2007 to 96, a slight increase to support the strategic ministry initiatives that have been recently started.

We have anticipated that the US dollar will most likely decline slightly in value to major currencies during 2007. We expect other global economic factors to be unstable, with inflation higher overseas than here in the US. The exchange loss in countries outside Japan and Europe will most likely be offset by inflation gains.
The 2007 proposed budget for short-term ministries is based on a summer program of 7,200 students, an internship program of 350 persons, and a two-year missionary staff of 170 missionaries. All programs in the short-term group are designed to generate higher income to offset expenses whenever these programs expand.

The medical insurance fund (MIF) had an above average expense year in 2005 which is similar to 2004. We expect that medical costs will increase faster than inflation. The Medical Benefits Reserve showed no improvement in 2005, but the plan benefits were adjusted and premiums were increased in 2006 and a premium increase is planned for in 2007.

The fixed monthly administrative assessment charge per missionary was not increased per the fixed formula linked to the consumer price index in 2006, but we expect it will need to in 2007. With controlled or specially funded costs in the home office, we expect to keep the general fund in balance.

The following three tables show the consolidated income and expense budget proposed for 2007. The first table presents a historical perspective showing 2005 and 2006 budgets approved at General Assembly, 2007 information, and the changes in budget from 2006 to 2007. The second shows a functional breakdown between program, administration, fund raising and designated programs. The third table shows a five-year history of income and expenses.

In addition to the income and expense budget, the capital expense budget is requested in the amount of $125,000 for information technology, improved telecommunication, and some office reconfigurations to maximize space utilization for staff growth.

I. Economic Considerations and General Ministry Factors

The PCA Foundation’s (PCAF) primary purpose is to use its assets “…for the support of the cause of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ, primarily through the Presbyterian Church in America, but also through other groups, societies, organizations, and institutions that minister in Jesus’ name to man’s spiritual, physical, emotional and intellectual powers” (PCAF Articles of Incorporation).

The purpose of the PCAF is accomplished primarily by providing information, education, and charitable financial services to individuals and families in order to help them carry out their charitable desires and stewardship responsibilities.

The PCAF offers the following charitable financial services: Advise and Consult Funds (donor-advised funds), Charitable Remainder Trusts, Charitable Lead Trusts, Endowments, Designated Funds for Churches, Estate Design, Bequest Processing, and providing educational materials, presentations, and information.

The PCAF has also taken into consideration, as it prepared its 2007 Proposed Budget, the expectation of continuing improvement in the economy and financial markets.

II. Major Changes in Budget

There are no major changes in operations included in the proposed 2007 Budget. The amount budgeted for capital expenditures is significantly higher than what is normally spent by the PCA Foundation on an annual basis, due to budgeting for the purchase of a new comprehensive software system as described in the Notes to Budget “line items” below.
III. Income Streams

The PCAF is self-supported. It does not participate in the PCA’s Partnership Shares Program, nor does it rely on the financial support of churches to help underwrite its operating expenses.

Approximately 63% of the PCAF’s total 2007 budgeted operating revenue will be derived from interest/earnings generated by its Advise and Consult Fund and the PCAF Endowment. Trustee/Administrative Fees on Charitable Trusts, Endowments, and other accounts are budgeted to provide approximately 19% of the budgeted revenues, and charitable contributions (primarily from a small number of individuals, including current and former PCAF Board Members) account for the remaining 18%.

IV. Notes to Budget “line items”

General Comments

The 2007 Operating and Capital Budget of $828,500 represents a $99,000 or 14% increase over the 2006 Budget of $729,500. This increase is due primarily to two factors. Approximately 50% of the increase is due to increases in staff wages and benefits and increased clerical help, along with general increases in operating expenses. The other 50% is due to the anticipated purchase of a new comprehensive software package to handle the PCAF’s trust administration/accounting, general and charitable products accounting, gift receipting, grant distributions, donor relations, marketing, etc.

Both the 2006 and 2007 Budgets include wages and benefits for a Development position, including related travel and training expenses. However, the position was unfilled in 2005, and this accounts for a significant portion of the variance between the 2007 and 2006 Budgets compared with 2005 Actual. The position was filled in January, 2006.

Notes to Proposed 2007 Budget - (Notes generally relate to notable comparisons of 2007 Budget to 2006 Budget.)

Support & Revenue

Note: The PCA Foundation does not participate in the PCA’s Partnership Shares program. It is self-supported.

Undesignated Earnings (line 1) – These payouts are from funds held by the PCA Foundation, mainly from Advise & Consult Funds and the PCAF Endowment, which help underwrite the Foundation’s operating expenses. The payout percentages are set annually by the PCA Foundation’s Board, and generally are correlated to the expected investment returns of the accounts. The 2007 Budget of $523,500 represents a 22% increase from the 2006 Budget. This additional funding is primarily the result of budgeted increases in the anticipated Advise & Consult Fund account balance and also anticipated increases in interest and earnings. The budgeted increases are realistic given the growth during 2005 and the current levels in the Advise and Consult Fund, and considering the rises in short-term interest rates during 2004 and 2005.

C & A Support (line 2) – General Assembly mandated support from the four remaining Committees and Agencies (Covenant College, Covenant Theological Seminary, Mission to North America, and Mission to the World) was eliminated in 2000. Their mandatory support in 1999 was $15,000 each, for a total of $60,000, having been reduced from $30,000 each in 1998, $34,000 each in 1997 (after a $10,000 refund to each), and $44,000 each in 1996. The Foundation successfully achieved self-supporting status in 2000.

Fees (line 3) – 2007 Budgeted fees are administrative fees charged on funds held for long term administration such as Charitable Remainder Trusts, Charitable Lead Trusts, Endowments, and Designated Funds, etc. The 2007 Budget amount of $145,000 represents a 4% increase over the 2006 Budget amount, and a 22% increase over 2005 Actual. The anticipation of new accounts in 2006 and 2007, and the expectation of rising equity markets (thereby increasing account balances subject to fees) over the next 18 months make achieving the 2007 Budget realistic.

Contributions (line 4) – Gifts primarily from a small number of individuals and families help underwrite the Foundation’s Operating Budget. The 2007 Budget amount of $150,000 consists of a $60,000 matching challenge contribution from a family and the corresponding matches budgeted at $75,000 for a period of 10 years (1999-2008), plus normal contributions to the Foundation. The increases in revenue from increased Undesignated Earnings and Fees have decreased the amount of contributions needed from the levels required in prior years. The matching challenge contributions helped provide the resources necessary for the Foundation to successfully achieve self-supported status in 2000, and are necessary to help in the transition to the point where the need for voluntary contributions is minimal or perhaps even eliminated.

Operations Expenses
Staff Wages & Benefits (lines 6, 7 and 8) – 2007 Budget increase of 6.5% over the 2006 Budget is primarily due to budgeted compensation increases and increasing health insurance costs relative to existing staff, plus the addition of a part time clerical employee. 2007 compensation increases are budgeted at 4% from estimated 2006 compensation levels. Health insurance premiums are budgeted to increase 10% from estimated 2005 levels. The 2007 Budget variance from 2005 Actual is primarily due to the Development position being unfilled during 2005 (filled January, 2006), the transition of a part-time Administrative Assistant position to full time, plus regular compensation and cost of benefit increases.

Travel and Training Expenses (lines 9 and 18) – 2007 Budget and 2006 Budget variances to 2005 Actual primarily due to the Development position being unfilled during 2005.

Promotional and postage Expenses (lines 11 and 13) – 2007 Budget and 2006 Budget expenses reflect a decrease compared to 2005 Actual, due to expensing the brochure inventory in 2005, previously accounted for as inventory as an asset on the balance sheet.

Rent (line 15) – 2007 Budget and 2006 Budget is for space rented in the PCA Building at a rate of $12.00/sq. ft. The 2004 amount was at $11.00/sq. ft.

Capital Expenditures
Capital Expenditures (line 25) – 2007 Budget is a significant increase from software system that would handle trust administration/accounting, general and charitable products accounting, gift receipting, grant distributions, donor relations, marketing, etc.

PCA RETIREMENT & BENEFITS, INC.

I. Economic Considerations and General Ministry Factors

a. Statement of Purpose: The purpose of PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc. is to glorify God through serving His servants who minister in the Church by offering financial products to provide for the health and welfare, retirement and relief needs of the denomination’s ministers, missionaries, lay church workers and their families, and to serve the churches, committees and agencies of the PCA and related organizations by sponsoring and endorsing a denominational property and liability insurance program.

b. This budget reflects the costs incurred to administer the trust funds for PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc. This budget does not reflect the financial activity in those trust funds. (Complete financial activity in the trust funds may be found in the RBI Annual Report, which includes audited financial statements.)

c. Economic considerations include a CPI of 3.4% and a medical trend of 10% to 12% (4.2% medical care CPI plus other factors such as drugs, medical devices and medical advances, provider expenses, government mandates and regulations, increased consumer demand, litigation and risk management).

II. Major Changes in Budget

a. The 2007 budget reflects a 1.8% decrease, or $25,500, from the 2006 budget. 2005 actuals are unaudited.

b. The decrease in the Insurance portion of Support and Revenue is related to the termination of the PCA Health Plan and the reduction in budgeted FTEs.

c. The decrease in the Retirement portion of Support and Revenue reflects its portion of the decrease in budgeted FTEs.

d. The increase in the Relief portion of Support and Revenue is based on the addition of a part-time administrative support person dedicated to the Relief Program.

III. Income Stream

The source of RBI budgeted revenue is trustee fees charged to the Health and Welfare Benefit Trust and the Tax-Sheltered Annuity Trust. The amount of these trustee fees is set by the General Assembly when it approves our budget.
IV. Notes to Budget Line Items

a. The total number of staff budgeted for 2007 is 10.5 FTE, one and one half less than the 12 FTE included in the 2006 budget. Currently, 10 positions are filled.
b. An overall net decrease of 7.4% in salaries and benefits is assumed in 2007. The decrease is due to the reduction in staff size. Budgeted positions include a 4.5% average salary increase that assumes a 3.4% cost of living factor and 1.6% merit factor.
c. Occupancy costs for the shared facility are expected to remain the same as 2006 at $12 per square foot.
d. All fund raising activities relate to the Ministerial Relief program through our annual Christmas Offering and appeals through PCA Foundation.
e. General Assembly expense refers to the cost of convention services such as booth space and electrical supply, transportation of materials to and from General Assembly, and RBI’s share of the Nominating Committee Expense and any Ad Hoc Committee expense. It does not include travel expense for staff and presenting board members.

The RUM Mission:

Reformed University Ministries has the goal of building the church now and for the future by reaching students for Christ and equipping students to serve. This is accomplished by supporting the RUF works of presbyteries and churches in the areas of administration, finance, development, intern program, training, conferences, recruiting, and general ministry operation.

Economic Considerations and General Ministry Factors

♦ This budget reflects our continuing growth as we assist and work with presbyteries and churches to develop new RUF works on campuses nationwide. For 2007 we project to have 104 campus ministries with over 180 field staff, including 82 interns.
♦ There is a net decrease of 13.7% in this budget from the 2006 budget. This is the net effect of the addition of personnel and related travel and the removal of the “Campus Development” line item.
♦ The total number of full-time equivalent staff budgeted for 2007 is twelve and part-time is one. One part-time and nine full-time positions are currently filled. The unfilled positions are two area coordinators and one development director.
♦ An overall net increase of 5% in salaries and related adjustments to benefits is assumed for all existing staff positions. That includes aggregate of cost of living and merit increases.
♦ The cost being charged by the Administrative Committee for office space is projected to be $12 per square foot in 2007.
♦ The 2007 budget for the entire ministry of $12,765,876, including affiliated committees, is included in the RUM General Assembly report for information.

Major Changes in Budget

♦ The major change reflected in the 2007 budget is the addition of two area coordinators and their related travel and other expenses.

Income Streams

♦ Income for the 2007 budget is projected to come from contributions (41%), affiliated committee transfers (54%), and interest income (5%).

MINUTES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY
RIDGE HAVEN
2007 PROPOSED BUDGET

Introduction

Anyone who has seen the TV program ‘NUMB3RS’ can bear witness that numbers indeed reveal much more than their simple numeric face value. Similarly, even a simple survey of the Bible’s listing of the words ‘number,’ ‘numbered,’ and ‘numbering’ identifies hundreds of references revealing how numbers have been used to honor and glorify the Lord and/or to dishonor Him. With this report we pray that God will help you to see God’s work in and through Ridge Haven, His desire for this aspect of ministry, and the needs He puts before the churches, presbyteries, and members of the Presbyterian Church In America.

In addition to the information provided under the four sub-headings, we provide the following observations concerning 2005…

• During 2005 Ridge Haven continued its pursuit of the site-development plan begun in 2004. The final report and conclusion of the project is expected in May of 2006. Approximately one-third of the cost appeared in 2004. With the exception of a final payment of approximately $4,000, the remaining two-thirds of the cost has been covered and reported in 2005. With regard to our need for a site-development plan, please see the information under the Economic Considerations and Ministry Factors heading.

• It should be noted that Ridge Haven has limited the amount spent in personnel categories primarily by not filling existing positions as they have come open and holding the line on existing employee compensation and benefit packages.

• Also begun in 2005 was the first phase of a capital campaign, a feasibility study conducted by the Focus Group, a consulting firm used by several of the other Committees and Agencies for establishing capital campaigns. With regard to our need for a capital campaign, please see the information under the Economic Considerations and Ministry Factors heading.

I. Economic Considerations and Ministry Factors

With regard to economic considerations, the factors for determining the Ridge Haven budget are straightforward. We have neither formulas nor what we know as hidden costs. Our annual in-house operations budget-method for tracking both revenue and expenses is very detailed (ten pages) and number-keyed exactly to our one-page annual GA budget report and proposal.
Readers should note that Ridge Haven almost always experiences an annual operations budget short-fall. For this reason, Ridge Haven prioritizes its expenditures resulting in several very modestly funded categories, i.e., 2005 Actuals, lines 17, 23, 32, and 38. Based on the lack of church participation and the critical nature of many urgent needs, we have found it necessary to solicit special-project contributions to assist us in covering the needs.

With regard to ministry factors, we believe Ridge Haven provides a very important ministry not only to the southeast region but to the whole denomination, indeed to the whole country! With the exception of the ARP camp and conference center and one camp and conference center belonging to a PCA church, Ridge Haven is the only Presbyterian and Reformed camp and conference center operating year around in the United States today! With the exception of approximately four individual PCA churches providing a summer camps program and the three-to-four para-church organizations with strong ties to the PCA providing summer youth conferences (not camps), Ridge Haven is the only camp and conference center in the United States offering a summer camp program, a winter camp, and a youth conference, all from a Reformed world and life view! Ridge Haven campers, conferees and counselors come from all parts of the PCA. We truly and singularly represent the PCA on a denomination-wide level. For these reasons, the Ridge Haven budget reflects the seriousness with which we have accepted God’s call seeking to maintain the ministries established by the Presbyterian Church in America.

We are aware that for many, “Ridge Haven is too far away for use of the services…” We are also keenly aware that the same reason is put forward not to support Ridge Haven according to the General Assembly approved budgets and guidelines. By such thinking we see the whole work of the Church weakened and the testimony of the Church diminished. We believe such thinking misses the point and encourages connectional irresponsibility. Ridge Haven needs to be supported as a mission and ministry beyond services that can be personally accessed. In essence, such thinking says, “I have no need of you.” Our humble plea asks each one to note that this response violates the word and the principles of 1 Corinthians 12 that “the eye cannot say to the hand, ‘I have no need of you.’” With regard to our need, we ask each one to be not only “hearers” of the word but also “doers.”

II. Major Changes in Budget

In the spirit of the request of the Stated Clerk and the AC Business Manager that we ask for no more in funding than we have a reasonable expectation of receiving, we removed line 43, Facilities Renovation, with the expectation of taking up this funding in either or both special projects and capital improvements. We ask readers to take note that making this move carries with it the critical need for all the churches of the PCA to be supportive of our funding requests.

In the spirit of the request of the Stated Clerk and the AC Business Manager that we ask for no more in funding than we have a reasonable expectation of receiving, we removed line 45, New Programming, with the inclusion of this need in lines 19 and 24. As with the point made above, we ask readers to take note that making this move carries with it the critical need for all the churches of the PCA to be supportive of our funding requests.

III. Revenue Streams

In 2004 Ridge Haven received more than $69,500 in Other Contributions, line 5. The increase was due in part to the fact that toward the end of 2004, Ridge Haven began the implementation of a four-part development strategy involving the solicitation of additional contributions from Ridge Haven participants including camper parents and conferees. In 2005 we received a little over $76,000. Though WIC contributions have continued to decline, the giving of individuals has continued to increase.

Fifty-five percent of our projected revenue is customer based! Measuring the actual customer-generated revenue against the total revenue for 2005, it accounted for more than 63%.

Partnership share support continues to be the weak link in our revenue streams. In 2005 the percentage of support increased from 25.17 to 25.33. The actual dollar amount received from partnership shares for 2005, however, was down by $10,771 compared to the previous year. In 2005 the budgeted short-fall was $504,617, 40.78% of the budget. By the prioritization previously identified (see paragraph two of Section I, Economic Considerations and Ministry Factors), the operational short-fall was held to $65,500, the difference between revenue and expenses. Although this type of budget prioritizing helps cash flow in the short term, eventually the categories slighted must be brought up-to-date, often at a greater cost. An example is the payment of the State-mandated-waste-water-systems-upgrades. The urgency and plea for all the churches of the PCA to participate in supporting the Ridge Haven partnership share therefore continues.
IV. 2007 GA Budget Line Items Notes

1. Support/Revenue - The revenue numbers projected for 2007 are based on the actual numbers from 2005, the trends from 2004 and 2005, and the present identified needs. The projected increases or decreases are based on actual planning or fact-based expectations.

2. Line 3, Partnership Share – For 2005, revenue from Partnership Share giving was the lowest it has been in the last six years. In actual dollars it was $10,771 less than was given in 2004 and the fourth straight year of decline. We believe the decrease is indicative of several factors:
   • The absence of stewardship teaching within and by the denomination and its churches about the role of congregations in supporting the work of the Presbyterian Church in America.
     o The encouragement of the AC and some of the other Committees and Agencies to follow the para-church model of raising revenue and support to the neglect, decline, and acceptance of churches financially abandoning connectional responsibilities.

3. Line 4, Resident Payments – During 2005 we experienced one of our best years ever in lot lease sales. This explains more than $75,000 of the revenue in this category. The category also includes revenue from lot lease interest, lot lease maintenance fees (the administrative amount we charge for keeping all lot information on file and current), water hookups, water usage fees, and a portion of the road maintenance fees. The amount budgeted each year reflects the predictable aspects of this revenue, i.e. the principal and interest being paid on lot leases being bought over time, the annually collected lot lease maintenance fees, water usage fees, and a portion of the road maintenance fees. It does not reflect the uncertain sale of lot leases and water hookups. We may or may not have revenue from these in any given year.

4. Line 5, Other Contributions - The category includes contributions from WIC groups, other groups, and individuals toward the daily operations of Ridge Haven. It does not include special project and/or one-time offering project gifts such as are provided through the Keenagers Conferences, occasional PresWIC retreat groups, etc.

5. Line 6, Non-medical Reimbursements - The category includes amounts paid to Ridge Haven by individuals or groups for the use of Ridge Haven postage, office copier, vehicle parts, fuel, etc.

6. Line 8, Food Service – The expectation for the increase in this category is based upon price increases both for meals provided, and for camper registrations. From the increased camper payments we have directed more revenue into this category especially to cover non-pay participants such as speakers, directors, musicians, and counselors.

7. Line 12, Sale of Assets - The category reflects the liquidation of material items no longer needed. The amounts reported are unpredictable. There is no certainty of income from the sale of assets from year-to-year.

8. Line 14, Administrator Salary/Benefits - As with every expense line item, the amount indicated in the budget may or may not be spent, depending on actual income from support and revenue. The Administrator’s present salary and benefits are approximately $82,000. This is projected to remain the same through 2006. As revenues increase, the amount approved by budget will allow for compensation increases.

9. Line 16, Other Salary/Benefits - In addition to the Administrator, the Ridge Haven staff has been set up to consist of a total of 10 year-around employees. The Ministry Director, Maintenance Superintendent, Resident Manager, Food Service Director, and Housekeeping Director are salaried, full-time positions. The Accounting Manager/Reservationist and Administrator’s Secretary are hourly-paid full-time employees. The Food Service Assistant Director and Housekeeping Assistant are all year-around part-time hourly-paid employees.

   The increased numbers for the 2007 budget provide for the following: The reintegration of a Ministry Director, $45,000; Ministry secretary, $24,000; Office assistant, $15,000; Casual labor for food service, maintenance, and housekeeping, $40,000; and a Maintenance assistant, $25,000.

10. Line 20, Workers’ Comp, Social Security, & Medicare - The amount includes present Social Security, Medicare, and workers’ compensation for all employees. The amount proposed includes the corresponding cost for increasing compensation and added staff identified in the line 16 notes.

11. Line 21, Other Fees - This category includes North Carolina Fees (usually a small amount), Miscellaneous fees (also usually a small amount), Solid Waste Fees, Pool Fees (the amounts we pay for county inspection at the beginning of each season), etc. The 2004 actual amount includes the payoff of the annual loan-maintenance fee created by the establishment of a line of credit approved by the 2004 General Assembly for the purpose of financing the septic system upgrades.

12. Line 22, Tele/Communications - This category includes telephone, radio communication units, DSL, and web site maintenance.

13. Line 23, Planning/Promotion/and Recruiting - This category includes all printing costs, promotional ads and videos, Administrator and Ministry Director promotional work and trips, the Ministry Director’s counselor recruiting expenses, and a small amount for the Administrator’s development travel expenses.
14. Line 29, Other Facilities - The single largest item in this category is our facility and vehicle insurance. Other insurance includes a liability umbrella, Officer, and BOD liability. Insurance premiums are continuing to rise disproportionately. Also included in this category is an amount that enables us to do facility repairs and maintenance.

15. Line 32, Equipment/Furnishings - We continue to need additional equipment (audio-visual, computers, etc.) and furnishings (chairs, tables, sofas, beds, etc.). These items are purchased as the money becomes available.

16. Line 33, Grounds - We have several erosion and landscape projects we are seeking to implement. The amount indicated will allow us to do these as the money comes in. Also included in this category is our time payments for a needed backhoe/front-end loader purchased in 2004.

17. Line 34, Utilities - This is an additional item that took an unexpected and disproportionate rise. Ridge Haven is continuing to investigate and implement energy-saving measures.

18. Line 35, Property Taxes (Ridge Haven portion) – Ridge Haven does pay taxes on unsold lot lease property as well as the raw mountain land it owns.

19. Line 38, Vehicles - Ridge Haven owns and operates a fleet of 6 vehicles. The budgeted amount allows for us to repair and/or replace aging and/or failing vehicles as the money is available. We presently have need of a four-wheel-drive truck and SUV, and a 15-passenger van to replace one that was retired in 2003.

20. Line 42, Miscellaneous – The 2005 report number reflects the site-development plan consultant cost that was begun in 2004. The cost will continue through 2005 into 2006. We opted to list it here rather than add a new line item in the budget that would need to be removed after 2006.

21. Line 43, Water & Septic Systems - In response to our efforts to secure a new septic field permit for the dining hall, and just as with our water system three years ago, the State of North Carolina increased our system requirements, thus dramatically increasing the sewage disposal operating costs. These costs began to surface in 2004, increased in 2005, and will reach their expected peak in 2006 as we comply with new requirements. In addition to the increased operating costs, during 2005 we accessed the Assembly-approved line of credit for the purpose of proceeding with the State-mandated upgrades. The amount accessed through the end of December 2005 was approximately $100,000. We are expecting to access an additional $75,000 early in 2006 to complete the requirements. The budgeted amount reflects the actual projected cost of maintenance for the water and septic systems plus an amount directed toward the repayment of the line of credit accessed to comply with State required changes.

2007 PARTNERSHIP SHARES
FOR THE PCA GENERAL ASSEMBLY MINISTRIES

PREFACE

The working definition under which the 2007 Partnership Shares have been calculated is as follows.

As a general statement, “Partnership Shares” describes the amount of money needed to cover the anticipated total expenses of a ministry minus earned income and minus funds designated to specific individuals who are missionaries, church planters, campus ministers, and staff (unless the ministry also guarantees the full compensation of the employee), as well as specific capital funds or similar designated monies. This portion of the approved expense budget is dependent on contributions from the PCA churches and individuals.” In every case the “Partnership Share” is permitted to be at least the General Administrative and Overhead portion of the particular ministry’s total budget. The numbers are expressed in “per communicant member” terms, a straightforward per capita giving formula: the division of total partnership shares divided by the latest statistical record for communicant members.

The above procedure creates a statistic used in various ways by the General Assembly Committees and Agencies that raise contributions. Likewise, the statistic is used in various ways by churches and individuals as they consider and determine the distribution of their contributions. Note: There is no requirement for any church to give the Partnership Share, only request and encouragement from the ministries to give as generously as possible.

All ministries struggle to raise Partnership Share funds, and none of the PCA ministries would be sustained without generous donors who give far beyond the Partnership Share.

The Partnership Shares of the GA ministries have evolved in different ways, a historical development that has led to varying interpretations and potential inequities in the statistics. Significant adjustments are being made over the next four budget years.

For at least six years the Administrative Committee and/or the Strategic Planning Committee have been working to resolve differences and transition to a more equitable and Biblical system without serious disruption to the financial well-being of the PCA ministries. This is not an easy knot to untangle without damaging some ministries financially. The issues and difficulties are more complex and diverse than can be put in a brief. The Committees and Agencies have committed to make adjustments over a four-year period to bring greater clarity, accountability, accuracy, and understanding to the PCA budgeting and financial processes.

This commitment by the Committees and Agencies means that it will become more and more important for all churches to support the PCA ministries as generously and sacrificially as they can. When churches choose not to support PCA ministries, they are virtually guaranteeing, in the present system, that the ministries cannot accomplish the assignments given to them by the PCA General Assembly without finding other income sources. The problem is that if a Committee or Agency decreases in one year its Partnership Share request, all factors being equal, it receives less contribution in Partnership Shares during that year; that decline then compounds in a downward spiral in future years. So please give as generously as possible.

The following footnotes give each Committee's or Agency's rationale for its Ministry Ask.

Note A: The AC was supported in the Partnership Shares by 716 churches giving $698,769 and 96 individual donors giving $62,933 in 2005. For six years the AC has challenged PCA churches to contribute ½ of 1% of their “Tithes and Offerings” to the AC. If 2/3 of our churches “across the economic board” gave this way, the AC would make their full Partnership Share Expense Budget. If you wish to give per member, please give the $5 per communicant member “Ministry ask” suggested above

Note B: CE&P was supported by 595 churches giving $698,737 and 205 individuals giving $165,718 in 2005. In order to fulfill the purpose established for CE&P by the General Assembly, CE&P requests each church give $7 per communicant member. Currently, 200 churches give at least 80% of this requested amount. CE&P requests that other churches consider increasing their support to the requested level so CE&P is better able to equip local churches for discipleship. Since CE&P is designed to assist local churches and since CE&P staff do not itinerate to raise support, CE&P depends on churches for the majority of its support.

Note C: Covenant College was supported by 608 churches giving $922,597 and by 1,374 individual donors giving $2,353,052 during the fiscal year ending June 30, 2005. For those who wish to give per capita, Covenant College asks for $9 per communicant member for the 2006-2007 academic year. For those who wish to qualify for the Church Scholarship Promise Program, the college requests $10/member.

Note D: Church participation is a vital component of Covenant Seminary’s preparation of church leaders. Such support helps provide the highest quality pastoral preparation under the oversight of the PCA, and enables future pastors to graduate without significant debt. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2005, church giving totaled $739,972, requiring us to raise $1,515,028 from other sources. We request a Partnership Share contribution of $10 per member from churches to help close this funding gap and further the PCA’s efforts to train our pastors without placing heavy tuition burdens on their futures and families.

Note E: MNA was supported by 683 churches giving $2,237,352 and 262 individual donors giving $547,253 in 2005. MNA program staff members seek designated salary and ministry expense support to make up for church giving that is less than the Ministry Ask level; this support to program staff members is included in the MNA Partnership Fund budget. Church planters, MNA missionaries and other projects are not included in the MNA Partnership Fund budget. MNA requests that churches give the Ministry Ask of $26 per member, if giving on a per capita basis.

Note F: Churches that participate in the MTW Partnership Share make a large difference in the amount of assessment fees required of missionaries. If the Partnership Shares were fully subscribed, there would be no fees required of our missionaries.
Note G: If all the churches subscribed to the Partnership Share request to RUM’s general fund, no fees would be required of our campus ministry accounts. Church giving to RUM’s general fund totaled $222,591 in 2005. RUM requests that churches give the Ministry Ask of $7 per member.

Note H: In 2005 Ridge Haven was supported by 398 churches giving $171,238 in partnership shares with an additional $76,285 given by groups and individuals. For the year 2007, Ridge Haven requests that those giving to the operations budget according to the Ministry Ask give $3 per communicant member.

General Notes

1. The Partnership Share presentation is given to you as presented above because an agreement was made by all Committees and Agencies in February and March of 2005 to present realistic budgets (i.e., best estimates of actuals) over a four-year period. The agreement also included adjustments to the per capita calculations. If actual per capita were used for 2007, the numbers would be AC $4.02, CE&P $3.97, CC $7.64, CTS $9.10, MNA $12.23, MTW $24.22, RUM $6.12, and RH $0.76. The four-year period was provided to avoid any serious financial adjustment which could obviously impair ministry.

2. The Ministry Ask is the amount each participating PCA Committee or Agency asks the PCA churches to contribute, per each of its communicant member, towards the Committee's or Agency's Partnership Share Fund. The Partnership Share Fund is that portion of the approved expense budget that is dependent on contributions from the PCA churches and individuals. Gifts designated “spread per Partnership Shares” (or some equivalent) and the totally undesignated gifts (which amount to less than $3,000 a year) will be spread according to the “Ministry Ask” column (by percentages of the total).
Fathers and brothers:

Some years ago I read John Flavel’s work The Mystery of Providence. Flavel’s message has stuck with me and undergirds much of how I approach the work of the PCA Historical Center. Writing during a time of intense persecution, Flavel was eager to impress upon his congregation the realization that God is at work in the lives of His people, accomplishing His purposes and demonstrating His love. In that simple truth, that our lives have been truly changed by the reality of Christ our Savior, rests the basis of why the life of every Christian is important. Each life lived by faith is a testimony to the grace of God. Obviously we can’t preserve the story of every saint, but it is important that we try to preserve something of the life-testimony of those who may have been used more strategically in the advance of God’s kingdom. Thus the purpose of the PCA Historical Center is to preserve and promote the story of the Presbyterian Church in America and its predecessor denominations, as well as the people who make up those groups and related ministries. We preserve these things precisely because men and women were truly changed by a very real Savior. We preserve these things because in some small way they bear testimony to the reality of the gospel.

UPDATE ON THE CLOSING OF THE PRESBYTERIAN HISTORICAL FOUNDATION

As many of you are aware, the PCUSA has now closed the Montreat, NC, archives to the public, as of April 1. This is the archives that held the records of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. As so many of our founding churches came out of that denomination, there was understandably an important part of our legacy housed in that archives. The closure of that facility affects us all, and while it is not entirely clear just how, the closure of the Montreat archives also makes the role of the PCA Historical Center all the more critical for our own future.

A few people are still on premise at Montreat working to prepare the collections for moving. The stated intentions, as per official press releases, is to move the archival holdings to Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia. Some materials may go to the main PCUSA archives in Philadelphia. Last year I wrote to 300 of our older PCA churches in the South, informing them of this pending closure. Of that number, I know of at least two dozen that took some action to retrieve records from Montreat. While we had been informed in years past that Session minute books on deposit there remained the property of the church, I am now told by the staff of the Philadelphia archives that each church must petition the appropriate PCUSA Presbytery for permission to regain any Session records.

However, and again contrary to what we had been told in years past, other historical materials such as annual congregational histories, biographies of former pastors, and photographs were simply returned to the requesting church. A number of PCA churches retrieved such materials and have now forwarded these invaluable packets of congregational history to the PCA Historical Center for preservation.

RESEARCH LIBRARY
Because of a substantial designated gift to the PCA Historical Center, we were able to add over 500 books and pamphlets to the Center’s research library during this last year. Another 150 titles were received on loan from Mrs. Betty Linton, widow of TE Hugh Linton. A list of these acquisitions has been posted to the Library section of the Center’s Web site, at http://www.pcahistory.org/HCLibrary/index.html

GENERAL ASSEMBLY DISPLAY
This year is the 300th anniversary of the founding of the first American presbytery in 1706. In honor of that occasion, the PCA Historical Center’s display at the 34th General Assembly of the PCA (2006) will focus on the fifty oldest churches in the PCA. It is surprising to many people to find that about one-third of the churches in the PCA predate the formal organization of the denomination. The oldest of our churches, Fairfield Presbyterian Church in Fairton, NJ, was founded in 1680! And the remaining forty-nine were all organized before 1827. Together these churches form an amazing testimony to God’s covenant faithfulness to generation after generation.

FACILITIES & SHELVING
No additional shelving was added in 2005, but early in 2006, we were able to add another five ranges of shelving. In addition, two lateral file cabinets were added to the Center’s reading room along with two new study tables for the use of visiting researchers. Seven additional ranges of shelving remain to be purchased in order to complete the full installation. At present the Historical Center’s collections fill the facility to about 60% of capacity. One large pending donation will bring us to near 75% of capacity.

Already we find ourselves having to begin looking for how and where the Center might expand to keep up with future growth. At the present rate of growth, we will reach maximum capacity for the current facility in about 5 to 10 years.

PATRONAGE & USE OF THE FACILITY
Approximately 150 individuals have arrived in person to tour the Historical Center or to conduct research here this year. The majority of patronage traffic continues to arrive by e-mail or phone, with about 750 requests registered in 2005.

WEB SITE
In July of 2005, shortly after the last General Assembly, the Web site of the PCA Historical Center was moved to a new domain, www.pcahistory.org. As a result, more accurate statistics on the use of the site are now available. It has taken some time to get the public redirected to the new site, but we are now averaging over 1700 unique visitors per month. A section of the site devoted to following news of PCA churches affected by Hurricane Katrina drew over 4000 visitors in September alone.

TRAINING AND VOLUNTEER ASSISTANCE

Mr. Alex Neff, now a graduating senior at Covenant College, was able to spend the summer of 2005 working as an intern at the PCA Historical Center. The College’s Kaleo Foundation made this internship possible, while the PCA Historical Center was able to cover the cost of Mr. Neff’s housing. In addition, Covenant Seminary students Otis Pickett and Andy Bagby logged in considerable hours working on several projects. Mr. Pickett completed an item-by-item descriptive index for correspondence between Drs. J. Oliver Buswell and J. Gresham Machen, while Mr. Bagby processed the papers of Clifford Brewton. Mr. Wade Brooks continues to volunteer one Saturday per month, to work with congregational histories.

HISTORICAL CENTER BOARD

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND PUBLICATIONS
TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

Introduction

The founders of the Presbyterian Church in America developed their thinking about the new church around the motto, “true to the Scriptures, the Reformed Faith, and the Great Commission.” That set the tone for developing both the organism and the organization of the PCA. To develop the strategy and action plan to reflect that motto, the founders established three program committees and one support committee to carry the PCA forward—from the Great Commission and the commitment to the Word and Reformed theology, Mission to the United States, now Mission to North America, Mission to the World, and Christian Education and Publications were formed as the program committees. An Administrative Committee, which would also function as the board of directors, became part of the church. The idea of those men was that the PCA establish a church committed to making kingdom disciples in the manner described in the above motto.

Christian Education and Publications has played an important role in the life of the PCA during these formative years. It has followed its “reason for being” by providing training, resources, and consulting to PCA churches across the denomination. Through its staff, the above services are being used in many of our churches. Our Sunday school and adult curricula, our Women In the Church resources, as well as our youth and children’s ministry, our leadership training, and church evaluation resources are among those services utilized by local churches and presbyteries.

CE&P carries out its assignment through implementing a five-year Strategic Faith Plan. Having completed the first year of the most recent five-year plan, distributed to the 2004 General Assembly, the following report reflects a report to the 2006 General Assembly on the progress made during that first year. The report is followed by a summary statement of CE&P’s philosophy and practice for budgeting and funding.

The following is a progress report on the Christian Education and Publications’ five-year Strategic Faith Plan presented to the Assembly in Pittsburg. The report reflects the first year and a half of that plan. It was presented to the CE&P Committee at its March 2006 meeting. It covers both the training and resources. It will also cover what we have been able to accomplish in the plan and what, due to lack of people and resources, we have not completed.

1. Training Accomplished

- We have taught seminars on Making Kingdom Disciples (MKD) for five presbyteries in 2005.
- We have taught courses on MKD at three seminaries.
- We have held two successful children’s conferences. Between 175 and 200 participated in each conference.
- We held the annual WIC Leadership Conference. The March 2006 annual conference had slightly over 300 women participating. That was a record attendance for that conference.
- We held one main conference on discipleship (Equip for Ministry) in 2005 and have none presently scheduled for 2006 at this time. This is due to staff transition and lack of available personnel to pursue our normal four to six yearly events.
- Much time is presently being focused on the denominational WIC conference. Registrations are open for the September conference, and we are anticipating 3,500 to 4,000 women from across the PCA.
- The annual Presbyterian Youth of America (PYA), now known as Youth Excelling in Leadership (YXL) East and West, conferences were held in 2005 and will be held in June 2006. CE&P is in the process of implementing its plan of transition from PYA to YXL in cooperation with Covenant College. The Southwest YXL affiliate conference will be held for a second straight year in New Mexico, known as YXL Southwest.
- Our regional trainers have had a slack 2005-2006. Some of that is due to lack of available staff for ongoing promotion. Contacts with local churches and presbyteries and the materials for that program have been on hold due to filling these vacancies among the trainers. We hope to see “a full court press” with our new coordinator of training having arrived March 1, 2006.
- We did 19 events with the trainers during 2005-2006. That was down significantly from previous years. Of the 19, six were Women In the Church (WIC) training events.
- Our Strategic Faith Plan called for 100-plus training events during this time frame. We anticipate a turn around in the near future as people and resources are in place. The response from those churches utilizing our regional and staff trainers continues to be most encouraging.

- Our conference on Mercy Ministries 2005, partnering with Mission to North America, was positively received by the 275-300 participants. Note: we have heard from several churches saying they were more prepared to assist with the hurricane disasters because of those Mercy Ministry conferences.

- We have had opportunities to do on-site consulting with six churches during this time frame and several others off site. Along with those events, several officer training seminars have been conducted. The staff and the regional trainers have conducted consultations with churches dealing with leadership, planning and evaluation, team building, teacher training, and other related topics. Our coordinators of both youth and children’s ministries have conducted a good number of training events both at churches and conferences, such as the youth conference, jointly sponsored by CE&P and several other PCA Committees and Agencies known as YOWAW, as well as several presbytery camps and conferences.

- We have been present in several roles on five seminary campuses teaching topics such as: making kingdom disciples, children’s ministry, youth ministry, and other teacher training classes.

Training not yet accomplished

The Strategic Faith Plan calls for several different types of visits to local churches which we have not yet completely fulfilled.

- The SFP calls for a dinner for seniors and their wives at the four or five main seminaries over a five-year period.
- The first scheduled dinner for seniors at Reformed Theological Seminary in Jackson, MS, was cancelled in September 2005 due to several factors such as the hurricanes, midterms, and flu epidemic on campus. We plan to fulfill that original plan in 2006.
- We have not yet directly hosted a conference for youth workers, although we have partnered in several conferences which CE&P jointly sponsored.
- Due to lack of financial and people resources we have not yet completed the plans for a pastors and wives conference nor a conference on Christian schooling, though that is being planned for 2007.
APPENDIX D

- We have not been able to follow through with our plan for multicultural training during this time, except where there has been participation in all of our training events. We have held two previous conferences in partnership with North Georgia Presbytery.
- Due to lack of financial resources, we have not been able to mediate, electronically, our training seminars, as we had hoped to do by this time.

2. Resources

- Eleven issues of Equip for Ministry with around 10,000 in circulation. This bi-monthly publication is used for follow-up to our training and resource ministries as well as part of CE&P’s development emphasis.
- Twelve monthly Bulletin Supplements called for in the plan. Some 30,000 copies are provided to those churches subscribing to the service.
- Four WIC Resource Quarterlies called for in the plan.
- Great Commission Publications, our Sunday school producing arm, has begun to produce the new two-year cycle curriculum on schedule. Sales are very encouraging at this time.
- Two WIC studies, as well as a revision of the WIC Resource (manual).
- A new Children’s Worship Resource available by the 2006 General Assembly.
- Heart of the Home, focusing on covenantal family emphasis.
- Dr. George Fuller produced a resource for senior citizens, Serving and Challenging Seniors. It is being used in the training sessions. This is a most unique resource available to churches and presbyteries.
- We are utilizing some of the materials from Man in the Mirror, as they relate to a CE&P Men’s Resource (manual, presently available).
- We continue to produce denominational materials such as the PCA Book of Church Order, The Westminster Standards, including The Larger and Shorter Catechisms in cooperation with the PCA Stated Clerk’s office, and separately we continue to produce the original Child’s Catechism.
- A leader’s and student’s guide for WIC’s studies built around our Adult Bible Education series.
- A leader’s guide with accompanying PowerPoint for Making Kingdom Disciples, A New Framework.
- A new Bookstore Catalogue.
- We are using the internet for marketing books, conferences, and other services and resources. We have also used the Web site for general CE&P promotion.
Soon to be available:

- Children’s worship resource
- Adult study on Deuteronomy
- A new edition of Westminster Standards
- Deuteronomy, a study by George Robertson

Resources not accomplished

- A quarterly for children’s workers.
- Additional officer training curriculum.
- A youth ministries manual.
- A revision of the Suggested Presbytery CE Manual.
- Four topical booklets called for in 2005-2006.
- One of the two projected adult studies.
- Youth studies, though a new curriculum for teenage girls is being written and will be produced in 2006. We have not yet begun a companion series for boys.
- The video training by staff and trainers.
- Leader’s guides for strategic books.
- Develop our Web site in an ongoing way as originally planned due to lack of resources and people. The Bookstore is an exception!
- A youth ministry electronic newsletter.
- Variously needed brochures and booklets needed for promotion both for CE&P and the denomination as a whole are on hold. (The SFP has called for four to six of these during this time frame.)

3. Budget Philosophy and Finance

This past year has been one of reviewing and focusing on the CE&P budgeting process. This grows somewhat out of the concerns raised by the AC staff and the SPC. The following is a brief history of the process that has been followed since, at least, 1980.

Attached to this report is an itemized list of Assembly-approved assignments for CE&P. From the minutes of the Asheville Convention, which laid the groundwork for the organizing of the PCA through the first two General Assemblies, Christian Education and Publications was assigned the following areas:

- Official publications
- Curricula, including Sunday school
APPENDIX D

- Youth work
- Men’s work
- Women’s work
- Camps and conferences
- Working with Christian publishers
- Christian schools, colleges, seminaries, and similar institutions (August 1973)

In addition to those assignments, from the first and second General Assemblies:

- Family ministries
- News coverage
- Assembly-wide youth conference
- Officer training and resources
- Bookstore
- Leadership training
- Annual family conference (First and Second PCA General Assemblies, 1973, 1974)

The implementation of these assignments was placed in the hands of the Christian Education and Publications Committee.

In 1979, a group of men met at the CE&P office to discuss the stewardship ministry of the PCA, particularly in educational ministry. At that time the Stewardship ministry was structurally placed under the Administration Committee but functionally connected with CE&P. That group of men developed a system known as “askings,” which were amounts asked by the four permanent committees from the local churches based on the number of communicant members and based on per capita according to that membership. Having come from the Presbyterian Church in the United States (PCUS), which practiced a “head tax” placed upon local churches based on their communicant membership, we recommended that model with the exception of changing “head tax” to “askings” from local churches based on that same formula.

The Administrative Committee, through its stewardship committee also working with CE&P cooperatively, was to communicate the “askings” to each local church based on the Assembly-approved budgets of the four committees. This was approved by the 1980 PCA General Assembly.

At that time CE&P began developing a “program based budget.” Taking the areas assigned and approved by the Assembly, CE&P Committee sought to determine the cost of funding those programs. The Committee built its budget and consequently its “askings” on those programs and ministries.

Because CE&P has never received from its churches the full “askings” amount needed to fully fund those programs, appeals have been made to a variety of sources to augment that shortfall, plus CE&P makes decisions from year to year as to which programs can be partially funded or not at all in a particular year. Some programs have not been funded at all. For example: after 15 years of producing the denominational magazine, The PCA Messenger, CE&P had to ask permission of the Assembly to suspend that assignment due to lack of funds.

Each year CE&P has presented its program-based budget to the Assembly through the AC based on those assignments. Often attachments have been included explaining what programs and ministries have not been carried out due to shortfall in income to budget needs, such as the above #1 of this report.

CE&P has continued over 30 plus years to operate within its income. On one occasion through the AC report of the committee of commissioners, action was taken that CE&P and all Committees and Agencies develop income-based budgets vs. program-based. CE&P responded that such a procedure would greatly curtail the Committee’s ministries. With the support of the AC and with the commitment not to spend more than its income, while setting forth the “askings” from local churches needed to fund the ministry, the process has continued.

Though CE&P has honored its commitment to the Assembly, not to exceed its spending in relation to its income, the program budget continues to honestly reflect the required funding for each assignment.

CE&P has continued such a procedure over the years with the AC and finally the GA’s approval.

Knowing that until the church more fully supports the Assembly’s “askings,” CE&P has also had to develop other sources of income such as: bookstore sales, conference fees, requests of individuals, PCA Foundation, and other foundations to supplement the “askings.” It has also attempted to make its programs, where possible, self-funding.

CE&P believes that the system designed and approved, known as “askings,” later called “partnership shares” in the mid 1990’s, is the system we are to operate under until the General Assembly directs otherwise. CE&P presently asks for $7.17 per communicant member, which has varied only a few cents for the past twenty years. The CE&P Committee believes that as long as the system of askings is in place, it should keep on asking, per our Lord’s instruction in Luke 18:1-8, 11:5-13.

How does this actually operate in connection with CE&P?

First, the annual budget presented to the GA upon which the askings are based, reflects the cost to PCA churches for CE&P to fund its programs. Second, because the needed funds are always less than the askings, CE&P makes choices in any given year as to which programs, and at what level, they can be funded. Third, this approach keeps CE&P from having to eliminate altogether certain programs and assignments. (The PCA Messenger has been the exception.) One example: the assignment from the Asheville convention and the first two Assemblies to coordinate a PCA men’s ministry would require a certain amount to fund that program. Without those funds CE&P has two choices:

1. Ask the Assembly to remove the assignment as it did with The PCA Messenger, or
2. Do less than a fully funded ministry in this area.

Opting for this second approach has enabled CE&P to make decisions without eliminating those programs altogether.

Therefore, CE&P’s program-based budget has been the basis for our askings from local churches to fund those programs and through the CE&P Committee’s oversight and the annual financial audit, financial integrity, responsibility, and accountability have been followed each year. We have been open and transparent as to those funds needed to fully underwrite those programs.

During this time, God has raised up a few individuals who have helped fund some of those programs and other support has come from the PCA Foundation and a few others.

CE&P is dependent on support from the local churches and we continue to be grateful for some individuals who have helped, as well as other revenue sources. We were pleased in reviewing the survey compiled by the PCA Strategic Planning Committee that showed CE&P as one of the two Committees and Agencies of the PCA in serving the church. We must seek to fund CE&P’s ministry to the best of our abilities and with the wisest use of the resources which God provides.
Our desire continues to be to have CE&P fully funded and to that end we ask and pray. The reality, humanly speaking, is that given our history, full funding at present level of giving is not likely, therefore choices have to be made by the Committee and its staff. We believe, given our present circumstances, as a Committee of the church, that it is essential that we be allowed to follow this same procedure along with our continued responsibility and commitment to the Assembly, for sound financial integrity and accountability, to operate within the income, as it is applied to the program budget. Our regular prayer is that churches not participating in the askings will come alongside and help and until that happens, that CE&P will continue to identify other sources of support to assist in the process.

Conclusion

In reviewing the things we have done both in training and resources, though we have not been able to complete many of the anticipated parts of the whole, we have a certain measure of confidence that what we are producing is being used. The feedback through written evaluations and personal contacts are positive. How they are actually enabling us to fulfill our purpose of “making kingdom disciples” will be an ongoing process. Time will tell the impact on the PCA and the kingdom of God.

We have had many opportunities to assist churches and individuals with training, consulting, locating needed resources and services. Our bookstore 1-800-283-1357 number, as well as the Web site, www.pcanet.org/cep, continues to make CE&P’s ministry known, but also promoting the PCA as well.

We continually contact churches, individuals, and other sources for support. We are grateful for those who respond to our needs. We are also grateful for the things God has allowed us to do during this first year of our SFP and for those who have helped us with prayers and financial resources.

Recommendations

1. That the preceding narrative of this report be received as a summary of Christian Education and Publications activities during the 2005-2006 period.
2. That the General Assembly declare September 10, 2006, in conjunction with grandparents day, senior citizens day in the PCA.
3. That the Assembly allow the following memorial statement to be added to the General Assembly Minutes and that such action be communicated to the Sullivan family.
In Memory of
John J. “Jack” Sullivan

One of the characteristics and qualifications of an elder in the church, according to Scripture (1 Timothy 3:7), is “he must be well thought of by outsiders.” It further says regarding a servant leader, “If you put these things before the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, being trained in the words of the faith and the good doctrine that you have followed” (1 Timothy 4:6).

We honor the memory of our brother John J. “Jack” Sullivan whose life reflected those words. His love for our Triune God and his commitment to seeing God’s word taught and practiced have influenced us both as a board and a staff at Great Commission Publications.

We thank God and publicly record in our minutes our great appreciation for the life and witness of Jack Sullivan. Those of us who have known and worked with Jack on the GCP Board have been blessed by God through his testimony and life. We have good memories of Jack to challenge us to greater love for God, his Word, his church, and kingdom.

Therefore we express our thanks for Jack Sullivan’s good and faithful service. He has fought the good fight, the good fight of the faith. As a board, we celebrate his going home to be with the Lord and rejoice that he is now in the presence of those who have preceded him.

Also Adopted by the GCP Board of Trustees on October 25, 2005

4. That the General Assembly offer special prayer for the September 15-17, 2006, International WIC Conference, anticipating some 4,000 women and their teen daughters.

5. That the General Assembly express appreciation to the Women In the Church for their support of the 2005 Love Gift of $55,000 to Covenant College. (The current WIC Love Gift for 2006 has been designated to Mission to the World’s ministry to street children [M33GA, p. 171]).

7. That special thanks be communicated to TE Tom Patete, Executive Director of GCP, and to TE Mark Lowrey of GCP and the entire staff for their partnering with CE&P to present to the churches a Sunday school curriculum that is biblically sound and theologically grounded.
8. That the Assembly express its appreciation to the following: RE Ross Cook, RE Bob Beasley, TE Dave Matthews, and TE Robert Dekker for their service on the CE&P Committee for the past four years.
9. That TE Charles Dunahoo be re-elected for the coming year to serve as CE&P coordinator.
10. That the CE&P budget be approved, as presented by the Committee of Commissioners on Administration, reflecting the programs approved by the Assembly (see report).
Greetings in the name of Jesus Christ.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees and the entire Covenant College community, I report with thanksgiving that God blessed the work and ministry of the college during the 2004-2005 year. Most importantly, we praise God for his gracious provision in enabling the college to stay on track in its founding mission. That mission – to provide a Christ-centered, academically excellent post-secondary education to the Presbyterian Church in America and the wider church – has at its core this three-pronged purpose for our students which guides all we do:

1. that our students would be graciously and thoroughly grounded in Jesus Christ, finding their identity in him as Savior and King;
2. that our students would be permeated with a biblical frame of reference, orienting every dimension of their study and their lives in light of God’s inerrant Word;
3. that our students would be equipped to work and serve in their God-ordained callings as courageous servants of the King, bringing his transforming truth and grace to bear in every nook and cranny of the creation.

This purpose, in support of our mission, provides the focus and direction for every facet of the college, and we pray that God will continue to enable Covenant College to serve our growing number of students according to this purpose. (See the Attachment, p. xx, for a fuller Statement of Purpose of Covenant College.)

The 2004-2005 year brought Covenant College to the end of its first half-century: fifty years directed by a clear, biblically grounded educational mission and filled with the gracious providence and blessing of God. This annual report, which we are privileged to provide, is an opportunity to reflect not only on the year just past but also on Covenant’s continuing story unfolding over the decades. Praise the Lord for his goodness and guidance!
Six highlights come immediately to mind as we reflect on the year just passed.

First, student enrollment reached an all-time high in the fall of 2004, with our incoming class at 308 (18% above the previous year), traditional program enrollment at 903, and total enrollment at 1330. These numbers do not simply mean that Covenant is growing; they also mean that the opportunity to have an impact on more and more students is expanding. Covenant draws an outstanding student body: deeply committed to Jesus Christ and his Church and very intentional about becoming equipped in mind, heart, and hands for the work of the Kingdom. With our distinctive educational vision rooted in the historic Reformed faith, we are delighted and challenged by the prospect of sending out thousands of graduates prepared to inform and transform the world for the glory of Christ.

Second, God has raised up financial partners in record numbers. The Covenant Fund, our annual giving fund, brought in $2,275,649, plus an extraordinary gift of $1,000,000 that was unrestricted. As a result, total giving was up by more than $1,400,000. Again, these numbers do not simply mean that Covenant is raising more money; they also mean that crucial resources are being provided for salaries, academic resources, operations, student life, and co-curricular activities, so that our students can be well-served in their preparation for life-long work and ministry. I am very encouraged by the widening circle of Covenant supporters at all levels of giving. This energetic and faithful stewardship is building a strong foundation for the future.

Third, the end of the year brought the beginning of celebration of the college’s fiftieth anniversary. Commencement festivities in May included a marvelous concert, held in the Tivoli Theater in Chattanooga and featuring a specially commissioned choral and orchestral work composed by Dr. Brandon Kreuze on the text of Psalm 96. You can hear our combined choral groups and orchestra performing this beautiful work on the college website at covenant.edu/psalm96. Anniversary celebration activities have continued throughout the year as we give praise to God for the purpose, the people, and the place he has provided.

Fourth, with Chattanooga serving as the host city for the PCA’s General Assembly in June, Covenant had the privilege of serving the commissioners and their families in a variety of ways: a schedule of informative seminars, a luncheon and program for the Women in the Church, and a family picnic on the chapel lawn. Many of the General Assembly attendees visited our campus for the very first time.
Fifth, with the mandate and support of the Board of Trustees, we launched the next phase of our strategic planning process, aiming to present the three-year rolling plan to the Board at their October 2005 meeting. A steering committee was formed to oversee the creation of the plan, and, with broad input and feedback from faculty, staff, and others, the plan lays out an exciting array of initiatives to carry the college forward in fulfilling its mission in the years ahead.

The sixth and final highlight is that the exceptional quality and value of a Covenant College education were recognized in U.S. News & World Report's 2005 ranking of colleges. Covenant placed sixth among best comprehensive colleges in the South and was noted as the fifth best value in the same field.

I continue to be very grateful for the wise and effective leadership provided by the college’s Board of Trustees, elected by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America. The Trustees, together with Advisors representing Covenant alumni and Women in the Church (the women’s ministries arm of the PCA), are passionately committed to the college’s founding mission and theological convictions, and they provide crucial and vigilant oversight so that the college might remain true to vibrant biblical orthodoxy and educational excellence.

We are also deeply thankful for the senior leadership team that God has provided. Dr. Jeff Hall, Vice President for Academic Affairs, carries immense responsibility with humility and competence, providing vision and supervision for our growing, first-rate academic program. Dr. Hall is ably complemented by faculty leaders, including faculty moderator Dr. Stephen Kaufmann, Unit Deans Dr. Tim Morris, Dr. Paul Morton, Dr. Gary Raffaele, and Dr. Tim Steele, department chairs, and faculty committees. Mr. Wallace Anderson, Vice President for Admissions and Enrollment Management, continues to build strategy and effectiveness in student-related areas of recruitment and admissions, financial aid, records, athletics, and residence life. Mr. Troy Duble, Vice President for Advancement, led an advancement enterprise that once again set a record for annual giving and launched our new capital campaign. We rejoice that Mr. Greg Rumsey has joined us as Vice President for Finance / Chief Financial Officer; Greg will oversee the whole range of financial and budget matters as the college pursues its five-year Capital Campaign and the development of programs and facilities the funds raised will enable us to develop. These outstanding leaders, together with two hundred other faculty and staff, are shaping the present and the future of Covenant College in service to the Lord.
Academic Program

The real heart of Covenant College is our faculty, who day by day and class by class lead our students in study and discourse of the highest order. As they engage in active scholarship themselves, the faculty initiate our students into the exciting and enriching world of intellectual work in light of Jesus Christ. I am deeply grateful for the excellence, devotion, and active mentoring of students that characterize their work. And, in the midst of growth, expanding opportunities, and economic realities, I am thankful for a faculty who understand and love the mission of the college.

Two important projects which the faculty have carried forward this past year are the review of the college’s core curriculum and the rearticulation of the college’s philosophy of education. Both projects are nearing completion.

We welcomed four new faculty members this past year: Mr. Brad Voyles, Dean of Students; Professor Scott Jones, Biblical Studies; Professor Herb Ward, Biblical Studies; and Dr. Dan Zuidema, Chemistry. What a delight to welcome these new colleagues whom God has prepared and brought to us!

Four centers of special service provide unique opportunities for students and faculty. The Kaleo Center, funded by a generous grant from the Lilly Foundation, has facilitated a host of initiatives to help the campus community and even many off campus to explore more fruitfully God’s call and callings on their lives. The Chalmers Center for Economic Development serves Covenant and the larger church through research, teaching, and training about community development. This past year witnessed significant expansion of the Chalmers Center’s work, through strategic partnerships with international relief and development organizations, institutes in the Philippines, Uganda, and Kenya, and student internships in a multitude of locations around the world. The Office of Experiential Studies oversees study-abroad programs (a new program was initiated this year in Belgium) as well as Break-on-Impact missions trips. What a delight to see our students gripped by the Gospel and seeking to make it known around the world! Finally, The Career Development and Placement Services Center, working in concert with our Office of Student Internships, assists students in exploring possible pathways of God’s calling and career.

Two academic programs serve student populations beyond the traditional college age group. The Master of Education program, under the fine leadership of Dr. James Drexler, continues to grow, providing specializations in educational leadership and curriculum and instruction. The Quest Program, which offers degree-completion opportunities for adult learners, this past year underwent significant restructuring in order to become even more effective. The chapel program continued under the outstanding interim leadership of Dr. Jay Green, even as we continued to lay plans for the hiring of a permanent Dean of the Chapel. The schedule included such able speakers as Dr. Sinclair Ferguson, Dr. Charles Marsh, and Dr. Jay Kessler. (NOTE: During the 2005-2006 academic year, oversight of the chapel program has been the responsibility of President Nielson and Vice President for Academic Affairs Jeff Hall.)

Enrollment and Student Life

I mentioned earlier that student enrollment was at record highs this past year. This was largely due to the excellent leadership of Wallace Anderson, Vice President for Admissions and Enrollment Management, and a marvelous team of recruiters and admissions counselors. Anecdotal evidence mounted that our staff served applicants and their families extremely well through the often daunting process of college application. (Update: Fall 2005 student enrollment is again at a record high, with 916 in the traditional residential program.)

Enhanced training for residence life staff made an already competent team of resident directors and resident assistants even more effective in supporting students in all the dimensions of campus life. Residence hall identity continues to be one of the hallmarks of student life, with floors like Ghetto and Catacombs perpetuating their unique traditions!

Covenant has a very active campus, with musical and theatrical performances, athletic events, and social gatherings of many kinds. Musical theater debuted on campus with an excellent production of You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown, and our students’ creativity was wonderfully exemplified in the emergence of the band Third Lobby, whose performances and CD of their original music were enthusiastically received.

Intercollegiate athletics at Covenant continued to demonstrate the college’s enduring commitment to maintaining spiritual, academic, and athletic priorities. Seventy-three Covenant athletes earned post-season honors, including seventeen All-American and All-American Scholar awards. Covenant athletics received a boost with the launching of new programs in golf, baseball, and tennis. Coaching changes brought gifted and dedicated new coaches: John Miglares in men’s soccer, Heather Taylor in volleyball, Jason Mitchell in cross country (interim), Doug Simons in baseball, and Stephen Muller in tennis.
Finance and Operations

This was a year of unusual blessing financially, as God enabled us to end the year solidly in the black: $822,020 surplus in the operating budget, and $1,690,303 increase in total net assets. These results bear testimony to the generous stewardship of God’s people and the providence of God. A further reason for thanksgiving is a completely clean audit for the college’s financial statements for the year – an important reflection of stewardly accountability.

Campus renewal continued to be a priority, and major investments were made in repair and renovation. In particular, renovation of the ground floor of Carter Hall, our “landmark” building, and significant attention to landscaping resulted in vastly improved appearance for some of the more visible areas of campus.

Advancement

What a wonderful year of God’s blessing in our fund-raising efforts: annual fund giving of $2,275,649, an extraordinary gift of $1,000,000 that was unrestricted, and total giving of $4,711,578. These gifts represent more than 2,500 specific sources, including individuals, churches, and foundations. The percentage of alumni giving was up over the previous year, as was church giving. A number of estate gifts were received, holding great promise for the future. Our initiative to build alumni chapters continued to move forward, with a number of alumni events held in various cities.

We significantly restructured the Campus Center capital campaign into a multi-faceted project to support several areas of the college program: a new academic building with classrooms and faculty offices; a new residence hall to provide for our growing enrollment; a total renovation of our signature building, Carter Hall; renovation and build-out of our library; and new athletic facilities (baseball field, soccer field lights, new intramural field). The campaign goal is $31,000,000 over five years, providing not only for construction of these facilities but also for endowment to provide for ongoing operating and maintenance costs and for the annual giving needs of the college. The Advancement office, together with the Board of Trustees and the President’s office, launched the campaign and has proceeded with the initial stages of donor solicitation.

Summary

In these fast-moving and volatile times, it is a distinct mercy to know that Covenant College is carried forward on the sovereign purpose of God. It is his work, and we are his instruments. The prospects for the college are bright, particularly as we sense the opportunity for growth in enrollment, program, and constituency relations. While this growth must not attract us for its own sake, it signals that God may indeed have a role for Covenant College to play in the PCA and the wider world of Christian higher education which it has never played before – a leadership role grounded in clear, uncompromisingly biblical commitments, academic excellence, spiritually alive campus community, purposeful connection to the church, in order to prepare students for life and work and ministry, for the blessing of the church and the world and the glory of Jesus Christ.

This educational calling is especially crucial in an arena where the pressures are enormous to leave Jesus Christ and the Scriptures behind, as has happened so often in other institutions of higher education. We treasure our grounding in the theological commitments of the PCA, and we gratefully embrace our accountability to the denomination to remain faithful to the historic Reformed faith and the doctrines and guidelines of the church.

As we look back on the past year, we are grateful for God’s gracious and abundant provision in every respect. We are thankful for the faithful and generous support of God’s people. We treasure the calling of God to Christ-centered higher education and the opportunity to serve our students, their families, and the churches of the Presbyterian Church in America. And we are eager to watch God’s purposes unfold in this next year and beyond. May the Lord grant us joy and faithfulness in this Kingdom calling.

In the grace and service of Jesus Christ,

Niel B. Nieelson, Ph.D.
President

COVENANT COLLEGE STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Covenant College is a Christ-centered institution of higher education, emphasizing liberal arts. It is operated by a Board of Trustees elected by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America, and it exists to provide post-secondary educational services to that denomination and the wider public.

The college is committed to the Bible as the Word of God written, and accepts as its most adequate and comprehensive interpretation the summary contained in the Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms.

The focus of Covenant College is found in its motto, based on Colossians 1:18: “In All Things...Christ Pre-eminent.” Acknowledging Christ as the creator of all things, as the redeemer of people fallen into sin, as the touchstone of all truth, and as the sovereign ruler over all areas of life, the college strives to discern and to unfold the implications of His pre-eminence in all things. To serve this end we seek to appropriate the mind of Christ as the biblical perspective from which we characterize and respond to reality. In attempting to make such a biblically grounded frame of reference explicit and operative, we are committed to excellence in academic inquiry, and we seek to define all areas of the college’s structure and program according to this understanding of our purpose.
We seek to implement our purpose in view of our belief that all human beings are created in the image of God and are, therefore, spiritual, moral, social beings who think, act, value, and exercise dominion. Because we are called to reflect in finite ways what God is infinitely, we attempt to institute programs designed to offer all students the opportunity to discover and give expression to their potential in each facet of their redeemed humanness.

With these commitments in mind we seek to work together as a college community, responsibly striving, corporately and personally, to accomplish the following general aims in every area of life:

1. to see creation as the handiwork of God and to study it with wonder and respect;
2. to acknowledge the fallen nature of ourselves and of the rest of creation and to respond, in view of the renewal that begins with Christ’s redemption, by seeking to bring every thought and act into obedience to Him;
3. to reclaim the creation for God and redirect it to the service of God and humankind, receiving the many valuable insights into the structure of reality provided by the good hand of God through thinkers in every age, and seeking to interpret and reform such insights according to the Scriptures;
4. to see learning as a continuous process and vocation;
5. to endeavor to think scripturally about culture so as to glorify God and promote true human advancement.

As an educational institution, Covenant College specifically seeks to provide educational services from a Christian perspective to the students who enroll. While the traditional undergraduate, on-campus programs remain the primary focus of the college, we recognize that the college also has a significant role to fulfill in the education of students in non-traditional categories.

A. Students in traditional on-campus programs are expected to become active participants in fulfilling the general aims just outlined. It is the college’s purpose to help these students make significant progress toward maturity in the following areas:

1. Identity in Christ. A Covenant student should be a person who is united with Christ and committed to Him. This union and commitment should lead to an understanding both of one’s sin and of one’s significance as a person redeemed by Christ, resulting in a growing awareness of purpose. This awareness of purpose should facilitate the development of goals, priorities, and practices that foster spiritual effectiveness and well-being, including the emotional, social, physical, and intellectual aspects of the individual student.

2. Biblical frame of reference. Students should be acquiring the ability to orient their whole lives by a perspective based on scriptural revelation. For realization of this goal the following are important:
   a. Scriptural knowledge. Students should be acquiring a working knowledge of the Scriptures, rejoicing in their promises and allowing them to direct their thoughts and actions in every area of life.
   b. Academic inquiry. Students should be acquiring a broad appreciation of the various aspects of creation, becoming familiar with valid methods of inquiry into each area of study. Each student should be acquiring some depth in one or two academic disciplines.
   c. Analytical skills. Students should be acquiring the capacity for incisive, critical and logical thinking.
   d. Communication skills. Students should be acquiring the ability to communicate ideas clearly in both speaking and writing.

3. Service that is Christ-like.
   a. Students should be assuming responsibilities within a local congregation as well as in the community of all believers. This implies demonstrating a positive influence on others while at the same time accepting their loving concern.
   b. Students should be assuming responsibilities in society as servants of God. This involves a total life-calling to fulfill one’s covenantal responsibilities as succinctly summarized in Genesis 1:28 and Matthew 28: 18-20, including not only the student’s specific vocation, but all other activities as well.

B. Students participating in external or other non-traditional programs display a wide variety of backgrounds, purposes, and needs. Non-traditional programs are designed to meet the many diverse situations encountered; but, because God calls us to proclaim a Christian perspective on reality in the marketplace of society, such programs are seen as a significant part of our educational mission. Although students in non-traditional programs may not be able to participate fully in accomplishing the general aims outlined earlier in this statement, faculty members in such programs will teach from the Christian educational perspective of the college.
Complementing and enhancing this foundational Statement of Purpose are the following goals:

1. Covenant College seeks to attract students from a wide range of denominational, geographic, ethnic, racial and financial backgrounds; who meet set academic standards as measured by standardized tests and GPA; who demonstrate personal responsibility for obtaining an education; who are highly recommended by others who have observed their lives closely; and who can display a desire to benefit from the type of education the College offers.

2. Students entering the residential undergraduate program and the graduate program should attest to and exhibit an earnest commitment to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord.

3. Covenant College strives to offer a rigorous academic program, and will admit only those students believed to be emotionally and intellectually capable of performing academically at the level required.

4. As a college emphasizing the liberal arts, Covenant College seeks to attract students capable of building a strong and broad foundation for a large variety of specific career callings and personal endeavors, including graduate studies.

5. The College seeks to hire highly qualified faculty members who are committed to teaching others, personal and academic counseling, and mature modeling of Christian faith and responsibility in all areas of life.

6. The College is committed to the development of its faculty, and encourages continual improvement in pedagogy, disciplinary and interdisciplinary expertise as might be reflected in research and publication, the integration of Christian faith and learning, and personal maturation.

7. The College faculty has the responsibility to develop and adopt a curriculum, for all academic programs, that prepares students to address a changing world in light of a Reformed and reforming biblical understanding.

8. Undergraduates in the residential program must take set courses constituting an interdisciplinary core informed by a Christian liberal arts perspective and a kingdom-focused multicultural awareness.

9. Although all College employees work to assure that students make progress toward our stated goals, the Student Development Office, administered by members of the faculty and others, bears the special responsibility of fostering a co-curricular environment that enables students to develop responsive learners in the academic environment, as responsible social participants in and out of the classroom, and as Christians whose worldview is consonant with the Scriptures.

REPORT OF COVENANT THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY
TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

Celebrating the Past, Preparing for the Future

This year, Covenant Theological Seminary celebrates its 50th year of service to the Church. Yet, even as we celebrate the successes of the past, we are already in the midst of preparing for the next phase of God’s blessing. We rejoice in His faithfulness to our mission of training pastors and ministry leaders to proclaim God’s Word to future generations. We rejoice as well in the opportunities He has given us to build on the Presbyterian and Reformed foundation He has established through our fathers in the faith. But as we now look forward to the tasks to which He is calling us for the next generation and beyond, we rejoice even more that He should choose to work through us to assist future ministers of His Word to remain rooted in grace for the purpose of bringing reformation and transformation to the Church and the world through the power of the Gospel.

The challenges inherent in this calling are great, but the rewards—for the Seminary, for the PCA, and for the Church as a whole—are great as well. With humility and gratitude, therefore, we look both backward and forward at the same time, seeking His will in all that we do so that in all things He may be glorified.

Looking Backward:
50 Years of Grace and Growth

As of this writing, the Seminary intends to celebrate the 50 years of grace and growth that the Lord has given us with a special ceremony in Rayburn Chapel on May 19. Former Covenant Seminary presidents, many Board members, dignitaries, current students, alumni, and friends of the Seminary are expected to participate in the ceremony and in a festive picnic lunch on the Seminary grounds afterward.

A 50th Anniversary Scrapbook has been assembled, featuring historic photographs and other memories of the Seminary’s first half-century, with text by Dr. David Calhoun. The limited edition scrapbook will be made available to guests during the 50th Anniversary chapel service and picnic on May 19 in St. Louis.
In addition, the faculty has put together a special collection of essays to commemorate the occasion. Entitled All for Jesus: Essays Celebrating the 50th Anniversary of Covenant Theological Seminary, the volume features chapters by each member of the faculty dealing with the topic of redeeming grace as it relates to their areas of academic discipline. The book is edited by Drs. Robert Peterson and Sean Lucas. This collection will be distributed to Covenant Seminary alumni who attend the June 21 Alumni Reception at General Assembly. A limited number of copies will be available afterwards through the Seminary Web site.

Looking Forward:

By His Grace, For His Glory Capital Campaign

Perhaps the most exciting aspect of the year was the inauguration of our By His Grace, For His Glory capital campaign, a three-year initiative to raise $12.5 million to enhance the Seminary’s ability to carry out its mission. By His grace, God has blessed the Seminary with seventeen straight years of increased on-campus enrollments—a blessing that is rapidly bringing us to the limits of our current facilities. In addition, He has made your National Seminary a leading seminary for pastoral training in this denomination that is awakening the theological conscience of North American evangelicalism at the precise moment that Christianity is experiencing its most rapid expansion in history. We have thus been given an historic opportunity, and, for His glory, we desire to make the most of it. To that end, we have been seeking donors to partner with us for the purpose of achieving greater effectiveness in pastoral training. Key components of the campaign include:

- An Expanded Faculty of Pastor/Scholars ($2,500,000). Endowment funds are being sought for two faculty chairs: the Francis A. Schaeffer Apologetics and Outreach Chair, and the Pastoral Ministry and Renewal Chair. These endowments will provide for additional professors and enhance our student/faculty ratio.

- An Enhanced Community Life Center ($1,500,000). The goal is to create a place for community meals, meetings, study, and discussion, as well as to provide a home for the offices and staff of the Dean of Students. Additional plans call for the beautification of the current campus, the creation of a pedestrian mall, and increased parking facilities.
• An Academic Building for Excellence in Ministry Instruction ($8,500,000). The centerpiece of the campaign calls for the construction of a new building that will provide additional classroom space for our expanding student body and office space for our faculty and staff, thus fostering a greater sense of community by offering additional opportunities to interact with each other on a daily basis. The building will also allow us to make better use of our already existing classroom space, as well as the current library building, through reconfiguration and adaptation. A maintenance endowment will be established to provide for long-term quality facility management.

The Lord has blessed the campaign greatly thus far. By His grace, we have received enthusiastic support from our friends and donors, and as of this writing are making excellent progress toward our goal. In fact, groundbreaking for the new building is expected to begin this fall, with projected completion in August 2008. Some related campus renovations and reconfiguration projects have already taken place, with others slated to begin soon. We look forward with eager anticipation to what the Lord will do through this campaign during the next few years.

Continued Excellence in Pastoral Training and Placement

Covenant Seminary’s primary objective is to train pastors to proclaim the Gospel to the world through the local church. As always, therefore, the Master of Divinity (M.Div.) remains our flagship degree program and the center of our institutional focus. The Lord has continued to bless our efforts to prepare Confessionally-committed and Gospel-equipped pastors, not only bringing us increasing numbers of students each year, but also enabling us to provide much-needed support and encouragement for those students when they graduate and go forth to their various ministry settings. Our continuing prayer is that the Lord will enable our churches to help us identify the 100 men in each year’s freshman M.Div. class who have the greatest potential for pastoral leadership.

To train these students well for the work of the local church, we constantly evaluate the content and effectiveness of our ministry training program. Our effectiveness is evidenced by the fact that our graduates are highly desired by churches seeking to fill ministerial positions. In fact, for the past several years, our placement rate for M.Div. graduates seeking ministry positions with the Seminary’s recommendation has been over 95 percent. For the most recent graduating class, this figure is 97.68 percent.
Further evidence of our effectiveness is that Covenant Seminary graduates, on average, remain in church service at a rate four times higher than graduates from all other ATS-accredited seminaries during the first five years of ministry. The praise for this belongs to the Lord, for it is His grace alone that enables and sustains our efforts. An additional cause for praise is the amount of fruit that God brings forth from the ministries of Covenant Seminary graduates. He multiplies His Kingdom exponentially as one in four of our graduates will plant a new church within eight years of graduation.

In addition to the M.Div., our other major degree programs that train students for support roles in the local church or other ministry settings are also flourishing. The Master of Arts in Educational Ministries (M.A.E.M.) program, designed to provide a solid foundation in theology and educational theory, is increasingly popular among those called to educational support ministries. The Master of Arts in Counseling (M.A.C.) program continues to attract a capacity number of students each year, many of whom pursue the degree in combination with an M.Div. to enhance the scope and effectiveness of their future ministries. Our Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) program, which provides pastors with a forum in which to sharpen their ministry skills and share their practical ministry wisdom with one another, is also helping Church leaders become more fruitful servants of the Lord.

Continued Excellence in Pastoral Leadership Support and Renewal

As part of Covenant Seminary’s commitment to pastors for a lifetime of ministry, we continue to provide resources to encourage and sustain pastors in their ministerial calling. This year, we had the privilege of hosting many pastors and ministry leaders through continuing educational and ministry renewal conferences. The Connect Conference, held in October, brought over 150 pastors together to be renewed in Biblical vision for reaching our changing culture, while being encouraged in and equipped for ministry longevity. Focusing on a variety of practical topics relevant to ministry in the local church, the conference was a time for pastors to connect with one another in their common callings and to share their visions, struggles, and hopes. We invite you to attend and participate in our 2006 Connect Conference, coming October 10–12. The theme this year is God’s Future Church: His Kingdom, Our Calling. Speakers will include: Richard Brewes, preacher, pastor, broadcaster, hymn writer, and author of more than twenty books; Michael A. Campbell, Senior Pastor of Redeemer Church, PCA, in Jackson, Mississippi; Dr. Richard L. Pratt, Jr., Professor of Old Testament at Reformed Theological Seminary (Orlando) and President of Third Millennium Ministries; Kennedy Smartt, one of our denominational founding fathers and a former moderator of this Assembly; and Kevin Twit, RUF Campus Minister at Belmont University in Nashville, Tennessee, and the talented musician behind the Indelible Grace series of CDs.

This year, the Seminary also was host to the annual conference of the Evangelical Homiletics Society (EHS). Preachers and teachers of homiletics from around the country gathered at the Seminary for discussions and forums devoted to the theme Show Me the Truth: Illustration, Metaphor and Example in Preaching. Dr. Bryan Chapell, President of Covenant Seminary, was the keynote speaker for the event.

In our continuing efforts to serve the whole Church, the Seminary, in conjunction with the St. Louis Worship Reformation Network, in March hosted the Worthy is the Lamb Worship Conference. The conference brought pastors, worship leaders, and members of local congregations together to explore the nature of Biblical, Reformed worship in a context of mutual respect for historic worship and contributions of today’s best and most theologically articulate musicians.

An important facet of the Seminary’s desire to support and learn from alumni and pastors serving in all varieties of ministry is demonstrated through our Lifetime of Ministry series. This program offers alumni and pastors opportunities to participate in continuing education courses on campus at Covenant Seminary for a minimal fee. These courses are selected specifically to encourage and equip pastors for the ministry challenges they face. Recent Lifetime of Ministry offerings have included “Ministry to Seniors,” “Peacemaking in Practice,” “Church-Based Community Ministry,” and “Evangelism Practicum,” among others. Visit our Web site at www.covenantseminary.edu for updates and details regarding each year’s Lifetime of Ministry series.

The Center for Ministry Leadership, begun two years ago and funded by a generous grant from Lilly Endowment Inc., is an integral part of the Seminary’s ongoing efforts to sustain pastoral excellence for those on the front lines of ministry. In collaboration with Reformed Theological Seminary and Westminster Theological Seminary, the Center is working to increase the effectiveness of pastors through such programs as:

- The Pastors Summit, which draws on the knowledge and experience of seasoned pastors to identify and address issues related to ministry leadership and longevity.
• The Intersect Forum, which serves to foster increased communication, understanding, and cooperation between ministry leaders by bringing pastors together with ruling elders who serve as business and community leaders for the purpose of discussing issues relevant to leadership.

• The Pastor in Residence program, which is designed to bring pastors on campus in order to grow, study, rest, and reflect, and to share their wisdom and experience with our faculty and students.

The Seminary also offers a host of other conferences, seminars, and lecture series throughout the year that provide opportunities for pastors, ministry leaders, and students to interact and learn from one another. These include, among others, the Francis A. Schaeffer Lectures, the J. R. Wilson Preaching Lectures, and the Youth in Ministry Institute Summer Conference.

Continued Excellence in Providing Effective Ministry Resources

One of the major ways in which Covenant Seminary strives to support pastors and ministry leaders for a lifetime of ministry is through our new online initiative known as Covenant Worldwide, a free educational resource for faculty, students, and self-learners around the world. Launched earlier this year, Covenant Worldwide flows from Covenant Seminary’s grace-centered Gospel mission and exists to make high-quality, graduate theological education available free of charge to those who do not have the ability to attend seminary but desire to grow in their theological knowledge and understanding. Covenant Worldwide features downloadable course materials drawn from those offered through the Seminary’s distance learning program, but is not itself a distance-learning or a degree- or certificate-granting initiative. The course materials offered through Covenant Worldwide will provide a foundation of Confessional and Reformed teaching that can be used by individuals for their own edification, or by pastors or other church leaders to train others within their congregations. Study guides and course outlines are available as well. Long-term goals include the translation of these materials into a variety of languages for use around the world. Generous grants from the Christian Education Charitable Trust and the Davis Foundation helped to make this idea a reality.

Through Covenant Worldwide, users also have access to hundreds of other print and audio resources (searchable by topic, author, and/or Scripture text) that Church leaders can use to enhance the effectiveness of their ministries. These resources include:

• Articles on a wide variety of theological and ministry topics.
• Audio files of messages from chapel services.
• Highlights from or complete versions of lectures, presentations, conference talks, and forums by Seminary faculty and guest speakers.

Another tool that has been very effective in maintaining contacts between the Seminary and pastors all around the world is e-Connect, our monthly electronic newsletter. e-Connect provides links to current information and resources designed to further encourage, equip, and enable pastors and ministry leaders in their ministries. The newsletter offers one more avenue by which these leaders can find support and the sense of renewal, and “connectedness” they need to remain active and vital in their work for the Lord.

The Seminary Community:
Farewell to Old Friends, Hello to New Ones

The greatest joy of being at Covenant Seminary is the wonderful community of people with whom God has blessed us. This joy is sometimes tinged with sorrow, as it was this year, when three of our dear friends and long-time ruling elders and Board members, Lanny Moore, Rudy Schmidt, and Bob Singleton, were called home to the Lord. All three of these men served their Savior and Covenant Seminary faithfully and well for many years. Their strength of character, their great wisdom, and their deep and abiding love for the Lord were an inspiration to all of us. Their guidance and friendship are greatly missed, but we rejoice that they are now in the presence of the One whom they loved so much. We look forward to the time when we will again be able to celebrate His glories with them personally.

The most important asset of the Seminary is our dynamic faculty of pastor/scholars who dedicate themselves not only to the academic side of training future leaders for the Church, but also to nurturing, caring for, and mentoring their students outside the classroom. This group of gifted scholars with pastoral hearts is crucial to the success of our mission. Covenant Seminary was blessed this year to add to our regular faculty three members, who, though not new to the Seminary community, have now been called to fulfill new roles within the institution.

• Anthony B. Bradley was appointed Assistant Professor of Apologetics and Systematic Theology, after having served us since the fall of 2005 as Adjunct Professor of that subject. Professor Bradley holds a B.S. from Clemson University, an M.Div. (1998) from Covenant Theological Seminary, and is completing Ph.D. studies in Historical and Theological
APPENDIX F

Studies through Westminster Theological Seminary. Prof. Bradley also serves as a Research Fellow for the Acton Institute for the Study of Religion and Liberty in Grand Rapids, Mich., a fellowship he has held since 2002. His research interests include the Scottish Reformation; the intersection of business, economics, and faith; and modern international forms of social injustice, slavery, and oppression. Prof. Bradley brings a wide range of ministry experience to his teaching, including leadership in youth ministry and Christian high school education and administration.

- Mark Dalbey, the Seminary’s Dean of Students, was appointed as Assistant Professor of Practical Theology, having served as an Adjunct Professor for several years. Dr. Dalbey holds a B.A. from Tarkio College, an M.Div. from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, and a D.Min. from Covenant Theological Seminary. He brings over twenty years of experience as a teacher and pastor to his responsibilities at Covenant Seminary. Dr. Dalbey came to Covenant in 1999 following seven years as senior pastor of Christ Presbyterian Church in Richmond, Indiana. Prior to that, he served as pastor of The Church of the Covenant in Cincinnati, Ohio, and as a chaplain and Bible instructor at Geneva College. Dr. Dalbey's doctoral work focused on corporate worship, and his heart for worship is evident as he leads Seminary chapel services. His pastoral experience and his years of service on presbytery committees dealing with candidates for the ministry enrich the counsel he is able to offer graduating students as they seek placement opportunities.

- Sean Michael Lucas was recently named Assistant Professor of Church History and Dean of Faculty. Dr. Lucas holds a B.A. and M.A. from Bob Jones University, and a Ph.D. from Westminster Theological Seminary. He joined Covenant Seminary in 2004 as Candidate Relations Coordinator and Adjunct Professor of Church History, becoming Assistant Professor of Church History and Associate Dean of Faculty in 2005. His passion for students who study church history is that they understand that Jesus Christ is the hero of the Christian story in every generation. Prior to joining the Seminary faculty, Dr. Lucas served as Assistant Pastor of Community Presbyterian Church in Louisville, Kentucky; he currently serves as an assistant pastor at The Covenant Presbyterian Church in St. Louis, Missouri. He is the co-editor of The Legacy of Jonathan Edwards: American Religion and the Evangelical Tradition (Baker, 2003) and the author of Robert Lewis Dabney: A Southern Presbyterian Life (P&R, 2005) and On Being Presbyterian: A Primer on Presbyterian Identity (P&R, 2006).

We are grateful to have all of these men with us to help prepare the next generation of leaders for service to the Church.

In addition to their teaching responsibilities, faculty members at Covenant Seminary also seek to minister through the written word. Listed here are some of the major faculty works that were published or in progress during 2005–06:

Faculty members have also published numerous articles and reviews, and each has contributed a chapter to our special 50th Anniversary volume entitled All for Jesus: Essays Celebrating the 50th Anniversary of Covenant Theological Seminary, edited by Robert A. Peterson and Sean Michael Lucas (Christian Focus, 2006).

Continued Excellence in Financial Stewardship

It is humbling and gratifying to see how the Lord has continued to bless Covenant Seminary through the support of individuals and churches throughout the denomination. The generous giving of our partners in ministry has resulted in yet another year of balanced budgets in the midst of continued growth. As your denominational seminary, it is one of our main goals to steward well the resources that you—and our Lord—have entrusted to us.

In that regard, we are pleased to report that this year the Seminary received a very encouraging audit by the Evangelical Council on Financial Accountability (ECFA). The audit report was without notations, which the ECFA has said is “most rare.” We praise God once again for His faithfulness, and we offer a special thanks to our Business Office and Advancement teams for helping us to achieve such a distinction through their excellent work in overseeing the institution’s financial resources.

The ongoing support of our PCA churches is another vital element of our financial wellbeing. Your investment in a mission that transcends geographical and generational boundaries aids in bringing the reforming and transforming power of the Gospel to a world that needs this redeeming message. Thank you for being such a vital part not only of the life and ministry of Covenant Seminary, but also of the lives and ministries of the pastors and leaders we train. The fruit they bear is due, in large measure, to the fact that you cared enough to contribute to their seminary education.
Conclusion

As we celebrate our past and prepare for our future, we thank our Lord for the faithfulness He has shown in equipping and enabling Covenant Seminary to serve His Church. By His grace, which underlies and motivates our mission, we have grown from a small, obscure school into a major institution for preparing Confessionally-committed Presbyterian and Reformed leaders for Christ’s Church. We now stand on the threshold of a new era in the history of that Church and of this Seminary. In Him, we find renewed faith and commitment for our mission and pray that He will continue to work through us, with your support, to reform and transform the culture in which we live—for His glory.

Respectfully submitted,
Bryan Chapell
President

Report on the Second General Assembly of the World Reformed Fellowship
The Birchwood Executive Hotel and Conference Center
Johannesburg, South Africa
March 7 - 10, 2006
by Samuel T. Logan, Jr.
Executive Secretary

From March 7 through March 10, 2006, evangelical Reformed leaders from 6 continents and 17 nations met in Johannesburg, South Africa, to address together some of the challenges facing the church in the twenty-first century. The occasion was the Second General Assembly of the World Reformed Fellowship, the theme of which was “Masibambisane,” a Zulu word which may be translated as “carrying the burden together.”

And that is exactly what happened as speakers and workshop leaders presented challenges and suggested specific actions which we might take together to deal with those challenges in ways that will bring honor to the name of Jesus Christ. All of the “challenges” were presented in the context of worship and prayer, as the General Assembly began on March 7 with a plenary worship service and ended on March 10 with a plenary worship service. The first organized activity of the Assembly each morning was a time of open prayer and that was followed by a plenary devotional time. Worship and praise was one of the hallmarks of the entire General Assembly.

One of the most symbolic events of the Assembly occurred on Thursday night when, before the evening presentation, we were led in worship by a well-known South African Gospel Trio. Not only did the entire Assembly stand and sing along with the trio; within just a few minutes, numerous members of the staff of the conference hotel had spontaneously joined our group and were worshiping with us as well. In that moment, it was not so much “carrying the burden together” as it was “lifting His name in praise together.” Black and white, east and west, north and south, rich and poor - it was a wonderful moment of unity in worship of the Sovereign Creator and Redeemer.

These were the plenary speakers and their topics:

Dr. Robert C. (Ric) Cannada, Jr., Chancellor & CEO of Reformed Theological Seminary, led one of the plenary worship services.

Dr. Wilson Chow, President of the China Graduate School of Theology in Hong Kong, delivered a plenary address on the delivery of appropriate evangelical and Reformed theological education to growing and needy churches.

Mr. Charles Clayton, National Director of World Vision - Jerusalem, spoke on engaging in diaconal ministry in the context of ethnic and religious strife.

Dr. David R. Haburchak, specialist in Infectious Disease Medicine and Professor of Medicine at the Medical College of Georgia, delivered an on how the church world-wide should respond biblically to the global challenge of AIDS and HIV.

Dr. Peter Jensen, Anglican Archbishop of Sydney, Australia, preached at the Opening Worship Service of the General Assembly.

Dr. Peter Jones, Executive Director of CWIPP Ministries (Christian Witness to a Pagan Planet), challenged the assembly with the burden of responding to the 21st century challenges of paganism and secularism.

Dr. In Whan Kim, President of Chongshin University and Theological Seminary in Seoul, South Korea, led one of the plenary worship services.

Dr. Diane M. Langberg, a licensed psychologist in private practice in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, delivered a plenary address on how the church world-wide should “carry together” the burden of responding biblically to the problem of sexual trafficking.
Dr. Ron W. Scates, Senior Pastor of Highland Park Presbyterian Church in Dallas, Texas, discussed why and how evangelical Reformed Christians in “mainline” churches and denominations and evangelical Reformed Christians in “separated” or “independent” churches and denominations should work together in Kingdom ministry.

Dr. Stephen Tong, Indonesian evangelist, preached at the Closing Worship Service of the General Assembly.

These were the workshop leaders and their topics:

Dr. James E. Adams, Pastor, author, translator, and publisher—the opportunities and challenges in the publication and distribution of Kingdom-extending materials.

Dr. Flip Buys, Chairman of the Board of Masibambisane Community Development Corporation and Principal of Mukhanyo Theological College, both in South Africa—diaconal care for AIDS victims.

Dr. Victor Cole, Professor of Educational Studies at the Nairobi Evangelical Graduate School of Theology in Kenya—spiritual formation in theological education.

Rev. Jimmy Lin, Minister of Chinese Broadcasting for the Back to God Hour radio program, a ministry of the Christian Reformed Church—the opportunities and challenges in the use of radio to spread the Gospel around the world.

Dr. John Nicholls, Chief Executive of the London City Mission—interdenominational urban missions.

Dr. Manuel Ortiz, Author and Professor Emeritus of Ministry and Urban Mission at Westminster Theological Seminary—Globalization, the City, the church and its mandate to minister to the urban poor.

Ms. Melanie Streicher, Founder and Executive Director of Lambano Sanctuary, a family-based series of homes for HIV-AIDS orphans in South Africa—diaconal care for victims of HIV/AIDS.

Dr. Yusufu Turaki, Professor of Theology and Social Ethics at the Jos Evangelical Church of West Africa Theological Seminary.

Mr. Alan White, Vice President for Institutional Advancement at Westminster Theological Seminary—using technology to build financial resources for ministry.
In addition to learning together and building networking relationships, the members of the World Reformed Fellowship took the following actions in Johannesburg -

1. Established three major working groups.

The first group, chaired by Dr. Andrew McGowan, Principal of Highland Theological College in Scotland, has been charged to write a new Statement of Faith for the 21st century. It is the first time in the history of the church, as far as we are aware, that a group to work on a Statement of Faith has included individuals from such disparate places as the United States, Brazil, Scotland, France, Italy, Australia, South Korea, Hong Kong, Indonesia, South Africa, and Kenya. All of those appointed to this working group share a commitment to the inerrancy of Scripture and to the historic Reformed faith. They come from a very wide variety of denominational and ethnic backgrounds and they share a sense of the need for the evangelical Reformed church to speak clearly to the issues and challenges in our increasingly secular and God-denying world. A generous donor has agreed to help fund this work and the deadline for the completion of the work is March of 2010 (the date of the next General Assembly of the WRF).

The second group, chaired by Dr. Wilson Chow, President of the China Graduate School of Theology in Hong Kong, has been formed to provide support and sharing of resources in theological education among evangelical Reformed Christians around the world. This group has already held one meeting of its 25 founding participants and has agreed to work on the following matters - 1) sharing library resources; 2) sharing of teaching and learning resources (including sending both Faculty and students to other institutions); 3) providing mutual encouragement and support with accreditation issues; 4) developing inter-institutional mentoring relationships; 5) providing placement assistance both for those wanting to get an evangelical Reformed theological education and for those who have finished such education and are looking for ministry positions.

The third group, chaired by Dr. John Nicholls, Executive Director of the London City Mission in England, has been formed to build an international network of evangelical Reformed Christians working in the areas of missions and evangelism. Among the issues to be addressed by this group (which already includes individuals from all of the six continents represented at the General Assembly) are these—1) developing an international evangelical and Reformed "theology of missions and evangelism" which would include both theological and diaconal elements and 2) sharing of missions and evangelism expertise and resources across national and denominational boundaries.

2. Established WRF Regional Councils in Africa and Asia which join the previously existing Councils in Latin America and Europe.

3. Established an Advancement Advisory Council which will assist the Executive Secretary in fund-raising.

4. Elected a new Executive Committee which is charged to handle WRF business between meetings of the General Assembly. The new Executive Committee consists of the following individuals:

   - Dr. K. Eric Perrin, Chair (the United States)
   - Dr. Andrew McGowan, Vice-Chair (Scotland)
   - Dr. Paul Gilchrist, Secretary (the United States)
   - Dr. Tito LaJara, Treasurer (the United States)
   - Professor Pierre Berthoud (France)
   - Dr. Flip Buys (South Africa)
   - Dr. Wilson Chow (Hong Kong)
   - Dr. Robert Den Dulk (the United States)
   - Dr. Matthew Ebenezer (India)
   - Dr. Allan Harman (Australia)
   - Dr. Benyamin Intan (Indonesia)
   - Dr. Peter Jones (the United States)
   - Dr. In Whan Kim (South Korea)
   - Dr. Augustus Nicodemus Lopes (Brasil)
   - Dr. Sang Il Park (the United States)
   - Rev. Peterson Sozi (Uganda)
   - Dr. Roy Taylor (the United States)
   - Dr. Joseph Tong (Indonesia)
   - Dr. Luder Whitlock (the United States)

5. Set the date and place of the next Executive Committee meeting as March 9 - 10, 2007, at McKenzie University in Sao Paulo, Brasil.

6. Set the date of the Third General Assembly as March of 2010. Formal invitations to host the Third General Assembly have been received from Australia, Indonesia, and Scotland. At its meeting in March of 2007, the Executive Committee will decide the location of the Third General Assembly.

Over and over again, participants commented on the wonderful opportunity the General Assembly provided for evangelical Reformed Christians to fellowship and to build cooperative working relationships across lines which normally divide. Here are a few specific comments (used with the permission of their authors):

From John Nicholls, Executive Director of the London City Mission in England:

I felt that the Assembly was a remarkable time - very different from just about every other such gathering/assembly/conference I have been to. The wide range of countries and denominations from which people came was one key factor (especially good to be at a Reformed conference with Anglicans and with "main-liners"). The emphasis of the talks was neither triumphalist nor narrowly theological. I found the 3 plenaries on diaconal/justice issues especially challenging and helpful. Charles Clayton's talk was liberating for me . . . The plenary on the abuse of women was directly challenging, as we are aware of the prevalence of sexual-trafficking in London. I have come home with an agenda to discuss this issue, with other organisations in London, and with our LCM staff, to see what we ought and could be doing. I was only sorry not to have been able to attend the other 6 workshops!

I believe that the WRF has started something of real value and even greater potential. I am convinced that the Reformed faith has an essential contribution to make in all areas of the Christian Church's life and work, and especially in missions and evangelism.

From Augustus Nicodemus Lopes, Chancellor of McKenzie University in Sao Paulo, Brasil:

[The General Assembly] was very helpful for me as a Brazilian reformed pastor and theologian. First, the fellowship with brothers and sisters from different countries and ethnic backgrounds helped me to understand more what the Reformed spirit of unity in the diversity means. Second, the tremendous potential for promoting and spreading the Reformed faith in places where the Church is young and growing, like Latin American, Asia and Africa. Third, the GA provided the means for Reformed people around the world to get connected and start to develop partnerships. As an example, in my own case, I am in contact with three colleges and universities represented in the GA for possible educational agreements to promote Reformed Christian education.

From Dr. Tshitangoni Christopher Rabali, Professor at Pochestroom University in South Africa:
The papers read and discussed at the assembly were relevant and insightful. I therefore benefited a lot from what was shared by means of the speakers.

It was also helpful in making me realize that there are still many reformed leaders who are faithful to the scriptures and to our reformed confessional positions. At times one feels lonely when your denomination is drifting towards liberal positions. It was therefore encouraging for me to find out that there are many leaders within reformed circles who still would encourage and support us to be faithful to our reformed convictions as well as to stand alongside us when striving to impact our societies with such convictions.

I was also particularly encouraged by personal discussions with the Korean church leader, Dr In Whan Kim. What encouraged me most was the story of their churches in terms of their having become a church that is mature and is sending out reformed missionaries all over the world. Our own small church, The Reformed Churches in South Africa of Synod Soutpansberg, is praying to learn from them. We would want to have closer contacts with the Korean churches.

The assembly also helped me establish networks with many reformed church leaders who were in attendance.

From Dr. Craig Higgins, Pastor of Rye Presbyterian Church in Rye, New York:

The Assembly was an excellent opportunity to meet fellow believers from around the world who share a common vision for the kingdom. Meetings like this are a wonderful source of not only encouragement and fellowship but also sharing of ideas, strategies, etc. The presentations were helpful in assisting us in seeing both the incredible challenges and yet amazing opportunities for Christian witness in word and deed. John Nicholls’ challenge toward unity in gospel witness was strong and warm and winsome. And who would not be moved by Charles Clayton’s presentation and Diane Langberg’s?

From Dr. Manuel Ortiz, Church Planter, Author, and Professor at Westminster Theological Seminary:

The networking was very profitable. A number of countries were represented from Latin America, Africa, Asia, Europe, North America, and Oceania. The group was large enough to be able to meet and resource with one another. The themes presented were very helpful to understanding global issues and how to do theology and formulate mission strategy.
From Federal District Judge Rollin Van Broekhoven:

I found the workshop sessions I attended particularly interesting at several levels. As a visiting lecturer in philosophy of law in Oxford, and one that works with ECFA across the evangelical sector in the US and with the International Committee on Fundraising Organizations based in Europe, the workshop session on Secularism which I attended and the plenary session on the Spiritual Threat of Secularism and Paganism were particularly good and helpful for contextualizing the Christian witness in the world today. As a member of the Board of Dallas Theological Seminary, I found the workshop of Theological Education: Spiritual Formation with Victor Cole and Peter Lillback, both DTS graduates, to be helpful as I think through curriculum issues as a board member. I was blessed by the Tuesday evening worship service, and particularly by Archbishop Peter Jensen's preaching. The entire program and plenary sessions were very good, and gave me insights into what is happening in the world beyond my limited areas of experience and knowledge.

From Dr. Jack Whytock, Executive Director of Haddington House, Prince Edward Island, Canada:

I found the Assembly very helpful. It spoke to me through some of the devotional messages such as Bishop Jensen and Dr. Cannada. Both did a fine job and were a real blessing. Clear, simple, soul searching. I was blessed by being with brothers from around the world and finally was able to meet two men that I had wanted to for some time--Drs. Cole and Turaki, so personally that was a highlight. I truly was blessed by each workshop I attended. I cannot wait to see the book published. We saw an aggressive and realistic side given to the evangelical and Reformed community through those addresses which rarely is seen! That was great--there was a real world there and not just theological nit-pickers! I loved the spirit of freedom and joy and fellowship that allowed for some diversity without killing each other. I loved what I saw.

From the Rev. Bob Thomas, Moderator General of the Presbyterian Church of Australia:

On a scale of 1 to 10, I scored the General Assembly 12. The Presbyterian Church of Australia has stepped aside from wider church involvement over most of the last 30 years, having been badly burned by the so-called Ecumenical Movement, but the WRF General Assembly has drawn us gently back in to the wider church. We all made so many valuable contacts through WRF and were given a greater vision of what can be done in working with Presbyterian and other Reformed Christians of “like precious faith” that we were challenged and refreshed. In particular we can see many opportunities for co-operation with brethren in the African churches, which we have begun to explore.

From Dr. Flip Buys, Principal of Mukhanyo Theological College in South Africa:

The fellowship with likeminded committed Reformed Christians from so many parts of the world was encouraging, and stimulating. It was a humbling experience to hear and see testimonies of the impact of faithful Reformed ministries in the midst of the most challenging conditions of war, poverty, suffering, persecution, decline and growth of churches. Sharing insights, experiences, and considering avenues of collaboration and partnership in the expansion of the kingdom of God was stirring up new hope faith, love, motivation and energy. It was helpful to identify and lay links of possible joint ministry in the future. The African Region is planning to have an African regional assembly in 2007, God willing.

Membership in the World Reformed Fellowship is open to individuals, organizations, congregations, and denominations. There is no membership fee. Those wishing to join must identify at least one of the following historic Reformed confessions as the confession of their faith - The Gallican Confession, The Belgic Confession, The Heidelberg Catechism, The Thirty Nine Articles, The Second Helvetic Confession, The Canons of Dort, The Westminster Confession of Faith, the London Confession of 1689, or the Savoy Declaration. Candidates for membership must also make the following declaration: I/we affirm the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as the authoritative, God-breathed Word of God, without error in all that it affirms.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MISSION TO NORTH AMERICA TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

SUMMARY OF MNA 2005 MINISTRY PROGRESS
Making Disciples of All Nations Without Leaving Home:
How Mission to North America Serves the PCA
In Advancing Ministry to People of All Cultures in North America

It is our prayer that God by His grace and for His own glory – through the cooperative prayers and efforts of PCA churches and presbyteries – will ignite a powerful church planting and vitalization movement, a movement that impacts all of North America with the Gospel of Jesus Christ and transforms the heart and face of the PCA. We long to see transformation in North America through people being saved, lives changed, disciples made, and needs met in the name of Jesus Christ. As we are obedient to our Lord’s Great Commission, the PCA will become:

• More diverse, with many churches planted and many people coming to Christ from among the various cultural, ethnic and socio-economic groups of North America.
• A stronger presence in the city centers and centers of influence in North America.
• Geographically more widespread throughout the United States and Canada.
• Salt and light in our communities, growing through evangelism and deeds of mercy.
• Churches filled with great vitality, “houses of prayer for all the nations” (Mk 11:17).

(See Attachment 1 for complete MNA Vision Statement)

Only let your manner of life be worthy of the Gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the Gospel, and not frightened in anything by your opponents. Philippians 1:27-28a

In our rapidly changing North American culture, perhaps the key question is, How can the PCA be used by God to advance the Gospel? If ministry continues as it has in the past, we will remain a mostly Anglo denomination in the midst of a culture that is increasingly multiethnic. Mission to North America is charged by the General Assembly with the responsibility of serving our churches and presbyteries with leadership, coordination, and resources for our church planting endeavors and other forms of outreach ministry in North America. Therefore, we ask the General Assembly to join in a renewed and growing commitment to:

- prayer, that God will work through us mightily and will lead us in the ever-changing challenges of ministry that lie before us; and
- striving side by side for the faith of the Gospel (Phil 1:27); that is, that we will learn together how we can most effectively minister and trust God for the advancement of the Gospel – through the PCA – in this ever-changing culture.

May we faithfully wait upon the Lord for His work – through us. As you read through this report, please join us in rejoicing at what God has done in 2005, and join us in praying that 2006 will continue to be a fruitful year in the advancement of the Gospel in North America through the PCA.

TE James C. Bland III, MNA Coordinator

The next section presents some brief key points from the MNA paper, “Ministering Among the Changing Cultures of North America.” For the complete text, go to: www.pca-mna.org.

We include this portion of the paper in our report with the hope that we will be drawn together in prayer and in considering God’s direction for us.

Introduction: So [you think] you want to call a church planter?

The conversation occurs so often that an MNA staff member can recite it in his sleep. The opening question is, “Where can we find a Hispanic church planter?” (Or it may be an African American church planter, or a church planter for any of the many other ethnic groups who are now growing in North America. Most often in the PCA, it is either a Hispanic or African American church planter.)

The conversation continues along these lines:

- “What is it that has brought you to the point of looking for a Hispanic church planter?”
- “There’s a big Hispanic population in our town now, and it’s growing rapidly. We need to get a church started.”
- “Do you know anything about the people of this community?”
“Well, they’re mostly Mexicans, but there are some Nicaraguans and Venezuelans as well. Some are real transient, stay here awhile, and move on to other cities. Others get jobs and stay here.”

“And what is it specifically that leads you to want to plant a church?”

“Well, there’s no Reformed church in their community.”

“Are there any churches in their community?”

“There are a few small ones; seem to be mostly Pentecostal.”

“Have you explored what ministries they are doing that you might participate in?”

“Oh, we just wouldn’t be able to do that; their theology is really out there, and their worship – well – you know what that’s like!”

“Have you visited any of these churches?”

“No.”

“Have you spent time with any of their pastors, to see what God is doing through them?”

“No.”

“Do you know any of their pastors – have you met any of them?”

“No.”

“Do you know anyone in this community?”

“No. A few of our members have conversations with them at work. A few of them work for some of our members’ businesses.”

This conversation brings into focus a host of factors as we address the challenge of church planting in North America. MNA is constantly working to bring a biblical focus to the key issues that we believe should be considered as we seek to minister in the changing culture of North America. In summary:

- The North American culture is rapidly and constantly changing and will continue to do so for the foreseeable future. There is no reason to believe we will arrive at a point where the changes stabilize and we begin to experience a relatively homogeneous or stable culture once again; in fact, all signs point to an acceleration of the extent and longevity of constant cultural change.

- Ministry in such a context is an entirely new experience for the PCA, indeed for all of the evangelical church in North America, for which there is no previous experience that supplies ready answers.

- Ministry must begin and go forward through relationship building. While church planting is the ultimate goal and the only means through which God ultimately advances His Kingdom in this age, even our church planting methods will be very different in many instances from those to which we are accustomed.
PCA churches and presbyteries are prone to take the first church planter they can find from a given ethnic group, if he can pass the presbytery exam, speaks the language and seems enough like the target ethnic group to get a church started. We then launch him in the church plant with a minimum of financial, personal, and mentoring support – into a very complicated and uncharted journey of church planting in our changing culture.

In her short history, the PCA has tried this method many times, and it has failed more often than not. When it fails, the consequences are devastating. The church planter and other families involved, in most cases, are wounded permanently. The majority of the pastors who have this negative experience leave the ministry or at least the PCA, and if they remain in the PCA, they harbor hard feelings, in many cases for the rest of their lives. Members of the core group, or others from that people group who know of the situation, become offended and discouraged with the PCA; this also can affect future relationships and what otherwise might be good potential opportunities for a very long time. A further result is that PCA leaders often conclude, “I guess we can’t make it among ethnic groups; maybe the PCA is only for the kind of people we are already mostly made up of – middle and upper income, highly educated white folks.”

Can God advance the Gospel through the PCA among the ever-growing variety of people groups in North America? At Mission to North America, we believe He will – as we trust Him to guide us through the very challenging process of discovering how He can work through us by His Spirit. We believe that He will work through us as we are willing to discover how He will use some of the distinctives and gifts He has given us to do His work – if we are at the same time willing to let go of some things we cherish but which may not be essential to the building up of the Church; if we are willing to ignore, accommodate, or even celebrate and enjoy, the non-sinful and even God-created differences that easily divide us.

The constantly changing cultures of North America

People who immigrate to North America begin forming new cultures upon their arrival in North America. These new cultures are very different from the cultures of their countries of origin. These new cultures will not remain static; they will change with each generation and even within each generation. From one people group who arrives with a homogeneous culture will come many new subcultures within a very short time, often even in the first generation of living in North America.

This is unlike any previous experience in the United States. North America has seen significant periodic influxes of people groups in the past. With a few exceptions, these people groups either settled into largely isolated cultural pockets, usually in the major cities (e.g., the “Chinatowns”), or they assimilated into the mainstream without substantially affecting it. Today, for the first time in history, there is a major ongoing influx of new people groups all across North America who are impacting virtually every community in North America, urban, suburban, and rural.

Not only are new cultures being created by the presence of new people groups, but these new cultures will be constantly changing, and they will bring constant change even to the dominant American culture. Further, every indication is that they will not settle into common and established cultures in the future, but that this kind of change will be ongoing. While some other nations are currently experiencing similar changes, this is unlike anything in the history of the world, for no other past nation or culture has experienced an ongoing immigration of peoples from such a multitude of other cultures.

The result is that North America is becoming a new context for ministry altogether. The key to a vibrant future PCA in a changing culture is that we become highly skilled in the contextualization of the Gospel in an ever changing and increasingly heterogeneous and pluralistic American culture.

Ministry in a constantly changing culture

Given our international experience, and our experience even in much of our North America church planting, our approach to ministry in North America seems simple: as the nations come to us and North America is increasingly filled with people groups among whom we have ministered in other nations, we apply the same missionary methods in North America.

Taking this approach, we usually try to identify church planters from the new people group in our community, with the purpose of planting homogeneous churches composed mainly or entirely of that people group, speaking the language of their country of origin. And our common practice is to send a church planter in to labor alone, to start from scratch, in relative isolation. Effective ministry and effective church planting cannot be done that way in today’s complex and changing culture.

The Gospel is the same in every age. The Reformed tradition guides our interpretation of the Scriptures. But our ways of forming relationships, planting churches, and ministering among the people of an ever-changing North American culture will be different from our past ways and also different from historic missionary endeavors. There is no blueprint. And if we wish to succeed in this endeavor, we will be called to give much, sacrifice much, and change much in order to see people come to Christ, and we will be called to join together in God-centered, God-honoring, and biblically directed worship and ministry.

The methods that we are accustomed to use fail because the new immigrants for the most part do not form pockets of homogeneous culture similar to that of their experience in their countries of origin. Neither do they assimilate uniformly into American culture, forming a simple and easily defined third culture. Our success in the PCA does reflect this: second generation Korean churches, African American churches, even first generation Hispanic background churches – no two of the congregations that the PCA has, who are composed predominantly of any of these groups, do things the same way.

Instead, a fruitful method requires multiple approaches to multiple and ever-changing cultures within each people group, with every church looking different from the others in terms of language and cultural customs. This is highly complicated and there is no missiological manual already written; the North American Church must write that manual (today, other denominations are ahead of the PCA in this), and the manual’s content will be ever-changing.

Planting churches through people coming to Christ is our ultimate goal in any community and among all people groups. The local church is the only ongoing stable base for ministry. Planting churches is always the ultimate goal in establishing ongoing ministry in any community or people group:

- The local church is God’s ordained means of extending His Kingdom in this age.
- The local church is the base for permanent presence in a community or people group.
- Effective leadership can be developed only through the local church.
- More people come to Christ through new churches than through established churches; thus an ongoing practice of planting new churches will see many more people come to Christ.
- In communities in which there is no PCA presence, planting churches is the only way to begin to develop that presence.
- Much as an existing PCA church may have the desire theoretically, there may be factors that make it very difficult for the existing congregation to make the changes necessary to assimilate new people into the congregation. Thus, in some communities already served by PCA churches, the only way to reach new people in the community may be through planting new churches.
Our critique of the introductory conversation should not be taken as in any way discouraging the seeking and mentoring of church planters. Where may potential church planter candidates be found, or where may good candidates for mentoring be identified?

- Men trained and experienced as pastors in their country of origin.
- Men trained and experienced as pastors serving in their respective people group in North America.
- Men from the people group among whom we seek to develop ministry who are trained in North American seminaries. Recruiting and provision of scholarships are essential if this is to happen in any numbers.
- Men from the people group among whom we seek to develop ministry who are mentored and trained by PCA pastors and elders, as they live and minister in their current cultural context. MNA’s Leadership and Ministry Preparation (LAMP), under the direction of Brian Kelso, provides an effective way to offer this mentoring.
- Experienced pastors, including missionaries, from any cultural or ethnic background, who may or may not have direct experience in ministry in another culture, but who are committed to developing ministry in a culture different from their own. We should urge more Anglo men to consider answering God’s call to work with other ethnic groups in North America, just as we urge Anglo men to consider serving in other people groups around the world.

While praying, searching for, and preparing to mentor new church planters, we can begin to minister in ways that will prepare us to come alongside a church planter (rather than send him in to work alone) and that will begin to form a foundation of relationships from which a church plant may be launched effectively. We are familiar with the concept of pre-evangelism and evangelism. There is a preparation for the Gospel that opens the heart and the mind to the actual hearing of the Gospel. Think of this (we compare it to evangelism deliberately because evangelism is at the heart of church planting) as “pre-church planting.” What are some things we can do to begin ministry and prepare the way for church planting in our complex culture?

- Begin with prayer; continue in prayer. This must be God’s work.
- The best beginning action point for ministry is to get to know and love people personally. What are their needs? What ministry is already taking place in their midst? What are the best entry points for new ministry? How can we love our neighbors as ourselves – neighbors who are different from ourselves?
- Begin with ministries to children: VBS, after school tutoring, etc.
• Meet the needs of newcomers to the community. English as a second language (ESL) is a ready entry point for ministry among new immigrants. Another ESL possibility is that of quipping people of other ethnic groups to lead them, forming their own means of outreach.

• Be willing to serve people in the community, addressing their needs selflessly, whether or not they will ever become a part of the existing PCA congregation.

• Seek to build the kind of atmosphere in our worship and fellowship that will invite as many as possible to want to participate.

• Put the strengths of our Reformed and Presbyterian heritage to maximum use for outward facing ministry, while at the same time appreciating that the work of the Spirit and the Gospel is present in other traditions as well.

• Church staffing: the make-up and ongoing mentoring of church staff members will be different if we are committed to ministering among people who are not part of the mainstream culture of the congregation.

• Take advantage of any opportunity for experience with people who are different from us. Even transient or one-time experiences or contacts are helpful.

• Whatever the forms of ministry, concentrate particularly on building leadership that is indigenous to the group with whom we seek to minister, especially giving to emerging leaders the acceptance and opportunity to lead.

• Mercy ministries and community development ministries offer additional pre-church planting opportunities.

How strong is our commitment?

Are we willing to pay the price? This requires much prayer, waiting upon God for the work of His Spirit. This is hard work! And it is complicated! Isn’t there a simpler way? We are more comfortable with sending in the professionals because we feel so inadequate. But if we believe God has called us to advance His Church in this culture, we have to roll up our sleeves and do the hard work – and the hardest work of all will be prayer.

Are some of us called to this hard work of outreach across cultural lines, while others are not? Basically, the question can be rephrased this way: are some of us called to bear witness, while some are not? Here’s the reality: in North America today, all people outside of Christ are of a different culture. Life outside of Christ is very different from life in Christ, whatever one’s cultural milieu otherwise. That is more true than ever, and increasingly so, whether you are a rich white man or a poor member of another ethnic group. Increasingly, North American Christians face the choice: live an isolated life in a tiny little world – or meet, get to know, learn to love, and seek to bear witness among people who make us uncomfortable.

God calls us to faithfully serve Him in the advancement of the Gospel wherever He has placed us. May we seek Him in prayer and trust Him to bring through us – through the PCA – a great harvest for His praise.

Excerpts from Ministering Among the Changing Cultures of North America ends here. We presented above only a few key points of the MNA paper. For the complete text, go to: www.pca-mna.org. Please disseminate the paper freely and tell us your responses and experience, so that we can grow together in following God’s calling.

MNA resources for ministry among the growing people groups of North America:

- MNA Staff include Ministry Coordinators for these ethnic groups: African American, TE Wy Plummer; Portuguese Speaking, TE Renato Bernardes; Haitian, TE Dony St. Germain; Hispanic American, TE Tim McKeown; Korean, TE Henry Koh. The services provided by these coordinators include:
  - Working with the predominantly Anglo churches of the PCA to develop ministries and churches who will effectively minister among the many growing ethnic groups and changing cultures of North America.
  - Assisting presbyteries and churches in planting new churches among the increasingly diverse peoples of their communities.
  - Mentoring and training church planters and other key leaders. Encouraging churches and church planting presbyteries to think in terms of who can most effectively minister, rather than thinking in terms exclusively of ethnicity. A growing number of PCA teaching elders serve congregations whose dominant ethnic group is different from their own.
  - Coordinating conferences and other gatherings for fellowship and training both among their respective ethnic groups and with the purpose of joining in fellowship and ministry with a diverse ethnic make-up. See the list in the next paragraph.
  - Counseling and providing support materials and other resources helpful to the development of effective strategies for sharing Christ across cultural, socioeconomic and ethnic lines.
  - Assisting churches and presbyteries in mentoring pastors and other ministry leaders.
o Serving as resources for non-PCA ethnic churches and leaders, assisting them in exploring whether God is calling them to serve in the PCA.

o Working with churches and presbyteries in defining vision, goals and strategy for church planting and the advancement of other ministries.

- Church Planter Training Conferences: conducted in coordination with MNA by Global Church Advancement, under the leadership of TE Steve Childers, these offer multiple tracks of training for church planting and revitalization. Content is increasingly oriented toward ministry in our changing culture.

- Leadership and Ministry Preparation (LAMP), led by TE Brian Kelso, offers a method of training church planters and other pastors who are not able to attend a resident seminary. The primary method of training is mentoring men in their cultural context; therefore, this program offers an excellent means of developing leadership from a variety of ethnic backgrounds. Currently, a total of 105 are in training under the LAMP program in 16 churches or presbyteries.

- English as a Second Language (ESL) ministry: Nancy Booher, a member of Chapelgate Presbyterian in the Baltimore area, offers training and consultation in establishing ESL ministries. PCA churches are finding that ESL schools offer an excellent means of developing relationships for ministry across cultural lines.

- MNA ShortTerm, led by RE Arklie Hooten, offers a growing number of short term ministry opportunities throughout the United States. Many of these include ministry in communities that are very different from those of the sending church.

MNA Training Conferences and Gatherings in 2005 Included Emphasis on Ministry in Multiethnic/Multicultural Communities (These meet annually except as noted):

- Hispanic American Ministries Convocation
- African American Convocation
- Korean American English Ministries Conference
- Brazilian Ministries Conference
- English as a Second Language (ESL) Conference
- Church Planter Training Conferences include major emphasis on ministry among the people groups of North America.
- MNA Key Leader Gathering (MNA Chairmen; church planting network leaders; other key church planting leadership) includes major emphasis on ministry among the people groups of North America. In 2005, this was a denomination-wide meeting; in 2006, four regional key leader gatherings will be held.

- Mercy Ministries Conference was held in 2005, cosponsored with CE&P. This conference is held every two years, and will meet again on April 19–21, 2007, in Atlanta.
- Christian Community Development Association annual conference is recommended by MNA as a resource for training and networking in mercy and community development ministries. Each year 100-150 PCA members attend this conference. The 2006 conference is planned for September 27–October 1, 2006, in Philadelphia, PA.
- Evangelism Convocation is planned for November 6–8, 2006, at Spanish River Church in Boca Raton, FL.
- Revitalization Convocation is planned for 2007.

Advances and new beginnings in MNA ministries during 2005:

- Praise God for His grace – a significantly greater number of church planters began new mission churches during 2005 than during any previous year. For at least ten years, 40-50 new church planters have been placed annually across the denomination. This is a very healthy number for a denomination of our size. However, we are pleased to report that 58 new church planters were placed during 2005; and 9 began church planting apprenticeships (Attachment 2). We thank God for this increase. Please join in specific prayer that God will lead an ever increasing number of laborers into His harvest.
- Hurricane Katrina, along with the other hurricanes of the season, presented unprecedented challenges for PCA relief efforts. By God’s grace, there was also an unprecedented outpouring of volunteer labor and giving on the part of the PCA, serving PCA people who suffered loss as well as those in the devastated communities. MNA Disaster Response coordinated more than 3300 PCA volunteers during September through December 2005. On some days, there were 350 volunteers reaching out to church members and people in their surrounding communities. In addition to the volunteer teams coordinated through MNA, many other PCA members volunteered by working directly with PCA churches. Total giving through MNA for Katrina relief exceeded $3.8 million by the end of 2005; giving to Wilma exceeded $370,000. We thank God for these substantial resources in addressing the needs of PCA families, church operations cost and church facility rebuilding. Relief efforts will continue at least through the summer of 2006; effective January 1, 2006, MNA ShortTerm assumed coordination of the efforts so that further preparation could be made for response to future disasters. MNA Disaster Response staff members Ron and Judy Haynes began service with MNA in 2003, and MNA ShortTerm Director Arklie Hooten began service in June 2005. We thank God for His provision in bringing these key people to us in time to provide leadership during this, the most devastating of natural disasters in North America.

- Church Planting Wives Ministry began June 2005 with the addition of Shari Thomas and Tami Resch, themselves wives of church planters, to the MNA staff. Mentoring and encouraging church planters’ wives is a long-neglected need, and God has graciously provided these two women committed to the development of a ministry to address this need.

- African American Ministries Coordinator TE Wy Plummer and Hispanic American Ministries Coordinator TE Tim McKeown moved from a part-time to a full-time focus on ministry among African Americans and Hispanics in North America. MNA seeks to commit a growing base of resources and leadership to these, the largest non-Anglo ethnic groups in North America. Currently, 26 African American TEs serve in the PCA, and 23 TEs lead PCA ministries in the Spanish language in North America.

- ESL Ministries Director Nancy Booher, mentioned in the previous section, began service with MNA June 2005. Many PCA churches are already conducting ESL ministries and many more are in the planning stage. During 2006, a directory of PCA churches who conduct ESL ministries will be made available.

- MNA ShortTerm Director RE Arklie Hooten, also mentioned previously, joined the MNA staff in June 2005. Most potential short term ministry projects in North America require a minimum of coordination and third-party missions agency involvement, in many cases requiring only the “match making” of the sending and receiving church being brought together. Accordingly, we expect much fruit from this ministry. Short term projects include not only those that typically come to mind, such as mercy ministries or light construction in communities of need, but also ministries such as VBS and other outreach ministries that are helpful and increasingly sought by church planters in all kinds of communities.

- Capitol Service, led by TE Chuck Garriott, who joined the MNA staff June 2005. Currently working with PCA churches in 6 state capitols as well as Washington, DC, Capitol Service provides a framework for non-partisan non-political ministry to people who serve in state and federal government. The PCA has a presence in at least 30 state capital cities in the United States.
MNA Chaplain Ministries, led by TE David Peterson, took a new step in adding RE Gary Hitzfeld to the staff to bring additional leadership to civilian chaplaincies. Currently, in addition to the military chaplains, the PCA endorses 44 civilian chaplains serving in many different kinds of institutional settings. (See the roster in Attachment 3) MNA requests special prayer for the new challenges in military chaplaincy in 2005, including longer deployments in areas of active military conflict, as well as challenges to the right of evangelicals to maintain their theological distinctives in ministry in the military. See the next section for more details on Chaplain Ministries.

MNA Church Planting Services

To keep up to date on these services, visit the MNA Web site often at: www.pca-mna.org.

Church Planting, led by TE Ted Powers. MNA serves churches and presbyteries in these activities:

- Communicating the church planting vision throughout the PCA.
- Mobilizing the PCA for prayer.
- Coordinating the church planting efforts of PCA churches and presbyteries.
- Recruiting and developing those who are gifted and called to church planting, led by TE Jim Hatch. Church Planter Readiness Seminars are conducted regularly on the campuses of ministries who serve the PCA, providing the opportunity for seminary students to evaluate their potential gifts for church planting.
- Assessing potential church planters.
- Training church planters, both prior to moving to the field and during their early years of church planting ministry.
- Assisting in strategies and training in fund raising, led by TE Fred Marsh.
- Placing church planters in strategic sites, as well as assisting presbyteries in the placement of church planters.
- Coaching, encouraging and supporting church planters on the field. This ministry to church planting wives is led by Shari Thomas and Tami Resch.

Church Planting services, as summarized in the previous section, are provided by these Teaching Elders:

- African American Ministries Coordinator Wy Plummer
- Brazilian Ministries Coordinator Renato Bernardes
- Haitian Ministries Coordinator Dony St. Germain
Leadership and Ministry Preparation (LAMP), led by TE Brian Kelso, focuses on the five major components of training for ministry, as identified in the Scriptures, PCA Uniform Curriculum Guidelines, and the BCO: (1) Calling; (2) Character; (3) Competency; (4) Content; and (5) Credentialing. This system of study fulfills all the requirements for men seeking ordination in the PCA, regardless of prior academic credentials. The goal of LAMP is to use the candidate’s years of preparation as effectively as possible.

Revitalization and Evangelism, led by TE Ted Powers, seeks to coordinate resources to address one of our greatest needs – more vital churches, alive with the presence of the Lord. MNA seeks to: (1) assist in the planting of biblically healthy churches and keep them healthy by providing intensive, effective training and coaching for church planters; and (2) offer direct services and referral to resources who address the needs of existing churches—those who want to ensure an ongoing vitality, as well as those who have plateaued or are in decline.

MNA Outreach Ministries

To keep up to date on these services, visit the MNA Web site often at: www.pca-mna.org/outreach ministries.

English as a Second Language (ESL) Ministries, led by Nancy Booher, offers effective strategies for missionary outreach in North America through teaching English to new immigrants. ESL Ministries works with churches to assist them in organizing an ESL program that will aid them in sharing the Gospel with the strangers in their midst; training teachers and other key leaders; and choosing curricula and materials.

Disaster Response, led by Deacon Ron Haynes, assists PCA churches and presbyteries in responding to disasters that require relief resources exceeding those available in the affected churches and presbyteries.

MNA ShortTerm, led by RE Arklie Hooten, leads the development and implementation of a PCA-wide vision of short term ministry opportunities within North America. Our purpose is to match churches who can send volunteer teams with mission churches and ministries who need services, such as help with community outreach, VBS, construction, and other help in communities of need.
Capitol Service, led by TE Chuck Garriott, is a ministry to people working in the state capitols of the United States and Washington, DC. Capitol Service seeks to expose those in the government community to the transforming truths of the Gospel, using a non-political and non-partisan approach.

Mercy Ministries, led by Fred Marsh, serves to encourage and equip PCA churches and members to become involved with ministry to people who not only need the Gospel but who face circumstances of tangible need or difficulty. The annual Thanksgiving Offering, given by PCA churches and individual members, provides a key funding source for leadership training. MNA also coordinates leadership training and internship opportunities among churches who serve communities of need and works with CEP and others to present conferences on mercy ministry and community development.

Bethany Christian Services: Beginning with the 11th General Assembly in 1983, the PCA has endorsed Bethany Christian Services upon MNA’s annual review and recommendation. We note with gratitude the services of Bethany to thousands of Christian families throughout its many years of service, and commend Bethany to the PCA for continued involvement and support. Their report is found as Attachment 4.

Chaplain Ministries

“How are they to call on Him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in Him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without someone preaching?” Romans 10:14

The work and service of MNA Chaplain Ministries continues to be blessed by the Lord. We hear of many who have come to a saving faith in Jesus through this ministry, and both Christian military personnel and civilians are pastored by chaplains all over the world, many in settings where they would not be hearing the Gospel were it not for chaplains. Chaplains go where people are who, in many cases, cannot or would not attend a local church. Chaplain Ministries is an outreach ministry of local PCA churches, presbyteries, and individuals. It is a great value, since the government or a civilian institution pays the salaries of most chaplains. Funds are needed to recruit, train, encourage, and support these missionaries to military personnel and others ministering in institutional settings.

As of 1 January 2006, the PCA endorses and sends (See the complete roster, Attachment 3):

- Chaplain Candidates in Seminaries: Air Force 6; Army 21; Navy 1.

Total Civilian Chaplains 44: Civilian Hospital 15; VA Administration 4; Retirement Facilities 7; Hospice 1; College Campus 1; Civilian Air Patrol 5; Prison 4; Community 3; Fire Dept. 1; Merchant Marine 1; Police 1; American Legion 1.

MNA Chaplain Ministries Requests Prayer Regarding Recent Challenges to Evangelicals in the Military. Late in 2005, the Air Force issued "Interim Guidance for the Free Exercise of Religion," resulting from recent findings at the Air Force Academy by Yale Divinity School. A former graduate of the USAF Academy, Mickey Weinstein, filed a law suit against the Air Force to stop alleged proselytizing and evangelizing. In response to the law suit, the Air Force withdrew the Covenant and Code of Ethics for Air Force Chaplains that states: "I will not proselytize from other religious bodies, but I retain the right to evangelize those who are non affiliated." The Chief of Air Force Chaplains, MGEN Charlie Baldwin, invited religious bodies who endorse Air Force chaplains to reply to the "Interim Guidance." The + on Chaplains and Military Personnel (PRJC) responded to this on 27 Oct 2005 with a lengthy document that included historical precedent and principles, theological principles, conclusions, and finally three recommendations. It also included specific responses to the Air Force document by both our Air Force chaplains and the PRJC Commission members. The PRJC believed that the "Guidelines" could seriously restrict, even suppress, the historic freedom of speech and the free exercise of religion within the military services. On 9 Feb 2006 the Air Force issued a revised one page document of new guidance on the "Free Exercise of Religion," which left out much of the "political correctness" found in the first lengthy document. At its annual meeting in Feb 2006, the PRJC sent another response to the Air Force, thanking them for the significant improvement but giving seven specific recommendations for re- wording some of the document. You may review these documents on the MNA Chaplain Web site. Please be in prayer in this matter, since it has the potential to impact the future of the military chaplaincy. “They called the apostles in and had them flogged. Then they ordered them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go” (Acts 5:40b).

“We are holding a Testimony & Baptism Service on Thanksgiving Weekend. We've had several new converts who want to be baptized and other growing believers who want to share their witness with the congregation. Our people are aggressively digging into the Word, discipling others, and rejoicing daily in the Lord.” (A recent report from one of our PCA Chaplains while deployed in Iraq)

“The work of a hospital chaplain covers a wide area of ministry because there are so many differing experiences in the lives of those to whom you minister. People find themselves in unfamiliar surroundings and are faced with pain and suffering. It is so gratifying to see how the message of God's Word meets every situation, answering the deepest needs in the minds and hearts of men, women and young people. Pray for a faithful witness to the patients and staff.” (A recent report from one of our PCA Civilian Hospital Chaplains)

MNA Stewardship and Finances

Partnership Share/Askings Giving

In 2005, church Partnership Share giving to MNA increased by 2.5% over 2004. We thank God for this generous support. MNA encourages the churches of the PCA to make giving to all PCA Committees and Agencies a high priority. Because many churches do not contribute at the requested level, MNA senior staff seek designated support for their personal support and programs. Churches have responded generously to these requests, providing significantly greater resources for ministry.

Church Planting Projects and Other Funding:

- All church planters are supported by gifts designated for their particular projects. No administrative transfer fees are taken from project support for any project coordinated by MNA. Every dollar given to an MNA ministry or project is used directly and fully for that ministry or project.

- Non-Anglo ethnic church planters and movement leaders require a special priority for project support, particularly as we seek the Lord for much greater ministry among the people groups of North America. MNA strongly encourages churches to give a high priority to supporting church planters who do not have a background in the PCA and who thus lack a strong personal network through whom to raise support.
• The Timothy Fund for Church Planting Apprentices supplements the support of men who need further training before they begin to lead a church plant. Thus far, over $750,000 has been contributed to this fund, assisting many apprentices. This is a revolving fund; as the apprentice proceeds with his new church plant, the grant money extended to him will be returned to the Timothy Fund by the new church so that the funds are available for future church planter apprentices.

• Estate Design and Endowment Services: MNA recommends the services of the PCA Foundation in assisting individuals in their stewardship. MNA Advise and Consult Funds are managed by the PCA Foundation.

• Five Million Fund for Church Buildings: Providing interest-free loans of up to $80,000, this fund continues to be a helpful source for churches as they put together funding packages for their initial building programs. This is a revolving fund, supported by the payments of churches to whom loans are made, as well as by donations.

Attachment 1

Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel. Philippians 1:27 (ESV)

OUR VISION

That God, by His grace and for His own glory through the cooperative prayers and efforts of PCA churches and presbyteries will ignite a powerful church planting and vitalization movement, a movement that impacts all of North America with Gospel of Jesus Christ and transforms the heart and face of the PCA.

We long to see transformation in North America Through people being saved, lives changed, disciples made, and needs met in the name of Jesus Christ.

As part of this vision we hope that, by God’s grace, the PCA will look significantly different in ten years so that the denomination is:

- More diverse, with many churches planted and many people coming to Christ, from among the various cultural, ethnic, and socio-economic groups of North America.
- A stronger presence in the city centers of North America – no longer primarily a suburban and rural denomination.

Cities and their strategic importance can be defined by the following criteria:

Concentrations of people
Centers of influence
Crossroads of society
Cultural, ethnic, and socio-economic diversity

- Geographically more widespread, with a significant presence throughout all regions of the United States and Canada.
- Composed of a greater number of churches that have been planted and are growing as a result of effective evangelism, and that the ministries of these churches reflect stronger mercy and community engagement, truly becoming salt and light.
- Characterized by greater vitality in all PCA churches – with many churches who have plateaued or declined becoming revitalized, and recognized as “houses of prayer for all nations” (Mark 11:17)
CORE VALUES

- The Gospel of the Kingdom is central to everything we do.
- The Church is God’s instrument to advance the Gospel and extend the Kingdom.
- Church planting and evangelism are foundational to obeying the Great Commission.
- We seek to become a diverse denomination – culturally, ethnically, and socio-economically – as a result of reaching North America with the Gospel.
- We are committed to reaching the city to impact the culture.
- The Great Commission must never be separated from the Great Commandment; the Gospel must be communicated in both word and deed.
- Prayer is essential to discovering the will and pleasure of God for our calling, as well as to appropriating the necessary power to accomplish our work.
- A team ministry, including significant lay involvement, is essential to the fulfillment of our calling and purpose.

OBJECTIVES FOR CHURCH PLANTS

We seek to serve churches and presbyteries in planting churches who:

- Demonstrate biblical faithfulness; are theologically Reformed and covenantal.
- Practice God-centered worship, following the regulative principle.
- Emphasize expository preaching that is Christ-centered and biblically faithful, as well as relevant, practical, and passionate.
- Represent communities of grace.
- Function as houses of prayer.
- Exhibit a missional spirit – embracing the Great Commission and effectively reaching lost people and making disciples.
- Provide ministries of mercy and justice that are engaged with the culture and involved in the community – churches of salt and light (Matthew 5:13-16).
- Embody indigenous and contextualized leadership.
- Manifest biblical stewardship of time, talent, and treasure invested in the work of the Kingdom.
- Reproduce ministry, especially through church planting.
- Adhere to Presbyterian polity, both in form of government and spirit of connectionalism, characterized by mutual cooperation and accountability.

For I am not ashamed of the Gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. Romans 1:16 (ESV)

2005 CHURCH PLANTERS PLACED ON THE FIELD

Compiled by MNA staff through contact with the presbyteries, this list attempts to identify every church planter placed on the field to begin a new work during 2005. In listing these mission churches, MNA intends no implication necessarily of MNA’s direct involvement with the mission church. Some of the listed mission churches were developed through extensive MNA participation; others were established solely by presbyteries or sponsoring churches.

The first verse of Psalm 24 instructs us that, “The earth is the Lord’s as is everything in it; the world and all who live within.”

Implicit in the message is that the Lord expects us to honor His creation, to tend and to care for it.

Unfortunately, even those of us who are his children do an imperfect job of caring for creation. We make mistakes. We violate creation. We contaminate our bodies and we compromise relationships.

The sin of abortion violates creation. So, too, does the neglect and abuse of children. Conflictual relationships with those who are closest to us are an affront to His command that we love others as we love ourselves.

But, then our Lord issues a challenge, particularly to Christians. He issues the challenge and gives us the opportunity to “fix” damage that has been done by sin.

Particularly when it comes to caring for and ministering to human beings, the highlight of His creation, He challenges us.

Deuteronomy 14:28 & 29 states: “At the end of every three years, bring all the tithes of that years produce and store it in your towns so that the Levites (who have no allotment or inheritance of their own) and the aliens, the fatherless and the widows who live in your towns may come and eat and be satisfied so that the Lord your God may bless you and all the work of your hands.”

Matthew 19:14 says: “Suffer the little children and forbid them not to come to me.”

James 1:27 says: “Religion that God our father accepts as pure and faultless is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself from being polluted by the world.”

These verses embody the purpose of Bethany’s ministry: to fulfill the expectation of our Savior that we minister to a broken world with a special focus on protecting the lives of children waiting to be born; protecting the lives of children already born from abusive relationships; creating God-ordained families for children through adoption; and restoring wholeness to families broken through conflict.

In 2005, Bethany ministered to over 45,000 children, young people and families around the world. We ministered from 73 offices throughout the United States. We cared for children in Asia, Europe, South and Central America. With Bethany’s help:
• Nearly 1,800 children joined their families through adoption.
• 2,162 young people were guided through the pain of an unplanned pregnancy.
• 1,953 children whose lives were at risk received protection at Bethany.

Bethany has been given the privilege of ministering as Christ’s ambassador and as representatives of the larger Christian body. I Corinthians 4:2 states, “Now it is required that those who have been given a trust must prove faithful.” Unfortunately, we don’t always minister correctly. However, our goal, with your partnership, is to always minister faithfully.

Christians around the world joined Bethany in ministry once again in 2005. The Presbyterian Church in America, as a denomination, as congregations, and as individual members partnered with us in reaching out with Christ’s healing love within a broken world.

You volunteered your time (volunteers gave 28,871 hours of service to Bethany in 2005). You served as foster parents (1,035 foster families cared for 1,953 children in 2005). You served on Bethany boards of directors. You offered countless prayers. And you gave of your financial resources. We gratefully acknowledge with you that $1,250,000 in gifts were given by individuals or congregations associated with the Presbyterian Church in America in 2005.

The end of 2005 marked the end of 36 years of ministry at Bethany for Glenn De Mots (15 years as president). We praise God for the guidance Glenn provided through a time of unprecedented growth. We praise Him, too, for the witness Glenn gave to countless lives who were served by Bethany’s ministry.

Bill Blacquiere has assumed responsibility as Bethany’s president. Bill has served in multiple capacities at Bethany for the past 19 years. His commitment to children and families, his Christian values, and his vision for ministry embody what Bethany is all about.

Bethany’s ministry fixes imperfections within the perfect creation our Lord created . . . imperfections due to sin. The unfortunate reality is that we will never complete the task until the Lord comes. With that in mind, we expect Bethany’s ministry growth to continue. The unborn need protection. Children who have received the gift of life need our care. Christian families wishing to nurture children will continue to do so through adoption.

Thank you for your endorsement. Thank you for your encouragement. Thank you for your prayers. And, thank you for the contributions of time, talent, and financial resources you invest so that our ministry will touch even more lives for Christ.
APPENDIX I

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MISSION TO THE WORLD
TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

Mission to the World’s strategic plan has emphasized the doctrines of grace as its foundation for the last decade. We do not want our mission efforts to be driven primarily by church-planting strategies or even good missiology, even though both are important. Without the gospel as our compass, we are in danger of becoming like the church in Ephesus (Revelation 3), which seemed to deserve much commendation, but had lost its first love. It is the reason we emphasize both the Reformed faith and a covenantal hermeneutic. We certainly cooperate with others who are of evangelical faith, and we attempt to hold our doctrines with humility and dependence upon God. Nevertheless, we are convinced that it is important not only to call men and women to faith but to call them to faith in a sovereign God who created everything that exists and who is now restoring that creation to its original relationship with its Creator.

At Mission to the World (MTW), we are well aware that we are merely an agency that serves the church and that the ministry belongs only to Christ and His Church, in this case the Presbyterian Church in America. We seek to develop partnerships with local churches, presbyteries, and national partners around the world. The number of PCA churches engaged in global partnerships initiated by MTW has grown significantly in the last several years. The number grew 28 percent in 2005 to a total of 212. In addition, the number of national church planters with whom we partner has more than tripled since 2001, from 143 to 438. We believe that these two measures—the number of PCA partnerships and the number of national church-planting partners—are key indicators for church-planting movement potential.

We seek to mobilize the membership of the Presbyterian Church in America for mission work. Our long-term missionaries now number just under 600, and we have seen steady growth in this category even though the number of North American missionaries in the world has decreased rather significantly over the last 10 years. PCA members are also increasingly interested in participating in short-term missions. We believe that such involvement not only gives the members of the PCA an opportunity to be personally involved in missions, but that these short-term missionaries are able to make a real contribution to God’s kingdom work. In addition, we see short-term ministry as a recruiting tool for new long-term missionaries.

While we have focused on three areas (church planting, church-planting support ministries, and new-site development) our primary focus is church planting. We believe it is clear from Scripture that church planting is God’s plan for building His kingdom. Therefore, we evaluate all our ministries in terms of their relationship to church planting.

We are facilitating the planting of churches in difficult areas such as Sweden, France, and East Germany. We are thankful for missionaries willing to go to such places, knowing that they will encounter opposition and disinterest. Without the patient endurance of missionaries such as these, we would not have the joy—perhaps many years from now—of reaping, as we are now experiencing in Japan, a harvest that reflects generations of missionary endeavor.

We are also ministering in places where the church grows more easily because God has laid a foundation for growth. Ukraine is such a place where the church is growing, even though there is still resistance to the gospel in the former communist country. We are also seeing results in places such as Central and South Asia. Then there are places where God seems to bring real revival. We have seen such results in West Africa, the Philippines, and the tribal areas of Bangladesh. In 2005 we established the goal of 56 new church plants. We were pleased that God enabled us to exceed that goal and realize 62 new church plants through direct involvement and the facilitation of indigenous church planters.

Additionally, we focus on complementary ministries that enhance our church-planting efforts. Our street child ministry continues to grow, and some of the young people have actually graduated from the program. We are looking forward to some of these children becoming productive citizens, as well as leaders in the church. Our campus ministry in partnership with Reformed University Ministries is beginning to target some of the major campuses of the world as primary mission fields. It may be one of the ways we break into some of the more difficult countries such as those in Western Europe. Campus ministry on the mission field, however, is different from campus ministry here in the United States, often beginning before there are any known Christians. Our medical ministry is now facilitating nearly 600 doctors and other medical professionals going out each year all over the world. One of our church planters commented that when a medical team comes to his area they can make more contacts in one week than the church planter can make in an entire year. Our disaster response teams have been active this year in the tsunami disaster assistance, Katrina relief efforts, and in the mountainous area of Pakistan following the devastating earthquake that occurred there.

Finally, we focus on new works. We are excited about new ministries that are developing, such as the one in Vietnam. Efforts that began two years ago with humanitarian assistance have led to an invitation by communist governors for MTW to plant two churches. We have no idea how this will progress, but God’s hand seems to be evident.

It is a great privilege for all of us at MTW to serve Christ and the PCA.

2005 GLOBAL MINISTRY HIGHLIGHTS

ASIA/PACIFIC

Vietnam – MTW has opened a new work with a small sister denomination in Vietnam to help them in the development of new churches, an opportunity that resulted from humanitarian work this denomination has done. Because of that significant help, several government officials have indicated to MTW that we have their permission to start new churches. Taking them at their word, our missionaries have been conducting training sessions for house church leaders. Some have finished that training now and have started new congregations.

New seminary in Japan – There is a great dearth of pastors for churches in Japan. For the last several years, only about one student per year has graduated from the seminary in Tokyo and become a pastor in the Presbyterian Church in Japan (PCJ). Many more pastors are needed. Therefore, in the last year the MTW team in Nagoya has begun a new seminary called Christ Bible Center, which now operates under the leadership of MTW missionary Dr. Michael Oh. This should greatly help the future of church planting as well as the growth of established churches in the PCJ.

Tsunami relief – Following the devastating tsunami on December 26, 2004, more than $2.5 million was channeled to and through MTW for relief for the victims. This work will continue for another year or more. Focus has been largely on Sri Lanka, South India, Thailand, and Indonesia. Short-term disaster relief, medical and construction teams have been sent through MTW. More than 1000 new homes will be built by the end of this project. And schools, a hospital, an elderly care center, nursery schools, and other facilities have also been rebuilt. In the places where we are doing tsunami relief, every effort has been made to ensure ongoing spiritual care for the local people.
LATIN AMERICA

Colombian Tribal Church – In 2005 the first believers in this area were baptized, and the beginnings of a new church emerged among the Chimila Indians, an indigenous group displaced by guerilla activity to Santa Marta, on the northern coast of Colombia. Contributing to this development, missionaries with Wycliffe Bible Translators had invested more than 20 years of work with the Chimila while they were still in the interior. Santa Marta is the site of a growing Reformed church involving MTW personnel for the last four years. Their unique ministry to displaced children in the region connected them with this group. The Lord has opened hearts in the tribe and a core group anticipates the formation of the first Chimila church.

Living in Grace in Brazil – Living in Grace (LiG) is gaining momentum throughout Latin America, especially in Brazil. In a region plagued by legalism and theological confusion, the Lord has opened doors for the equipping of many national leaders through MTW’s Living in Grace (LiG) program. New invitations constantly arrive, from both Reformed congregations and from a mix of church leaders of different backgrounds who desire to learn more of the theology of grace. A recent invitation came from leaders in Brazil, a country which has experienced a significant Reformed and covenantal church-planting movement. These leaders have asked for a more intentional and sustained season of training in LiG which will ultimately touch thousands of lives.

Guadalajara Church Expansion – Seven new core groups for church plants have opened in the greater Guadalajara area in Mexico. These efforts are important to the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico in that they represent new congregations with diverse styles of leadership and worship. They are also all indigenously led and are located in a city which has one of the smallest per capita percentages of evangelical Christians in all of the Americas.

EUROPE

Theological Education and Biblical Training – MTW teams are increasingly involved in theological education across Europe. Efforts include a new seminary in Berlin; continued relationships with existing seminaries in France, Latvia, and Ukraine; the formation of a theological education resourcing team created especially for this purpose; and the publication of key theological works. The advance of church-planting movements depends upon the training of national leaders.
Europe International Forum – Plans were finalized in 2005 for this forum, which will take place in March 2006. MTW Europe Leadership will assemble with Europe national leadership in their first effort to collaborate on advancing church-planting movements. About 50 attendees will be present from both Western and Eastern Europe, participating in forums designed to integrate our various perspectives. MTW-Europe's vision is to see a footprint for a Reformed and covenantal church-planting movement in every country and major metropolitan city of Europe in 25 years.

Roma Gypsy Evangelism – Roma Gypsies live in countries all over Europe. Currently there are two outreach efforts in Bulgaria and Slovakia. In Bulgaria, a small congregation has emerged, and efforts are underway to expand the physical plant for additional ministry. In Slovakia, funds are in place to initiate a new ministry.

SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

Theological Training Initiative – There is a great need for deepening theological understanding for pastors and church planters in Africa. In July 2005, all of our theological educators based in Sub-Saharan Africa met together to develop a strategy for improving teaching, enhancing delivery methods, and expanding theological education to the region. We are collaborating on a curriculum that would serve the entire region. In addition, we are investigating learning styles in order to more effectively match instruction methods to indigenous approaches to learning.

Innovative AIDS Program – Our team in Ethiopia has initiated a new program to meet the needs of children with HIV/AIDS by providing antiretroviral medication for children. The program includes small groups for training, accountability, and support. Most of these children and their mothers have been abandoned by their families. The World Health Organization (WHO) and Yale University are studying this program because they are intrigued by the methods and results of this faith-based program.

Bible Institute Turnaround – The Bible Institute of South Africa (BISA) was turned over to South African leadership in 2005 after being reinvigorated through MTW missionary leadership and involvement for the last few years. MTW will continue to be involved in the school, but the leadership will be South African. MTW missionaries have also grown BISA’s distance education program to the point that it now trains more students than the main campus instruction. It has been exciting to see South Africans finally adopt it as their program.
ENTERPRISE FOR CHRISTIAN-MUSLIM RELATIONS

South Asia – Two years ago, Enterprise began working with a Muslim background believer who was reaching Muslims for Christ and working to develop a church-planting movement in one of the most populous Islamic countries in the world. In just one year, this movement has grown from nine to 15 congregations. A training center for pastors was inaugurated in 2005 with 20 students enrolled, and significant evangelistic and theological materials are being developed. The foundation for a significant movement of Christ is being laid, though prayers are needed as the nationals are anticipating greater persecution and oppression.

West Africa – The Enterprise team continues to work on developing a regional hub based in Senegal, with the expansion of the seminary program to surrounding nations around West Africa. Church planters from Senegal, Ivory Coast, Togo, Benin, Ghana, Guinea, and at least three other countries will receive training to reach African Muslims and form new congregations. West Africa continues to be one of the most fruitful regions in the Muslim world.

Europe – Muslim assimilation in Europe has received increasing media attention in the last year, but the underlying issues have been building for decades. Only the gospel of Jesus Christ has the power to break down these walls of separation. To this end, Enterprise is encouraged by our partnership with a Turkish pastor from a Muslim background who is leading a fellowship of Turks in Central Europe. We are also working to develop a seminary and church-planting training to develop future pastors.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the month of October, 2006, be set aside as a month of prayer for global missions, asking God to send many more laborers into His harvest field;
2. That the General Assembly urge churches to set aside a portion of their giving for the suffering peoples of the world; to that end, be it recommended that a special offering for relief and mercy (Compassion Ministry) be taken during 2007 to be distributed by MTW;
3. That the General Assembly set aside Sunday, November 12, 2006, as a day of prayer and fasting for the persecuted church worldwide;
4. That Dr. Paul D. Kooistra be re-elected as Coordinator of MTW; having performed his annual evaluation and with gratitude to God, CMTW commends Dr. Kooistra for the excellent leadership he has provided to MTW;
5. That the proposed budget of MTW, as presented through the Administrative Committee, be approved;
6. That the minutes of the meeting of March 9-11, 2005, be accepted; and
7. That the minutes of the meeting of September 28-30, 2005, be accepted.
Respectfully submitted,

RE L. B. Austin III, Chairman
Committee on Mission to the World

The Chairman welcomed the Committee, and introductions were made. Guests included TE L. Roy Taylor and Ms. Kristin Zeller. The Committee sang “Praise to the Lord, the Almighty,” and TE Burkhalter presented a devotional on Ephesians 2:11-22. A season of prayer followed.

Necessary editorial corrections to the “Rainbow Book” were presented to the committee.

The Committee acted on late or irregular submissions as follows:

(1) M/C to accept three nominations previously excluded from the “Rainbow Book” because the stated clerk of the nominating presbytery had failed to file a form summarizing the presbytery’s nominations.

(2) M/C to not accept six late or incomplete submissions.

Committee members were given an opportunity to review their initial ballots and make any desired changes in light of the corrections to the “Rainbow Book” and the irregular submissions approved by the committee. The initial ballots were then submitted to and received by the Committee.

Subcommittee assignments were made, and the main meeting was divided into subcommittees to tabulate the initial ballots and bring recommendations for nominations for the various permanent Committees, Agencies, and Commission to the Committee as a whole.

The Nominating Committee reconvened as a Committee of the whole at 11:25 a.m.

Reports of the subcommittees were received and discussed, and the Committee developed a slate of nominees to be presented to the General Assembly. It was moved, seconded and carried that the report of the Committee for a slate of ballots be approved as a whole.

The Committee commended the Stated Clerk’s Office, and Ms. Zeller, for excellent work.
The Chairman asked for feedback on the trial run of electronic ballots.

MSC to form a subcommittee to improve the electronic ballot. The subcommittee would be the current Chairman, the Chairman-Elect, and the Secretary-Elect, and RE Lytle. The subcommittee will report back at the June meeting.

MSC to list both name and presbytery of nominees in the voting section of GA report and future versions of the initial ballot for Nominating Committee members.

Nominations were entertained for Chairman and Secretary of the 2007 GA Nominating Committee. RE Brad Bradley from North Texas was elected as Chairman and TE Danny Shuffield was elected Secretary. The Chairman announced that the 2006 Committee will meet during the 2006 General Assembly at 5 p.m. on Wednesday at a place to be announced by the Chairman. The 2007 GA Nominating Committee is scheduled to meet on March 24, 2007.

The Chairman asked for volunteers to help compile the biographical data that is to accompany the Nominating Committee report to the General Assembly. A show of hands indicated sufficient help.

MSC that the executive committee (chairman and chairman-elect) bring recommendations to the called meeting at the 34th GA this summer about how to improve the nominee bio forms so that candidates will more clearly state why they wish to serve.

The Committee thanked Chairman Burkhalter for his leadership and service.

It was moved, seconded, and carried that this meeting of the 2006 GA Nominating Committee be adjourned. The meeting was adjourned with the singing of “Come Christians Join to Sing” and a benediction by TE Howie Burkhalter at 1:40 p.m.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/ Howie Burkhalter, Chairman  /s/ Brad Bradley, Secretary

The PCA Foundation is pleased to report that, by God’s grace, the PCA Foundation’s ministry thrived during 2005. We are pleased and excited to see how the Lord continues to bless work of the PCA Foundation.

Total gifts to the PCA Foundation during 2005 were $11.5 million, the highest amount ever achieved in one year. Also, total PCA Foundation assets reached $40.1 million as of December 31, 2005, a new record.

The PCA Foundation distributed, or granted to ministry, $6.1 million during 2005. Distributions to PCA churches were $2.9 million, distributions to PCA Committees and Agencies were $1.1 million, and distributions to other Christian ministries were $2.1 million.

We continue to look for opportunities to work with PCA churches and their members, and are desirous of helping individuals and their families fulfill their stewardship responsibilities and carry out their charitable desires.

The 2005 distributions (grants) to ministry by the PCA Foundation were as follows:

Total                                          | $6,102,000
As mentioned, the PCA Foundation’s total assets reached $40.1 million by the end of 2005. It is important to note that, while growth in total assets is desirable, it does not tell the whole story about what the Foundation does and accomplishes in its ministry. Much of what we do results in gifts coming into the Foundation and going right back out as distributions to ministries within a relatively short period of time — often within the same or the following year. Therefore, the PCA Foundation may realize significant amounts as both gifts and distributions in a given year, yet it may not experience a substantial change in total assets.

Throughout 2005, the PCA Foundation continued to market the Designated Funds for churches, presbyteries, and other ministries. We believe that they will be used by more churches, presbyteries, and ministries as the value and benefits of this service become known to them. By setting up a Designated Fund with the Foundation, a church, presbytery or ministry specifies the intended use of the Fund and controls distributions from it. The PCA Foundation invests and administers the Fund, and can accept various types of gifts to it, such as stocks, mutual funds, land, etc.

The PCA Foundation plans to continue intentional marketing to and servicing of individuals and families, churches, presbyteries, and ministries, as well as provide services to PCA Committees and Agencies whenever possible.

The PCA Foundation is self-supported. It does not participate in the PCA’s Partnership Shares Program, nor does it rely on the financial support of churches to help underwrite its operating budget. Rather, its operations are funded primarily by fees and earnings on accounts, and by some charitable contributions from a small number of individuals and families, including current and former PCA Foundation Board Members.

Because the main focus of the PCA Foundation is not on raising funds for its own operations, or for any other particular ministry, it has a unique opportunity and niche within the PCA. Our ministry is providing services and financial vehicles to help Christians carry out their stewardship responsibilities and charitable desires, as well as offering services and financial vehicles to churches, presbyteries and other ministries. The PCA Foundation is “donor driven,” which means that we work on the donor’s agenda, not our own. We provide charitable services to individuals without pressuring them to give to the PCA Foundation for its own operations, or to any other particular ministry. The result is that more funding is available for Kingdom building.

The PCA Foundation will continue to strive to effectively meet the needs of its present and future donors, as well as the PCA: its churches, presbyteries, Committees, and Agencies. By God’s grace, the PCA Foundation will be able to do so.
We ask that you continue to pray for the Board and Staff of the Foundation as they seek to continue leading the PCA Foundation successfully into the future.

Recommendations:

1. That the financial audit for the PCA Foundation, Inc., for the calendar year ended December 31, 2005, by Capin Crouse, LLP be received.
2. That the General Assembly approve the proposed 2007 Budget of the PCA Foundation, Inc.
3. That the Minutes of Board meetings of March 3, 2006 and August 5, 2005 be approved.

Respectfully Submitted,
Randel N. Stair, President

APPENDIX L

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF PCA RETIREMENT & BENEFITS, INC.
TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Statement of Purpose

The purpose of the Board of Directors of PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc., is to glorify God through serving His servants who minister in the Church by offering financial products to provide for the health and welfare, retirement and relief needs of the denomination’s ministers, missionaries, lay church workers, and their families, and to serve the churches, Committees and Agencies of the PCA, and related organizations by sponsoring and endorsing a denominational property and liability insurance program.

We are pleased to present the 2005 Annual Report on behalf of the Board of Directors and staff of PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc.

Summary

The Lord continued to bless the plans and services of PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc., in 2005. This past year saw increased participation in the benefit plans, the introduction of a number of plan enhancements and the mid-year launching of the Life Planning initiative.

Despite the enormous costs of the hurricanes and the war in Iraq, the economy and the stock market finished the year relatively flat. Dow Jones Industrial Average was down -0.6% for the year. The S&P 500 reached a four-year high in November, but was bid downward with investor concerns over the inverted Treasury bond yield curve. The index ended the year with a 3% gain, while the NASDAQ gained 1.4% for the year. The economy in 2006 will be influenced by rising fuel costs, peaking interest rates, and a declining housing market. As always, investment diversification is strongly recommended in order to hedge against downward trends in various sectors.

PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc., experienced dramatic growth in 2005. Total assets under management grew to $266 million, from $241 million in 2004. While some of this growth can be attributed to the market’s performance, this represents only a portion of the full picture. Marketing efforts resulted in growth in every benefit plan offered by RBI. Participation in the PCA Retirement Plan, PCA Long Term Disability Plan and the PCA Life Insurance Plans grew throughout 2005. Rates of growth ranged from 5.3% for the disability plan, to 5.4% for the life insurance plans, to 7.9% for the retirement plan. The PCA Ministerial Relief Fund also grew in net assets, number of recipients, and in the dollar amount of awards.

It is with great enthusiasm that we report the 2005 introduction of Life Planning. Life Planning is a dynamic educational process through which RBI assists retirement plan participants in the determination, implementation, and realization of financial goals. Offered initially to a number of targeted participants, RBI has expanded the service to an increasingly larger number of participants throughout the year.

Summary highlights for the year of 2005 are as follows:

- Hired Christopher C. Stevens as Retirement Plan Coordinator
- Hired Harry S. Cooksey as Senior Field Coordinator
- Developed and introduced Life Planning
- Consolidated PCA Retirement Plan recordkeeping and remittance operations to Omega Recordkeeping Group
- Transitioned insurance billing administration to Group Resources
- Basic Life premiums were waived for retirees
- Experienced a positive return for the year in each of the 11 investment options offered in the PCA Retirement Plan

Benefit Plans

Retirement Plan

The PCA Retirement Plan provides tax-sheltered investment funds that enable participants to prepare financially for retirement. For the year, total enrollment, which includes retirees, surviving spouses, and those with frozen accounts, grew to 5,678 participants. Retirement plan net assets at the end of the year grew to $260.8 million compared to $233.7 million for year-end 2004.

All funds had a positive return for the year. Equities again outperformed bonds. The Large Cap Growth Fund was the highest performing fund of the PCA Retirement Plan with 15%, followed by the Foreign Fund at 10.1% and the Value Fund at 9.9%.
PCA Health Plan

As was communicated last year, the PCA Health Plan ceased operation in 2005 after offering coverage for over 30 years. RBI managed the closure of the plan by ensuring that benefits were paid as provided within the terms of the contract, by managing the transition of hundreds of participants to other plans, and by ensuring that no one person or group went without coverage. While RBI would certainly have preferred to continue offering the Plan, we are pleased that all participants found replacement coverage.

PCA Long Term Disability Plan

Statistically speaking, a person is as likely to be disabled for six months or more as they are to die prematurely. PCA churches have increasingly purchased long term disability insurance for their ordained and lay church workers. This has resulted in continued growth in our PCA Long Term Disability Plan. At the end of 2005 the total enrollment in the Plan was 2,346 participants. RBI is pleased that rates and plan provisions remained unchanged for 2005.

PCA Life Insurance Plans

In the event of a tragedy, life insurance proceeds can help pay bills, finance future needs such as a child’s education, protect spousal retirement plans, and much more. Assisting in this enterprise, RBI has partnered with MetLife to offer a cost-effective means of protecting employees from the financial hardships of losing a loved one. While the life insurance plans have maintained the same low rates into and throughout 2005, RBI was able to negotiate both increased basic life death benefits for a number of certificate holders and an increased guarantee-issue amount on the optional and dependent life insurance plans to the lesser of $100,000 or three times annual salary.

Additionally, the PCA Basic Life Plan’s eligibility was modified to enable those enrolled to retain it with the caveat of participation in other group insurance products. We are also pleased to report that, beginning in August, the RBI Board of Directors voted to waive the premiums of all retirees who had been enrolled in the Plan as of January 1, 2005. While the Plan was grandfathered and is no longer available for new participation, RBI will work with MetLife to keep it available for existing participants.
Ministerial Relief

During 2005, nine PCA pastors, four wives of active PCA pastors, and three widows went to be with the Lord. Debby Brown, Relief Representative, continued a ministry of encouragement to the growing number of widows through telephone relationships, cards and letters, personal visits, and offers of financial assistance through the Ministerial Relief Fund.

The 2004-2005 Christmas Offering of over $412,000, plus other giving to Ministerial Relief of $55,000, provided primary funding for Relief activities. Monthly or short-term supplemental income assistance was provided to those retired pastors, disabled pastors, pastors without call, missionaries, church lay workers, their widows (by death or abandonment/divorce), and dependent children who qualified according to need under guidelines established by the Relief Committee of the RBI Board of Directors.

In addition to providing Christmas Offering bulletin inserts for our churches, we designed and distributed a sample script to use in promoting gifts to the Ministerial Relief Fund. The insert and Relief assistance applications are available on our Web site at www.pcarbi.org.

The recipients of Ministerial Relief and the staff of RBI are grateful for the many churches and individuals who demonstrated their love for our Savior by giving to "the least of these" through the Ministerial Relief Fund.

Legislative Changes

In November of 2006, both the Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service issued indexed limits for the maximum contribution levels for both Health Savings Accounts (“HSA”) and the maximum out-of-pocket spending limits for High Deductible Health Plans (“HDHP”). The latter must be used in conjunction with a HSA to qualify for benefits. Listed below are the new levels.

2006 HSA contribution levels
- Maximum contribution for individual is $2,700
- Maximum contribution for family is $5,450
- Maximum catch-up contribution (55 and older) is $700

2006 Out-of-pocket Spending on HDHP
- Maximum out-of-pocket for individuals is $5,250
- Maximum contribution for family is $10,500
2006 Minimum Deductible Amounts for HDHP
- Minimum deductible for individual is $1,050
- Minimum deductible for family is $2,100

Key retirement plan contribution limits for 2006 were also indexed. The list below references maximum amounts for elective deferrals (employee contributions), defined contributions (employee and employer contributions), and catch-up contributions (employee contributions for participants who are 50 and older).

2006 Contribution Limits
- 403(b) Elective Deferral Maximum is $15,000
- 415(c) Defined Contribution Annual Maximum is $44,000
- 414(v) Catch-up Contribution Limit is $5,000

The Economic Growth and Tax Relief Act of 2001 authorized Plan sponsors to establish Roth 401(k) and 403(b) accounts beginning January 1, 2006. Consequently, in November of last year, RBI’s Board of Directors voted to implement Roth 403(b) accounts for PCA Retirement Plan participants as soon as administratively feasible. While the new accounts within the PCA Retirement Plan will be of benefit to a number of participants (especially missionaries and younger employees), RBI encourages each participant to analyze his own tax position individually prior to making the Roth / non-Roth decision. Additional considerations include the fact that the new accounts do not increase the previously noted contribution limits, nor do they eliminate or replace the non-Roth, tax-deferred accounts that will still be maintained by RBI.

Staff

RBI’s current staff members are as follows:

- Teresa D. Aiello, Accountant
- Deborah B. Brown, Relief Representative
- Harry S. Cooksey, Senior Field Coordinator
- Myra J. Davis, Service Representative
- Sally Kaplan, Executive Assistant
- William G. Kuh, President
- Chester R. Lilly III, Business Manager
- Mark S. Melendez, Marketing Manager
- Sybil P. Pullen, Accounting Asst./Service Representative
- Christopher C. Stevens, Retirement Plan Coordinator
Recommendations

1. That the General Assembly approve the minutes of the board meetings dated August 12, 2005, November 4, 2005, and March 3, 2006;
2. That the General Assembly approve the use of Capin Crouse LLP to conduct the 2006 audit;
3. That the General Assembly receive the 2005 audit report dated April 13, 2006 by Capin Crouse LLP;
4. That the General Assembly receive the 2007 budget with the understanding that it is a spending plan and will be adjusted as necessary by the Board of Directors to accommodate changing circumstances during the year;
5. That the General Assembly approve the twenty-sixth amendment to the Presbyterian Church in America’s Tax-Sheltered Annuity Plan, relating to the adoption of the Katrina Emergency Tax Relief Act;
6. That the General Assembly approve the 2007 Trustee Fee Agreements for the Tax-Sheltered Annuity Trust and the Health & Welfare Benefits Trust;
7. That the General Assembly urge member churches to participate in the annual Christmas Offering or to budget regular benevolence giving to support relief activities through the Ministerial Relief Fund;
8. And, that the General Assembly advocate participation in the benefit plans of PCA Retirement & Benefits, Inc.

It is our privilege to serve those who minister in the Presbyterian Church in America.

APPENDIX M

REPORT OF REFORMED UNIVERSITY MINISTRIES
TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

Reformed University Ministries has a goal of building the church now and for the future by “reaching students for Christ and equipping students to serve.” This speaks eloquently of our commitment to our covenant children and our obedience to the Great Commission. College years are a time of great opportunity for reaching students with the Gospel. Many testify in later life that their college years were the time when they seriously considered God’s truth.

Reformed University Fellowship

Reformed University Fellowship (RUF) offers the truth of God’s Word to students who are searching. By working within the context of the church, the Body of Christ, we follow His leadership as He builds His Kingdom on earth. Students are instructed in Evangelism and Missions, Growth in Grace, Fellowship and Service, and a Biblical World-and-Life View. An ordained PCA minister leads each RUF while actively working to accomplish goals in these four major areas. We strengthen the church by ministering to covenant children and by evangelizing the lost on campuses across this nation.

Reformed University Fellowship International

Reformed University Fellowship International (RUFI) is reaching out to “all nations,” sharing the Gospel of Christ and training Christian internationals to serve Him all over the globe. The hundreds of students involved in RUFI are from over 40 different countries in South America, Asia, Europe, Africa, and the Middle East. Some of these countries are restricted or closed, prohibiting missionaries to serve there. Many of the students return to their own countries to build the Church at home. Our five RUFI campus ministers are privileged to introduce internationals to Christ. One of their goals is to help Christian internationals in their struggle to live for Christ in their own cultures.

Reformed University Fellowship Global

Reformed University Fellowship Global (RUFG) is partnering with MTW and other mission agencies to establish RUF groups on campuses around the world.
Campus Interns

Campus interns allow a much broader outreach on the campuses. In this learning and ministering position, young men and women, all recent college graduates, work directly with a campus minister to receive on-the-job-training in evangelism, small group leadership, and one-to-one ministry. A planned program of biblical and theological training accompanies this practical service. After their internship with Reformed University Ministries, interns disperse into the marketplace, carrying to their future vocations and church a deepened understanding of God’s Word and experience in His service. Truly, campus interns and other campus staff are learning to be “an instrument for noble purposes, made holy, useful to the Master and prepared to do any good work” (II Timothy 2:21).

Ministry Distinctive

Weekly large group, small groups, and one-to-one staff/student meetings provide the structure for campus ministry. Each is essential in ministering to college students. In large group meetings the truth is taught by faithful teaching of the Bible and corporate worship. Small groups focus on study, prayer, and fellowship. One-to-one meetings between students and staff members offer in-depth discipling of Christians, evangelistic encounters, and the building of trust-confidence relationships. Each of these three parts supports and strengthens the others. RUF emphasizes the development of a biblical world-and-life view. The true perspective on any situation is God’s perspective, seen through the lens of Scripture. As students learn to think biblically they will make a lasting difference in the Church and the world. One of the most distinctive things about the ministry of RUF is its connection to the Church. College students learn to love the Church and develop a lifelong commitment to involvement with God’s people. RUF provides a bridge for students, keeping them connected to the church as they make the transitions from home to college, and from college to work and family life.

Conferences

Summer Conference 2005 provided solid Bible exposition, equipping students to better understand and live the Christian life and to reach others for Christ. The students enjoyed fellowship and fun in beautiful surroundings with Christians from over 90 college and university campuses. The twenty-fifth Summer Conference addressed the topic of Scripture. The conference was held May 9-14 and May 16-21, 2005 with over 1,000 students and staff attending. Our speaker for week one was the Reverend Stuart Latimer, Associate Pastor of Covenant Presbyterian Church in Nashville, Tennessee. and former RUF Campus Minister at Vanderbilt University. Our speaker for the second week was the Reverend Glenn Hoburg, senior pastor of Grace Presbyterian Church in Washington, DC, and former RUF Campus Minister at Harvard University.

The 2006 conference, which will address the topic of Justification, will be held May 8-13 and May 15-20 at Laguna Beach Christian Retreat, in Laguna Beach, Florida. Our speaker for week one will be the Reverend John Stone, Assistant Coordinator for Reformed University Ministries and former RUF Campus Minister at the University of Tennessee. Our speaker for the second week will be the Reverend Brian Habig, Senior Pastor of Downtown Presbyterian Church in Greenville, SC, and former RUF Campus Minister at Mississippi State University and Vanderbilt University.

Conferences provide activities and a relaxing atmosphere as well as a concentrated time for biblical teaching that is new to many students. This teaching is done through elective workshops that the student may choose (two per day), small group study, prayer, and large group teaching each evening. It is a great place for students to gather at the end of a school year for clear exposition of God’s Word, for prayer and discussion, and for fellowship with students from RUF groups across the United States. In addition to Summer Conference, regional Fall, Winter, and Spring conferences are held throughout the year.

Staff Training

In 2005, there were five full weeks of training for the field staff plus orientation trainings for new interns and new campus ministers. This in-depth training is a distinctive of the ministry and provides philosophical, practical, and reflective instruction to RUF campus ministers, interns, and staff.

Foundations of Campus Ministry Conference

Foundations of Campus Ministry Conference is a “crash course” in RUF’s philosophy of ministry for those interested in learning how Reformed University Ministries does its work, whether church staff, missionary, or lay person. The Conference was held in August 2005 at Covenant Theological Seminary, in St. Louis, Missouri. This year the conference will be held August 7-10, 2006, at Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This conference serves as an assessment for Prospective Campus Ministries and is required for anyone wanting to work for RUF as a Campus Minister.
Growth
The year 2005 was a year of growth as RUM partnered with presbyteries to start eight new campus ministries. The new ministries are: Birmingham Southern College; University of Alabama, Birmingham; University of Alberta, Edmonton; University of Northern Colorado; Northwestern University; Autonomous University of Mexico; Duke University; and Coastal Carolina University. This growth placed 101 RUF ministries on 97 campuses nationwide, with a hope of reaching 109 total campuses in 2007. Also, we had a total of 71 interns in 2005 and 80 are expected in 2006. Reformed University Ministries continues to grow with at least eight new ministries scheduled for 2006.

RUF’S Vision for the Church
Currently over fifty former RUF Campus Ministers are serving our church as church planters, pastors, associate pastors, assistant pastors, and denominational staff. Thousands of RUF Alumni are serving in the church, enforcing the fact that RUF is not just about perpetuating campus ministry but about enriching the Church.

Conclusion
What is the reason for this growth and excitement? God is at work! One campus minister told us, “God’s Word is alive and active. The Gospel is powerful. That is why RUF is growing . . . we seek to be faithful to God’s Word and to biblically minister to students.”

We are engaging the culture and carrying out the kingdom priorities of the Church. We are actively seeking to assist presbyteries in beginning RUF on multi-ethnic and historically African-American campuses. Through our internship program and reaching out to minority leadership training in our seminaries, we seek to develop diverse leadership on all of our campuses. We are developing an RUF Fellows Program to equip Campus Ministers to engage the academy and bring the Gospel to the university culture clearly and with relevance. We are able to bring much-needed assistance to new RUF ministries in presbyteries in the United States and Canada where the denomination is small and growing, such as the West, Midwest, Northeast, and Western Canada. Our growing partnership with MTW will extend the growth of the ministry of the church to university campuses in countries around the world.

God brings together students and ministers from many different walks of life to accomplish His purposes. Each person that is touched by Reformed University Ministries will in turn touch many other people in the course of his or her life. The Church is strengthened as students learn to love and seek out the Church, and are trained to serve as future church leaders, such as core group members for church plants and elders. God is at work! How glorious!

Attachment 1
Reformed University Ministries

The Committee on Reformed University Ministries provides support services to presbyteries whose campus ministries are affiliated with Reformed University Ministries. The presbyteries receiving services make a contribution toward their cost. Presbyteries and their affiliated committees are completely responsible for the funding of ministries within their area and for determining the budget for such ministries. Reformed University Ministries receives and disburses funds only as directed by the presbyteries and their affiliated committees.

From January 1, 2005, to December 31, 2005, Reformed University Ministries received $8,096,729 and disbursed $7,865,695 as directed by presbyteries and their affiliated committees. The funds are received for particular ministries, which are the responsibility of a presbytery as noted below. The responsible body receives an audit report of its funds. The following list gives the presbyteries and their affiliated committees, campus staff, and location of ministries receiving support services through Reformed University Ministries, and other ministries and staff affiliated with Reformed University Ministries.

REPORT OF RIDGE HAVEN
TO THE THIRTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

Introduction

The chosen format for making this year’s report is a question-answer format. This format has been selected for the purpose of presenting the most important information in the briefest, most direct way possible. The questions are those that have been asked most often or implied in conversations with those wanting to know about Ridge Haven. The answers are also intentionally brief and direct. The answers are not intended to express everything that can be said. For more comprehensive answers and information, please contact Ridge Haven. Additional questions stimulated by what is provided in this report are welcome and should also be directed to Ridge Haven.

Q: What is Ridge Haven?

A: Ridge Haven is the Camps, Conference, and Retreat Center of the Presbyterian Church in America. In addition to the ministries and activities associated with the Center, Ridge Haven provides three residential subdivisions with available lot leases. Ridge Haven is a 501c3 Corporation chartered in North Carolina, owned and operated by the PCA. Our purpose states: Ridge Haven exists as camps, conference, retreat center, and residential community to proclaim the gospel to the lost, nurture God’s people in the truth of God’s word, and provide a place of rest, refuge, and renewal so that God is glorified and God’s people are challenged and equipped for service and ministry in His kingdom. Ridge Haven is committed to our PCA Standards and Faithful to the Scriptures, True to the Reformed Faith, and Obedient to the Great Commission of Jesus Christ.

Ridge Haven…

• Was established in 1978 by the action of the General Assembly.
• Includes 902 acres located along the Eastern Continental Divide near Rosman, NC. (Approximately 600 acres has been developed in/for the present facilities and residential area, with 250 acres remaining for new development and use.)
• Serves approximately 1,200 campers, 1,000 conferees, and 5,800 in retreat services for a total of 8,000 people per year.

• Has meeting facilities for approximately 350 and 250; a dining hall; and four motel buildings, six apartments, three dormitories, and two lodges providing accommodations for a total of 450.

• Has high and low ropes courses, climbing tower, tennis courts, trails, basketball pavilion, fishing pond, tent and RV camping, large playing field, two swimming pools, and more.

• Provides summer camps for students grades 3-12, a winter ski camp for students grades 6-12, and six conferences.

Q: How is Ridge Haven important to the mission and ministry of the PCA?

A: Ridge Haven provides several key ministries.

• Ridge Haven is one of only three denominational camp centers existing in the US holding to a Reformed world-and-life view. The five individual PCA churches operating camps committed to and sharing a Reformed world-and-life view operate primarily on a local level.

• Ridge Haven summer camps are a very effective means for evangelizing and discipling the rising generation, both our covenant children and friends.

• Ridge Haven hosts the only family conference presently existing in the PCA.

• Ridge Haven hosts the only denomination-wide Bible conference and missions conference for senior adults existing in the PCA.

• Ridge Haven is the chosen location for the annual MTW Summer Conference, Prime Time, and several other MTW training conferences.

• Ridge Haven is the chosen site for four different PresWIC retreats.

• Ridge Haven is the chosen site for multiple youth, church, couples, men’s, RUF, and Campus Outreach retreats. Ridge Haven is also the chosen site for many family gatherings and family vacations.

Q: Can presbyteries or individual congregations provide camps and conferences just as well as Ridge Haven?

A: Presbyteries and individual congregations can and sometimes do provide camps and conferences. Even when they can “make it happen,” however, times are not necessarily convenient, facilities are not always appropriate or available, prices do not create much of an advantage, qualified staff are difficult or impossible to recruit, the “retreat” environment is completely forfeited, and a spiritually compatible support base is non-existent.

Q: What makes Ridge Haven different from other camps?

A: In addition to the Reformed world-and-life view from which Ridge Haven provides all of its ministries and services, Ridge Haven is differentiated from other camps by its approach to staffing, training, and programming.

Counselors are recruited from across the denomination and screened as to Christian testimony, abilities and experience in working with children, knowledge of and agreement with PCA theological standards, level of spiritual maturity, appropriate personality, and physical ability to interact with campers. Ridge Haven counselor training is one of the best and most thorough in the industry!

Camp programming is never “cookie cutter” but as varied as each camp’s individual speaker, director, and musician. Each Ridge Haven camp provides a life-changing experience of spiritual teaching, worship, fellowship, physical challenges, and God’s creation, all in a context of fun beyond the theme-park environment.

Other differences are defined by the large wilderness area unique to the western North Carolina mountains. There is so much that one week of camp is never enough time to see and do it all, including canoeing, tubing, white-water rafting, horseback riding, mountain biking, camping under the stars, climbing-rappelling, hiking, swimming, rock-hopping, and water-falling, just to start the list.

P.S.: We assume that the difference between a youth conference with shared space at a rented resort and a week at “camp” is also obvious.

Q: Is God using Ridge Haven and if so, how?

A: Most definitely! God is using the ministry of Ridge Haven residents, Board Members, staff, and His word and Spirit to evangelize and disciple campers; challenge teenagers to missions and ministry; refresh, encourage, and challenge senior adults; encourage and equip youth leaders; and provide reconnect-time to hundreds of families.

Q: What is the Ridge Haven Board of Directors and staff doing to strengthen its financial and business management needs and procedures?
A: In response to the recent capital campaign “Feasibility Study Report,” identifying the concerns of present and potential supporters, The Ridge Haven Board and staff have undertaken several changes including . . .

- A balanced budget priority for 2006.
- A commitment to move completely away from a dependence on the denomination’s Partnership Share support for day-to-day operations toward the business principle of charging what it costs to operate (a significant change from the earlier days of the PCA when churches were asked to give as a subsidy, keeping cost to campers, conferees, and others low).
- A redirecting of Partnership Share support toward major improvement projects and scholarship assistance for campers and conferees.
- Becoming more pro-active in securing the needed business and professional Board members who can better assist Ridge Haven in its developing areas.

Q: Why does Ridge Haven charge so much for camps and conferences?

A: The answer to this question is both relative and specific. Compared to other denominational and independent camps, Ridge Haven still costs less than most and is one of the best bargains in the industry! Even so, Ridge Haven is very much aware of the increasing cost for campers, conferees, and other guests. The driving forces for increased costs include changing customer expectations for comfort and amenities, health and safety issues, and the price of consumables such as fuel, food, office supplies, equipment, and utilities.

Ridge Haven needs to charge what it costs to stay operational! Camp, conference, and retreat centers that don’t charge what it costs to operate and are not underwritten by donations and/or endowments, sooner or later cease operation. A stronger and larger base of support from the churches of the PCA will help Ridge Haven to meet customer expectations and needs and to provide assistance to campers, camper families, and others.

Q: Is Ridge Haven doing anything to improve or expand its grounds and facilities and to better serve the churches, presbyteries, and individuals of the denomination?

A: Yes. For more than a year, Ridge Haven has been working on a new land-use, site development plan identifying needed facilities for growing ministries. The plan includes new, expanded, and relocated camp facilities, a new multi-purpose building for dining, a large meeting room, and offices. One of the more dramatic changes will be the addition of several lakes. The plan also includes the redesign, redirecting, and renovation of existing facilities. Implementation has already begun with a capital campaign especially designed to address the most pressing needs, all of which are compatible with the long-range plan and including additional parking and improved functionality, modernization and restyling of facilities.

In addition to the site development plan and capital campaign, Ridge Haven is continuing to develop and implement its own “Regional Support Plan.”

Q: Is anyone thinking about other PCA camps, conference, and retreat centers in other parts of the country?

A: Yes, Ridge Haven is continuing to make itself available to the presbyteries and churches of the northeast, northwest, and southwest for planning and implementing specific camps and conferences looking toward the time when these regions will want to establish camp, conference, and retreat centers centrally located in their regions. Following the guidelines identified by the General Assembly, Ridge Haven is still several years away from giving leadership to the actual selection of sites but it is not too early to begin programming specific to the needs of the other regions of the PCA.

Q: What is the status of the State-required water system and sewage disposal upgrades?

A: Several years ago, because of Federal EPA guideline requirements, the State of North Carolina required Ridge Haven to make improvements to its community water system. The upgrade requirements, costing approximately $200,000, were met by several churches, making it necessary to access only $100,000 of the GA approved line of credit.

Separately, in 2003 Ridge Haven applied for a permit to enlarge the existing dining hall septic system that would allow us to increase the existing seating capacity from 98 to 180. Before issuing the permit, the State required an upgrade of all existing individual systems including tank risers, filters, scheduled maintenance, new water-conserving commodes and showerheads throughout the center, and the reclassification of the individual systems and drain fields to a single-commercial-system requiring a licensed operator. These unexpected requirements increased the cost significantly. With the issuing of a provisional permit to construct, we performed soil-science perk tests, engineered the new system, added a six-acre drain field, and purchased three custom-constructed tanks able to process more than 60,000 gallons of waste. On March 17, 2006 the new and expanded system was approved by the State and put into operation. The total cost, approximately $175,000, including the unexpected and additional changes required by the State, has been covered through a General-Assembly-approved line of credit. Our request is that the churches of the PCA now assist us in our repayment of the accessed line of credit.

Q: If Ridge Haven could ask anything of the churches, presbyteries, or individuals of the denomination to help Ridge Haven better serve, what would it ask?

A: Ridge Haven asks…

- That everyone join us in giving praise, glory, and thanksgiving to our great King and Head, the Lord Jesus Christ, for the exceptional, gracious, and abundant way He has blessed and used Ridge Haven.

- For prayer for God’s continued presence and blessing on all that we are seeking to do in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

- That Teaching Elders, Ruling Elders, and other church leaders who have not yet come to Ridge Haven accept our invitation for a family three-day, two-night complementary stay.

- That churches, presbyteries, and individuals, especially within a four-hour drive, give us the opportunity to serve them by participation in or utilization of a Ridge Haven camp or conference and our facilities and services for a gathering or retreat.

- That the churches of the PCA provide for the support of Ridge Haven not according to the services that can be personally accessed but according to the ministry Ridge Haven provides to thousands every year.

- That the churches support Ridge Haven not at the least level possible but at an increased level reflective of its communicated needs and ministry opportunities.

Recommendations

The specific list of recommendations for the Thirty-fourth General Assembly will be provided through the Ridge Haven Committee of Commissioners.
APPENDIX O

2006 REPORT TO THE PCA GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON STRATEGIC PLANNING

I. Introduction

At the 2005 General Assembly, after five years of work, the Strategic Planning Committee (SPC) brought its final report to the General Assembly through the Administrative Committee (AC). After review and upon recommendation of the AC’s committee of commissioners, the 2005 General Assembly formed a seven-member Ad Interim Committee from those integrally involved in the SPC process. The Assembly wanted to give the presbyteries and churches further time to review the work of the Strategic Planning Committee and to provide further input.

Members of the Ad Interim Committee, members of the former SPC, and Coordinators ofPCA Committees and Agencies made an effort to meet with every presbytery over the course of 2005-2006 to present the report and to receive suggestions for modification or improvement. Much useful information was collected and the Ad Interim Committee made every effort to respond to denomination-wide concerns. A summary of the Ad Interim Committee’s work since the 2005 GA is found in section IV of this report.

The report contained herein reflects the changes that were made.

The Committee does not now suppose that its work is perfect. Throughout our study we have sought the counsel of any and all who had insight to aid us in our task, including the 2005 AC committee of commissioners. The Ad Interim Committee has benefited much from those who were willing to respond. There will be one last public forum, a pre-Assembly seminar on Tuesday, June 20, 2006 prior to this report being considered by the Assembly.

For several reasons explained later, the Ad Interim Committee will ask the Assembly, on Wednesday, June 21, 2006, at the stated order of the day, to preclude further amendment from the floor. In recommendations 2 through 4 of this Ad Interim Committee report, the Committee is proposing that the Assembly adopt a number of amendments to the Rules of Assembly Operations (RAO) in three “packages”. These are carefully framed proposals, the fruit of five years of study, discovery, discussion and principled compromise, and in our judgment each of the parts is integral to the whole. Thus we are recommending that, after extensive opportunity for Assembly discussion and deliberation, these “packages” be adopted without amendment, or be recommitted to the Committee for further study and recommendation. Of course, subsequent Assemblies can promptly modify any portion of the RAO by a two-thirds vote of the Assembly.

Through this report contained in the 2006 Commissioners Handbook and posted on the Strategic Planning web site (http://www.pcaac.org/StrategicPlan.htm), the Ad Interim Committee wants to give another opportunity for commissioners to carefully review the changes made by the Ad Interim Committee and the actual report that will be presented to the 2006 General Assembly. The Stated Clerk is referring overtures regarding the Strategic Plan to the Ad Interim Committee. Individuals wishing to make recommendations are urged to submit them in writing to the chairman of the Ad Interim Committee by email (brock@covenant.edu).

II. Brief Outline of this Ad Interim Committee Report

Section III of the Ad Interim Committee’s report (pp. 2202-2210) provides background information for those unfamiliar with the report to the 2005 General Assembly. Selected sections of that report are reproduced to provide the thinking behind the Strategic Planning Committee’s work and last year’s report. The full 2005 report to the Assembly and detailed documents supporting it are available for download from the Strategic Planning website. Interested parties who do not have access to the Internet may contact the PCA Stated Clerk’s Office at 678-825-1000 for assistance.

Section IV (pp. 2210-2211) gives a brief record of the 2006 activities of the Ad Interim Committee and advisory members. Having heard significant input from the PCA body, the Ad Interim Committee has fine-tuned the recommendations made by the SPC in its 2005 report. Section V (pp. 580-82) provides the rationale behind the Ad Interim Committee’s fine-tuning of the original proposal.

As the 2005 recommendations were considered by presbyteries during the 2005-2006 year, input was collected by the Ad Interim Committee. The recommendations made in Section VI (pp. 582-618) incorporate changes made by the Ad Interim Committee in order to reflect much of the feedback given by the denomination. (Note: Recommendations begin on the following pages: 1, p. 582; 2, p. 583; 3, p. 612; 4, p. 613; 5, p. 618; 6, p. 618; 7, p. 618.)

For those who wish to see exactly what changes were made to the recommendations of the Strategic Planning Committee, Attachment 1 (pp. 619-28) provides a detailed breakdown of these final recommendations as compared to the 2005 SPC recommendations. In addition to these, minor wording changes were made to clarify text in recommendation 5 concerning the next generation and ruling elder leadership. However, the 2006 General Assembly will be considering the recommendations of the Ad Interim Committee found in Section VI of this report, so Attachment 1 is for information only.

III. Background Regarding the Work of the Strategic Planning Committee

The original task given to the Strategic Planning Committee (SPC) was overwhelmingly large. Obviously, if every thought developed, every word spoken and every action taken were documented in this report, it would be much too large to publish or digest. The following is a brief synopsis of selected sections of the report given to the 2005 General Assembly. That report was the culmination of five years of work, numerous presbytery meetings, learning from other denominations, and a survey of the PCA leadership. Interim reports have been given to each General Assembly since the process began.

In 2004-2005, the SPC focused on a limited number of important but accomplishable tasks. The Five Perspectives in Section II of the Strategic Plan presented to the 2005 General Assembly introduce the Committee’s reasoning behind its choice of work toward implementing the four strategic priorities outlined in previous years’ work:

Five Perspectives

Since the inception of this process in 2000, driven by the love of Christ for His Church, the participants in this process have sought to answer the question, “What are the signs of a healthy denomination and how can the PCA become more healthy?” As the General Assembly debates the specific conclusions and recommendations resulting from this process, the reader needs to know five things that have become increasingly apparent to the Committee over the last five years.

First is the preeminence of Christ, as well expressed in the preface to the BCO.

Christ, as King, has given to His Church officers, oracles and ordinances; and especially has He ordained therein His system of doctrine, government, discipline and worship, all of which are either expressly set down in Scripture, or by good and necessary inference may be deduced therefrom; and to which things He commands that nothing be added, and that from them naught be taken away (Preface, BCO).
Second is the importance of the local church. The denomination is most healthy when it is composed of an increasing number of healthy churches. Ministry at the denominational level is no substitute for local ministry and worship.

Third is the importance of the presbytery to cooperative ministry. Our commitment to the inerrant Word, the lordship of Christ, the Westminster Standards, and Presbyterian polity does more than enable cooperative ministry; it demands cooperative ministry. The genius of Presbyterianism is not only its doctrine and polity, but also the emphasis on the presbytery. A denomination exists because churches united in common ministry represent the unity in God’s kingdom.

Fourth is the importance of the General Assembly in contributing to the health of the denomination. The participants in the strategic planning process were inevitably compelled to focus on the General Assembly, asking questions such as Assembly make-up, how issues are dealt with, who attends General Assembly and why. Again, the following excerpts from the BCO illustrate why the General Assembly is so vitally important to the health of the denomination:

The General Assembly is the highest court of this Church, and represents in one body all the churches thereof. It bears the title of The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America, and constitutes the bond of union, peace and correspondence among all its congregations and courts.

Principles for the Organization of the Assembly:

1. The Church is responsible for carrying out the Great Commission.
2. The initiative for carrying out the Great Commission belongs to the Church at every court level, and the Assembly is responsible to encourage and promote the fulfillment of this ministry by the various courts.
3. The work of the Church as set forth in the Great Commission is one work, being implemented at the General Assembly level through equally essential committees.
4. It is the responsibility of every member and every member congregation to support the whole work of the denomination as they be led in their conscience held captive to the Word of God.
5. It is the responsibility of the General Assembly to evaluate needs and resources, and to act on priorities for the most effective fulfillment of the Great Commission.
6. The Church recognizes the right of individuals and congregations to labor through other [non-PCA] agencies in fulfilling the Great Commission.

7. The Assembly’s committees are to serve and not to direct any Church judicatories. They are not to establish policy, but rather execute policy established by the General Assembly.

8. The committees serve the Church through the duties assigned by the General Assembly. \((BCO \text{ 14-1})\)

Fifth is the role and importance of the Committees and Agencies in carrying out the work of the General Assembly in training, equipping, mobilizing, and providing resources to assist in the ministries of the churches. The following excerpts delineate the role of the Committees and Agencies:

The General Assembly shall have power . . . to institute and superintend the agencies necessary in the general work of evangelization; to appoint ministers of such labors as fall under its jurisdiction \((BCO \text{ 14-6})\).

The affairs and programs of the General Assembly shall be conducted primarily through its permanent Committees and Agencies \((RAO \text{ 4-1})\).\(^1\)

The Administrative Committee shall function as a service committee to the General Assembly and the denomination. The Committees on Christian Education, Mission to North America, Mission to the World, and Reformed University Ministries shall be known as Program Committees \((RAO \text{ 4-2})\).

The budget for each permanent committee and agency shall be submitted to the Administrative Committee of General Assembly which shall independently evaluate the proposed budget of each permanent committee and agency and report to the Assembly its considered opinion on the adoption \((RAO \text{ 4-11})\).

The strategic planning process has made the importance of membership awareness apparent. Awareness must begin with a commitment of teaching elders and ruling elders to the mission, identity, values and strategic priorities of the denomination and to communicating these in such a way that local churches can be part of a dynamic movement. In 30 years, the denomination has grown rapidly – the Lord has greatly blessed the PCA! If the denomination grows at the same rate over the next thirty years, it is entirely possible that the denomination could encompass more than one million members. It is the fervent prayer of the participants in the strategic planning process that the changes recommended would facilitate such growth. However, the participants are fully cognizant that only by the grace of God and the power of His Spirit can the PCA be the denomination for which we pray.

\(^1\) RAO is the acronym for \textit{Rules of Assembly Operations}.

Section III of the Strategic Plan presented to the 2005 General Assembly describes the five-year strategic planning process and highlights key information to give perspective for decisions regarding the conclusions and recommendations in this 2006 report:

The Development of the Plan

In 2000, the nine Coordinators of the Committees and Agencies recognized the need for the denomination, which had grown considerably since its inception almost 30 years earlier, to develop a plan for the future. They forwarded suggestions for developing such a plan to the Administrative Committee, which made specific recommendations to the General Assembly. The 2000 General Assembly elected a 24-person Strategic Planning Steering Committee composed of ten ruling elders, ten teaching elders and four women. The Steering Committee was authorized to raise support.

The Committee began to meet, raised about $65,000, gathered information and discussed possible ways of performing strategic planning. The planning process was divided into two phases:

- Phase I would seek to build consensus on the PCA’s identity, mission, values and strategic priorities.
- Phase II would build on the consensus developed in Phase I and would consider how to implement these strategic priorities within the PCA’s structure, resources and leadership.

For the next two years, the Steering Committee worked on Phase I. At the 30th General Assembly in Birmingham in 2002, the Steering Committee presented its report and the Assembly took three actions:

- It received the draft report summarizing the work to-date, and asked that the report be passed on to the presbyteries for further review and input.
- It asked presbyteries to report their reactions and findings to the Steering Committee by March of 2003.
- It authorized the continuing work of the Steering Committee over the next year, anticipating further discussion and possible action in the June 2003 Assembly.

Though General Assembly asked all presbyteries and all Committees and Agencies to consider the work of the Committee, only 17 presbyteries actively participated in a planning process. At the 2003
General Assembly, the Strategic Planning Steering Committee, working through the Administrative Committee, presented a booklet, Being Revived + Bringing Reformation which communicated the mission, vision and strategic priorities developed during the Phase I planning process.

Following the 2003 General Assembly, the Strategic Planning Committee began Phase II of the Planning Process to consider what changes would be needed in the PCA’s structure, resources and leadership to implement the Strategic Priorities identified in Being Revived + Bringing Reformation. A subcommittee diligently worked to identify a few realizable and worthwhile goals among the many possibilities that had been suggested by those participating in the process.

In 2004, the Committee submitted a framework for Phase II. Among the many possible initiatives, the Committee chose three to begin the implementation process. Following are excerpts from that report to General Assembly (GA) regarding the three initiatives.

- Engaging Ruling Elders
  Securing the historic blessing and critical contribution of informed and committed ruling elder leadership at all levels of the PCA’s governance for the sake of her biblical guidance, continuing vitality and the sustained faithfulness of future generations.

- Preparing The Next Generation
  Addressing the need for coordination of the work of the Committees and Agencies in supporting presbyteries and churches in their ministry to the needs of youth and in the development of the denomination’s next generation of leaders.

- Organizing Resources To Better Serve Our Corporate Mission
  Providing fact-based analysis and proposals regarding ways to fund, organize and evaluate the Agencies and Committees of the denomination so that presbyteries and churches are best served for the fulfillment of our corporate Gospel calling.

1. Structural Issues
   a. Relate and collaborate
   b. Evaluate efficiency, effectiveness
   c. Governance
d. External review
e. Budgets and method of funding
f. Resources available to presbyteries
g. General Assembly
h. Presbytery meetings
i. Consultants, surveys, etc.

2. Resources
   a. Equity
   b. Proximity
   c. Proportionality
   d. Transparency, accountability, results
   e. Denominational support
   f. Research, coordination, strategic thinking

Noting that some members of the original 2000 Committee had resigned or failed to participate, the 2004 General Assembly gave the Committee authority to add new members, subject to approval by the Administrative Committee, and authorized the Committee to raise further funds to complete the next phase. The Committee suggested that as much as $300,000 would be required.

Immediately following General Assembly, the Steering Committee newly constituted itself as the Strategic Planning Committee (SPC), accepted resignations and added 3 new members. To begin its work, pledges amounting to $185,000 were secured. The Committee planned a total of seven two-day face-to-face meetings in Atlanta. It interviewed prospective consultants to aid in the process and selected one. The Committee divided its work and assigned task forces to address particular issues.

Section IX, the report of the General Assembly Task Force, presented to the 2005 General Assembly, explains the rationale for the emphasis on RAO changes. The text below is adapted to reflect the Ad Interim Committee’s perfecting work, which leaves in place the principles put forth by the SPC while adjusting some of the detail in response to input collected during the last year.

What follows is the finished product of hundreds of long and hard hours of work by the General Assembly Task Force of the Strategic Planning Committee (SPC). Five desirable outcomes guided this work:
1. Achieve a general balance between TE & RE commissioners to GA;
2. Make attendance at GA a significantly desirable and edifying experience;
3. Do the work of the court effectively and efficiently to allow significant time for events and activities that equip, connect, encourage, and inspire the leaders of the Church;
4. Make GA a self-supporting event; and
5. Create an atmosphere/meeting where only issues of significance are approved and debated on the floor of GA.

All of the changes for you to read and consider are being proposed to make future General Assembly meetings deliberate more effectively, work more efficiently, cost less, and become annual events that God uses to govern, edify, encourage, and expand the kingdom of God through the ministry of the PCA. In accomplishing these objectives, the most important aspects of GA not only will be preserved but also will be enhanced by additions that have been desired but illusive.

1. First, the rights of any minority to have its voice heard will be preserved. Any minority will have the full right to convince others of its position, but the heart of exercising this right will be found in the work of the various committees of commissioners (CoCs). In CoCs for permanent Committees and Agencies, if a single commissioner is able to convince a majority of the committee of his position, that CoC will be able to present to the General Assembly a substitute for the recommendation of a permanent Committee or Agency. This is itself a kind of “minority report,” fulfilling the wholesome review/assessment function of the CoC. Though in this instance we do not allow for any further minority report, the one who is unsuccessful in persuading a majority of the CoC may, nonetheless, advocate his view in debate on the floor of the GA in order to defeat or recommit a recommendation considered mistaken.

2. Second, the proposal for the new Overture committee will expand the committee, insure balance between ruling elders and teaching elders, and provide for a full debate of vital issues concerning the Constitution of the PCA. In the Overtures Committee, a smaller group of individuals, three ruling and three teaching elders from at least three presbyteries, can bring a minority report to the floor of the
GA. In all cases, the motions brought to the floor of the GA cannot be amended and can only be voted up or down or referred back. This will allow the substance of the issues to be debated at length without the distractions of complex parliamentary procedure and will keep the debate on the floor of GA well focused.

3. The General Assembly will still be able to respond to urgent and appropriate new business. New business can come before the GA, but only with the permission of a supermajority. The Assembly can take all necessary action on new issues, but a safeguard will exist to reduce the prospect of a rush to judgment.

4. Other reporting procedures are streamlined and made more precise. Further, it is suggested that the Administrative Committee make every effort to move towards an electronic or paperless GA to substantially reduce the printing costs associated with the GA meeting.

5. Changes affecting the Committee on Review of Presbytery Records allow for the resolution of issues and, where necessary, judicial process can be used to establish precedent.

There is a sincere anticipation that if these changes are implemented, the time required for the conduct of business at GA will be substantially reduced. This will in turn allow additional time to be scheduled for activities of worship, edification and fellowship. The desire to achieve this end reflects the biblical sensibilities of the earliest traditions of American Presbyterianism. On this tercentennial of the first presbytery/assembly meeting on these shores in 1706, it is worth remembering that the “father” of American Presbyterianism, Francis Makemie, insisted that the design of such gatherings of elders was to “consult the most proper measures, for advancing religion, and propagating Christianity . . . and to mentain [sic] Such a Correspondence as may conduce to the improvement of our Ministerial ability. . . .”

The following is a subject index to the RAO changes proposed to accomplish the objectives described above:

- Administrative Committee and hosting of General Assembly: RAO 9-7
- Overtures Committee: RAO 14 (all proposals)
- Closing argument rule: RAO 17-4.b

IV. The Ad Interim Committee’s Work in 2006

As per action of the 2005 General Assembly, an Ad Interim Committee of the General Assembly (RAO Article VIII) was constituted for the purpose of presenting the final report and recommendations of the Strategic Planning Committee directly to the Thirty-fourth General Assembly. The following seven persons compose the Ad Interim Committee:

Ruling Elders
- Joel Belz
- Frank Brock

Teaching Elders
- Frank Barker
- Bryan Chapell
- Dave Clelland
- David Coffin
- Ligon Duncan

The other SPC and advisory members served as advisory members on the Ad Interim Committee. The Committee was erected with the proviso that there was no need for additional funds, and there was, in fact, no need to raise additional funds.
The Ad Interim Committee considered its task to be the receipt of input from presbyteries and interested individuals, and to perfect the work of the Strategic Planning Committee, while honoring the broad principles of the Strategic Planning Committee. By April 2006, members of the original Strategic Planning Committee or Coordinators of the Committees and Agencies made trips to more than fifty (50) presbyteries to present the 2005 report, answer questions and collect formal and informal feedback. Other presbytery visits are scheduled between April and General Assembly. Most arrangements were made by the men themselves, and almost all trips were made at their own expense.

In March 2006, the Ad Interim Committee met in Atlanta for a two-day meeting to consider the feedback collected and modify the 2005 Strategic Plan’s recommendations. Advisory members to the Ad Interim Committee and Coordinators of the Committees and Agencies were invited to attend at their own expense, and several did so.

The Ad Interim Committee will continue to collect presbytery reports and communications up through the pre-Assembly seminar on the Strategic Plan. It will then meet to review, consider and respond to this belated input. The Ad Interim Committee does not expect more than minor changes, as it does not want to surprise commissioners with further revisions they have had little time to consider.

In Section V below is a descriptive summary of the Ad Interim Committee’s modifications and Section VI contains the Committee’s recommendations for consideration by the 2006 General Assembly. (Note: Attachment A contains a breakdown of only the 2006 changes to RAO recommendations as compared to the recommendations made in 2005 by the SPC. Thus, it is for information only, not for Assembly action.)

V. 2006 Modifications to the 2005 Recommendations

Given the years of study, debate and principled compromise, and the noteworthy unanimous agreement thereafter achieved, the Ad Interim Committee began its work for 2006 with the commitment that no major structural change to its report would be considered. However, the Committee was hopeful that more broad interaction with the denomination would bring wisdom for the perfecting of the proposals. After meeting with presbyteries and hearing from a number of teaching and ruling elders individually, the Ad Interim Committee has responded by making twenty changes to its proposed amendments to the RAO. Though the number of changes may appear to be large, the changes address only a few primary areas, as described in the following paragraphs.
Again, a detailed comparison of the text of the proposals as presented to the 2005 Assembly with the changes introduced for this report can be found in Attachment A. Following is a summary of the changes introduced and a brief rationale for the change.

The Ad Interim Committee has changed its proposed rules for the committee of commissioners, restoring the committee of commissioners to the lead in bringing permanent Committee and Agency reports to the floor of the Assembly. From one presbytery, the Committee discovered that there was constitutional ambiguity with respect to the legitimacy of its draft as presented. Further, the balance between the power of the permanent Committees and Agencies and the committees of commissioners is a matter of prudence rooted in experience. The original proposal sought to shift somewhat in the direction of the permanent Committees and Agencies, a shift that, however equitable it appeared in draft, was the occasion for concern on the part of many. Heeding that concern and removing any question of unconstitutionality, the place of the committee of commissioners in reporting has been restored, a change that required a number of adjustments to the original RAO text. However, under the newly proposed rules, should the committee of commissioners seek to replace a permanent Committee or Agency recommendation with their own, they must propose their recommendation to the Assembly as a substitute for the original. Such a substitute motion will be considered by the Assembly following a procedure that allows for full and fair debate representing all parties concerned. The provision disallowing minority reports has been retained, since the committee of commissioners itself provides a review/assessment of the permanent Committee or Agency’s work, and that level of review is sufficient. Of course, other minority opinions can be voiced during debate on the floor of the Assembly.

With respect to the proposal for a revised Bills and Overtures Committee, the Ad Interim Committee recommends dropping the name “Bills and” from this committee. (This is a name change only.) This committee receives overtures. The word “Bills” does not appear elsewhere in the BCO. Further, the Overtures Committee as now proposed will have some limits put upon consecutive years of service by a commissioner: no member of the Overtures Committee shall serve more than two consecutive Assemblies without the approval of two-thirds of his presbytery. The Overtures Committee, once constituted, may hear again from the Committee on Constitutional Business concerning the constitutionality of any revised proposal, as requested by a smaller percentage of members than provided for originally. Lastly, clarification was added as to the standards for filing a minority report, and provisions were introduced to insure the proper printing and distribution of such reports.

Finally, with respect to the proposal for a due process resolution for a dispute between a presbytery and the General Assembly growing out of review of presbytery records, a provision was added to make clear the right of the Committee on Review of Presbytery Records to consult with the Committee on Constitutional Business, should a majority so desire. For unresolved matters, a provision was added to insure the appointment of a representative of the Assembly to present its case before the Standing Judicial Commission. In each case, the Ad Interim Committee is grateful for the insight and encouragement provided by those who offered constructive criticism, and the Committee is confident that its report as a whole is significantly improved as a result of our year-long conversation.

Respectfully submitted,

The Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning

VI. Recommendations to the 2006 General Assembly

The Ad Interim Committee on Strategic Planning recommends:

1. That the Assembly hear the Committee’s report for up to one hour under the rules for “informal consideration” (Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, 2000 ed., pp. 513-14), with the adoption of a rule (2/3 vote required) that under informal consideration no motions with respect to the recommendations or the report are in order. During informal consideration the Committee will review its report, respond to questions, and lead in discussion of the recommendations seriatim. If not extended by vote of the Assembly, the conclusion of informal consideration shall be at the end of the hour, or upon adoption, by a majority vote, of a motion “that the question be considered formally.”

RATIONALE: In the Committee’s judgment, this procedure will afford commissioners the fullest possible understanding of the various proposals and their ramifications, before being asked to vote. At that time, the recommendations will be presented one at a time as individual units of text, each to be considered as a whole.

2. Concerning the SPC’s recommendations regarding the Overtures Committee and committees of commissioners:

   a. That 17-1 of the Rules of Assembly Operations be suspended such that no amendment shall be in order for the consideration of item 2.b.

      (NOTE: All of the following RAO changes compare the proposal of the Ad Interim Committee with the current RAO. To see how the proposals of the Ad Interim Committee differ from the report of the Strategic Planning Committee in 2005, refer to Attachment A of this report.)

   b. That the following amendments be made to the Rules of Assembly Operations, with the proviso that the amendments shall not go into effect until after the close of this Assembly.

| SUBSTITUTE 11-2. Presentations informing the Assembly of the work reported by the permanent Committees and Agencies shall be limited to fifteen (15) minutes. Proposed change substitutes “permanent Committees and Agencies” for “committee of commissioners” since it is the former that make informational presentations. The five-minute rule, as originally conceived, apparently was rarely, if ever, used. Currently there is no rule in the RAO. |

| Proposed change eliminates the confusion introduced by the word “ordinarily” and eliminates redundant material. Note that the deleted text specifying direct reporting of SJC, et al, originally appeared in 11-1, 11-3 and 13-1. Proposed change retains the language in 11-1 only. |

No proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be received as new business. |
| Proposed change makes the introduction of new business more difficult, but not impossible. Note that “new business” is not a “communication” (10-1 through 10-3, 10-11), nor an “overture” (10-4 through 10-11). SUBSTITUTE 13-2 as follows: 13-2. In the event that presbytery does not elders to supply the committees thus assigned, the presbytery may, at its own discretion, elect ruling elders to these committees. In the event that Presbytery is not able to supply members for all the committees, the Presbytery may select the committees to which they wish to appoint representatives. Commissioners serving on permanent committees or subcommittees of the Assembly or the staffs thereof are not eligible to serve on any committees of commissioners. For the purpose of defining those ineligible for service in committees of commissioners, permanent Committee “staff” is to be understood as persons required to be examined by the Theological Examining Committee (BCO 14-1.12.) and all permanent Committee support personnel. All commissioners should bear in mind Robert’s Rules of Order regarding abstaining from voting on a question of direct personal interest (RRO § 45). Proposed change introduces conforming language.

13-3. The Conveners of the committees shall be designated by the Moderator.

NO CHANGE.

13-4. The committee may be scheduled to meet prior to the opening session of the Assembly to handle the business referred by the Stated Clerk, as published in the Commissioner Handbook.

Proposed change corrects an obvious problem.

SUBSTITUTE d. Only business referred to the committees of commissioners by the Stated Clerk may be considered. Proposed amendments to recommendations must be germane according to Robert’s Rules.

Proposed change makes provision for germane amendments. Robert’s Rules defines the standard as follows: “[A]n amendment must be germane to be in order. To be germane, an amendment must in some way involve the same question that is raised by the motion to which it is applied. A secondary amendment...”
e. The Chairman and representatives of the permanent committee and agencies, and the Coordinator and appropriate staff members shall be available for consultation with the committee of commissioners reviewing their work. NO CHANGE.

f. After the committee of commissioners has received input from the permanent Committee, coordinator, staff members and visitors, it should then go into executive session as it frames and adopts its report to the General Assembly. It must be in executive session when it actually adopts the report. NO CHANGE.

g. The committee of commissioners may invite other persons for consultative purposes, when this is felt necessary to the committee’s performance of its business. SUBSTITUTE g. When necessary for the performance of its duties, the committee of commissioners may, by a majority of those present and voting, invite other persons to address the committee. Proposed change improves the wording of the paragraph, making plain how the “necessity” in question is to be determined; also makes it consistent with proposed 14-6.m. ADD h. A committee of commissioners may, by a majority of those present and voting, adopt a recommendation to be offered to the Assembly as a substitute (cf. Robert’s Rules of Order, §12, p. 149-154) for a recommendation of a permanent Committee or Agency (cf. RAO 13-7.g). A minority report from a committee of commissioners shall not be permitted.

Proposed change establishes a procedure for the committee of commissioners to bring an alternative to a permanent Committee or Agency recommendation, but makes plain that the term “substitute” is here being used in its technical, parliamentary sense as a motion to be put to the Assembly. The committee of commissioners itself may not effect the substitution. Further, since the committee of commissioners itself provides for an audit/assessment of the permanent Committee or Agency’s work, committee of commissioner approval or disapproval should be final. Thus the proposed change disallows a minority report from the committee of commissioners. A minority can always make its point during the debate of the committee’s report on the floor of GA.

ADD i. Upon the adoption of a proposed substitute recommendation, the chairman of the committee of commissioners shall provide written notice to the Office of the Stated Clerk within one hour of any recess.
or adjournment of the committee following the adoption of said recommendation. The Office of the Stated Clerk shall inform the chairman of the permanent Committee or Agency of such notice as soon as practicable. The printed substitute recommendation must be presented to the chairman of the permanent Committee or Agency as soon as practicable, but in no case less than fifteen (15) minutes before the recommendation in question is brought to the floor.

Proposed change makes provision for fair notice when an alternative proposal will arise from a committee of commissioners.

| ADD | Any recommendation affecting the budgets of the Assembly’s Committees and Agencies shall be referred to the committee of commissioners on Administration.
Proposed change moves current 13-10 to this place as more logically addressed here. |

Proposed change provides for the proposal to the General Assembly of a substitute recommendation by the committee of commissioners, but disallows the proposal of new recommendations.

commissioners shall present the recommendations of the committee of commissioners to the Assembly. The chairman of the permanent Committee or his designated representative shall have the privilege of defending the position of the permanent Committee on any recommendations in which the committee of commissioners differ from the permanent Committee’s report.

ADD a. The informational report or portions of that report of a permanent Committee or Agency shall be presented to the General Assembly by the permanent Committee or Agency chairman or his designee.

RETAI N b. No report printed in the Commissioner Handbook shall be read in full to the Assembly.

ADD c. After whatever informational presentation there may be (cf. 11-2), the chairman of the committee of commissioners shall be called upon to present the committee of commissioners’ report.

ADD d. The chairman of the committee of commissioners or his designee shall move each recommendation in turn, offering an explanation of the motion and the committee’s rationale. The moderator may put to the Assembly in gross all recommendations passed by the committee, unless there is objection from the floor to the inclusion of specific recommendation(s), in which case such recommendation(s) shall be voted upon separately.

Proposed change provides a rule for the customary “omnibus motion,” which has no explicit warrant under the current rules. If there is an objection by one commissioner, a recommendation will be debated and voted on separately.

ADD e. A recommendation shall be considered under the standard rules governing debate, but Subsidiary Motions (RRO VI) to Postpone Indefinitely, to Amend, to Commit (except to Recommit) and to Limit Debate; and Incidental Motions (RRO VIII) to Divide a Question, to Consider Seriatim, and Constitutional Inquiries, shall not be permitted.

Proposed change makes clear what is, and what is not, permissible with respect to the motions listed in Robert’s Rules, thus reducing parliamentary confusion. Change prohibits amendment in any form, including substitution.

ADD f. Recommendations recommitted may be considered and reported by the committee of commissioners to that General Assembly, or may be referred to the permanent Committee or Agency for report to the following General Assembly (cf. 11-1).

Proposed change defines a motion to recommit under the new procedure.

ADD g. If a committee of commissioners offers a substitute for a recommendation of a permanent Committee or Agency, the substitute shall be presented to the Assembly as follows:

1. The chairman of the permanent Committee or Agency or his designee shall have ten (10) minutes to move the recommendation and present the argument of the Committee; the chairman of the committee of commissioners or his designee shall have fifteen (15) minutes to move the substitute and present the argument of the committee; the same representative of the permanent Committee or Agency shall have five (5) minutes to reply to the committee of commissioners;

2. Consideration of the substitute and the main motion shall be as above (d-e).

Proposed changes make provision for alternative recommendations from the committee of commissioners, and makes the procedure consistent with the treatment of a minority report from the Overtures Committee. Cf. 14-8.f.

13-8. Minutes of the permanent committee shall be submitted to the committee of commissioners for review. Copies of the Minutes shall be sent by the Stated Clerk to the members of committees of commissioners one month prior to the opening of the General Assembly.

| 13-12. No partial report of a committee of commissioners shall be presented without the consent of the Assembly. | NO CHANGE. |

Proposed change places the provision in a more logical place. |

| ADD “Article XIV. The Overtures Committee.” Renumber accordingly.
Proposed change introduces a new procedure for the Overtures Committee in order to allow the most unrestrained scriptural deliberation consistent with the need, finally, to come to a united recommendation. Lettered sections below are to this end, and generally require no comment. | |

| ADD 14-1. The Overtures Committee shall consider and make recommendation upon all overtures proposing constitutional amendment and all other overtures referred by the Stated Clerk. | |

| ADD 14-2. Each presbytery shall, prior to the meeting of each General Assembly, elect to the Overtures Committee one teaching elder and one ruling elder from among its | | registered commissioners to the General Assembly. Unless approved by a two thirds (2/3) vote of his presbytery, no commissioner shall serve on the Overtures Committee for more than two (2) consecutive assemblies. It is recommended that, where necessary, the presbytery underwrite the expenses of its representatives to the Overtures Committee.

Proposed change seeks to foster general equality of ruling elder and teaching elder representation. The provision on consecutive service inhibits, but does not absolutely restrict, repeated service on the Overtures Committee, thus fostering diversity of representation while allowing for special cases.

ADD 14-3. The Overtures Committee shall meet immediately preceding the General Assembly in sufficient time, as determined by the Stated Clerk, for the committee to complete its work before the convening of the Assembly. Should the committee fail to finish before the convening of the Assembly, or should the committee be called into session during the meeting of the Assembly, the committee’s sessions shall be held during non-business sessions of the Assembly, unless by majority vote the Assembly directs otherwise.

Proposed change seeks to make sure that committee members can be on the floor of the Assembly during its business sessions and that observers can be present with the committee without leaving the floor of a business session, while it allows for sufficient flexibility should necessity determine otherwise.

ADD 14-4. The Moderator shall designate a convener for the Overtures Committee, and the Stated Clerk shall provide a meeting room large enough for committee members, interested commissioners to the General Assembly, and others to observe the proceedings of the committee.

_Facilities adapted to the labor; public proceedings provided for._

ADD 14-5. The committee shall elect from among its number a chairman and vice-chairman. The Stated Clerk shall be an advisory member of the committee, and he, or his designee, shall serve as secretary and parliamentarian. The chairman of the committee may appoint assistant parliamentarians.

ADD 14-6. Special Rules of Procedure for the Overtures Committee.

_Proposed rules adapt Robert’s Rules with respect to committees in order to facilitate the functioning of a larger committee while preserving a proper emphasis on free deliberation._

Overtures Committee of such notice as soon as practicable.

Proposed change provides a rule for the customary “omnibus motion,” which has no explicit warrant under the current rules.

c. A recommendation shall be considered under the standard rules governing debate, but Subsidiary Motions (RRO VI) to Postpone Indefinitely, to Amend, to Commit (except to Recommit) and to Limit Debate; and Incidental Motions (RRO VIII) to Divide a Question, to Consider Seriatim, and Constitutional Inquiries, shall not be permitted.

Proposed change makes clear what is, and what is not, permissible with respect to the motions listed in Robert’s Rules. Change prohibits amendment in any form, including substitution.

ADD 14-9. The completed report of the Overtures Committee, and any duly filed minority report, in which case the provisions below shall be understood to apply to a minority representative, shall contain the full text of the report and shall be handled as follows:

Proposed change makes explicit the applicable cases and the privileged character of the rule.

7-6. Reporting Process – The Cooperative Ministries Committee shall submit an annual report to the General Assembly, but any recommendations to the Assembly must come as set forth in 7-5.

7-7. Funding – The funding of the Committee will be as follows:
   a. All travel and other expenses for each Chief Administrative Officer and chairman shall be borne by the respective Committee or Agency.
   b. All travel and other expenses of the Advisory members will be shared equally by the Committees and Agencies.
   c. That the following matters (1-3) under consideration by the Strategic Planning Committee be referred to the Administrative Committee:
      1) The general matter of funding be referred to the Administrative Committee with the recommendation that the AC refer this matter to the Cooperative Ministries Committee (CMC), if enacted, for further study, evaluation, and recommendations. 6. That the following recommendations be referred to the CMC, if approved, as high priority items for future planning and implementation; or, if the CMC is not approved, to the respective Committees and Agencies:

Concerning Preparing the Next Generation:
   a. That the GA encourage Christian Education and Publications, Covenant College, Covenant Theological Seminary, Reformed University Ministries and Ridge Haven to meet annually to evaluate, plan, and share information on how the PCA can better coordinate its efforts to disciple the next generation with greater effectiveness.
   b. That the above institutions be encouraged to share information with the presbyteries and local churches on a regular basis in order to foster an integrated ministry to the rising generation, and to help local churches in their ministry in that task, thus reflecting a strong and clear denominational emphasis.

Concerning Engaging Elders in Ministry:
   a. That pastors and sessions bear in mind that ruling elder training should cover not only theology and polity, but also leadership, discipleship, and ministry involvement.
   b. That pastors and sessions avail themselves of the resources and materials for officer training available through Christian Education and Publications and other appropriate sources.
   c. That Christian Education and Publications gather materials and resources from pastors and sessions that are training elders well, to collate such materials and resources, and to make such resources and materials available to the Church at large so that Christian Education and Publications could expand its resources and service to the Church.
   d. That presbyteries consider providing ruling elder continuing education opportunities on a periodic basis.
   e. That ruling elder continuing education opportunities be provided, from time to time, at the annual meeting of the General Assembly (for example, pre-Assembly seminars on developing under-shepherd ministries in the local church).

7. That Overture 10 from Blue Ridge Presbytery be answered by reference to the action of the Assembly on recommendation 2 above.

ADD 11-5. The Interchurch Relations Committee shall report to the General Assembly under the provisions governing permanent Committees and Agencies in Article XIII.

DELETE 11-5.

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: Rule unnecessary; it is provided for elsewhere.

ADD 13-5.h. A committee of commissioners may, by a majority of those present and voting, adopt a recommendation to be offered as a substitute for a recommendation of a permanent Committee or Agency. A minority report from a committee of commissioners shall not be permitted.

ORIGINAL RATIONALE: Proposed change establishes a procedure for the committee of commissioners to bring an alternative to a permanent Committee or Agency recommendation, while eliminating the parliamentary confusion that a minority report would introduce. Further, since the CoC substitute is in effect a minority report, no further minority report shall be permitted.

ADD 13-5.h. A committee of commissioners may, by a majority of those present and voting, adopt a recommendation to be offered to the Assembly as a substitute (cf. RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: Though the committee of commissioners reporting responsibilities to the General Assembly are restored, added language and parenthetical makes plain that the term “substitute” is here being used in its technical, parliamentary sense as a motion to be put to the Assembly. The committee of commissioners itself may not effect the substitution.

| ADD 13-7.c. After whatever informational presentation there may be (cf. 11-2), the chairman of the committee of commissioners |

| ADD 13-7.a. The informational report or portions of that report of a permanent Committee or Agency shall be presented to the General Assembly by the permanent Committee or Agency chairman or his designee. |

| ADD 13-7.c. After whatever informational presentation there may be (cf. 11-2), the chairman of the committee of commissioners |

| RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: The additions make clear what aspect of the report of a permanent Committee or Agency is in view in this section. | shall be called upon to present the committee’s report concerning the examination of permanent Committee minutes for the General Assembly’s consideration (cf. 13-14.d-f).

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE:
Removes the reporting restriction that was necessary under the 2005 proposal where the chairman of the permanent committee had primary reporting responsibilities.

ADD 13-7.d.

The Assembly having considered the committee of commissioner’s report concerning the minutes, the chairman of the permanent Committee or Agency or his designee shall move each recommendation in turn, offering an explanation of the motion and the Committee’s rationale. The moderator may put to the Assembly in gross all recommendations passed by the Committee, unless there is objection from the floor to the inclusion of specific recommendation(s), in which case such recommendation(s) shall be voted upon separately.

ORIGINAL RATIONALE:
Change provides a rule for the customary "omnibus motion," which has no explicit warrant under the current rules. If there is an objection by one commissioner, a recommendation will be debated and voted on separately.

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE:
Restores committee of commissioners to General Assembly reporting responsibilities.

ADD 13-7.f.

Recommendations recommitted may be considered and reported by the permanent Committee or Agency to that General Assembly, or may be referred to the permanent Committee or Agency for report to the following General Assembly.

ADD 14-2. Each presbytery shall, prior to the meeting of each General Assembly, elect to the Overtures Committee one teaching elder and one ruling elder from among its registered commissioners to the General Assembly. It is recommended that, where necessary, the presbytery underwrite the expenses of its representatives to the Overtures Committee.

ORIGINAL RATIONALE: Proposed change seeks to foster general equality of ruling elder and teaching elder representation. NOTE: There is no restriction on staff and permanent Committee or Agency participation.

ADD 14-2. Each presbytery shall, prior to the meeting of each General Assembly, elect to the Overtures Committee one teaching elder and one ruling elder from among its registered commissioners to the General Assembly. Unless approved by a two thirds (2/3) vote of his presbytery, no commissioner shall serve on the Overtures Committee for more than two (2) consecutive assemblies. It is recommended that, where necessary, the presbytery underwrite the expenses of its representatives to the Overtures Committee.

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: The addition inhibits, but does not absolutely restrict, repeated service on the Overtures Committee, thus fostering diversity of representation while allowing for special cases.

Constitutional Business unless one third (1/3) of the members of the Bills and Overtures Committee request further consultation. fifth (1/5) of the members of the Overtures Committee request further consultation.

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: some have expressed concern that with the germaneness standard for amendments proposed to amendments to the BCO, the original could undergo significant alteration after CCB has given its advice. The need for objective consideration suggests a lesser standard for sending the matter back to CCB.

s. Minority Reports.

1. With respect to any recommendation, prior to a recess or adjournment of the committee following the adoption of said recommendation, any member of the committee may reserve the right to present a minority report to the General Assembly by giving notice to the chairman.

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: the original language suggested to some that reserved was a right to actually bring a report before the Assembly, regardless of the conditions that follow. The change makes clear that one is merely reserving the right to file.

ADD 14-9. The completed report of the Bills and Overtures Committee shall contain the full text of the report and shall be handled as follows:

ADD 14-9. The completed report of the Overtures Committee, and any duly filed minority report, in which case the provisions below shall be understood to apply to a minority representative, shall contain the full text of the report and shall be handled as follows:
AMEND 14-10, adding a new “c.” as follows:

\[ RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: \text{a minority report should be prepared and presented according to the same standard as the committee report.} \]

\[ AMEND 15-10, \text{renumbered} \]

\[ AMEND \text{renumbered 15-10, adding a new “c.” as follows:} \]

\[ c. \text{If, in responding to an exception of substance identified by the Assembly, a presbytery reports that it disagrees with the conclusion of the Assembly and has not corrected or redressed the identified problem; and, the committee (after reviewing the presbytery’s response and rationale) continues to believe that the presbytery has persisted in an error that is significant enough to require an Assembly response; then, the committee shall notify the Assembly of the continuing exception, and shall make recommendation as to whether the Assembly should again seek a more acceptable response from the presbytery, or should refer the matter to the Standing Judicial Commission to cite the presbytery to appear for proceedings according to BCO 40-5.} \]

\[ RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: \text{first, the old numbering confused people; second, needless text is eliminated; third, the right to consult with CCB is made explicit; fourth, a remedy provided for the fact that the original language made no provision for a representative (or prosecutor) of the Assembly’s cause.} \]
AMEND renumbered 16-2. With respect to the Rules of Discipline, any reference (BCO 41), appeal (BCO 42), complaint (BCO 43), BCO 40-5 proceeding, or request to assume original jurisdiction (BCO 34-1) made to the General Assembly shall be assigned to the Standing Judicial Commission for adjudication.

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE: first, the old numbering confused people; second, the new language make plain that all matters under consideration are as set forth in the Rules of Discipline.
PART IV

CORRECTIONS TO PREVIOUS MINUTES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

CORRECTIONS TO MINUTES OF THE 33rd GENERAL ASSEMBLY
(2005):

1. Correction to Report of the Committee of Commissioners on Administration, 33-48, p. 185, paragraph 2:

Change first sentence of paragraph 2 to read: Recommendation 11 was adopted.
Add—A point of order was raised alleging that the Ad-interim Committee on Strategic Planning must report to the General Assembly through the Committee of Commissioners on Bills and Overtures, based on RAO 13-1. The Moderator ruled the point of order was not well taken, because: (1) The term “ordinarily” allows for exceptions to a general practice (RAO 13-1, BCO 14-1, 15), and one of the stated exceptions is an ad-interim committee; (2) RAO 11-1 and 11-3 explicitly state that “ad-interim committees shall report directly to the General Assembly”; (3) RAO 11-1, 11-3, 13-1 are all based on BCO 14-1, 15. Subsequent to the ruling of the Moderator, a motion to suspend the RAO (11-1, 11-3, 13-1) was made (RAO XVIII). The motion failed. [Editorial note: The motion to suspend the RAO 11-1, 11-3, 13-1 was an “improper motion” in that it conflicted with the 332). The RAO may be suspended; the BCO may not be suspended.]
Continue original paragraph 2 with the sentence: The Assembly adopted a motion to have the Stated Clerk forward a copy . . .(etc.)

2. The following footnotes were inadvertently omitted at the bottom of
p. 129, M33GA, 2005, as part of the Dissenting Opinion in Case 2004-3:
1 Cf. WLC 144: among the requirements of the Ninth Commandment is the “keeping of all lawful promises.”
2 See MJ4GA, 1986, 14-52, 45.2, p.128, and MJ7GA, 1989, 17-82, III, 21, p. 158. Note that in both instances the recommendation (embodying the understanding of BCO 20-6 being argued by the dissenters) was adopted by the General Assembly.
